Last Night's Dispatches.

CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

Various.

WASHINGTON, 15.—Windom, from the committee on appropriations, reported back the Indian appropriation bill, with amendments; placed on the calendar.

The morning hour having expired, the chair announced that the unfinished business was the bill to provide a new government for the District of Columbia.

Morton moved to postpone the pending and all other orders, and proceed to the consideration of the resolution from the committee on elections, for the admission of Pinchback.

Morrill, of Me., said that he would not now urge the further consideration of the District of Columbia bill, but he would try to have it considered before the end of the session.

Thurman asked if Morton's motion could be divided, so that the Senate could vote first upon postponing pending orders, and then decide what should be taken up?

The chair, Anthony, replied that the motion was divisible, and Thurman then expressed the hope that Morrill would not abandon his bill. Morrill declared that he had no intention of doing so, but he would not press it now. Morton then moved to lay the District of Columbia bill on the table; agreed to, 34 to 23, Fenton, Sprague and Tipton voting with the democrats in the negative.

Morton then moved to take up the Pinchback resolution. Bogy moved to lay the motion on the table, and take up the steamboat bill.

Edmunds made a point that Bogy's motion was not in order. The chair, Antheny, ruled that it was, but finally left the question to the Senate which, by a vote of, yeas 25, nays 26, decided that Bogy's motion was not in order. Morton's motion was then agreed to, and Morton proceeded to argue that Pinchback had a prima facie right to a seat, and must be seated; any inquiries as to the character of the body that elected him, or the means used to secure his election to be made afterwards. He cited numerous authorities and several precedents, and gave notice that he would ask the Senate to come to a vote on the question on Wednesday.

Sargent began his speech on military interference in Louisiana, but before he concluded, a message was received from the House announcing its action in reference to the death of Representative Hooper, and Boutwell, in a few remarks eulogistic of the deceased, offered a resolution of regret and respect, and moved that the Senate accept the invitation to participate in the funeral ceremonies, and that it now adjourn as a mark of respect. Agreed to, and the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

Passed—Death of Hooper, Etc.

The hour of meeting hereafter was fixed at eleven a.m.

The senate bill allowing Engineer Fitch, of the U. S. navy, to accept a present sent his wife by the Khedive of Egypt, passed.

Hazelton moved to suspend the rules and pass the senate bill referring to the court of claims certain claims for the construction of iron clads and steam machinery during the war. After discussion, in which it was stated by the opponents of the bill that it would cost five millions, the motion was rejected, 132 to 100.

The house then proceeded to the consideration of the bills affecting the District of Columbia, and spent over two hours in the discussion of the tax bill for the District, without reaching a conclusion.

E. R. Hoar announced the death of his colleague Hooper, and moved the appointment of a committee of seven to superintend the funeral ceremonies, which would be held to-morrow in the hall of the house, and that the senate be invited to attend; the resolution was adopted and the committee appointed, and the house, as a further mark of respect, adjourned.

EASTERN.

Supreme Court Decisions.

WASHINGTON, D. C., 15.—The Supreme Court to-day, rendered the following decisions:

"Kisley and others vs. McGlynn and others, on appeal from the Circuit Court of California. This was a proceeding to set aside the probate of the will of the late Senator Broderick, of which Andrew J. Butler, now deceased, and McGlynn, were executors. The former court held that a court of equity will not entertain jurisdiction of questions or devise which have been authoritatively settled by a proper court, and that, in this case, the decision of the probate court of California is conclusive of the fact of the genuineness of the will, that the action is barred by the statute of limitations; and if it were not, the facts alleged show that the will should have been contested before the probate court, and that it would have been but for the ignorance of the complainants of Broderick's death, and all public events connected with it. The seclusion of complainants' want of means of information is no excuse in such a case and will not exempt them from the laws which control human affairs, nor does it make any difference that two of the complainants are married women. This fact does not take them out of the operation of the statute of limitations. Judgment affirmed."

The city of Sacramento vs. Towle, in error to the circuit court for California. The object of this action was to impeach a judgment obtained against the city in a State court, on the ground that there was no sufficient service of process on the corporation, it having been served on the president of the board of trustees and not on the head of the corporation. The court hold the service on the president of the board to have been on the head of the corporation, and therefore sufficient on its merits. It is said that if the city had any offence to the action it should have been set up in the State court."

"Bernhisel vs. Firman, on appeal from the supreme court for Utah. It is here held that where a creditor of an insolvent surrenders old securities within proper time, and takes new ones, the new ones are valid as a consideration for the surrender for the old, and that if this were not so the creditor would lose his debt without a fault of his own, and contrary to the intent of the debtor. Reversed.

Customs Receipts—Appropriation Bill.

The receipts, to-day, from internal revenue and customs aggregate over two millions, nearly $750,000 of which was coin, the total being the largest for any one day since the panic of '73. The large receipts are mainly due to the anxiety to get goods affected by the pending tariff bill out of the bond house.

The committee on appropriations, to-day, completed the sundry civil appropriation bill. The principal items are—a million and sixty thousand for the government's share of the expenses of the District of Columbia, fifteen thousand for the purchase of Mrs. Ransom's portrait of General Thomas, and $25,000 for Carpenter's painting, "Signing the Emancipation Proclamation."

Terrible.

BOSTON, 15.—The crews of several of the fishing vessels caught in the ice at Provincetown, managed to reach the shore to-day, after a perilous journey, in some instances, of hours, leaving their vessels to their fate. There are a dozen vessels whose crews are entirely out of provisions and fuel, and unless succor can reach them they must perish from cold and hunger. Some of them are ten or twelve miles from shore, with ice piled up many feet for miles; treacherous air holes and wide stretches of open water rendering escape impossible, and unless the weather moderates within the next twenty-four hours with a westerly wind, the most disastrous results must ensue.

Approved.

NEW YORK, 15.—The Pacific Mail directors have approved the action of Rufus Hatch, ordering the institution of suits against parties alleged to have received subsidy money; about thirty persons are involved.

Ecclesiastical Intelligence.

A cable telegram to the New York Freeman's Journal announces that the Rev. James A. Healy, of Boston, has been made Catholic bishop of Portland, Me., and the Very Rev. Thomas Galberry the Augustinian bishop of Hartford, J. J. Kain, of Harper's Ferry, bishop of Wheeling, Rev. Krautbayer, of Milwaukee, bishop of Green Bay, Rev. Hurdy, of Peoria, bishop of a see created for that city, the Rev. John Ireland, of St. Paul, Minn., vicar apostolic of Nebraska, and Abbot Seidenbush the Benedictine vicar apostolic for a part of Minnesota; also that the Pope has confirmed the promotion of Boston, Philadelphia, Milwaukee and Santa Fe as arch-episcopal sees.

$100,000 Fire.

DARIEN, Ga., 15.—A fire on Sunday a. m., destroyed a large number of stores and the Gazette printing office; loss $100,000, insurance $40,000.

WESTERN.

SOUTHAMPTON, 15.—The steamer Leipsig was only slightly damaged, and she will sail for Baltimore in a day or two.
