

PIOCHE NOTES.

From the Record of Aug. 19.
Late on Saturday evening the Nevada Central railroad was thrown from the track just west of the Nevada Central crossing the track. The engine was caused by something being placed upon the track. Four being placed, with contents, were upset, one of which was slightly injured, and a brakeman was slightly injured, so slight that he resumed work next morning. The train was delayed about two hours. Three or four rails were torn up, and the engine and train were put to work to repair the damage, and on Sunday morning trains passed over the road again.

FROM THE RECORD OF AUG. 20.

Sudden Death.—At an early hour yesterday morning a son of Patrick Dougherty, who resides on the hill back of Cedar Street, was taken with convulsions. Dr. J. J. Jones was called, and administered such remedies as were best suited to such a case, but without avail, and the young man died. He was about seven years old. He was in good health the evening before, and the announcement of his death yesterday morning was a surprise to all in the neighborhood.

INCREDIBLE.—In the Harrington trial yesterday one witness made this statement: "They tell me there were three shots fired, but I thought there were a dozen." Attorney: "Are you sure as to the sound of a pistol shot there were twelve shots when there were only three?" Witness: "Yes, I am sure." Attorney: "How long have you been on the Pacific coast?" Witness: "Since '44." (The audience surprised.) Attorney: "How long in the Harrington trial?" Witness: "Since five days after the last general election." (Greater surprise.) Attorney: "And you are sure of the reports of pistols and guns?" Witness: "Yes, I am sure." (Can such things be—REP.)

WEATHER.—Yesterday evening we had lightning and sunshine, but wind and thunder.

As the sun went down, a heavy shower of rain, preceded by a few small hailstones, came from the north, where a terrific storm had been raging all the afternoon. The lightning, which flashed around nearly the whole horizon, was particularly bright, and the thunder was very long, while Jupiter's thunders made the world (around Pocatello) tremble with his mighty voice.

EASTERN NOTES.

The Hartford Evening Post has been sued for $1,000 damages, on account of referring to "Prof. Gardner, the great soap peddler," as "the chronic nuisance of Connecticut." One of the Glasgow twins was recently summoned to serve on a jury in North Carolina. Chang would not go and Eng was fined $25 for non-attendance.

An Elmira milkman has introduced a novelty in the way of furnishing milk to his customers. In his wagon are arranged twelve milk cans, each containing a quart of milk, and each filled with fresh milk, full measure. These bottles are delivered as required, the customer being notified by a boy who calls at the door. Each bottle is tightly corked, and can be held in cold water, keeping it fresh and sweet, or set away in a cooler, taking up but little room.

The steamer Florida, Captain Wheeler, left New York, eight miles from land, thirty-three miles east of Portland, on her trip from Boston last night. The steamer was visited by a shower of pebbles that fell like hailstones. The watch on deck, who were on duty at the time, supposed that some of the crew were pelting him. The pebbles were about the size of marbles. In the morning he swept them up and threw all but one handful overboard, much to the regret of the crew, as some were very handsome. In the opinion of an eminent geologist, the stones were taken up by a whirlwind, and some fresh water brook. It will be remembered that the sky presented a very singular appearance this evening. The wind at the time, to use a queer expression blew from all quarters. The stones saved many of the crew, and the crew saved the bottom of a fresh-water brook, and will weigh about one hundred each.—Boston Traveler, July 18.

A certain Flora McMillan, bathed at Narragansett, a day or two ago, in a suit of blue silk trimmed profusely with white lace.

A New Orleans jurymen was asked by the judge if he ever read the papers. He replied: "Yes, I read them, but if you'll let me say this time, I'll never do so any more!"

Two amusing answers of the son of a Western Senator at West Point are recorded. On being asked what he had done in the day, he replied: "I have done nothing but what I should have done." On being asked what he had done in the night, he replied: "I have done nothing but what I should have done."

—An old negro woman in Georgia gives her views on making cotton. She tells the story: "The way day was plenty o' hick'ry. Dey didn't need no nigger den. An' dey would do it in a few niggers, and a good hick'ry now, I kin make any ob dis land about here fetch yer juanner."

—"Why," asks the World, "do we have our roofs badly mended, our houses badly built, our work badly done in every way? Americans are so 'gentle' to be plumbers and journeyman mechanics at five dollars a day, though they will charge for two dollars. Consequently, we have to put up with and pay enormously for bad work, by the inferior, half-finished foreign action, for the best class having plenty of work at home, are loth to leave their country."

The days of summer grow longer as we go northward, and the days of winter shorter. At Hamburg the longest day has seventeen hours, and the shortest seven. At Stockholm the longest day has sixteen hours, and the shortest five and a half. At St. Petersburg the longest day has fifteen hours, and the shortest four and a half. At Moscow the longest day has fourteen hours, and the shortest three and a half. At London the longest day has thirteen hours, and the shortest two and a half. At New York the longest day has twelve hours, and the shortest one and a half. At Pocatello the longest day has eleven hours, and the shortest one hour.

It is well known that rubbing the body with hog's fat has the effect of reducing the temperature of the body in cases of fever. Koss, of Baltimore, directed to incorporate one or two grammes of hog's fat into a hundred grammes of lard, and with this to rub the whole body, excepting the head, two or three times a day, according to the intensity of inflammation characterizing the case in hand. The result was that the temperature of the body was reduced to normal, and the patient recovered.
