

It Takes Just Eight Days for Legislature to Finish With Measure.

DIPS INTO THE TREASURY.

But Officers Are Now Empowered to Pay Bills for the Session Out of Regular Appropriation.

The first bill to go through the legislature was transmitted to the governor iste yesterday afternoon, just eight days after it was given existence on the motion of Senator Willis Johnson. The measure had its way greased through both houses for it was the approprition bill, and found no enemies anywhere. Its eight-day journey is therefore typical of the time it takes a anywhere. It is that the time it takes a measure to go the rounds on the way to becoming a law, if it isn't halted any-where on the line of march. The measure will probably be signed it once. It calls for $35,000 and makes it possible for bills to be regularly paid from now on as they occur. The senata yesterday finished its work as usual within an honr. The first committee meeting was announced by Senator Lawrence, who called the ju-diciary committee together immediately after adjournment to consider the half dozen bills stored up for committee ac-tion.

RAILROAD BILL.

Representative Critchlow Introduces His Measure in the House.

House bill 16 is the title of the rail House bill 16 is the title of the rail-road commission measure introduced by Representative John Q. Critchlow yes-ierday afternoon, the full text of which has already appeared in the "News." The bill has the endorsement of the Merchants & Manufacturers' associa-tion, and other commercial organiza-tions interested in transportation mat-ters tions interested in transformations interested in transformations. It provides for the appointment of a heard of three railroad commissioners, to be appointed by the governor, not more than two of whom shall be of the same political party. Their salaries are taked at $3.600 per annum each, and they are empowered to appoint a secretary at a salary of $1.800 per year. It is provided that one of the commissioners must have a knowledge of railroad law, and each of the others shall have a knowledge of matters relating to the transportation business, but none of them may have any pecuniary interest in any railroad.

them may have any peculiary interval. Any railroad transporting freight and passengers within this state, and ex-press companies, come under the scope of this law, but not street car or elec-tric railroads transporting passengers alone. The law provides that each railroad shall print and file with the commission a schedule of all rates and fares charged by it, and no change can be made in the same except upon 10 days' notice to the commission.

be made in the same except upon 19 days' notice to the commission. The bill is modeled largely after the federal law on the subject, modified to meet state conditions. Convictions for violation of its provisions are made punishable by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $10,000 for each of-fense. The bill was read by title and referred to the committee on railroads and common carriers.

OTHER NEW BILLS. Other bills were introduced as fol-

H. B. 13, by Clegg. This bill contains provisions similar to H. B. 13, relating to public revenues; referred to committee on revenue.

CAUCUS OF REPUBLICANS,

On motion of Kuchler, the house adjourned until 2 o'clock today. Immediately after adjournment, the Republican members were called into caucus. It is understood the subject of the appointment of a malling clerk, which was turned down as a measure of economy several days ago in the house, engaged the attention of the caucus, and the matter will probably be reconsidered at an early date.

LEGISLATIVE SIDELIGHTS.

Only two senators have beards. They are Williams of Salt Lake, and Callis-ter of Fillmore. Both men look very much alke, but Callister enjoys the distinction of a senatorial appointment to pose for the entire body whenever a cartoonist appears on the horizon.

"He's going to be another Hollings-worth, I'll just bet," was the comment of a bright young lady who typewrites bills, when Senator Hulaniski of Weber appeared before her with four pet measures in a bunch. Hollingsworth has long had the distinction of flagging cll others in the mattlet of nounding out all others in the matter of pounding out new bills; but Hulaniski leads so far this session.

Herschel Bullen, Jr., of Cache county feels the responsibility of the fight he will have to lead in behalf of Logan's end of the consolidation problem. He end of the consolidation problem. He realizes that on this measure he is not altogether in the house of his friends, and he is very wary in allowing him-self to be quoted, or letting a reporter up on his "blind side." Three skillful interviewers on the floor of the house tried by their combined arts to get out of him what he thought about the house committee on education. house committee on education. The play is of pe-culiar interest in Sait Lake because of the fact that it was in the state prison, southeast of this eity, that the last chapter in Tracy's life had its com-mencement. He made his escape in a daring manner from that institution, and his trail thence, through Colorado, Wyoming, Idaho, Oregon and Washing-ton, was marked with blood, mostly not his own, until the wheat field was reached where he was at bay, wounded and bleeding, and where he finally blew out his own brains.
