DEATH OF TRUSTY IN THE GATE CITY

Colored Prisoner Drops Dead
While Escaping From County Jail in Pocatello.

WOOLEN MILL PROPOSITION.

Prospects Are That Idaho May Get a
Big Plant in the Near Future.

Special Correspondence.

Pocatello, Ida., June 14.—A colored prisoner at the county jail, known as "Bill Bailey," but whose right name is William Evans, who was held for trial to the federal court on the charge of selling liquor to the Indians, made a run for liberty yesterday that cost him his life.

Bill was subject to heart failure, and had even received treatment for the same by Dr. Bean while awaiting his trial. Yesterday, while acting as a trusty and engaged in carrying a pan of ashes to the calaboose can, he boiled, unobserved by the officers.

CLOSING OF SCHOOL.

The Pocatello public schools closed yesterday, and appropriate exercises were held Tuesday evening at the McNichols and Wright's hall, and further exercises were held this evening in the new Pocatello Congregational church. Miss Olive Gruver, a popular teacher in the public school, was fortunate in being a winner in the Idaho contest for the Yellowstone park trip originated by the Portland Oregonian. She received 18,994 votes, and will represent Idaho from the Twentieth district. It is announced that 24 winners were elected.

YELLOWSTONE LIMITED.

The Oregon Short Line will issue a new time card next Sunday, the chief changes will consist of an additional trip to the Yellowstone park.

The Yellowstone limited will leave Salt Lake daily at 8 p. m., arrive here at 2:30 a. m., stop 20 minutes, and arrive at Marysville at 6:30 a. m., whence it returns south at 8:40 each evening.

The Short Line is profiting by the experience here last winter, and is following the scheme devised in the past by piling up storage coal on the lake ground.

One-third of the Y is set apart as a dumping ground, and just as fast as coal is marked, Idaho arrives, it is shipped to Y, where at present three tracks are used for this purpose only, coal bins and chutes are all right in their places, but this terra firma requires no more, and the scheme is simply unclouded or redoubled as required.

JUNE WEDDINGS.

Of June weddings last week and this, mention must be made of the union of Miss Mae E. Silver and Jovial Frank Sealey, who were married in the St. Joseph's church Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Rev. C. Van der Dower performing the ceremony.

On Wednesday Le Roy Harrison of this city and Miss Eleanor Barrow of McAdams were married in the St. Joseph's church Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Rev. C. Van der Dower performing the ceremony.

Last Thursday, Miss Estelle M. Bernhart of Logan and Mr. Milton Oliver Bell of the firm of Reddish Brothers & Bell, were married at Logan, Utah.

Yesterday Miss Margaret Bell of this city and Peter S. Burke of Los Angeles, California, were married after a short acquaintance.

NO CELEBRATION.

The original committee appointed by the mayor for the purpose of getting up a celebration for the Fourth of July, met with such a lack of success, that the committee and others who were expected to back the proposition, that it made an adverse report, and the proposition was rejected.

Now the local lodge of Modern Red Men, the latest lodge in the land of Blamock, have decided to celebrate in a truly aboriginal manner, and it looks like it was going to be a successful affair.

An appeal has been made to the Port Republic to have the Indians participate, and to furnish part of the amusements, such as music, foot and horse races. Besides the Indian band, an independent band will be organized for the occasion, under the direction of Chas. E. Petzer, a veteran band man.

MAY GET WOOLEN MILL.

There is a prospect of Pocatello having a woolen mill in the near future if the citizens will get together and encourage capital to invest. One J. F. Laver of Eugene, California, an experienced woolen mill man, has been in communication for some time with the Gate City Commercial club, and he offers to erect conditionally a $100,000 plant. He would furnish the necessary machinery and hold it as stock; he would ask the citizens to furnish mill site and take out stock to about $5000 or $5,000. Mr. Brady is reported to be willing to furnish power as stock. No decision has yet been arrived at.

FIRE AT RESIDENCE.

A fire occurred tonight about 10:30 in the new residence of Mr. Frankenstein of the house of Wakefield & Frankenstein, which was soon put

STOLE DIAMOND BROOCH.

H. H. Thompson, colored, late of Ogden, pleaded guilty to the charge of grand larceny this morning in Justice White's court. It was proven and he also confessed to having stolen a diamond brooch from Mrs. Emma J. Hinley of Ogden, who is residing with her son George. The crime was committed yesterday. He was fined $100 and costs. The brooch was recovered, and Thompson is trying to raise means to pay the fine.

Thomas W. Woodland of Marsh Center has entered a suit against the Oregon Short Line for $280 damages for the loss of a horse and cow killed by a train near Arimo.

PAUL MORRIS SHOT OVER LAND DISPUTE.

Special Correspondence.

S. T. ANTHONY, June 14.—The Jackson Hole country in Wyoming is much stirred up over the murder of Paul Morris by Thomas Sewall at Wilson, Wyoming, yesterday. Sewall shot Morris with a Winchester rifle which caused almost instant death. The tragedy is the outcome of an old feud which has been intensified of late through little disputes over land and cattle. Morris was a man of influence and his death is regretted very much by many people. As near as can be learned, Morris is thought to have been in the act of driving some of Sewall's cattle from off his premises when Sewall appeared with a rifle and shot him through the stomach, dropping him to the ground almost in his tracks. A hurried investigation of the wound disclosed the fact that death was almost instantaneous. Morris was well known politically from his stand taken some years ago against the throwing of a great tract of the Jackson Hole country into a reserve. This tract was approved as a government reserve upon which Morris resided to Washington and through his efforts the land was taken from the reserve and thrown open to settlement.

The body found in the Egan canal a few miles west of St. Anthony is now thought to be the body of one of the Japanese who were drowned in the Snake river some weeks ago, while escaping from the officials.

MR. AND MRS. KURTZ
DONATE PARK TO NAMPA.

Special Correspondence.

NAMPA, Ida., June 14.—Nampa will celebrate the Fourth of July. It will not be as large a celebration as last, as it is too late to make preparations. An orator will be engaged, amusements, games and sports provided, a dancing pavilion will be erected, and the Columbia band has been secured for the occasion. Committees are to be appointed and the detailed arrangements made in a few days.

The city council has given notice that bids for the Nampa fire department will be received at the office of the Tattle Mercantile company up to 10 o'clock this morning.

Last night the Openup theater, under the management of Mike Goldstein opened to the public with two vaudeville performances and the theater, which has a capacity of about 400, was crowded for both. The show was very good and everybody went away pleased.

Through the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Kurtz, Nampa is to have a fine park. They have decided to donate to the city four blocks in the Kurtz addition for that purpose. The city has been endeavoring to buy this property for some time but owing to the many other uses for the city money at present the matter has gone over. The city has been endeavoring to buy this property for some time but owing to the many other uses for the city money at present the matter has gone over.

Mr. and Mrs. Kurtz, the donors, are numbered among Nampa's earliest residents, and throughout the years of its growth have been unceasing workers for the betterment of the town. Their generous gift is the gift of this park site, since the land has a value at the present time of $1,000, which value will steadily grow.

BRIEF JOTTINGS BY MALAD CORRESPONDENT.

Special Correspondence.

MALAD, June 15.—Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bush left for Salt Lake City yesterday, where Mrs. Bush will undergo treatment.

Elder Frederick E. Jones returned home Monday from his mission to England. A reception was tendered him at the tabernacle on the same evening, where a good program was rendered. Elder Jones is in excellent health and reports the conference in a flourishing condition.

A great many people from Malad attended the conference at Salt Lake City, returning home Monday.

Fred Ray who has been studying medicine in the eastern colleges is spending some days in Malad.

SOMEONE HAS BEEN STINGING FRED DUBOIS.

Special Correspondence.

NELLY, Oneida Co., Ida., June 14.—Postmaster Bennett has been receiving the attention of Senator Dubois recently as a possible polygamist who ought to be turned out of his position at American Falls; the joke of the matter is that Mr. Bennett has never been married, and therefore has not even the one wife the law allows.

During the holidays Miss Nellie noticed a little advertisement in the Deseret News asking for information of the Neely family. She took the paper over to Bishop Wm. Neely and asked him if he had any children referred to in his family; he said it did. He entered into correspondence with the gentleman, who is in prosperous circumstances in Kansas, and at the beginning of this week the bishop enjoyed a visit from his cousin and his bride, who were on a wedding trip, and touring the Pacific states. It had been the intention of the visitors to spend three days with the bishop and family, but the washout on the railroad delayed them so much that they were unable to remain longer than one day.

Development of Idaho's Beet Sugar Industry.

This view shows a field of 160 acres, all planted in beets, at Nampa, as it looked on June 8. This is the first year of beet culture in that district, and the condition of the beets is said to be a remarkable one. In the background is seen the outline of the sugar factory, costing three quarters of a million dollars, now being erected by the Western Idaho Sugar company. The figure in the foreground is that of Mark Austin, resident manager.

This sketch shows a field of beets at Blackfoot, Idaho, on June 6. The beets here are also in good condition for this time of year, and the Blackfoot factory, which suffered last year on account of the blight and drought, is expected to make a good record this season, not only from the tonnage of beets produced in its locality, but from the surplus which will be forwarded from the factory at Sugar City.

IDAHO EDITOR ON SLANDER OF A STATE

THE following address was prepared for delivery by Avery C. Moore, editor of the Weiser World, before the National Editorial association, which is in session at Indianapolis this week. The subject, "The Slander of a State," is a timely and an interesting one.

"The letter of President Dymond, asking me to speak before the National Editorial association for the second time, gave me wide latitude in the choosing of a subject. Censure the indulgent pilot of the Louisiana Planter, therefore, if in asking you to make a concrete application of the virtue of confidence, I give offense either to your opinions or to your intelligence.

"My friends, I am glad to be provided with the opportunity to talk with you once more. This great association brought into my life a rare degree of happiness that is only equalled by the gratitude that fills my heart. To be with you again, and to revive the associations of other days, is to me a pleasure deep and satisfying. I journeyed 2,000 miles to enjoy it and 3,000 miles from Idaho is a far greater distance than 1,000 miles from any other state that I know anything about. If you have lived in Idaho you would quite agree with me. People who are in search of the most favored spot of which earth can boast, experience the same degree of satisfaction when they discover Idaho that you and I used to feel when we reached the mine in the course of mother's Christmas dinner.

"Fellow workers, I had thought to claim your attention for a little while along other lines, but the conviction has forced itself upon me that I would be unworthy of the citizenship with which Idaho has endowed me if I did not take advantage of the opportunity this occasion affords to discuss a matter that is of grave concern to my people. It should never be necessary for me to declare the integrity of any of the states in this Union, and, in so far as you are concerned, it is not necessary to do so now. But you have the ears of millions of our fellow-countrymen who have been deceived. It is within your power to reach the hearts and correct the judgment of these people, and it is because I am persuaded you will do so in a spirit of fairness that I declare to you today the stainer of honor of the sovereign state of Idaho.

"There is a man living down here in Indiana who has been, and is, asserting the contrary. He is declaring to the country every week that Idaho has determined to commit murder in the name of justice. No charge so infamous as that was ever before conceived by the agents of evil and hurled at an American state. With the faith of a great and just people behind me, I declare to you, my brother editors, on this halcyon soil that he dishonors in dishonoring mine, that Eugene Debs has lied. He lied when he proclaimed the existence of a conspiracy between Idaho and the mine owners of Colorado to destroy labor unionism in the mineral industry. He lied when he said that the courts of Idaho could be bought and sold like merchandise; and he lied, as only a man deranged or debased can lie, when he heralded to the workers of the United States that Idaho had declared, in advance of trial, the death of innocent men.

"Gentlemen, in the state of Idaho we begin one of the most remarkable criminal cases in the annals of the law. Three men are to be tried for murder. The fiend who, by his own hand, destroyed the life of one of Idaho's former governors, has confessed that these three men charged with a crime against the commonwealth of Idaho, a crime against human society and against civilization. If they are innocent they will be set free; if guilty they must pay the penalty that Idaho demands of those who offend against her laws.

"A confessed assassin says that the men on trial are guilty; I believe they are innocent; the people of Idaho believe they are innocent; the laws of Idaho place the presumption of innocence with the accused; the courts of Idaho will proceed with the trial upon that assumption—and a jury of American citizens will not find them guilty without the presentation of legitimate convictive evidence.

"The courts of Idaho were always acquainted just until the Prophet of Disorder arose and declared them corrupt. But I make no unreasonable request when I ask you to believe that the administration of justice in my state is pure until you are given evidence of its corruption.

"It is a serious thing to charge a state established upon a free constitution with conspiracy against the fundamental guarantees of liberty. Eugene Debs doubtless knows how such an unsupported indictment can advance the cause of the co-operative commonwealth, his method of reasoning is hard to follow. In Idaho we cannot see how the murder trial which I have referred to any other murder trial—is Socialism's concern, any more than it is the concern of Methodism or of Masonry. Nor can Idaho determine how the conviction or acquittal of the accused men can, in any wise, affect the great movement of labor toward industrial emancipation; that knowledge is the peculiar and exclusive possession of Eugene Debs. It is evident, however, that he has less faith in the dignity and stability of that movement than have the American people generally and the people of Idaho in particular.

"Out in the tolerant atmosphere of Idaho we are spending the day of Labor, but men engaged in conspiracy to disrupt or discredit the institution of labor unionism. On the contrary, it is our proud boast that we have established a state where labor is secured by secure against crimes of the mine owners of Colorado, and secure against Debs and the gospel of force.

"Gentlemen, I am a citizen of Idaho, and have spoken as the citizens of Idaho feel. I ask your confidence in the high motives that control them—and I deliver to you a sealed bond of promise that they will never contribute a chapter of dishonor to 'The History of the American People.'

pointed in learning from Mr. Stoney of Logan that his ball team will not be able to fill their engagement here next Saturday on account of their having to go fishing. The Preston team considers that it has the Logan team afraid of it, hence the sudden desire of Stoney's players to go fishing on the day appointed to play Preston. There would be more satisfaction, however, in beating them in a fairly played game on the diamond. A game has been arranged between Weston and Preston to take place in Preston on Saturday, June 16.

A number of the business men have taken up the proposition of fencing ground for a baseball park, and of improving it by placing a first-class grandstand on it. It is said that the new grounds will be ready for playing by July 4.

Last evening a meeting of the several committees on the Fourth of July celebration was held at the rooms of the Commercial club. The different chairmen of committees were instructed as to what was expected of them. To make things lively and to make July 4, 1906, a memorable one in the history of Preston there will be, first a reduced rate excursion to Preston from all points in Cache valley; horse races, a first class brass band, an Indian war dance by real Indians, probably a balloon ascension, a big fireworks display at night and a program in the morning, and last, but not least, a big baseball game.

Some controversy has been going on between the village fathers and the Independent Telephone company as to whether or not the telephone company should occupy the middle of the road or not. From the latest developments it is likely that the telephone will have to be removed to the side of the street.

The building is to be a two-story structure of pressed brick and cut stone, and will be located on the northeast corner of State and Oneida streets. The contract provides that the building is to be finished ready for occupancy by Aug. 25.

On Wednesday, the 6th, Miss Ada Hunter and Mr. Pearl Archer, both of Preston, were married in Logan, born to Mr. and Mrs. Cal Jenkins, on June 4, twin boys. One of the twins has since died.

BURLEY SETTLERS TO THE SOUTH IN A BAD PLIGHT.

Special Correspondence.

BURLEY, June 14.—B. C. Edwards, who was sent by the Settlers' league to Washington, D. C., to confer with the officers in charge of the reclamation service in regard to the water on the south side, returned home last week. On Saturday afternoon at a meeting of the league, he gave a short report of his visit. He stated that the Idaho delegation to Washington is going later, and that he has been able to get the attention of the secretary of the interior, to the effect that they took up and at Halley was required to post this circular in conspicuous places, to give a circular to each applicant for filing, and also give verbal warning as contained in the circular. The settlers on this project know that they did not receive any such warning, either written or verbal, and they are now in a bad plight to settle upon the land. Here is another chance for the Halley land office to extend a helping hand to the south side settlers. The secretary of the interior believed that these circulars were faithfully distributed. The question is, Did the Halley land office receive these circulars?

In regard to the petition that was sent by the settlers to the secretary of the interior, Mr. Edwards stated that a reply was received later. In his remarks, Mr. Edwards stated that he did not find any thought of abandoning the south side pumping system, so the only thing settlers can do now is to wait until it comes.

County Assessor J. L. Smith has been busy interviewing the citizens in and around Burley this week.

Albert Erickson, representing the Harris Wool Co., St. Louis, has been here for a few days looking over wool which he contracted for last fall.

J. W. Walton, traveling freight and passenger agent of the C. B. & Q., is here looking after two carloads of wool that is being loaded for St. Louis over his road.

Rev. Rankin and associates are holding gospel sessions every night this week in a large tent.

WEEKLY WEATHER BULLETIN FOR IDAHO.

THE weekly weather bulletin issued by the U. S. department of agriculture weather bureau includes the following summary for the week ending June 11, for the state of Idaho:

The week opened with cool weather prevailing over the entire state. The reported period continued till about the 8th, and light frosts occurred in many localities on the 7th and 8th. After that time the weather became warmer, but not excessively so for the season, the mean temperature for the week has been below normal in all parts of the state. The sky was generally partly cloudy to cloudy, and showers and thunderstorms were of frequent occurrence, having been heavy in southeastern counties, where more than 1 inch of rain fell. There was some light hail, and high winds accompanied some of the thunderstorms. Streams are carrying large amounts of water.

BIGGEST TIMBER SALES IN IDAHO

On July 20 8,500 Acres in Kootenai County Will Come Under Hammer.

BOISE CARPENTERS STRIKE.

Are Out After an Eight-Hour Day at 45 Cents—Investigations on Government Labor.

Special Correspondence.

BOISE, Ida., June 14.—At a meeting of the state land board this week a date was set for one of the biggest timber sales in the history of the state. On July 20 timber will be sold from 8,500 acres situated in Kootenai county, which is conservatively estimated to cut 10,000,000 feet. The timber in this section is quite scattered and represents quite a variety, including fir, white pine, tamarack, etc. The figures of the appraiser aggregate about $145,000. The timber will be sold at auction, at Rathdrum on the date above mentioned. Present indications point to very lively bidding.

A move which will mean considerable to the lumber men of the north and the state in protecting its timber interests, was the organization last week of a fire protective association in which all the big timber men and lumber companies of the state are joined. The association is to be organized to safeguard the vast timber regions of that country and protecting them from the devastating fires, which have heretofore destroyed millions of dollars' worth of valuable timber.

MEETING IN COEUR D'ALENE.

At the meeting, which was held in Coeur d'Alene City, the state was represented by State Land Commissioner C. J. Stinson and state land specialist, N. L. Marvin. Governor Gooding had all arrangements made to attend, but the washouts on the railroad in Oregon prevented his going. However, the organization was effected according to his suggestions and plans. The associations formed are for the protection of the timber lying along the Clearwater, St. Joe, Coeur d'Alene and St. Maries rivers, in which districts the state owns about 250,000 acres of timber lands which are valued at about $5,000,000.

The result of the meeting was a union of the Clearwater Fire Protective association, the Coeur d'Alene Fire Protective association and the St. Maries Fire Protective association. The territory covered by these two associations will be divided into districts, each of which will have two patrolmen, whose duty it will be to patrol, establish fire camps and patrol the districts daily. Each will be fully armed at all times with implements for fire-fighting.

It is the governor's plan to establish fire protective associations in other parts of the state, so that the timber interests shall be fully protected.

M. I. CHURCH APPOINTED.

At a meeting of the state land board Tuesday, Charles S. McConnell was formally dropped from his position as registrar of the state land office. Mr. L. Church, of Caldwell, probate judge of Canyon county, was appointed to fill his place. The reason given for Mr. McConnell's dismissal was neglect of duty.

The carpenter's union men of Boise are still on strike for an eight-hour day at 45 cents. The three affiliated unions with the carpenters, the painters, the brick layers and the plasterers, have practically failed in their effort to effect a settlement with the State. They have now withdrawn their support. Work on several public buildings is thus suspended and non-union men will be put to work, if a settlement is not effected soon.

EIGHT HOUR LAW.

United States District Attorney N. M. Rusk has, in a letter, made a report upon the matter called to his attention some time ago by the Federal Labor union of Boise, respecting the contractors on the Boise-Payette government irrigation project who were compelling the men to work ten hours per day instead of eight hours, which, as claimed, is in direct violation of the provision known as the "eight hour law."

The attorney communicated to the contractors that they "are charged with violating the 'eight hour law,' and that such violation, if continued, will result in prosecutions under the statute."

DR. FRANCE OUT FOR GOVERNOR

In a telegram to a Boise paper the other day Dr. France took occasion to deny a rumor set afloat by the Gooding people that he had withdrawn from the race. He not only denied that he was in the race to stay, but predicted that the "old north" would be behind him. By the "north" he means the counties of Shoshone, Kootenai, Latah, Nez Perce and Idaho.
