EVENING NEWS.

FRAGMENTS.

"FAUST and] Marguerite" at the Theatre this evening.

THE Union Pacific R. R. Company contemplate the erection of a fine hotel at Soda Springs.

THE sun shining and the snow falling at the same time, was one of the spectacles of to-day.

JOHN W. EFFLEY, a mining man of experience and activity, returned to this city from Nevada yesterday.

THOS. STEVENS, the bicyclist who has just circumnavigated the globe on his wheel, will shortly pass through this city on his way east.

WE in Utah should hardly ever complain of cold weather, when Illinois reports 14 degrees below zero, and Minnesota 32 degrees below last night.

B. H. YOUNG, JR., of Price, Emery Co., came in yesterday on business and went back this morning. He reports things in his vicinity in a flourishing condition.

THE Manti city sexton says that the mortuary report for 1886 shows a greater number of deaths than any previous yearly report. So we learn from the Sentinel.

CITIZENSHIP can no longer be secured on the basis of past conduct and present intentions; a mortgage on the applicant's whole future life is now the sine qua non of naturalization.

OUR readers will see by our Ogden department that Bishop Bassett was pronounced guilty by the jury and sentenced to the full extent of the law. He was admitted to bail, pending appeal, in the sum of $10,000.

THERE is some little misunderstanding as to the order in which the Morrison-Alsberg repertoire will be placed on the stage at the Theatre. This evening and to-morrow afternoon "Faust and Marguerite" will be given; to-morrow evening "Not Guilty."

LOCAL NEWS.

The Play To-night.—Tickets have been selling lively for the performance of "Faust and Marguerite" this evening, and indications point to a large attendance. On the subject of this play and those who produce it, we quote as follows from the Laramie Boomerang of the 5th:

"A very fair audience greeted the Morrison-Alsberg company last night, in their great performance, 'Faust and Marguerite.' The play was all that has been claimed for it, and the audience frequently and loudly applauded. Mr. Lewis Morrison as 'Mephistopheles' seemed to be the favorite of the evening, though the 'Faust' of Mr. Homer was much admired, and Miss Alsberg's passionate acting riveted attention. Taken altogether the 'Faust and Marguerite' of the Morrison-Alsberg combination is a masterly delineation of the work of the Great German master to whom the world owes so much of the grand and pathetic in literature."

The Twentieth Ward Institute.—The annual election of the above association was held last evening, and resulted as follows: President, Chas. W. Stayner; first vice-president, Oliver Hodgson; second vice-president, Arthur B. Simmons; secretary, Peter Elliott; assistant secretary, David R. Lyon; treasurer, Heber J. Romney; librarian, James T. Dunbar; directors, William Salmon, Jno. James, Chas. R. Savage, Jos. F. Simmons, William H. Tovey and Orson D. Romney. The board appointed David R. Lyon as chairman of the programme committee, with Celia Sharp, Ellen Romney, John James and Heber J. Romney assistants; Miles A. Romney musical director, and Ida Daynes, organist. Bishop William E. Basset and his Counselors, George Romney and George F. Gibbs, were elected honorary president and vice-presidents, and John Sharp, William C. Dunbar and Henry Pusey as honorary directors o the organization.

Court Notes.—Proceedings in the Third District Court to-day:

Applications of Andrew P. Anderson and Olof Nielson, for admission to citizenship, refused.

Geo. F. Culmer et al. vs. Hans Halvorsen et al.; on motion of plaintiffs order of dismissal set aside and case reinstated.

The United States Marshal's accounts for the Penitentiary were approved.

Melissa D. Clinton vs. F. J. Clinton; application for order to show cause against defendant why he has not paid alimony allowed, made returnable February 8th.

F. C. Thurston et al. vs. H. Hill et al.; court declines to hear demurrer.

James McKnight vs. J. D. Graham; hearing on motion to quash execution continued to February 8th.

Elizabeth Adkins vs. E. Sells et al; demurrer to complaint argued and submitted.

The Prevailing Calamity.—Not to be kept entirely out of the popular run of things, our neighbror Laramie indulged in a miniature railway accident on the 5th. That morning an extra freight train from the west took in several empty cars to be left in the yards here. Some of these cars were to be left on the sidetrack terminating at the southern end of the freight depot, but through some misunderstanding, more cars were backed upon the sidetrack than it would hold. Three of the cars were driven from the track against and over the depot platform, two of them being placed high and dry on the platform itself, and one ploughing its way deep through the crushed woodwork. All of the cars were empty; had they been loaded, the probabilities are that the entire southern end of the freight depot would have been torn out. The cars did the best they could under the circumstances, and will doubtless improve with experience.

Obsequies.—The funeral services over the remains of Sister Mary Jenson, at the Seventeenth Ward school house, yesterday afternoon, were conducted by Bishop John Tingey. Appropriate and consoling remarks were made by Elder George G. Bywater and Apostle John Henry Smith. Besides the ward choir, which, under the direction of John L. Lewis, rendered "Farewell all Earthly Honors." and "Nearer, my God, to Thee" with considerable feeling. A Scandinavian choir, which was present, sang an excellent piece, prepared specially for the occasion. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, the commodious hall was filled with relatives and friends of the family, and much sympathy was manifested, the deceased, being stricken down in the bloom of youth, she being only twenty-seven years of age. She leaves a husband and four small children to mourn the loss of an affectionate and exemplary wife and mother. Elder R. C. Badger offered the dedicatory prayer at the grave.

THE TRIAL OF THOMPSON

FOR KILLING E. M. DALTON—EXAMINATION OF WITNESSES.

Special to DESERET NEWS:

BEAVER, UTAH, Jan 7th, 1887.

J. H. Brown was recalled by the defense and questioned about an affidavit he made to Geo. C. Lambert. He said he had stated the facts before the county clerk. Clark was recalled and asked if he had threatened the life of Thompson, and if his sister was not Dalton's plural wife. He refused to answer. The court ruled that the question was not material. Mrs. Lyman gave very pointed testimony, agreeing with the other witnesses as to where and how the homicide occurred. Halterman's and S. T. Orton's testimony was also pointed. The defense was very anxious to learn the facts pertaining to Geo. C. Lambert getting affidavits from witnesses and what was the object. The witnesses stated they had a rigat to give statements under oath or otherwise to any party. They had seen the statements published in the DESERET NEWS and they were correct. The shirt of the deceased was exhibited, showing the bullet hole. Eight witnesses were examined up to the time of recess.

MOONSHEE.

Before Justice Pyper.—The first case called before Justice Pyper to-day was that against Wm. Paddock, on the charge of assaulting Geo. W. Riter, on Wednesday evening. Young Paddock denied the accusation, but on the hearing of the case the testimony was conclusive against him. He had seized the boy Riter and held him while two others battered him severely. A fine of $25 was imposed, or in default thereof 25 day's labor.

Charles F. Rope, of Company K, Sixth Infantry, was next called to answer to the charge of disturbing the peace. From the statement of the case it appeared that yesterday he had gone to the room of Mrs. E. G. Norris, whom he says is his aunt, and left a revolver there. He afterwards went back for the weapon, but as he was partly drunk, she refused to give it to him. When he picked up a slab to make his argument more effective, she pointed the revolver at him, causing him to beat a hasty retreat. He then got detective Franks to secure the pistol, and Mrs. Norris made complaint against him in the Justice's Court. He pleaded guilty and asked the leniency of the court, stating that he had never before been arrested and promising to conduct himself properly in future. In view of this the court imposed the light fine of $10.

Richard Bubbles was arraigned on a complaint charging him with receiving stolen property. He pleaded not guilty, and a trial was had. The testimony showed that Bubbles had received the stolen pistol from Curtis and had secreted it in his boot, where it was found by the officer. Judgment was reserved until Monday next.

Charles McMullin, of Company C, Sixth Infantry, was called on two charges of assault. Last night he visited the room of "Black Jule," or Julia Brown, a colored woman of shady reputation, and knocked her down twice. He then assailed John Conrad Schweitzel, a German, threw him into a corner of the room and kicked him twice in the ear with a No. 10 boot, to keep him quiet. For these pranks McMullin was fined $50.

Andrew Lancaster, an old time offender, was convicted of vagrancy, and was given until Friday next to find employment, failing in which he will be sent to the county jail.

Jacob Olsen, who has frequently been before the court for drunkenness, pleaded guilty to a repetition of that offense to-day, and was fined $20.

Denied Naturalization.—In the Third District Court this morning, Olof Nielson and A. P. Anderson, natives of Sweden, but now residents of this city, applied for admission to citizenship. They gave satisfactory answers to the usual questions, and the Judge continued his interrogations, in both cases substantially as follows:

Q.—You say you will obey all the laws of the United States?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—Including those against polygamy and unlawful cohabitation?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—Are you a member of the "Mormon" Church?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—Do you believe the revelation enjoining plural marriage to be of God, and binding on your conscience?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—Will you obey the law in the future?

A.—That is my present intention.

Q.—But will you do it in the future?

A.—That is my present intention. I do not know what may occur in the future.

The applicants were ordered to stand aside.

Gone to the Asylum.—This morning Sheriff Burt left for Provo, having in his custody Joseph H. Stay for commitment to the Territorial Insane Asylum. Stay was comparatively peaceable when he left, though he kept on talking incessantly. During the time he was in the city jail, he was either singing or shouting during the whole night.

D. B. Dille, of Neelyville, Oneida County, Idaho, wrote, December 30th, 1886, of the prosperity of the settlers of that place. He added, however, that the temporal blessings in which some of them were increasing, were causing not a few to forget their religious obligations. Bishop William Neely, he stated, had been exhorting such to repentance, but not with that success that was desirable. Following close upon Father Dille's letter comes one from Bishop Neely, by which we are informed that he (Father Dille) died suddenly on the morning of January 1st, 1887, and he was to be buried on Monday last. He was in his 75th year and bore an excellent character for faithfulness.

Five railroad disasters, within as many days' time and, singularly enough, in as many States, with more or less loss of life and property in each and appalling results in one, is the record as it stands now. It seems that neither time, experience, improvements nor the righteous indignation of communities have the slightest tendency to diminish the evil—on the contrary, it grows and thrives by what it feeds on. Stricter accountability, more stringent laws and the utmost impartiality in dealing with the inculpated, may help matters; certainly no other human means will.

Says the Peoria Journal: "The Grant monument fund has come to a dead halt. In the last two weeks the donations have not amounted to $5. The people of the city of New York are perfectly willing that the rest of the nation shall contribute to the monument, and the rest of the nation is perfectly willing to let the New York people. So nothing is done and nothing is likely to be. If a man in this day and age wants a monument he had better attend to it during his own life time."

GENERAL WASHINGTON ADVICES.

By Telegraph to the NEWS.

Small Pox.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Joseph Maury, a Brooklyn druggist, and his entire family were taken seriously ill a day or two ago and his three children died. There was much mystery about the cause of their illness, and the doctors proceeded on the theory that they had been poisoned by something which they had eaten. To settle the question conclusively, however, a post-mortem examination of the bodies of the dead children was held to-day, and it was made evident, so the doctors agree, that their deaths were caused by hemorrhage small-pox. The other members of the family will probably die.

A Cabinet Break-Up.

BOSTON, Jan. 6.—An Ottawa special to the Advertiser says that the fishery trouble and recent elections have tended to bring about a Cabinet break up and that Hon. John H. Costigan, Minister of the Internal Revenue, and Hon. M. Foster, Minister of Fisheries, will probably resign. It is stated that unless the United states makes some overtures looking toward the settlement of the fishery dispute the Canadian government will go back to the old system of licensing foreign fishery vessels. The license will be charged as formerly upon the tonnage of vessels.

Failure.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 7.—The wholesale druggist firm of J. Greenfelder & Company, 537 Market Street, have assigned for the benefit of their creditors. The firm carried stock estimated at over a hundred thousand dollars; the liabilities are not yet known. The failure was due to a reduction in the prices of goods dealt in by the firm.

Cold Weather.

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—The mercury fell steadily in this city until 4 this morning, when the thermometer registered 18 deg. below, and at 6 had risen to 10 deg. below, and has since remained stationary, and, according to the signal service report, will continue to do so for the next 24 hours. At St. Paul the thermometer stood at 32 deg. below, while extreme northern Minnesota and Canadian stations had not sent in any reports. At Davenport, Iowa, the thermometer registered 20 deg. below.

Bishop Potter's Funeral.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—The funeral of Bishop Henry Potter occurred from Old Trinity this morning. There was a large attendance of the Episcopal clergy.

Tie-up Threatened.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—It is predicted that a tie-up will occur in Brooklyn within 48 hours on the lines of the Brooklyn City company and the Broadway company, unless their recently issued time tables are modified.

A Coal Famine.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7. — Should the strike among the coalheavers of New Jersey continue for a week longer, there is a strong probability that this city will suffer from a coal famine. Such, at least, is the opinion of several retail dealers. They say that the stocks on hand are already at a low ebb, and as the supply has practically ceased for the time being, they look for a still greater scarcity within a few days.

Beecher's Son.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The Secretary of the Treasury has appointed Herbert F. Beecher to be special agent of the Treasury. He is a son of Henry W. Beecher and was formerly collector of customs at Port Townsend, Washington Territory.

Destructive Fire.

FARGO, Dakota, Jan. 7.—This morning the Northern Pacific machine boiler and blacksmith shops burned. Three locomotives and a number of valuable machines were consumed. The loss is estimated at $150,000 to $200,000.

Petty Spite.

ATLANTA, Jan. 7.—It has just been learned that the British Government refuses to allow the Gate City Guards to enter into England. It is supposed this action was taken because Capt. J. S. Burke is an Irishman. The guard proposed to make a tour of the principal cities of the continent in full uniform and bearing arms. By special invitation King Leopold was to inspect them and be present at several of their public manœuvres.

Another Fire.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., 7.—Four buildings, comprising all the machinery shops of the Rhode Island Horse Shoe works, situated at Valley Falls, burned this morning. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

Benedict Discussed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The Senate committee on printing, it is said, this morning began the study of certain problems involved in the nomination of Benedict to be public printer, and Benedict was himself before the committee for examination. No conclusion was reached and another meeting is to be held during the week. It is understood that there are no formulated charges against the nominee, but there are people who claim that he is not a practical printer or bookbinder, and in these respects does not meet the requirements of the law governing an appointment to this office.

Washington Points.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 7.—The President nominated Rufus Thomson to be postmaster at Albany, Oregon.

The House committee on Indian affairs to day decided to report favorably to the House several measures, including the Senate bill to authorise the purchase of a tract of land near Salem, Oregon, for an Indian training school, and the House bill granting the right of way to the Fort Billings, Clark's Fork and Cook City Railroad through the Crow Indian reservation in Montana.

Senators Evarts, Pugh, Spooner, Gorman and Aldrich expect to speak on the inter-state commerce bill, but at 2 o'clock to-day none were quite ready to proceed, and the measure was temporarily laid aside, to be taken up later in the day, if any gentleman named or any one else shall be prepared to discuss it.

The House committee on rivers and harbors to-day took up the river and harbor appropriation bill and made a few changes in the original draft.

Blackmails Hanged.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Jan. 7.—Four of the men condemned recently for outrageous assault upon a servant girl were hanged here yesterday. Two others, who were to have been executed, were reprieved.

No Such Alliance

LONDON, Jan. 7.—A Vienna correspondent of the Times contradicts the statement of Blowetz, the Paris correspondent of that paper, that a treaty has been entered into between Russia and Germany, and says no such alliance exists.

Indignant Workingmen.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The West End had another scare to-day. Crowds of unemployed workingmen assembled in front of the offices of the local government board and demanded relief. Ritchie, president of the board, received a deputation from the crowd outside, but said he could promise nothing. When the crowd was apprised of this they hooted the government, and marched to Trafalgar Square, where an indignation meeting was held and resolutions adopted protesting against the apathy of the government. Many of the residents and shopkeepers in the vicinity of Trafalgar Square, fearing the outbreak of new Socialistic riots, closed their doors, but the meeting dispersed quietly.

The Latest Set-to.

EDINBURGH, Jan. 7.—The Marquis of Queensbury is being sued for divorce. He has not lived with his wife for 12 years. Shortly after they began to live apart, the Marquis admitted another woman into his house who became a regular inmate of the establishment. His connection with this woman is made the basis of the suit. Neither the woman nor the Marquis will deny the charge of adultery which the Marchioness makes against her husband. The case will be tried in Edinburgh because the Scotch law grants the wife divorce for adultery alone.

Papal Paragraphs.

ROME, Jan. 7.—Bishop Patterson, of the Roman Catholic diocese of Columbus, Ohio, has arrived here.—The Vatican is debating whether the Knights of Labor of America is a proper organization for Catholics to join.—The Papal consistory has again been postponed, this time till the early part of March, when the new foreign cardinals will receive their hats.

The admirers of Robert Browning will be pained to hear of the serious illness which has recently threatened his life. He has recovered from the attack of asthma, but he is not permitted to go out during the severe weather which now prevails. Some idea may be gained of the interest which is felt in Browning's poetry by the fact that no less than four books have been published within a short time, giving explanations of difficult passages and keys to the hidden meaning of many poems.

A Protest.

In one of the southern counties of Arkansas, recently, a man was sentenced to be hanged; but a few hours before the time of execution a dispatch from the Governor announced that the sentence had been commuted to imprisonment for life. The large crowd of people that had assembled to witness the tragedy exhibited great disappointment at the shameful action of the Governor, and threats that the prisoner would be lynched were made. During the afternoon, when the excitement was at its height, the sheriff received the following communication: "Mister Sheriff:—As I am about the only scholar I any note in this great concourse of folks, I have been appointed to send this here document expressive of our feel'ns. We have come here to see a feller hung, an' we're going to see him hung if that's money enough in the crowd to buy a rope. We don't know whuther he's guilty or not, an' we don't kere a dried apple doggon. That ain't none of jour bus'ness. That's many young women in this here crowd who, if disappointed now, won't never have no mo' confidence in man. It ain't right to cast a damper over young lives. I know of one young fellar of high character that has just married the puttiest kind of a girl on the strength of fetchin' her to this here shindig, an' if the thing don't turn out a success, blamed if I don't think she will apply for a divorce. That young feller is me, an' that young girl is my wife."—Arkansas Traveler.
