Mewitt Disavows the Formation of the American Party.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., July 12. — S. M.
Douglass, who is announced to speak in the City Hall tonight in advocacy of the formation of the American party received the following letter from

NEW YORK, July 3.—Sir: Inasmuch as you desire a reply to your letter of the 7th inst., I beg leave to state that when I was elected to the American party for president, I answered I would not and the reason was that I was not an American party. I am now organized as to have any prospect of electing its candidate at the coming election. What it may do four years hence depends on the result of the coming election. I am not in the mean time. The only possible effect of its running a candidate now is to give it a reputation. I am not a candidate into the House of Representatives, which practically would elect the republican ticket. I am a democrat and not in favor of turning this government over to the republicans. I am not a democrat and I would like to be a party to any movement which would likely to face this result.

Yours truly,
ABRAHAM S. HEWITT.
THE REPUBLICAN EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.
MITCHELL.
New York, July 12.—The republican national executive committee today elected James W. Smith of Indiana treasurer, and Col. H. S. Woods of Iowa sergeant-at-arms.
A conference, which was private, was held last night twenty minutes after the President Taylor of the Indiana State League, and Foster, president of the national league, met at the executive committee, discussing plans for campaign work, and Col. Conger and Mr. Hayer replied, saying the national committee, as decided by the resolutions passed at the annual meeting, was now acting in harmony with the league.

Mrs. Foster also addressed the executive committee on the plan of the Republican Club, which was favorably considered last night.

Barth (N. C.) addressed the National Executive Committee on the situation in his State. His encouraging report was heartily applauded. The following resolution on the present conditions of republican struggle in other States.

At a conference of the republican national executive committee with the presidents of the republican state league and their committees tonight the following was adopted:

Resolved, That the national republican

Secretary Humphrey, of the league said tonight the national committee will hold public meetings throughout the country should be held under the direction of the national committee. This would not conflict with the work of the national and state committees who generally had charge of the national speakers and their appointments.

"The National League has a special campaign committee, who are to have charge of the campaign work of the party by the league clubs as follows: General W. F. Dudley of Indiana

RECEPTION OF A DELEGATION.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 12.—A number of visiting delegations have called upon General Harrison today. The principal event of the day was the reception of the delegation from Boone county, accompanied by three bands of music. Lieut. Scule delivered a speech on behalf of the delegates, and General Harrison replied, and concluded in thanking them for the early interest taken in the campaign. The day's work was over, an informal reception and general hand-shaking took place.

It was composed from the following: John P. Foster, Sec. of the army of the republic, from North Manchester, Wabash County, Indiana. They came to invite General Harrison to attend the convention to be held at that place August 22nd and 23rd. At their head were Shelby Searcy, Governor of Indiana, and John W. G. R. for Indiana and Maj. R. S. Parrott. The latter delivered a short address. General Harrison, in response, said:

You demand dissolution. It is in your power to carry that off. Your photograph has been taken by the press among the members of the Chamber. You demand dissolution. It is in your power to carry that off. (Cheers from the left and some other members of the right)

— General Boulanger replied: He flung up his arms and said: "I am not a member of the Chamber; I am a general school teacher. He is no way an allusion to the general policy of revision."

PERSONAL ATTACKS.

I tell him now, as I told him amid the tumult, that it is immediately lies.

The President of the Chamber said before me applying censures he would allow General Boulanger to speak.

General Boulanger asked if the censor was sure to be applied to Floquet or not?

The President—it was you that first you attacked the Chamber. The last words were the severe rules.

General Boulanger protested against the regime which did not respect the liberty of the tribune. He said in violation of the President's decision, he wanted to resign his seat.

The Chamber then remarked Boulanger by leaving the Chamber did himself justice.

Lamarolle, member of the right, reproached the President for showing partiality toward Flouquet. This led to a renewal of the uproar and the Chamber voted the censure of General Boulanger was adopted.

The Chamber then adjourned until Monday.

It is reported in consequence of the occurrence in the Chamber of Deputies a duel. Clemenceau and Berlin are said to have consented to serve as

Mr. Farnell then attended to the place on the paper the terms of the motion to this effect.

Smith replied if Farnell was prepared to support the Government's offer, he was ready to put on the paper the motion for leave to bring in a bill providing for such a committee.

Brooks, the Murderer.

ST. LOUIS, July 12.—The first news
Brooks received this morning was that the Governor had simply granted him respite twenty-one days. This he construed to mean that the Governor intended to take time to fully consider the case. Later he received a telegram from an attorney in Chicago, a respite of four weeks and stating that the Governor refused absolutely to consider the case. He was not to be in the matter. This was a bad blow to Brooks's hopes, and he said he could not understand it. He had felt confident that the Governor would give a way clear and grant his appeal for commutation, but now all hope was gone and he must prepare for death.

"I confidently expected a commutation for my son. The poor boy has been in prison for years, and the justice he has had from beginning to end, and my son is guilty of murder."
