

PROPOSES PLAN TO REMOVE POLES

Supt. Summers Thinks They Might be Shifted to One Side a Few Feet.

MAYOR SAYS HE WILL ACT

One New Car Has Been Placed In Service on First South Street—Improvement Work Going On.

A very feasible and apparently easy way out of the difficulty occasioned by the big poles of the Western Union Telegraph company on Main street being in the way of the new street cars, was suggested by General Superintendent Summers of the Bell Telephone company. Mr. Summers says holes can be dug a few feet away from the poles, the poles themselves sawn off at the street level, and then slid or skidded over and dropped into the new locations. The cross arm connections will, of course, have to be loosened, the poles guied to prevent falling, and then the transfer can be readily effected. This will cost very little money, and be done in a comparatively short time. That something must be done, and without delay, is evident. In a brief talk with the mayor this morning, that official said that while he had handed the matter as far as the city was concerned, to the engineering council for clearing up, still, if the occasion called for drastic action, he would not hesitate to chop the poles down. Mayor Bransford said the Western Union had been notified some time ago, and he thought the company had had ample time in which to make the change required.

NEW CAR IN SERVICE.
The eight new cars in the second shipment from St. Louis arrived last night, over the Union Pacific, but will not be unloaded until the question of pole clearance on Main street is settled. There are 10 more cars in transit, and they too will be stored in the Short Line yards for the present. The first car to be put into regular service is car 41, now running on First South street. The other six new cars, now in the yards, are being rapidly put into commission, so they can be sent out as fast as wanted. When the curves are cleared, the new rolling stock will be put on to the more prominent lines, the displaced cars being shifted on to the less important routes. The rush hour service is to be increased, noticeably on Third avenue, where the congestion at such times is excessive. The most inferior of the "dinkies," or one truck cars, will be relegated to unimportant service in the suburbs. Cars 1, 6 and 7, however, which are in very fair condition, will be retained for urban service.

MUCH WORK BEING DONE.
Track work for the spring is already under way, under the direction of Roadmaster Bone. The "hardscrabble" strips of track on Tenth street, between Ninth and Eleventh East streets, has been surfaced up and put in good shape, the line on Eleventh East street is being double tracked, and reconstruction begins on the Wandanore and Ninth East street lines next week. The Wandanore route will be double tracked. Tearing up the First avenue tracks begins Monday. Most of the rails are not much good, but there are some 60-pound rails laid by Mr. Cameron, that will do very well elsewhere. By another 10 days, the track and overhead plant on First avenue ought to be well out of the way. The company is completing a special linemen's service car, for overhead work that will prove very serviceable.

FASTDAY SERVICES

Elder George A. Smith Briefly Explains Doctrines of Church at Tabernacle—Organ Recital.

Regular tabernacle services were suspended yesterday, owing to the fact that the day had been designated as fast day in the four stakes of the city and adjoining stakes of Davis and Granite. The change was made because general conference will be in session next Sunday, which is the regular fast day throughout the Church.

At a special service the organ recital, for the benefit of strangers and visitors sojourning in the city, the principles and doctrines of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints were briefly and pointedly set forth by Elder George Albert Smith of the council of the apostles. The following numbers were played on the organ by Prof. John J. McClellan:

BEEKEEPERS' MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Utah Beekeepers' association will be held in the mayor's office in the city and county building April 6 at 10 o'clock, on to which all beekeepers in the state are cordially invited. A good program in the interest of the beekeepers will be presented, which will be of special interest to Salt Lake county beekeepers in regard to re-establishing the home industry which was destroyed by the smelter. The plan is believed to be feasible since the shutting down of the smelters.

WOOL OUTLOOK.

"Utah and western Wyoming sheep never fared so well as they have during the season just opened," said E. H. Callister this morning. "I say, never, but to be correct, I can say for the last 15 years there have been more losses, etc. Further back than this, other men's memories run and they say the same thing. There is no big demand for wool yet, but by the time shearing starts in this state and Wyoming—about June—the demand will be on. Shearing is on in some parts of Nevada, already. Excellent crops and excellent wool will be the features of this season. The excellent condition of the animals this year is largely due to their being wintered in new territory and in lower altitudes."

ATTORNEYS MOVE FOR NEW TRIAL

Motion in Behalf of Joe Sullivan Filed With Judge Armstrong Saturday.

Motion for a new trial for Joe Sullivan, recently found guilty of murdering Police Officer Ford, was filed in the district court Saturday by defendant's attorneys, Bailey & Vickery. The matter came directly before Judge Armstrong, in whose court Sullivan had his trial, and will be argued Wednesday morning, when the prisoner appears for sentence.

The reasons advanced as to why a new trial should be granted are five in number and are as follows:

First—Accident and surprise which ordinary prudence could not have guarded against.

Second—Newly discovered evidence material to the defense which could not have been presented at the trial.

Third—The insufficiency of the evidence to justify a verdict of guilty.

Fourth—Errors in law as interpreted by Judge Armstrong and accepted by the attorneys for Sullivan.

Fifth—The separation of the various members of the jury while the case was being considered by them and before a verdict had been agreed upon.

JUROR'S AFFIDAVIT.
Accompanying the above are affidavits from two of the jurors who convicted Sullivan. Samuel Oldham deposes and says that on the evening that the case went to the jury one of his fellow talemen, William C. Boggees, went into an adjoining room and talked to Edliffe Fred Butler and Claude Russell, and that on the same date the bailiffs and the jurors were separated a short time outside the jury room, the officers talking with a fellow officer while the jurymen, deponent excepted, went inside the building.

In his affidavit, Mr. Burgess admits having briefly consulted the bailiffs outside the jury room, but says that it was upon a matter not at all connected with the case on trial.

PLAIN TRUTH

From Thirty Year's Experience.

The plain truth from simple, honest folks, is the very best testimony anyone can ask. Here's what a N. H. man says about coffee.

"As I have had 30 years' experience with coffee and its effects, I may be permitted to say something pertinent to the subject.

"My appetite began to fail, food disturbed my stomach, bowels became badly constipated, was restless, sleep so greatly disturbed I dreaded to go to bed.

"My stomach got so bad I could not eat anything for supper but milk and a cracker. In the evening I would be so thirsty nothing would satisfy me but a cup of strong, cold coffee.

"Coffee was my invariable drink for breakfast, with a doughnut or piece of toast. I was all the time consulting the doctor, taking digestive preparations to help the stomach, and cathartics to move the bowels, frequently having attacks of terrible pain in the bowels which would necessitate calling a doctor.

"After many years of this, I became convinced that something must be done.

"At last I got hold of Postum and began using it in place of coffee and have continued to use it daily for the past 6 years. The improvement was gradual, but sure. For the system requires time to recover from the damage done by coffee and feel the full benefits of Postum.

"Improvement has continued from the very first, to the present. Digestion grew better, bowels became regular, and at bed-time I now anticipate a good night's sleep with pleasure.

"The change from coffee to Postum has made a wonderful change in my condition. It could not be expected that a man 81, with a 2 years' and 10 months' service in the army, could be made young again. But I do honestly believe I state the plain truth when I say that if I had not changed from coffee to Postum I should have been, by this time, a helpless invalid, if alive."

The Magnificent Event will Continue During the Week

The Attendance Saturday was Most Gratifying, Larger than Anticipated.

Everyone is enthusiastic over the beauty of the decorations and the metropolitan aspect of the store.

The attendance of men Saturday and Monday shows conclusively that the interest is not confined to women--that men caught the spirit of enthusiasm and viewed the spectacle with feelings of admiration, expressing in every instance praise for the management's great enterprise.

Notwithstanding the enormous expense involved in the remodeling of the upper structure, retail prices will not be affected; rather there will be a gradual lowering of them by reason of a larger volume of business. The very reasonable prices at this store have contributed in splendid manner to the store's remarkable growth.
