OGDEN SOCIAL NEWS.

Monday evening, May 6th, Miss Queen Y. Grew and Mr. Edward J. Dumas were united in marriage at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. M. Grew, No. 25 Twenty-eighth street, Bishop.

Robert McQuarrie officiating. At 5:30 the bride and groom were seated in the parlor, where the ceremony was performed. At 4 o'clock in the evening the invited guests assembled to spend the evening in vocal and instrumental music, after which they all sat down to a sumptuous repast, which was served in the dining room. The company consisted of the bride and groom, and many of their friends.

Those present were: Bishop McQuarrie and wife, Mrs. George West, Mrs. Edward West, Misses Mary and Elizabeth, Misses Mary and Elizabeth, Mrs. W. R. Stoddard, of Wasatch, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Dunham of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert S. Welsh have returned from an extended visit with relatives and friends in California.

Prof. Mose Christensen gave his closing ball last Wednesday evening. During the young people of the Fourth ward.

TREE DIVORCE PUZZLES SOCIETY.

London society is mystified by the strange divorce suit of the Trees. Mrs. Arthur Tree is a daughter of Marshall Field, of Chicago, and heiress to $30,000. The couple have created no scandal. The husband brings suit on the legal ground of desertion, but they see each other every day and move in the same social circles.

gave a very pleasurable character ball last evening in the ward hall. There was a large attendance of young people and many characters were represented.

Miss Emma Anderson gave a very delightful card party Wednesday evening at her home on Jefferson avenue. High-five was played until near midnight, the ladies head prize was won by Miss Alice Pearce, and the gentlemen by Clint McDonald. After cards very delicious refreshments were served in the dining room. Those present were Misses Lizzie Lockhead, Beese Holther, Sarah J. Larkin, Martin, Alis Pearce, Lizzie Rockham, Emma and Lillie Anderson, Messrs. Ben Wilcox, Mervine Russell, Irving Jones, Will Tanner, George Lockhead, Charles Keller, and Clint McDonald.

George W. Larkin, Sr., has gone to St. John, Toledo county, to spend a few weeks visiting with relatives and friends for the benefit of his health.

The Glenwood Park orchestra gave a very delightful ball Thursday evening at the Glenwood Park pavilion, which was largely attended and enjoyed by all present.

J. A. Hendrickson of Logan is spending a few days in Ogden.

The Hunter Harmony club and the Christian Endeavor of the Presbyterian church gave a very pleasant strawberry sociable this afternoon at parlors on Washington avenue. The parlors were prettily decorated and while the guests enjoyed coffee, hot rolls, the cream, berries and cream, etc., the Hunter Harmony club furnished sweet strains of music on the guitar and mandolin. The affair was a thorough success.

Friday evening the last dance of the season was given by the Second ward amusement committee in their hall, in honor of Robert Wilson, who returned this week from a mission to Germany. There was a large crowd, and a very pleasant evening was spent.

Archie Cross, who has been employed in the Market Hotel at Huntington, has returned to Ogden.

Prof. M. M. Stewart, of Park City, was an Ogden visitor this week.

Ogden H. Fethus, of Jamesville, Wisconsin, supreme chancellor of Knights of Pythias, Maj. Gen. Cornahan and Adm. Gen. Powell, of the uniform rank of the order, will visit the lodge here in Ogden Tuesday, May 14, 1901. They will be royally received here by the local members, and given a drive up the canyon and around the city, and in the evening a grand banquet and entertainment will be given at the hall in their honor.

Alonso Brown, left Ogden Thursday for San Francisco, where he will represent the Ogden lodge of the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

The Ladies of the Logan Post W. R. C. gave a grand social last evening at the house of Mrs. F. J. Hendershot on Twenty-fourth street. The home was very prettily decorated for the occasion.

Joseph Scowcroft left Wednesday for New York, to be absent several weeks.

Guy Cahoon of Ogden has gone to the coast on an extended pleasure trip.

CLUB CHAT.

The Press and Reader's clubs are making up a set of books for the free traveling library. The Woman's club will donate the case. The council of Jewish Women met on Monday and elected officers for the coming year, the following being chosen: Mrs. E. Mooney, president; Mrs. H. Gans, vice president; Mrs. M. Harris, recording secretary; Mrs. Martha G. Waters, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Sig Simon, treasurer; Mrs. S. Samuels, auditor. A feature of the meeting was an address by Miss Rosemond Rodkinson, who is traveling through the United States in the interests of the English translation of the Talmud, Miss Rodkinson spoke entertainingly of the work and of its interest to the Jewish people in particular, her address being listened to with much interest. The retiring officers of the council gave encouraging reports of the progress accomplished last year.

The "open day" of the Clofan, which was postponed from last week will take place on Tuesday at the residence of Miss Emmeline Wells.

The Spirit of Liberty chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met yesterday with Miss Murphy at the Collegiate institute, and elected officers for the coming year. The project was also introduced and discussed of erecting a drinking fountain in Liberty park. These fountains have been erected in many of the large cities of the country, and the chapter here will, if possible, build one in Liberty park. A committee, consisting of Mrs. Joel Allen and Dr. Bell Anderson Gemmell, was named to communicate with eastern firms to get plans, prices, etc. Mrs. C. E. Allen was elected regent of the chapter. Mrs. W. W. Chisholm, vice regent; Miss Murphy, secretary; Miss Catherine Lowe, registrar; Dr. Belle Anderson Gemmell, treasurer.

About 200 delegates took part in the annual meeting in Brooklyn of the General Society of the Daughters of the Revolution. Notwithstanding the inclement weather, the program was successfully carried through, and the occasion full of interest from start to finish. The president general, Miss Adeline W. Stebbins, presided at the two business meetings. The society's work in behalf of the Valley Forge enterprise has been active, and all the state auxiliaries have contributed appreciable amounts to the fund, Massachusetts leading off with close upon $1,700. That matter being practically finished, the society has put it in the background, and is addressing itself to new activities. One of the new undertakings proposed is the establishment of a fund for young college women who need assistance in procuring a college education. From the fund, money to the amount of $300 will be advanced without interest, and until such times as it can be repaid. Applicants must be eligible for membership in the society to obtain the benefit of this fund. A resolution offered by Mrs. John L. McNeill of Colorado was a protest against the use of the national flag for commercial or decorative purposes, such as making it into cushions, scarves, and articles of wearing apparel. The motion was received with interest, and resulted in the appointment of a committee to co-operate with a society which exists for the same purpose. The Massachusetts state society will give a reception in the New England building at the Pan-American Exposition on June 17th, and the delegate from that state, Mrs. Chapman, brought a cordial invitation to the General Society to be present, so far as possible, in Buffalo at that time. It is hoped that the president general and a number of the chief officers may attend. The result of the balloting for seven members of the board of managers elected Mrs. Thomas Hill, Maryland; Mrs. Warren Springer, Illinois; Mrs. M. D. Thatcher, Colorado; Miss E. O. Rand, New Jersey; Mrs. J. A. Heath, Massachusetts; Mrs. D. P. Ingraham, New York; and Mrs. J. P. Geran, Long Island. Before adjournment the Daughters accepted the invitation of the Colorado society, tendered through its vice regent, Mrs. J. B. Grant, to hold the annual meeting of 1902 at Denver.

The Gaspee Chapter, D. A. R., of Providence, R. I., is the first and so far as is known, the only chapter of this society which has entered an official protest against the manner in which the annual congress of the Daughters at Washington in February was conducted. This was done in the form of a resolution unanimously adopted at a recent meeting of the chapter.

The Colored Women's Business club of Chicago has just celebrated its first birthday. At the time of its organization.

A JUNE ROSE.

The summer girl this year will be more beautiful than ever in hat and box to match or contrast. This picturesque hat, a flaring poke of pink straw, is faced with pink chiffon and has a soft drapery of the same resting against the hair. The entire edge of the rim is covered with pink roses. The neck piece accompanies this poem in hats sets off its glowing tints admirably. It is black lace edged with accordion pleated black chiffon.

ization a year ago it was the only club of its kind in the United States, but similar societies have since sprung up in the Chicago club—a dozen or more dreamers, eight stenographers, four milliners, one lawyer, and three physicians.

Following the recent withdrawal of the Middlesex Woman's club of Lowell, Mass., from membership in the General Federation on account of the per capita tax, and the action of the G. F. W. C. in excluding the Woman's Era club of Boston from membership, is also announced the resignation from the General Society of the large and influential Milwaukee College Endowment association, Mrs. H. P. Vedder, president. The reason given by the Milwaukee club is solely the expense. The club has been paying $10 a year for the privilege of membership, the sum which under the new per capita tax now in effect raises the dues to $70 per annum, which the club considers excessive and out of proportion to value received by retaining membership. At the annual meeting of the Amherst Woman's club last week, it was voted to send to the executive board of the G. F. W. C. a protest against its action at Milwaukee last June in refusing to accept the accredited delegate from the Woman's Era club.

Among clubwomen Miss Myra Lloyd Dock of Harrisburg, Pa., is known as an able apostle of "forestry reserves and village improvement"—two vital phases of work which are commanding the attention of women's clubs everywhere. The Illinois Federation of Women's clubs, for instance, like the Massachusetts Federation of Women's clubs, has an illustrated stereoscopic lecture on the planting and care of trees, landscape gardening and suggestions for town and village improvement, which is furnished to clubs throughout the state free of charge. For five years Miss Dock has lectured, principally in the East, on these important subjects. The three special who recently made her bow as a lecturer on arts and crafts before women's clubs, is the woman so signally honored by being asked to exhibit no less than twenty-five pieces of her pottery at the Paris exposition. For years she has been a progressive spirit in art circles over the country, and during the "big Milwaukee biennial" of the General Federation of Women's clubs came into wide notice as local chairman of the art committee. As clubwomen everywhere are enthusiastic over arts and crafts—several clubs have formed departments, by the way—these talks, illustrated with specimens in crude and finished states, as well as by photographs and stereoscopic views, will be of timely interest.

As a preparation for the more effective presentation of this informative work Miss Dock spent some time abroad and, under most favorable auspices, visited hundreds of parks, playgrounds, public baths and such institutions as tend to make the world healthful as well as beautiful.

A short time ago this young woman "lectured" her own city in a manner deserving of emulation. Under the auspices of the board of trade she addressed a large meeting of men and women, not only securing them for unnecessary unsightliness but throwing on the screen pictures of disgraceful spots in and around the city which had contracted the "tin can habit," as the speaker called, or had been made a dumping ground for refuse. Miss Dock also showed pictures of the river which borders the town, which is only an odoriferous outlet for sewage, where, as it might be, as are countless streams in Europe, which were also displayed, an object of beauty. Though the work of village improvement is not so new among clubwomen, the forestry problem has the more recently engaged their activities. Aside from the famous effort of California clubwomen to preserve the big trees in their state, clubwomen in Minnesota, New Hampshire, Pennsylvania, and Maine have agitated the question of forest preservation within their respective commonwealths.

Sciatic Rheumatism Cured After Fourteen Years of Suffering.

"I have been afflicted with sciatic rheumatism for fourteen years," says Josh Edgar, of Germantown, Cal. "I was able to be around but constantly suffered. I tried everything I could hear of and at last was told to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I did and was immediately relieved and in a short time cured, and I am happy to say it has not since returned. Why not use this liniment and get well?"

Piles are not only most painful, but also very dangerous, as the inflamed nodules are very apt to take on malignant action and cancer of the rectum is produced. They should be cured. TABLET'S DUCKEY'S PILE OINTMENT will cure the most obstinate cases. Price, 50 cents in bottles. Tubes, 75 cents. Z. C. M. I.
