CACHE COUNTY SENDS FIFTY-ONE
INSTRUCTED DELEGATES TO THE STATE CONVENTION.

RESOLUTION ENDORSEMENT

It Is Endogistic to An Extreme Degree
And Encounters No Tone of Opposition Anywhere.

(Special to the "News.")

Logan, Aug. 31.—With fifty-one Republican delegates instructed to vote for him, Joseph Howell is considered here to be now a formidable candidate for re-election to the lower house of Congress. In Logan there is hardly a dissenting opinion in regard to the value of Congressman Howell's service to his community, his state and the nation, and when the hour arrived in Saturday's county convention to instruct delegates how to vote in the state convention, a resolution pledging them to Congressman Howell passed with a vigorous acclamative cheer.

With this nucleus of fifty-one pledged votes as a point of beginning, it is thought that the Howell influence will spread rapidly through other counties, and that the pledging of votes to Congressman Howell will become a matter of practice.

Parley P. Christensen, a son of Cache county, visited Cache in the interest of his candidacy, but failed to make his strength apparent in the convention.

With the exception of slight opposition to the re-election of W. H. Thain as county chairman, there were no incidents marked by sharp debate in the convention.

State Senator Herschel Bullen, Jr., and George Q. Smith replied to a speech by Jos. A. Smith of Providence, demanding the retirement of Mr. Thain as chairman, declaring that Smith was mistaken in supposing that there was friction within the party and any elements that would count against an ultimate victory for the ticket. Thain was elected by unanimous vote, except that of Senator Smith.

David R. Roberts was chairman of the convention, J. W. Jensen was secretary. The resolution, pledging the delegation to Howell, was presented by Dr. Geo. Thomas, and was as follows:

HOWELL RESOLUTION.

"We point with pride to the record of Cache county's favored son, as citizen, neighbor and statesman. The Hon. Joseph Howell enjoys the full confidence and esteem of his constituency in official and private life. He has proven his fitness and ability to successfully cope with the important business and social problems in a fearless and capable manner. Therefore, fully believing that we are venting the practically unanimous sentiment of Republicans of Cache county, we, the Republican delegates in convention assembled, desire to go on record in support of his re-nomination, and we do hereby instruct our delegation to the state convention which will convene at Salt Lake City, Utah, on the 15th day of September next, to cast the entire vote of Cache county as a unit for the Hon. Joseph Howell for congress."

LIST OF DELEGATES.

The delegates as elected are: Benson, J. H. Reese; College, C. O. Dunn; Cove, Charles I. Stoddard; Clarkston, Alma L. Jensen; Hyde Park, C. G. Hyde and P. T. Ballam; Hyrum, W. C. Parkinson; Sorensen, Hansson, A. M. Jensen and John H. Gibbs; Logan, District No. 1, Joseph E. Wilson, Jr.; District No. 2, H. A. Pederson; District No. 3, T. P. Smith; District No. 4, D. R. Roberts and Joseph Bodell; District No. 5, W. H. Thain; Joseph Odell and Thomas Smart; District No. 6, P. M. Poulsen; District No. 7, J. C. Walters, H. Bullen, Jr., and Leonard Campbell; District No. 8, E. W. Robinson and J. A. Sneddon; District No. 9, W. W. McLaughlin and J. Z. Stewart, Jr.; District No. 10, Eph. Christensen and James McNeil; Lewiston, P. M. Stevenson, Milville, Ole Olsen, Mendon, Thomas Muir; Newton, E. C. Schneider; Peterboro, James C. Jensen; Providence, Joseph A. Smith; Thain, J. H. Thain; Tropic, A. L. Williams and D. M. Bloomer; Richmond, Asa Bullen and Clarence Funk; Smithfield, W. L. Winn, James Milligan, R. B. Thornley, J. P. Tolson and James J. McKee; Wellsville, William H. Maughan, N. J. Allen, John A. Leatham, R. S. Rasmussen; Wheeler, Samuel Kent.

POLITICAL POINTERS

Some newspapers seem to be suffering while breaking in new political reporters. The Taft club of Logan, organized to insure and wipe the slate clean of all present incumbents, according to some Salt Lake papers actually surged into convention with a cheer for Joseph Howell to succeed himself that meant a solid pledged delegation of 61 members.

The Bryan club is planning a monster rally Sept. 21 to be held in Salt Lake. The date is set because of the Democratic state convention to be held in Logan and a great number of southern delegates are expected in Salt Lake as a consequence. As a means to encourage the people of the Democratic party in general the rally has been planned. Membership committees for the Bryan club report good success.

The Seventh judicial district convention of the Republican party will be held at Price on Sept. 12, and the Logan county convention the day previous. Sanpete county will be on hand for the judicial convention and bring a delegation strong enough it is thought, to swing the convention.

The Republican convention in Sanpete county will meet Sept. 5 at Mantia. The representation is 106 delegates chosen on the basis of one for each 25 votes cast for Congressman Howell two years ago.

Mrs. Margaret Zane Wither, in the race for county clerk, is gaining considerable strength as convention day approaches. So far she is the only woman who has announced her candidacy for office and the Republicans will probably vote her the position by acclamation.

D. R. Roberts of Cache is credited with aspirations to succeed William Spry as U. S. marshal should Mr. Spry land the gubernatorial nomination.

NO MORE FREE WATER.

Hospitals and Churches Must Pay for It to Help "Americans."

The waterworks committee of the city council, which sat all last week as a board of equalization of water rates, is sitting again today. Between 700 and 800 complaints were heard last week, but very few reductions were made. The board will this week take up the churches and hospitals, which the city council have ordered out of the free list. Saturday afternoon the board resolved itself into an investigation body to look into the theft of $78 worth of lead pipe from the department. There will probably be some discharges from the department as a result, although responsibility for this particular theft was not discovered. Several earlier thefts are said to have been unearthed, and the action will be as regards these.

RESCUED FROM SURE.

Daughters of Col. E. A. Wall and Miss L. R. Rogers Have Experience.

Word has reached Salt Lake from Los Angeles of the rescue from possible drowning of four young ladies of this city at Long Beach. They are the Misses Alice, Selma and Mary Wall, daughters of Col. E. A. Wall, and Miss L. R. Rogers. They were bathing when a wind arose and all were in danger. Their cries for help were heard by Night Clerk Robert Baird, of the Astoria hotel, and Alois Mosler, a bartender.

Rushing to the scene, the men took Miss Alice Wall and Miss Rogers to places of safety. Miss Selma Wall and Mary Wall were in imminent danger, and her rescue was effected with a rope. The young women were more or less prostrated by the unpleasant experience. Baird and Mosler were liberally rewarded by Col. Wall.

FOUND THEIR ICE CREAM.

But Mothers They Did Two Found Mothers Were Much Alarmed.

Four little tots ranging in age from 2 to 4 years, caused a great deal of anxiety yesterday afternoon because they walked away from their parents in search of an ice cream vendor. The children were those of Mrs. W. M. Howcroft and Mrs. J. R. Jackman, of 33 Third North street. Mrs. Howcroft was visiting Mrs. Jackman. Yesterday afternoon the youngsters were supplied with pennies and told to wait for the ice cream man. He did not put in an appearance as soon as the children thought he should, and they started out to find him. After they had been gone about an hour an alarm was given and the police force was demanded to make a hunt for them. After the search had been going on for about an hour the tots were seen trudging home, weary, tired, but happy because the ice cream they had succeeded in getting.

BOOSTERS ALREADY BOOSTING.

Excursion to Logan Promises to Be A Lively and Helpful Affair.

The excursion of the Manufacturers' & Merchants' association to Logan Labor day, Sept. 7, bids fair to be of unusual interest as well as of importance. The Logan people are earnest in their attempts at boosting the affair. It is felt that the coming of the thousands of more people from Salt Lake will enliven the city in a way that has never been before.

The association on its arrival at Logan will have a sufficient number of city band and a sufficient number of "barbarians" to carry the visitors to the Agricultural college. The young ladies of the domestic science department will show them through the principal departments of the college and see to their entertainment.

From the college the excursionists will be taken to the city where they will attend an organ recital at the "abernacle" after which dinner will be served. Following will be held the grand meeting of the state will deliver addresses.

It has been intimated that Logan people may make a bid for the county factory that has been originally intended for location farther up the valley.

UTAH PEOPLE ARE URGED TO ATTEND

Fred J. Kiesel Bespeaks Support
At Sixteenth National Irrigation Congress.

WILL SHOW FORMER TROPHIES

Delegation Must Be Strong to Keep
The State Advertised as a Great Producer on Irrigated Lands.

Fred J. Kiesel, as national committeeman for Utah for the Irrigation congress has issued an appeal to the people to turn out for the congress in goodly numbers. It announces a round trip fare of $21.95 to Albuquerque, and gives in detail the attractions of the congress for western people. The appeal follows:

To the People of the State of Utah,

Greeting:
In response to the general call of the Sixteenth National Irrigation congress, I urgently request that Utah go to Albuquerque with a full and representative body of delegates to the convention, which meets at Albuquerque, Sept. 26 to Oct. 3, 1908.
The Irrigation congress has now grown to be, and is recognized as, the most important unofficial congress of our country. This is attested by the museum and direct appropriation of $20,000 made by the Congress of the United States, and further by the good it has accomplished, and that it is now the center of the world in irrigation. The enthusiasm stirred up by these annually recurring events will tend to keep the holy fire burning. It is irrigation from one end of the once desert land to the other. This persistent appealing will eventually arouse the congested centers and will set the poor immigrant to thinking and possibly stir him to follow the footsteps of the pioneers in developing the latent resources of a region until recently designated on the map as terra incognita.

What we require most in this arid section is agricultural laborers, especially to be devoted to sugar beet culture. The reports emanating from these congresses, when disseminated, as they will be, through the United States, will surely eventuate in drawing a desirable agricultural immigration out way, thus aiding in solving one of the perplexing problems of irrigation now confronting us, at the same time adding population and lifting up to a higher plane a great body of the people.

We purpose taking with us to Albuquerque an exhibit worthy of our great state, the means for which are guaranteed by public-spirited citizens, the expenditures to be made by the Utah state board of horticulture, in a manner which, as always heretofore, has brought to us the most gratifying and stimulating results.

We also, on this occasion, shall take with us to Albuquerque the trophies won on former occasions.

It is unnecessary to dwell on the advertising benefits to be obtained by this exhibit, at a minimum of expense. You will be greeted by a choir sanctifying the occasion by singing the official "Irrigation Ode," with which you are familiar.

You will meet and hear the distinguished men of this and other nations, who will expound the science of irrigation while the superb exhibition proves its practical results.

You will know how we have been elevated by the earnestness of the utterances of pre-eminent men, some of whom have traveled thousands of miles to lend their efforts in the cause, and who themselves have been elevated by kindred spirits and the high purpose of the meetings—the conquest of the desert. The knowledge that one has done something, even in a small way, toward the dreary wastes of desert into fields of grain and dispel the desolation with the cheer of homes is an encouraging thought to the laborers at these Irrigation congresses, who lay the foundation stones of a greater policy of reclamation.

On the trip we shall be accompanied by Held's musical organization, who have been in the Rocky Mountain country. The preparations in Albuquerque are complete, the board of control having exerted itself and wisely arranged to take care of every detail in the most approved manner, for which they have incessantly worked for the past year. It will be a trip long to be remembered—let us all pull together and send a rousing evening Round Trip $31.95. Respectfully,

FRED J. KIESEL,
Executive Committeeman for Utah.

WILL OPEN BIDS FOR BOND ISSUE

City Recorder Says Many Satisfactory Offerings Have Been Received.

WHITEWASH FOR WHEELING

Detective Who Assaulted Visitor at Police Station Will Not Be Reprimanded—Opposition to Fitzgerald.

Among the matters of interest to come up in the regular meeting of the city council tonight will be the opening of bids for the $600,000 bond issue authorized at the recent bond election. City Recorder J. B. Moreton says the city is in receipt of numerous bids of a satisfactory nature and that there will be no difficulty whatever in floating the issue with good people. The bonds bear 4 1/2 per cent interest, which is considered a pretty high rate for a city of the standing of Salt Lake.

A proposition may come up to make of Fifth East street a boulevard. The automobile club and the county commissioners are interested in the matter, and it is probable definite action may be had in the very near future. It is said the county commissioners stand ready to improve the street below Tenth South street, where the city limits stop, as soon as the city performs its portion, that of grading the street between Ninth and Tenth south.

OPPOSITION TO FITZGERALD.

The matter of the confirmation of W. L. Fitzgerald as assistant chief of the fire department is scheduled for this evening, but that is not certain, as there is said to be considerable opposition to the appointment among the members of the council.

A whitewashing report for Frank M. Wheeling, the city detective who struck Moffett H. Rice, a negro, in Chief Pitt's office the early part of the month, may be expected. An unsigned report from the police and prison committee, of which J. J. Stewart is chairman, has been lying in the city recorder's pouch for two weeks, awaiting the return of Mr. Stewart from a trip. The report recommends that the letter of Moffett H. Rice, the negro, complaining of the assault, be filed.

AN IMPORTANT QUESTION.

New York, Aug. 25.—Down in the banking district, where men deal in money and stocks and bonds and other things that represent values, there is a feeling that the railroads furnish the bulk of the momentum that carries on business. One of these peculiar characters who deives and works below to find out why things show on the surface believes that unless the railroad is prosperous, the country feels hard times. This is his argument.

Who buys the most lumber? The Railroads. They use the most ties, bridge timber, fencing, etc., etc., and they buy cars of lumber companies who buy enormous quantities of the best timber. Then they keep the farmers busy getting out ties in the winter.

Who is affected when the railroads stop buying lumber? The supply men. Then the concerns whose axes, saws, axes, grease, wagons, horses and the thousand and one requirements in that line of business notice a material reduction in their business.

What do they do? They lay off employees, cut down expenses, stop buying the raw material from which their stock is manufactured.

Who suffers? That's easy. Each employee all along the line of the business with so many ramifications, reduces his expenses, cuts down to the quick and the merchant and seller of supplies to the household finds his trade growing smaller and smaller.

The retailer cuts his orders and the jobber cuts his and along we come to the manufacturer of things for the home, being and his living and his, turn, lays off men and thus in turn go around the same circle of economy.

And so on, argues this philosopher, in the steel business and all others and in the labor market, is the property and the money spending ability of the railroad the foundation of business.

There is a plethora of money in banks but the railroads cannot pay it and spend it, because their credit is exhausted. Whenever the railroads can again show that they can pay the interest on new loans, then will prosperity return.

This analyzer of conditions thinks that a merchant would rather pay $10 a year more freight and do $2,500 more business, than pay $10 less freight and do $3,000 less business.
