

News From The Leading Cities of The Gem State

IDAHO STATE FAIR NOW IN FULL BLAST

Greatest and Most Complete Exhibition of Products Yet in Gem State.

MANY PRIZES AT THE A-Y-P-E.

Valuable Lands Lost to the State—Court Rules Against Boise in Liquor License Case.

(Special Correspondence.)

BOISE, Oct. 14.—The greatest and most complete exhibition of products of soil, mine and mill and of specimens of rock and sand ever witnessed in Idaho is now in progress. No pains have been spared to make the exhibits in every line as complete as possible and the amusement features, too, are not overlooked; the race course was never better and it is interspersed with such features as Prof. Bewers' high dive, balloon ascension, polo games, acrobatic performances, etc. All credit will be given the Idaho Intermountain Fair association.

Fifty thousand people visited the fair grounds yesterday and it was the consensus of opinion that the fair is the best in the history of the state. And one of the pleasant features of the fair occasion is the delightfully pleasant weather. The days are ideal, a gust of wind nor a drop of rain mars the pleasure of the fairgoers since the opening day, last Monday.

FRUIT DISPLAY.

Most of the southern counties of the state are represented with splendid exhibits. The fruit display of Ada, Canyon and Washington counties is a beautiful sight. While Council Valley, in the eastern part of the state, is the center of their orchards, and ships considerable fruit and has demonstrated by 22 consecutive apple crops its wonderful adaptability for apple growing, this industry is but in its infancy there and the future promises well. There are already 100 acres planted for this fall and next spring more than 150,000 apple trees and before the spring delivery ends or as many more will be given the nurseries, all to be planted in the Council Valley district.

WORLD'S LARGEST ORCHARD.

The orchard alone, the Council-Mesa grade, will plant 30,000 trees next year. This planting will be supplemented as rapidly as possible until 100,000 trees are planted in the orchard, making this the largest orchard in the world. The orchard, which came to the fair nearly one-half of its exhibits' exhibit at the recent fair in that county, which was considered all to be the best ever exhibited there.

Franklin county, which has never before exhibited at the Intermountain fair, has two and one-half tons of wonderful fruits and vegetables which the enthusiastic exhibitors of that county have brought 400 miles to exhibit. Messrs. Wm. P. Rugh and S. C. Clay of Sunny Dell are in charge of the collection of which they are truly proud. Sugar beets are among the prime articles of the collection. The roots of that section weigh over 100 pounds. The specimens are enormous, 12 to 15 inches long, each weighing 15 pounds. A table beet in another collection from this county weighs five pounds. A cabbage weighing 40 pounds, a cucumber 20 pounds, a grapefruit an average of 5,000 to over sea level, Mr. Rugh and Mr. Clay think worth mentioning.

FINE SHEEP EXHIBIT.

In keeping with the excellence of the exhibits, the money sheep is up to the standard. A bunch of state prize winners at the Seattle fair is exhibited.

There are probably twice as many sheep on exhibition this year as any other year, and the quality is up to the standard. A bunch of state prize winners at the Seattle fair is exhibited.

There are probably twice as many sheep on exhibition this year as any other year, and the quality is up to the standard. A bunch of state prize winners at the Seattle fair is exhibited.

Another noteworthy feature is the complete absence from the grounds of dogs, no open hunting, pool making or gambling is permitted.

IDAHO GETS MANY PRIZES.

While Idaho's splendid state fair was in full progress yesterday it was gratifying to hear read from the state fair commissioner McKinley at Seattle that H. Gleason, Secy. Interim State Fair Association:

"Award of the animals and grasses, state of Idaho grand prize Gold medal to Pease, Price, Latah, Canyon, Kootenai, Twin Falls, Bingham, and Grand prize to Ada county, silver gold medal to state on plating."

IDAHO LOSES LANDS.

According to a decision of the secretary of the interior, solicited by the state attorney general, copies of which were yesterday sent to Governor Brady, the state has no right to the selection of lands within forest reserves, even though application for survey of ownership in which the lands are located had been made previous to the proclamation of the president creating the reserves.

The decision is considered the most far-reaching ever handed down, involving the interests of Idaho, and will deprive the state of the selection of state areas within the forest reserves, even though application for survey of ownership in which the lands are located had been made previous to the proclamation of the president creating the reserves.

Another noteworthy feature is the complete absence from the grounds of dogs, no open hunting, pool making or gambling is permitted.

CHINESE EXTRADITION.

While Idaho's splendid state fair was in full progress yesterday it was gratifying to hear read from the state fair commissioner McKinley at Seattle that H. Gleason, Secy. Interim State Fair Association:

"Award of the animals and grasses, state of Idaho grand prize Gold medal to Pease, Price, Latah, Canyon, Kootenai, Twin Falls, Bingham, and Grand prize to Ada county, silver gold medal to state on plating."

DETECTIVE'S TESTIMONY.

The testimony of Detective Fitzgerald, who has spent a month in Boise and who came here after Chen Moy and Wong Gow to the time of the former hearing, particularly attracted the attention of the chief executive, but he declined to make any comment Fitzgerald in his testimony before the

FOUR GENERATIONS OF PARKINSONS.

That the west has been productive of many sturdy men and women is shown by the picture of the Parkinson family, in which four generations of the oldest sons of the household are represented. In the little city of Franklin, Idaho, which by the way is the oldest place in the state, live the four generations of the family, Samuel R. Parkinson, the patriarch, and his wife, the mother of the pioneers of the west. He has been one of the strong influences in building up the agricultural interests of the country.

The picture shows Samuel R. Parkinson, 78 years old; Samuel W. Parkinson, 59 years old, and Samuel Taylor Parkinson, 35 years old.

Samuel R. Parkinson came to Utah from St. Louis in 1854 driving a spoke team of three mules. With him he brought his oldest son, Samuel C. Parkinson, who is bishop of Franklin ward, Onida Stake. Like his father he always adhered to the principles of his religion and became a hard worker in the years he believed was right. For 20 years he helped to found the Onida Stake. He is also one of the strong business men of the community and for many years has been engaged in sheep, cattle and banking business. He is also an ascetic of some note. Samuel W. Parkinson is engaged in the sheep business and farming. He has served successfully on two missions, one to California and the other to England. At present he is high churchman and a member of the Onida Stake. The younger person in the picture is Samuel Taylor Parkinson, who is a great grandson of John Taylor.

grand jury stated that the California authorities did not have a fair opportunity to present their side of the case owing to the number of overwhelming number of residents and women, 15,000 of whom were wearing Salvation Army bonnets.

DAMAGE SUIT FILED.

Against the Eastman-Teller Hardware company there has been filed in the district court by James C. Gjerman a suit asking damages in the sum of $5,000, based on the allegation that the death of his son, Carl Gjerman, aged 16, was due to exposure to dynamite when he had never had any experience beyond peradventure of a doubt, his absolute unfitness for the position. That man was the present day marshal, a Negro, who was excellent in every way. His son was exposed to dynamite as night watchman. Right in the face of that petition, by a strict party vote, Condie, Mendenhall and Larson voting nay and Larson and Gjerman voting yeas, the board turned down the petition, went on record as having enforced that rule in attending the general conference of the Church and visiting friends. Among the more recent to report are President Heber C. Atchison and wife, who besides visiting at their former home attended the conference meetings.

EMMETT. Oct. 14.—Quite a number of people in Emmett who took advantage of conference rates and discounts paid fares and his traveling agent has gone to Pocatello, 12 miles north of Preston. Mr. Frederick has thrashed more than $6,000 cash thus far this season.

William Landquist is in Malad this week attending commissioners' meeting.

The two cases of diphtheria that have been quarantined for five weeks are still convalescent and will enjoy complete freedom in a few days. No new cases have developed.

Farmers are now busy harvesting their crops, the crop being unusually heavy this season.

Blenton Garrison was a Salt Lake visitor last week.

Nearly every business man in the town signed this petition and here he is.

After the ministerial election last spring, a petition, signed by nine-tenths of the business men and four-fifths of the property holders residing within the city limits, was presented to the village board asking for the retention of the ministerial candidate.

Second: That in the closing of the sessions we have eliminated all causes which necessitated a peace officer other than the high school constable during daytime. Therefore, we recommend that the city officers necessary to this time to maintain the dignity of our laws, and in this we pledge our hearty support.

First: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Second: That in the closing of the sessions we have eliminated all causes which necessitated a peace officer other than the high school constable during daytime. Therefore, we recommend that the city officers necessary to this time to maintain the dignity of our laws, and in this we pledge our hearty support.

Third: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Fourth: That in the closing of the sessions we have eliminated all causes which necessitated a peace officer other than the high school constable during daytime. Therefore, we recommend that the city officers necessary to this time to maintain the dignity of our laws, and in this we pledge our hearty support.

Fifth: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Sixth: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Seventh: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Eighth: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Ninth: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Tenth: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Eleventh: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Twelfth: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Thirteenth: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Fourteenth: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Fifteenth: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Sixteenth: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Seventeenth: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Eighteenth: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Nineteenth: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Twenty: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Twenty-one: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Twenty-two: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Twenty-three: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Twenty-four: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Twenty-five: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Twenty-six: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Twenty-seven: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Twenty-eight: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Twenty-nine: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Thirty: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Thirty-one: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Thirty-two: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Thirty-three: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Thirty-four: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Thirty-five: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Thirty-six: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Thirty-seven: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Thirty-eight: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Thirty-nine: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Forty: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Forty-one: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Forty-two: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Forty-three: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Forty-four: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Forty-five: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Forty-six: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Forty-seven: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Forty-eight: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Forty-nine: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Forty: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Forty-one: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Forty-two: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Forty-three: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Forty-four: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Forty-five: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Forty-six: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Forty-seven: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Forty-eight: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Forty-nine: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the poor and those who have a tendency to restart its growth.

Forty: We affirm that the recent ordinance enacted raising the police fees will be a burden to the