OISE, Ida., Dec. 21 .- The self-confessed adultery case of Fred Law and Annie Turpin of Star was disposed of this week in the district court under Judge George H. Stuart.

The penalty imposed upon them was five months in the county jail for Annie Turpin and seven months in the state penitentiary for Fred Law. Former Atty.-Gen. Silas W. Moody, attorney for the defense, in his plea for clemency, called the attention of the court to the statute of this state prescribing a pencity for the crime to which his clients. had pleaded guilty, saying that the law had evidently been passed to provide a punishment for the "Mormons" in this state, and that its extreme penalties were not applicable to the case at bar. Judge Stuart said that not having been a member of the legislature he was not in a position to speak 'authoritatively as to the extent of that body in its enactment of the statute in question. "The statute," said the judge, "leaves it discretionary with the court to place a varied interpretation upon degrees of adultory. It is probable that the lawmakers contemplated the application of the extreme punishment to men and women who are guilty of a long series of adulterous conduc-Under the new law in this state, the maximum penalty for adultery is three years' imprisonment in the state peni-tentiary or a fine of $1,000.

ANOTHER BAD CASE.

Edward Suttles, charged with the crime of criminal relations with the daughter, Ella May, and Ruth Hudson, has been found guilty in the district court of this city, and will receive his sentence next Saturday. The penalty for this offense is from seven years in the penaltanthese to life imprisonment the penitentiary to life imprisonment. Atty. Cahalan, in behalf of the defense, has made a motion before Judge Stuart for suspension of judgment on the gound that the evidence in the case is insufficient to support the verdict of the jury. If the judge refuses to suspend judgment or grant n new trial, Atty, Cahalan says he will apeal the case to the supreme court.

The aged Ninth street jeweler, Gustaf F. Anderson, was found dead in his sleeping room in the back part of his store jast Thursday. An exam-ination revealed the fact that no foul play had been practised upon him, but that death was most probably caused by heart fatiure, superinduced by the eased's intemperate habits.

Jack Kirk, a laboring man, fell dead upon Main street last Monday morning while on his way to work, cause of death was heart failure. The FROM LEGISLATURE TO JAIL.

GOV, GOODING HOME,

Governor Gooding returned this evening from his eastern trip. He is very much pleased with the result of his conference with the president in company with Gifford Pinchot, head of the forest service, respecting the state school lands in forest reserves. It was arranged that the state should be permitted to select a body or bodies of timber land in reserves in lieu of sections 16 and 36. If possible this will be taken in a solid body. It is the governor's understanding that this can be done by executive order. Much of the school lands in the Bitter Root reserve have already been relinquished for lands elsewhere, but there is no available land to take in lieu of 300,-000 acres. of school jands in the Shoshone and Sawtooth reserves, hence this arrangement. The governor es-timates the arrangement will be worth from $4,000,000 to $5,000,000 to the state. Of his trip to Philadelphia the gov-ernor is very enthusiastic. He was ernor is very enthusiastic. He was treated in the most hospitable manner. His party was the guest of the Cramps at dinner the night before the launching and at a theater party. After the launching the mayor took him and his OUTLOOK ON MINIDOKA PROJECT. NEWS OF A WEEK FROM POCATELLO. Reclamation Service Can Give No Definite Estimate as to the Date When a Pumping Plant Will - Be Installed for the Benefit of Existing Settlers-May be Several Years Yet.

• HE reclamation service lately has been importuned by certain settlers on the Minindoka project, Idaho, to fix a definite date when water will be supplied to the lands on the south side of Snake river above the gravity system.

At no time have the agents of the government been able to state definitely when a pumping plant would be installed, although the plan of construction of the dam makes provisions for this feature of the work. The most that could be stated was that the installation of the pumping system would not tion of the pumping system would not be undertaken for several years. It has, however, been frequently stated that were it practicable to begin the installation of such a pumping system immediately, water would not be avail-able for these high lands earlier than 1909. A delay of 2, 4, or 5 years would obviously prolong this waiting period. The Minidoka project is not the orthy one involving the lifting of water by pumping to levels above the gravity system. There are many others. It has been deemed advisable by the leading been deemed advisable by the leading engineers to hold this part of each project in absyance pending the com-pletion of the gravity systems. To lift water in the enormous quantities required to reclaim these areas will nec-essitate the construction of pumps of larger size and greater capacity than ever before attempted. Ordinary busi-ness sense decrees that the experi-ment should not be tried until a full consideration has been given to all the engineering and mechanical features. The statement of this fact has been made from time to time during the past 18 months, and intending settlers have been advised and warned not to enter land which could be irrigated only by pumping. On the Minidoka project it will be practicable in the fu-ture to reclaim the lands above and near the gravity ditches by means of a pumping system, the power to be supplied at the dam now under con-struction. The area to be reclaimed on the south side of Snake river by this means contains fully 50,000 acres, while nearly half as much as this may be re-claimed on the north side by similar means. The actual cost of this feature of the reclamation works would not be of the reclamation works would not be less than $2,000,000, a sum considerably in excess of the cost of the gravity system now nearing completion. It has fong been known that the

It has fong been known that the speculative spirit which develops when-ever a government project is exploited has not been abeent at Minidoka. Months after the plans of the govern-ment became known a tract of deeded land under the pumping system was purchased by a local syndicate and laid out in a townsite two miles from where the United States had reserved a tract for the same purpose on the opposite for the same purpose on the opposite side of the fiver and under the gravity asten. The government's reservation was made with the full knowledge of the polic at large and with the special co-operation of the Oregon Short Line Railroad company, which was granted d right of way through the town-Every reasonable effort was made tite. to warn the promoters of the private townsite that their proposed site was in miles from the end of the gravity caral and below the pumping system. These warnings were not permitted to interfere with the spectacular opening of this townsite, and as a result 400, to to state that they have profited greatly by their scheme. The government has adhered consis-tently to its plans in relation to the Minidoka project, and if the entry-men had taken the trouble to write to the secretary of the interior or to con-sult the proper agency and had follow-ed the advice which was given, he would not be occupying his present po-sition. Havingsvery fully outlined the plans it was to be naturally expected that all persons interested in the de-velopment of this section of Idaho would fully appreciate the situation and would fully appreciate the situation and co-operate in carrying out these plans along safe and conservative lines. It is believed that the situation is fully ap-preciated by all the conservative and responsible people in this locality, most of whom have co-operated with the United States in discouraging further United States in discouraging further settlemen on lands, which can not be reclaimed for some years to come. It has not been within, the power of the employes of the United States to ex-ercise control over the spirit of specula-tion which recognizes neither order nor authority, and they should therefore not be held responsible for results fol-lowing the efforts of promoters, which were never in harmony with the broad plans of the government, but on the were made in a spirit of opontrary Losition

Young Man Who Slugged the Wrong Fellow-Police Kept Busy Making Numerous Arrests-Looks as Though Lysander C. Pond Will Get the Appointment of Deputy Internal Revenue Collector for Southern Idaho.

Special Correspondence. DOCATELLO, Ida., Dec. 22,-"There,

---- you, take that," was the remark with which a young man swung the pair of skates he was carrying suspended by a strap, and brought them down with crushing force into the face of another young fellow who was crossing on Main street one evening this week. Then peering into the face of the injured man he at once became profuse in his apologies, when he realized that he had assaulted the wrong man. Subsequently it was learned that a little disagreement had taken place down at the river earlier in the evening, as a result of which the party of the first part had set out with his skates on his arm in search of another but larger man, and in the dim street light had mistaken the party of the second part for the one he was seek. ing. After due apology and an invita-" tion to drink the matter passed into history.

A man named J. E. Giles, who was just about to leave town, absent-mindedly forgetting a few bills he was owing, was nabbed at the train by Officer John Priest last evening. One of the local grocers whom the aforesaid Giles was owing a neat little bill had his suspicion aroused early in the evening, and securing the services of Constable Priest, he located the fellow just preparing to get on the outgoing train. When approached by Officer Priest he gave the name of Wilson, but the officer gave the name of Wilson, but the officer was too wise and informed "Wilson" that he would have the privilege of ex-plaining his remarkable resemblance to the "absent minded beggar" Giles before Justice White, whereupon the prisoner acknowledged his identity. The matter was compromised on a $20 basis. Joe Mitchell, A. R. Todd and George Page, the latter being the man cap-tured Sunday in Ogden, and brought back here by Chief Smith, all three charged with being implicated in the theft of a suit case, were taken before Judge White Tuesday afternoon and ex-amined. WING to the rush incident to the closing of the forms for the Christmas edition last week considerable matter was omitted. Among the correspondence unavoidably crowded out were items from Marysville, Sugar City, Rexburg. Franklin, Shelley, and Blackfoot. In brief they were as follows:

Marysville-Farmer's Union was inorporated here last week and a warehouse for the storage of grain is to be erected by the company. Considerable indignation is in evidence among the old-time residents over a movement to establish a new townsite at a point about a mile and a quarter west of Marysville on the line of the Yellowstone Park railroad, now building. About 450,000 bushels of fine grain were threshed this season in the surrounding district.

Franklin-The carloads of pipe ordered for the Franklin water works have arrived. A literary debating so-ciety has been organized in this city. I. H. Nash while jumping on his horse fell and broke his right arm. There is plenty of snow on the ground with a famine of coal and wood prevailing. The work was undertaken at the instigation of the Utah and Idaho sugar companies, and has in view the acquiring of all water power of suffi-cient magnitude to be a potent factor in operating a gigantic power plant-a plant large enough to furnish power for mechanical and industrial enterprises for both Idaho and Montana. Several sites on the upper Snake have already been purchased. The Farmers' Institute convened at the court house. The sub ject of food adulteration and agricul-ture; its relation to all kindred branches of industry received a large share of attention. The principal instructors attending the institute are, Prof. H. T. French, director of Idaho experiment station, L. E. Judson, professor of horticulture: G. A.
