

TAFT'S VIEWS ON LUMBER TARIFF

Personally He Declares He Is Not In Favor of a Two Dollar Duty for Any Purpose.

"WE ARE GETTING TOGETHER"

When Revenue Tariff Men and Protectionists Agree on Amount, Not Much Difference Between Them.

Petersburg, Va., May 19.—President Taft opposes a high tariff on lumber.

"Personally, I am not in favor of a $2 tariff on lumber for any purpose," the president said late today in an address on the lawn at Center Hill mansion here.

"I'm not going to say that the tariff for revenue only and tariff for the purposes of protection are one and the same thing, when they both reach the same amount," he continued, "but when a congressman from Alabama favors a $2 tariff on lumber for revenue and a congressman from Washington or Oregon favors a $2 tariff on lumber for protection, they haven't any great amount of dispute between them. It all means, my friends, that we are working closer and closer together along different routes."

"The southern congressmen who have been sharply criticized by their home papers for deserting the sacred principles of free trade, come about as close to knowing what their constituents at home want as do the leading papers of the same community. This again is but for an illustration of the fact that we are getting together."

Mr. Taft's speech was made at the close of an active day and was a plea for a closer union between the north and south. His first speech of the day was delivered at the unveiling of a shaft of granite and a heroic figure in bronze, placed on the battleground of Fort Mahone to commemorate the valor of Gen. John B. Hartranft and the Pennsylvania soldiers of the Third division of the Ninth corps of the Union Army. President Taft addressed there a notable gathering of veterans in the blue of the north and the gray of the south. The president's second address was delivered after luncheon at Center Hill mansion.

Thousands, including mayors, gathered to hear him. In discussing a united country he said:

"Now, there is not the slightest doubt that the danger to the country that arose in the Spanish war united the south and the north in a way that nothing else could. But, my friends, a national war is just a bit expensive in point of money and blood and I think we have got to the point where we can go on getting closer without this supreme test that a national war brings about."

"I believe it is possible to make this one common country for all of us. I know that a very sensible and patriotic northerner can sit and listen to the tales of heroism of the southerner in the war between the states and feel proud of the deeds of the men of the sunny south. And I know the sensible men of the south can do the same thing with respect to the recounting of the glorious deeds of the northern army."

"You will always find some fool at one end of the crowd saying something that a fool at the other end of the crowd as a challenge, and then they try to stir up the middle by some altogether thoughtless statement that we know sensible men would not pay any attention to, and therefore what we have got to do among us all is to restrain the fools. We must eliminate as far as possible these people on both sides with whom none of us sympathizes."

BIG HORN MURDERS.

French Government Demands Investigation of Death of Lagier.

Cheyenne, Wyo., May 19.—The murder of Joe Emge and Joe Allemand, sheepherders, and Jules Lagier, a shepherd, in Big Horn county, April 2, by a band of masked riders, will be investigated by both the French and United States governments, according to a special dispatch from Basin, Wyo., tonight.

The French government has demanded an investigation of the death of Lagier, a French citizen, who had been in America but 10 months, and will also conduct a separate inquiry through the French consul at Chicago.

It is stated that a confession has been made by one of the riders implicating five prominent stockmen of Big Horn county and two cowboys. Seven men are now under arrest charged with the murder, and the prosecution will be pushed not only by the state and county officials, but by the national, state and county wool-growers' associations.

Five of the suspected men are confined in the jail at Basin and two have been transferred to the jail at Sheridan. A heavy guard is being maintained constantly to prevent any attempt to release the prisoners.

GEORGE MEREDITH'S ASHES.

Dean of Westminster Declines to Let Them Rest in the Abbey.

London, May 19.—The Westminster authorities have declined permission to place the ashes of George Meredith in the abbey.

An appeal to the dean to this end was strongly supported by the society of authors, representing all the leading writers by Premier Asquith, Lord Morley, Rudyard Kipling and James M. Barrie. Mr. Barrie made a personal appeal to the dean but in vain.

It was announced officially tonight by the dean that a memorial service will be held in the abbey on Saturday. The funeral therefore will be at Korking, as previously arranged.

The action of the Westminster authorities has caused much disappointment, as it is known that the family of the late novelist had no objection to the placing of his ashes in the abbey and the question of space was not involved.

REV. J. L. COOKE DECLARES THE EARTH IS FLAT

Asheville, N. C., May 20.—The theory of Rev. J. L. Cooke, preacher of the Sanctified Sect church, that "the earth is not round but flat like a hat on a fence post" was sustained by the judges of a debate held between him and Leroy Henry, a high school student in West Asheville.

Rev. Mr. Cooke read from the Bible to show that the earth had a foundation and asked how it could have a foundation if it were flying in space without even a string to tie it down. If the earth is revolving, he maintained, an eagle flying at the rate of 60 miles an hour east would find itself in a minute 1440 miles west and if a baseball was thrown up high enough to stay a minute it would land in Olive street, St. Louis. The student made the point that the earth must revolve else here would be no day or night, but the Sanctified preacher floored him by quoting from the Bible the command that the sun stands still.

"How could the sun be made to stand still if it was already still?" was the clincher.

PRESIDENCY OF HARVARD.

Abbot Lawrence Lowell Assumes Duties of Office as Eliot's Successor.

Cambridge, Mass., May 19.—Abbot Lawrence Lowell, who for 10 years has been Eaton professor of the science of government at Harvard, assumed the presidency of the university today as the successor of President Eliot.

It is expected that within a short time the alumni of Harvard will present Dr. Eliot with a fund sufficient to enable him to live in comfort the rest of his life. It is said that the fund already amounts to over $100,000.

MILTON CULBERTSON DEAD.

San Francisco, May 20.—A special dispatch from Woodland states that Milton Culbertson, traveling salesman for Squibb & Son, druggists of New York, was found dead in his room in a hotel there last night. No inquest yet has been held, but evidence has been found that has led the coroner to announce that the probable cause of Culbertson's death was poison.

NATIONAL CORN EXPOSITION AT OMAHA

Chicago, May 20.—The National Corn association has selected December 6 to 16 as the dates for the national corn exposition at Omaha. In selecting these late dates, "all the state shows will have an opportunity to get their prize corn ready" and shipped to the national exhibit. When it is taken into consideration that Illinois alone holds ten thousand school districts corn contests, some idea may be gathered of the immense amount of preparation necessary for the state and national shows. The Omaha business men have agreed to subscribe $100,000 to promote the 1909 show and make it much larger than that of 1908.

CONGRESSMAN FOWLER WOULD PRESERVE MARKET

New York, May 20.—Congressman Charles N. Fowler, chairman of the house committee on banking and currency, made a sharp reformat late last night to the right of the tariff appeal for tariff mutuality at the National Manufacturers' association banquet. In appealing for mutuality for interests on tariff matters, Count von will be to reciprocate any tariff concessions. "Let us be careful in establishing mutuality we give away our own market of $25,000,000,000." Congressman Fowler said in his speech. "You should be very careful before you make a move that is really to your advantage. Remember that the home market is our own and that it is better to have a home market of $25,000,000,000 than to be sharing in a foreign market of $10,000,000,000 for which every nation is a competitor."

HENCEFORTH EVERY MAN TO BE HIS OWN BARBER

New York, May 20.—The man who cuts his own hair is going to have an existence outside the comic papers.

Felix Brown, of Chicago, a member of the National Electric Light association, is the father of the new plan and when the organization meets in convention in Atlantic City the first week in June, the appliance will be tried in public for the first time.

The inventor confesses he is not over sanguine as to the general usage into which the self-cutting hair machine may come, but rather contrived the device for his own amusement and to illustrate the extent to which electricity may be applied.

The hair clipper is attached to a wire, the other end of which can be fitted into the socket of an electric lamp, and then operated at a fast or slow speed, according to the wishes of the hair cutter. A feature is the ability to notch the clip for a short or a long cut.
