

CASE OF SUICIDE, SAYS THE CHIEF.

Head of Police Department Gives His Reasons for Believing Vermilion Shot Himself.

HAS FOLLOWED EVERY CLUE.

Both Bullets Accounted for—Dr. Haz-
el's Story Regarding Mysterious
Man Who Walked Away.

All the evidence that has been obtained up to date, points to a case of suicide in the death of Wilford A. S. Vermilion, the druggist whose body was found lying behind the prescription case of his store, 51 West Second South street on Monday night.

Chief of Police Lynch has been in close touch with all that has developed in the remarkable case. The best men on the force have been working day and night on it, and the chief has had careful reports of all that has been learned.

"Is there anything pointing to murder in this case? What evidence is there that Vermilion committed suicide?"

These questions were asked Chief Lynch today. Here is his reply: "I know that some are trying to make a murder case out of it, but I want to tell you that we have followed carefully every possible clue, have made every effort to fasten the responsibility of the young man's death where it belongs, we have carefully and thoroughly considered every phase of the case, and so far there is absolutely no evidence of a murder, but on the other hand everything points to suicide."

"As to the motive, so far we can only guess at that. As I said, there is no evidence of murder. But here is the evidence of suicide."

"Just before the shots were fired, Peterson and Miss Smith were upstairs above the store. Immediately after the shots were fired Peterson ran down stairs. He said he heard a sound in the store and naturally thought something was wrong. He rushed quickly down stairs and looked up and down the street. He saw no one. Miss Smith also went down stairs and she saw no one. A street car was passing the place when the shots were fired. The motorman looked toward the store but saw no one leaving or even anywhere near. Some people across the street heard the shots, but they saw no one. Then Peterson called to Vermilion, but got no answer. Then he entered the store and found the young man lying behind the show case."

"Vermilion's body was lying face upward. His left hand was up and across his breast. His right hand was down by his side and slightly under his hip. His eyes were shut, and from the two gun wounds had been fired. These shots were freshly discharged. I have fired hundreds of thousands of cartridges from almost every kind of weapon, and I never saw more unmistakable signs of freshly fired shells than those were. There is absolutely no evidence that one of the cartridges had been fired some time before. One of the bullets had been fired from a .38 caliber. Only two shots were heard. They are both accounted for."

"How about the man who was seen leaving the place?" "No one was seen leaving the place. It is some distance to the corner from the drug store. Dr. Hazel says positively that after the shots were fired he saw a man walk into the store, the intersection of the streets and disappear into the shadow of the trees. But mind you, Dr. Hazel said he could not in any way associate the seeing of this person with the firing of the shots. He could not say whether the man he saw was white or black, or whether he wore light or dark clothes."

"Now, if the man was murdered, and the murderer left the place immediately after the shots were fired, he would have been seen by Miss Smith, by Peterson, by the people across the street and by the motorman, and possibly by Dr. Hazel. It is more than 100 yards to the corner from the drug store. We know that very few men can run that distance in 10 seconds. It did not take Peterson nearly that long to get down stairs and look up and down the street."

"I know that it is hard to accept the suicide theory, and it is hard to brand the young man with such an act, but at the present time the suicide theory is practically out of the question. Something may develop which will throw more light on the subject, but at this time all the tangible evidence indicates suicide, and there is really no tangible evidence of a murder."

Yesterday Justice Clark called a jury composed of Dr. Hazel, J. D. McDonald and J. C. Lynch. The jury is now investigating the case, having continued the hearing this afternoon. The way the case stands at the present time, the authorities are working largely on theories.

During the coroner's examination yesterday afternoon, C. W. Dalton, a close personal friend of the man, testified. Mr. Dalton's testimony was practically the same as his statement published in last evening's "News." Last night an autopsy was held, and as a result of that, Chief Lynch is convinced that both shots fired were from Vermilion's revolver, and both are accounted for.

IN SEARCH OF A WIFE.

Man With an Interesting Career Here
On an Important Errand.

An interesting character is Capt. D. Kenison of Castle Dale. The captain is here for no less a purpose than to secure a wife, and if he is as successful in this as he has been in his exploits on the high seas, his mission will not be without avail.

Born in Halifax, Nova Scotia, 67 years ago, Mr. Kenison, at the age of 18, engaged himself as an apprentice to a ship carpenter. Eight years later he went to sea, his first voyage being on the ship Sprague, from Nova Scotia to New York. Then he drifted to the West Indies, then to Europe and later to the United States, landing this time at Charleston, South Carolina. This was before the war. Not long after he joined the bark Henry to New York and then embarked on the whaler ship Three Brothers from Nantucket, on which boat he remained for five years. This was a whaling expedition which took him to the Cannibal Isles and the Arctic ocean. The voyage was highly successful and was replete with interesting experiences. After this the captain joined the Silver Cloud, bound for Desolation, an island lying between Cape Horn and the Cape of Good Hope. At that time the whaler was unfortunately but now it is peopled by the French. From there he went in quest of sea elephants and whales, a trip also successful and fraught with many thrilling experiences. The sea elephant is a monstrous amphibian and will yield from 40 to 45 barrels of oil. The voyage was successful in the capture of nearly 500 of these and a number of whales. From this trip the captain landed in New Zealand where he stayed for three years, during which time he became a landlubber. Then he set out for the United States, but owing to trouble between the captain and crew, which nearly resulted in the former losing his life, the ship was steered into the Samoan harbor, where Mr. Kenison stayed for over 36 years. While there he set up a cotton mill, which for a time was quite successful, until an earthquake, which he survived, caused him to lose to the owner of over $5,000. Then he went into the boat building business which suffered a similar fate in March, 1883.

The captain and his wife then contented themselves with living among the natives, partaking of their customs and mode of life. This continued for some years until a religious instinct prompted them to join some church and they set about investigating the different creeds. About this time Elder Twitchell of Escalante, Utah, made his appearance and in a short time the captain's wife was converted to the "Mormon" religion. Later the children were baptized and finally the captain himself became converted. After the children had been schooled, the family emigrated to Utah, where they have lived happily and contented for five years. Mrs. Kenison, however, died before this and was buried in Kanab, where she had lived for so many years. The remainder of the family are residents of Castle Dale, where the captain does a little farming and carpentering.

FIVE CASES OF TYPHOID.

Five cases of typhoid fever were reported to the board of health today, three of which were brought here from Idaho and are now at St. Mark's hospital, and two cases are at Edward Frederickson, aged 35, of Pocatello; E. Panfilius, aged 37, Glen's Ferry; R. W. Kowley, aged 23, Pocatello. The city cases are: Howard Williams, aged 6, residing at 176 S. street; H. O. Williams, aged 35, residing at 324 North West Temple. The latter patient is also at St. Mark's hospital.

ONLY NERVOUS PROSTRATION.

Mrs. Helen Decker, who resides at 422 West Third South, was taken into custody last evening by Patrolman Miller on the charge of insanity. She was taken to the county jail but today seems to be improved in her mental condition and it is probable that she will not be examined as to her sanity. It is thought that she was merely suffering from a severe nervous prostration, in which she has been keeping house at the above address for her nephew who is employed as a hostler by the Salt Lake Hardware company.

CALLAHAN DID IT.

Selected Native Athletes at World's Fair
With Flattering Sequel.

When D. A. Callahan went east last month, he stopped over in St. Louis, and from the Philippine contingent at the world's fair selected two men from each of the seven tribes represented, for contesting in the athletic events, and left specific directions as to how they should be trained. How well he succeeded is evidenced in a letter just received by him from Chief A. R. Rogers of the national department, in which Mr. Rogers says: "Our six native tribes won second place in the inter-tribal contest at the Stadium a week ago, being beaten by the civilized American Indians from the Carlele school. The little Negro went up the tree in the tree climbing contest like a squirrel. We have a Moro now training who is doing over 20 feet in the broad jump, and a Bagabo who is doing 10-15 seconds in the 100 yards dash. My trainer says he is going to challenge the Indians to a dual meet and skin them alive."

Mr. Callahan says that the out of door life led by the Filipinos has got them into splendid condition for athletic work, and that they will be able to give a fine account of themselves against the white men. "I have written," he says, "that the Michigan man Madlock you are to have for coach next year (at Utah University) is a protégé of the man whom I commended to you a few years ago. I taught him his football at Albion, then sent him to the state university."

SENT SPECIAL TRAIN.

Utah Light and Power Railway Co.
Spared no Expense to Locate Trouble.

The Utah Light & Railway management had to send out a special train over the Short Line yesterday afternoon, with a detail of linemen to locate the short circuiting, and it was discovered that the late thunder and lightning storm that did so much damage up north was responsible for the trouble in the shape of shattered poles and damaged insulation that only needed a brief additional disturbance to make another break. It was 6:10 p.m. before the Ogden circuit was restored to its Salt Lake connection; but in the meanwhile the steam auxiliary plant had been got into working trim, and supplied all the deficiency, being aided by the cottonwood plant and the Telleride company.

Scrofula

It is commonly inherited.
Few are entirely free from it.
Pale, weak, puny children are afflicted with it in nine cases out of ten, and many adults suffer from it.
Common indications are bunces in the neck, abscesses, cutaneous eruptions, inflamed eyelids, sore ears, rickets, catarrh, wasting, and general debility.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Eradicate it, positively and absolutely. This statement is based on the thousands of permanent cures these medicines have wrought.
"My daughter had scrofula, with eleven sores on her neck and about her ears. Hood's Sarsaparilla was highly recommended and she took it and was cured. She is now in good health." Mrs. J. H. Jones, Parker City, Ind.
Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

MINING CONGRESS PERMANENT HOME

The Modification of Constitution
Changes Aspect of the Fight
Somewhat.

SALT LAKE STRONG CANDIDATE.

Resolutions Reported Back by Committee on Resolutions Causes
First Bitter Feelings.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 24.—The adoption of the resolution modifying the constitution of the American Mining Congress, and empowering the board of directors to, in future, select the places for holding the annual conventions has somewhat changed the aspect of the fight being made for the convention for 1905. El Paso delegates believe that a majority of the new board of directors will be friendly to the choice of that city, however, and that they have lost none of the prestige gained with the delegates with the change in the rules governing the Salt Lake and Denver delegates, however, continue to buttress the delegates and express every confidence that one or the other city will entertain the congress next year. The time when the selection shall be made is not fixed, and it may be at any time during the ensuing year that the board deems wise, allowing sufficient time for the preliminary work essential to the success of an annual convention. Hence the result may not be known for several months.

The report of the committee on buildings and permanent headquarters eliminated every city from the contest for that honor except Denver and Salt Lake City, and that is to be the consideration of the session tomorrow. As that will be the crucial test of the voting strength of the delegates to the committee on credentials, the report of the committee on credentials will be received tomorrow morning, having been made the special order for the opening session of the day.

Resolutions reported back by the committee on resolutions to the congress precipitated the first bitterness of the convention and more than an hour of the forenoon session was devoted to debate on resolutions reported back with recommendations that they be not adopted. The resolution of T. A. Rickard, editor of the Mining & Engineering Journal of New York, endorsing the action of the postoffice department was unanimously adopted.

Immediately thereafter a resolution by John Cleary of Washington recommending that the same process be required of national congresses as of other lands as that demanded of the miner, which was adversely reported, was again referred to the committee on credentials. The resolution was subject to Col. John S. Crawford of Oregon, introducing the resolution and criticizing the attitude of the committee.

Warm discussion was aroused over a resolution committing the congress to an endorsement of the desires of residents of Alaska for representation in the national congress by one or more delegates. The resolutions committee recommended that it be not adopted. H. S. Joseph of Utah called upon the committee for the reasons for its attitude. J. T. Cornforth of Alaska made an impassioned appeal for its consideration, and P. F. Steele of Alaska, who introduced the resolution, followed with arguments in its favor.

Secretary Talmage of Utah explained that the committee did not wish to mix political questions with the business of the convention. Secretary Mahon appealed to the congress not to reject the resolution, but to accept it as a whole, as it was adopted by a very large majority.

The Oregon delegation has selected J. Frank Watson, the present third vice president, to be a candidate for member of the board of directors. The candidacy of Philip S. Bates for the secretaryship will also be put forward by the delegation, unless the present incumbent, Irwin Mahon, is a candidate for re-election, in which event Mr. Bates will probably withdraw from the race, as he does not wish to oppose the former official.

Col. John S. Crawford of Grant's Pass, Ore., delivered the only address of the morning session, taking for his subject, "The Relation of Electrical Science and Its Consequences to the Mining Industry." Col. Crawford unreservedly flailed the incompetent mining engineers as a detriment to the progress of the industry and a parasite to the better class of engineers who devote their sole attention to mining.

A. W. Gifford, secretary of the International Miners' association, of El Paso, Texas, is the selection of the Texas delegation to the congress by members of the board of directors.

Salt Lake City will recommend the re-election of John Dorn as a member of the board of directors. Colorado will probably advance James P. Callbreath, Jr., as its choice for a member of the board of directors.

This is butchers' and grocers' day at Lagoon, in consequence of which a great many of the stores are closed. A feature of the outing is a grand barbecue to be served after 4 o'clock. This will consist of 10,000 beef sandwiches, requiring six steers or 3,500 pounds of beef. George Newland, the well known butcher, has charge of this part of the program and will give the steers and the barbecue to be most successful. It is expected that the resort will witness one of the biggest days of the season, which means a crowd of from seven to eight thousand people. Besides the barbecue there will be sports of different kinds and a jolly, good time generally.

Lagoon was the scene yesterday of a merry gathering of big and little folks, the occasion being the combined outing of the Young Men's Society and the Weber stake Sunday schools. The morning hours were whittled away picknicking, and the afternoon was given to an interesting program of sports, in which many of those present participated. The first big event was a football game between the Salt Lake Scots and the boys from Weber county, resulting in a victory for the Weber county team. The game was between Eden and Huntsville and North Ogden, the latter winning by a score of 4 to 7. A basket ball game between the city and county schools was won by the latter, while David O. McKay, principal of the Weber stake academy, won the running jump, making a distance of 18 feet. Later on the missionaries, augmented by the Thistle Social club, who went out in a body, sang the songs of Bonnie Scotland to the great delight of all present, and the remainder of the day was spent in dancing. All in all the excursion was both enjoyable and successful.

The Ensign stake Sunday schools will spend tomorrow at Liberty Park. The program begins at 10 a.m. and will continue all week along in the evening, with a two hours' intermission for luncheon. In the morning the little folks will chase roosters over the park, while Sidney Clawson and George Margatta will present a farce, entitled "The Poultry Auction." This will be followed by aquatic performances by Pacific islanders on the pond. At 2 p.m. contestants from every Sunday school in the city will participate in a bicycle race under the direction of Hugh Rippetoe. There will be a basket ball game at 4 o'clock under the direction of Willard Bean; a motor race at 5 o'clock; relay race at 5:20 o'clock, and professional athletic performances at 7 in the evening. There will be automobile rides around the park and prizes for the most popular person of every class.

GROCERY FAILS.

Utah Credit Men's Association Closes
Up First South Store.

The Chicago Grocery, 118 West First South street, was attached yesterday afternoon, by the sheriff, on suit in the district court by the Utah Credit Men's association, and a deputy sheriff is now in charge of the property. E. A. Hoagland, brother of the manager of the "Broom Store," was the manager of the Chicago Grocery. At noon today, the liabilities reported at the office of the Credit Men's association had run up to $13,000, "with the back counties set to hear from," as one of the association officials expressed it, and the assets small in comparison. In the trade, the cause of the suspension is ascribed to attempts to do business at less than cost.

BUSINESS NOTES.

Articles of incorporation of the Cullimore Mercantile company of this city were filed in the office of County Clerk James today. Its capital stock is $5,000, divided into shares of the par value of $5 each. W. G. Patrick is president; V. C. Castleton, vice president and secretary; A. L. Cullimore, treasurer.

Today's local bank clearings amounted to $438,627.15, as against $344,295.50 for the same day last year.

Amusements

The big Toot concert takes place in Ogden tonight. The opera house has been entirely sold out, not a single seat remaining at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at which hour there was $1,240 in the box office. Then standing room was disposed of and some hundreds of applicants for seats turned away. This great popular success of the young singer doubtless means a second Junction City concert before her return to Europe. She will appear at the Salt Lake Theater on Monday evening next.

Miss Toot's father and her business manager, Mr. J. C. Emmett will be in Salt Lake tomorrow to confer with Manager Pyper of the Theater regarding her local engagement.

Local showers are prevailing today, with the probability of a continuance tonight and tomorrow.

The sidewalks and street cars have been filled most of the day with Knights Templar excursionists "taking in the sights."

The Z. C. M. I. drug store management has just had put in an unusually fine ceiling decoration which is attracting much commendatory attention.

Next Tuesday evening will be Ladies' night at the University club, when there will be dancing, and possibly a cotillion from 11 to 1 o'clock.

About 70 friends gathered at the home of Andrew Jensen last night in order to wish him God speed on his special mission to Europe. A very pleasant evening was the result.

Not one of the three candidates for governor, Samuel J. Richards, George F. Richards, Samuel Judd, Washington; E. W. Robinson, Cade; John C. Conlisk, Weber; George E. Musser, Wasatch; W. H. Donaldson, Carbon.

Secretary, F. J. Hendershot, Ogden; first assistant, F. J. Clark, Davis; second assistant, A. W. Jensen, Sanpete; third assistant, W. S. Marks, Tooele.

Sergeant-at-arms, Sheriff Floyd of Iron; first assistant, Virgil Kelly, Millard; second assistant, C. V. Anderson, Salt Lake; third assistant, R. W. Sevy, Garfield.

Chaplain, David Hess, Davis.

AFTERNOON CALL.

A general relapse seemed to have resulted from the morning's activity. Prices were generally the same but the buying orders were filled earlier in the day. Butler-Liberal was the only one in the entire list that was considered to any extent. Four thousand five hundred shares sold between 10 and 10 1/2 cents. The sale of 1,000 Goldfield Bonanza at 5 cents completed the business on the regular call.

The afternoon sales were:

Butler-Liberal, 1,500 at 10, seller 30; 500 at 10 1/2, seller 30; 1,000 at 10 1/4; 1,000 at 10 1/2; 500 at 10 1/2, buyer 60.

Goldfield-Bonanza, 1,000 at 5.

Market Row looked this morning, as though lightning or a cyclone had struck the place, for not a vegetable or box of fruit was to be seen. The whole place was swept bare as the sea shore. The explanation was of course, the big driving of grocery and meat men at Lagoon.

Ben E. Reubel of Denver, the young man who was so badly burned by electricity at the Telluride Power company's plant last Friday, died this morning at the Provo general hospital. His brother is here from Denver and will take the remains there for interment this afternoon.

Nephi Bailey of Montpelier, comprising the whole delegation from San Juan county, arrived in Salt Lake last night in order to record his vote at the Republican convention tomorrow and is registered at the Wilson. "I come here untroubled," he declared, "but I believe I will vote for Mr. Carter. The sentiment among the Republicans in San Juan county is practically universal for Carter."

The Real Estate association met this afternoon at the Commercial club for luncheon and chose James D. Miller, recently identified with a local paper, to the position of assistant secretary. He will have charge of the bureau of information to be established in the Morgan block, and of the display of mineral, agricultural and industrial resources of this state in Utahna park. The exhibit is expected to be in place by Saturday next.

Funeral services over the remains of Fannie, the 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Nicol, were held Monday from the family residence, 650 East Second South street. Many friends were in attendance after the funeral sermon was delivered by Rev. Dr. Paden, who spoke words of comfort and consolation to the bereaved. There was a profusion of beautiful floral emblems and the singing was appropriate and sympathetic. The burial was at Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Named as Temporary Presiding Officer
Of Republican Convention.

The Republican state committee convened in this city this afternoon, with 23 counties represented, those not answering to roll call being Beaver, Boxelder and Kane.

The first business to receive attention was the election of a temporary chairman of the convention. George M. Cannon was placed in nomination by Jesse M. Smith and he received 13 votes as against 9 for William D. Livingston. Mr. Cannon will therefore be the temporary presiding officer.

As vice chairmen the following were elected:

George F. Richards, Tooele; Samuel Judd, Washington; E. W. Robinson, Cade; John C. Conlisk, Weber; George E. Musser, Wasatch; W. H. Donaldson, Carbon.

Secretary, F. J. Hendershot, Ogden; first assistant, F. J. Clark, Davis;
