EXCITEMENT IN BRITAIN.

THE news from Great Britain in today's dispatches is interesting and somewhat exciting. The election has been attended with more than the usual amount of riots. There is always considerable excitement in that country at such times; but at the recent election the riots have been of a formidable character. Birmingham is reviving its old character for turbulence and violence. It is not long since we heard of serious anti-Catholic riots in that town, and now we hear that the mob and the police were fighting at the last accounts. Birmingham is in the Liberal interest and returns members of that party to Parliament; but we have so few particulars about these disturbances that we can not learn which party is to blame.

There is no disguising the fact that many thinking minds in Great Britain view the extension of the franchise with distrust and apprehension. This class would not countenance riots or violence of any kind; but there is another class of people, and they are influential too, who would do all in their power to prevent the lower classes from getting any influence in the state. They will make a hard fight before they succumb, yet from all we can learn, notwithstanding all their efforts, they are losing ground; the Liberals are gaining upon them.

The truth is, the lower classes in England are not prepared to exercise the elective franchise intelligently and for the good of the country, and if it were to be universally bestowed upon them, we doubt not but the days of England's power and influence among the nations would soon pass away. Confusion and anarchy would soon prevail, and the government become thoroughly unsettled. Liberty is a glorious boon if people are prepared to enjoy it; but in England the lower classes are not fitted by education or training to use it aright, and the men who are making this agitation and pandering to popular clamor upon the subject of the franchise are really the enemies of the laboring classes, and if their plans should be successful, as there is every probability that they will, they will destroy the government which many of them profess to revere.

Gen. Grant has ordered the Superintendent connected with the recruiting service at Carlisle barracks, to forward, without delay, all the disposable troops to Fort Harker, Kansas, to report to General Sheridan.

New York.—A new suit, against the directors of the Erie Railway, was begun in the Supreme Court in chambers, before Judge Sutherland, to-day, on the application of August Belmont. The complaint is founded on affidavits by Frank Work and others, substantially setting forth that the money of the Erie Company has been used by Messrs. Gould, Fisk and Lane for the furtherance of stock speculations for their private interest. The affidavits further set forth that recently Lane was insolvent, and Fisk was an adventurer from New England. It is also alleged in the affidavits that Pike's Opera House had been purchased in the sole name of Fisk, with the money of the Company, to the amount of $5,000 dollars. Messrs. Fisk, Gould and Lane are further charged with having issued from twenty-three to thirty millions of spurious shares, with a view to creating a corner in Wall street. The affidavits further allege that the above named individuals have denied the other directors access to the books, and in fact, managed the affairs of the Company exclusively for their own interest, and in a reckless manner. Judge Sutherland granted an injunction, which directs the officers and agents of the Company to refrain from increasing the Capital stock of the Erie Railroad Company beyond the amount now existing, and in the hands of bona fide holders; it also orders the defendants to refrain from removing any books, papers, securities or funds of the Company from the jurisdiction of the Court.

San Francisco, 17.—Arizona advices to Oct. 31st say the Indians have commenced a vigorous warfare, and that four successful raids have been made against the whites near Prescott, in which two men were killed and five wounded. The people are greatly startled at these unexpected attacks, and appear to be helpless. Gen. Halleck is implored to send troops to their assistance.

Washington, 15.—The Comptroller of the Currency has concluded his annual report, which has been sent to the public printer. He recommends the redemption of the national bank notes in New York, and prohibits the payment of interest on bank balances by the bank in that city. The report will contain the usual statistical information showing the condition of the banks, the amount of taxes, and the last annual report is twelve, the number closing is also twelve; the number failed is four.

New York.—The large hotel buildings at Greenwood Lake, Orange Co., were completely destroyed by fire this afternoon.

Gen. Grant received two callers at his rooms in the Metropolitan Hotel to-day. When in his room he receives all who call, but refuses to designate any set hour when he will be in attendance. The statement that he has consented to be present at the reception by the Union League is authoritatively contradicted.

Chicago, 17.—The school census just taken shows the population of this city to be 252,054.

A Republican's special says the stock market to-day was a scene of the wildest excitement; the prices of railroad shares fluctuated tremendously on immense transactions, and Wall street was convulsed at the turn operations had taken. Just at the time when it was expected the combination was about to turn the screw upon the money market, the stock market was oversold, the Erie especially. The great Erie combination is the largest ever known in Wall street. For some weeks past the directors of the Erie Railway Company have been secretly issuing millions of dollars, with new stock, selling it for whatever prices they could get. The members of the combination and other stock gamblers have been buying this stock with a view to obtain control of the company and to make their own directors in place of the present board. As, however, the new issues kept coming on the market the price of shares kept sinking lower and lower, until Friday last they touched $5, each being a party to the transaction. In the meanwhile many are buying. Englishmen sent this purchased stock to England as fast as they found but their friends there, who quantity manufactured by the printing press, got alarmed and telegraphed the brokers here to sell at any price; the shipping stock sent back at the same time by steamer. The brokers on this side, thinking to turn an honest penny, knowing that they would receive plenty of stock in ten days, the period required by a steamer to cross the Atlantic, undertook to sell ahead, borrowing in the meanwhile to make their deliveries, but suddenly the speculators, who had been selling new stock, having plenty of new turns about and bought up all the stock actually here. A steamer cannot arrive with stock from England for a week to come, and they have thus compelled the foolish brokers, who made sales at 40 or thereabouts, to buy an 55 and 60 to meet their contracts. The amount lost and won by individuals in this way within three days past is estimated at sums ranging from a hundred and fifty to five hundred thousand each.

Daniel Drew lost $500,000, and is believed for revenge. The whole street is on the qui vive, and the future cannot be imagined.

St. Louis.—The large hardware house of Skinner, Neal & Co., Main street, took fire to-night, and was totally destroyed, together with the Queensware house of Westerman & Meir. Skinner & Co.'s stock is valued at $75,000. Among the insurances was $5,000 in the Pacific Company, San Francisco.

New York.—Mayor Hoffman tendered his resignation to take effect November 30th.

The steamship Rising Star sailed for Aspinwall to-day with a large number of passengers, among them the pugilist Joe Coburn. O. Baldwin expected to sail, but could not without forfeiting his bond.

General Badeau, of Grant's staff, stated to-day, in answer to the question, whether Grant intended to be present at Evatt's dinner, that it would depend on whether Secretaries Randall, McCulloch or Wells would be guests, as the President elect did not want to meet any of these gentlemen.

The Venango oil transportation company have sold to the Erie railroad a water front of two thousand in Wheelawren for $1,400,000. It is thought to be a certainty that this locality will soon be a great depot as to a terminal for west and southern lines, indeed the Erie company have thought to forestall all competitors by securing this water front.

New York, 6.—The Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, last evening, preached on the text "Abhor that which is evil," in which he unsparingly denounced the whisky and other frauds, and the wholesale corruption in office at Albany and Washington, and among the Judiciary.

Memphis.—The Advocate publishes a circular letter from Governor Clayton of Arkansas, to sheriffs and other county officers, in which he says the election being near the time has now arrived when the State government must sustain itself, at the point of the bayonet if necessary. The letter concludes as follows:

"Urge all the officers of your county to put forth a united and determined effort for the enforcement of the law toward bringing criminals to punishment; you must make your authority respected, or bring on an open issue. If, after making a vigorous attempt, you fail, then martial law must be extended over your county, and upon the heads of the people thereof a dreadful responsibility must rest. You are requested to perfect the organization of the militia in your command. If loyal people do not volunteer into the State guard, a reserve militia must be organized, and when called upon you must furnish your quota of militia to operate in other portions of the State. Urge upon your citizens not to act upon their own opinions against the authorities. A general plan is determined upon, and all must render cheerful assent in order to make it successful. Warn the people against any unauthorized interference in the affairs of other counties and report promptly all matters of importance."

St. Louis.—The Democrat's Little Rock special reports that a part of Gen. Catterson's command was attacked by Kuklux in Levey county on the 11th; three of the attacking party and one militia man were killed.

Tallent.—Governor Gleason has issued a proclamation, setting forth that Governor Reed had recognized both branches of the Legislature by transacting business with them, and that the Constitution declares that any officer when impeached shall be deemed under arrest, and disqualified from discharging duties of his office till acquitted by the Senate. That Reed arrogates to himself the right to pronounce his impeachment void, and proceeds in his office as though no impeachment had been pronounced. He further proclaims that the said Harrison Reed, Governor of Florida, is deemed by the Constitution under arrest and disqualified from performing any of the duties of his office until acquitted by the Senate, and that the power has devolved on him by the Constitution, to put down the lawlessness and anarchy which will inevitably ensue, if a man impeached or indicted, however elected, is permitted to refuse submission to the arrest imposed by the Constitution. The document is signed, A. H. Gleason, Lieut. Governor, Acting Governor; (counter-signed) Geo. Aldin, Secretary of State.

It bears the impression of the seal of the State. Governor Reed has also a State seal, said to be a duplicate of the original.

This morning a locomotive was standing in the yard at Port Jervis, when the boiler burst, instantly killing the engineer, Fred Handinburg. Handinburg was carried over the top of the trees near by, and was found one hundred and fifty feet from the engine, horribly mangled.

A BALLOON VOYAGE.

Prof. La Mountain, who made a balloon ascension from Ann Harbor recently gives the following account of his voyage to the Ann Harbor Courier:

I amused myself with gazing upon the Lilliputians below, and as I occasionally turned my eyes upon the toy houses of which the city of Ann Harbor seemed composed, the streets were barely visible by dark lines, and the spires acting like fingers pointing at my departure. I said in my joy—how grand! None who are always clinging to earth can realize the intense joy of the upper regions. I found my course was north-west, and off to my right could see Lake Erie, connected by the (to me) small stream of Detroit River, with St. Clair, and that with Huron.

While thus gazing and admiring the scene below, I was suddenly struck with a whirlwind, and rapidly I ascended into the clouds until my elevation was three miles. Then I was in the immensity of space, lost to earth and hidden from heaven. Still the scene was grand and beyond description, for the clouds below looked like mountains of the whitest wool. I soon found, however, that I was troubled with an unusual noise in my ears, while my blood had an unusual outward pressure, and judging I was high enough for mortals, I determined to descend. Drawing my valve cord and allowing the gas to escape, I soon found that my aspirations for the world above were giving place to my gravitation for the world below. I came down gradually and easily and made my descent into an open field near a piece of woods. When I first reached the earth my balloon seemed determined to try the experiment again, and bounded upward among the trees, breaking off the top of a small, dry sapling. It soon came down again, however, when, with one of the concentrating cords, I lashed it fast around a tree. I was soon surrounded by men and women, who seemed anxious to see the man who had dropped from the clouds. On inquiry I found that I was on the farm of Joseph Walton, in the town of Farmington, Oakland county, and about twenty-five miles from where I started—having been lost to the earth about fifty minutes.
