FRAGMENTS.

See T. B. Clark's card, "Bees for sale," in another column.

In the case of John Hogue vs. Hugh Anderson, in the Third District Court, the defendant's motion for new trial was overruled.

The commencement exercises of the University of Deseret will be conducted at the University Building, on Thursday, May 27th.

The Utah Commission have appointed Austin S. Mayhew deputy registrar of Bureau Precinct, Plate Co., vice John Giles, who has left the county.

In the case of The People, etc., vs. Auditor N. W. Clayton and Treasurer James Jack, the defendants were allowed until June 7th to file transcript on appeal.

This afternoon a sickle-plated husband was lost from the hook and ladder truck on the way to the fire. The driver will obligingly return it to the fireman's hall.

The Salt Lake County Teachers' Association continued their session on Saturday afternoon, and after carrying out the programme as arranged, adjourned to meet on June 14th.

In the suit of Maria L. Hayhoe vs. John Hayhoe, for divorce and alimony, in the Third District Court, the defendant was ordered to pay $10 per month temporary alimony, $10 costs, and $50 attorney's fees.

The application of Luis S. Horrocks for divorce from John W. Horrocks, and the custody of their child and alimony, on the ground of cruel treatment by the defendant, was being heard in the Third District Court today.

The witnesses in the case of the United States vs. J. O. Young were before Commissioner McKay this morning, but as the defendant was not present, they were excused until June 1st, when they will appear before the grand jury.

This sword contest on Washington Square between Ross and McGuire, on Saturday afternoon, was won by the latter, with a score of 14 to 12. In the 26th attack Ross' horse fell on him, compelling him to relinquish the struggle. Another test of skill will be had between the men at the same place on Wednesday afternoon at 8 o'clock.

LOCAL NEWS.

A Family Celebration.—It will be observed by an advertisement elsewhere that an association composed of the relatives of President Brigham Young will celebrate the approaching anniversary of his birth at the Grand Theatre. The proceedings are to open at 2 p. m. on June 1st.

Crandell.—The heirs of H. H. Crandell can learn of something to their advantage by corresponding with J. W. Hendricks, at Central, Graham County, Arizona. Mr. Crandell, George Evans from Utah, and on May 14th, 1886, died at Safford. None of his relatives reside in that part of the country.

Escape of Convicts.—The list of prisoners now in the city jail includes a number of hardened characters, as evidenced by the frequent attempts at escape made recently, the last and most successful of which occurred last night (Sunday), when, between 11 and 12 o'clock, five jailbirds took their departure.—Matthew Cassey, Charles Miller, Al. Householder, George Evans and Charles Miller. Cassey is the same individual who attempted to gain his freedom a week ago, and who has since been taken to plan for liberty, as he has a term of years standing in the State Prison at Wood's Cross. Al. Householder was sentenced to 100 days in the city jail for disturbing the peace of two ladies by his brutal conduct, and the two Charles Millers were serving a 30 days' term, one for carrying a pair of shoes and the other for carrying concealed weapons. Cassey was confined on the first floor of the jail, while the others were upstairs.

The escape had evidently been contemplated for some time, and the plan well matured, as it was afterward discovered that the prisoners had obtained from the shops at the gravel beds, where they worked in the daytime, a pair of scissors, a cold chisel and a coupling hook from one of the gravel cars. These tools they had managed to secret about their persons so that they were not discovered in the daily search made of the prisoners. An entrance was effected into the loft of the prison by climbing up one of the iron doors and cutting a hole through the ceiling. Here a piece of 2x4 scantling, which had been left there by the carpenters at the building of the prison, was secured, and with this as a lever, the heavy sheet-iron which had been fastened around a stovepipe and the floor was torn up far enough to permit of Cassey's getting through.

The five men made their way to the loft and cut a hole through the roof. To guard against receiving a shot from the officer below, in case they should be discovered, they had made a dummy, by fastening overalls, shirt and coat together, strewing them with straw from one of the mattresses, and then forming a heap of a piece of blanket, thus making a very good imitation of a human body. This dummy they pushed out of the hole in the roof several times to see if it would attract attention, but nothing occurring the prisoners one by one made their exit to the outside of the roof on the side of the building away from the hall doors. By means of tying their blankets together they formed a rope by which they lowered themselves to the ground, and afterward gained the street. It was this rope of blankets hanging from the roof of the prison that attracted the guard's attention to what had taken place.

As soon as the escape was known the officers once began a search for the fugitives. Cassey, who was the most important, had a heavy slug and chain on when he left, and officers Pratt and Mallin followed in the direction they supposed he had taken. His tracks were discovered on the road to Parley's Canon, and about two miles above the mouth of the canon the officers turned in the direction they supposed he had taken. Diligent search has been made in all directions for the other prisoners, but up to latest accounts none of them had been discovered.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

Religious services in the Tabernacle Sunday, May 27th, commenced at 2 p. m., High Councilor Wm. Edgington presiding.

The choir sang: "Earth with her ten thousand flowers, Air, with all its beams and showers."

Prayer by Bishop William Thorne. The choir sang: "Come, follow me," the Savior said, Then let us in his footsteps tread.

The Priesthood of the Third Ward officiated in the administration of the sacrament.

Elder John Reading was the first speaker. He left pleased at again meeting with the Saints, after an absence of about a year, on a mission. He had often thought of the Saints here, while he was laboring in his native land, preaching the Gospel of Christ. There he met a great many whom he had not seen since he came to Utah, 20 years ago.

He testified that he had seen the Gospel had been restored to the earth in plainness and purity, for the salvation of the human family. He had often been asked whether the Gospel had been restored to the earth since the days of the apostles, but he had always answered that it had been restored, and that it was now in the hands of the Saints.

There were still some in England who embraced the Gospel, but he was not sure whether they were true Saints or not. He was sure, however, that the Gospel was now in the hands of the Saints, and that it was now being preached to the world.

of Christ, the power of God into salvation; and those who testify of the truth. The speaker prayed that the blessing of God would rest upon Zion, upon the honest in heart in all the world, and upon all who sought the establishment of truth and the ushering in of a reign of peace and righteousness on the earth.

The choir sang the anthem, "If man kindness meet return."

Benediction was pronounced by Elder A. H. Raleigh.

A Small Fire.—This afternoon a fire broke out in a summer kitchen—supposed to have originated from the heat of the stove.

J. W. Earle, Third Ward. A coal oil can was near and is supposed to have exploded. The flames consumed part of the kitchen and adjoining coal house. The contents of the kitchen were damaged. The loss will probably not exceed a hundred dollars.

Returned.—On Saturday we were pleased to meet Elder Nathan Tanner, Jr., of Ogden, who returned a few days ago from a mission to the States. He has been absent over two years, and labored in East Tennessee, five months as Traveling Elder and the remainder of the time as President of the Conference. He had a very pleasant time. There are four branches in that field, aggregating a membership of about one hundred. While he enjoyed his mission, the people being hospitable, he is glad to be once more at home.

Free Exhibition of Pictures.—Prof. Frederick Schafer, of San Francisco, will exhibit seventy-five highly finished works of art from the Mechanic Fair of last year. The exhibition is on his way to Europe and intends remaining here sketching for a few weeks. He will sell at auction, to-morrow evening, some of his best works, without reserve or limit. This furnishes an opportunity for lovers of art to embellish their parlors with paintings of merit. Mr. Walker has especially arranged his opera house to display this collection. The exhibit will open this evening.

Smash-up.—This morning a couple of men hired a horse and buggy from Mark McKinnis' stables for a ride. They had been drinking somewhat, and when in the eastern part of the city drove so wildly that the buggy was capsized and the animal ran away. The men were bruised considerably but not seriously, by being thrown to the ground, and the vehicle was pretty badly smashed. Mr. McKinnis found the men and finally agreed to accept $50 in payment of the damage, and one of the men handed over $30. The other, however, refused to settle any portion of the bill and was placed under arrest. When he arrived at the City Hall he changed his mind, and after paying the money was taken to where he could have his bruises attended to.

A Beautiful Pair.—On Saturday we had the pleasure of seeing, at Walker's art gallery, a couple of paintings from the studio of Mr. George Ottlinger. One was "The north portal of Castle Gate"—on the D. & R. G. R. R. One of its chief features is a gigantic rock, which towers to the sky, and the entire scene is admirably depicted. The other is a scene in City Creek Canyon, and it is a charming picture, incorporating the elements of grandeur and strength, with placidity and sweetness, the latter feature being prominent in a most exquisite but of superb picture. The two are decidedly meritorious. They are sold.

VIRGINIA NOTES. LABORS OF ELDERS, ETC. ST. PAUL, Carroll Co., Va., May 13, 1886.

Editor Deseret News: It may be that a few lines from this section of country would be read with interest among your many readers, who are so anxious to know the progress of truth, write you a short communication.

We have been laboring in the above-named place now for some time, and we have been very successful in our work. The same principles of truth that we are advocating were preached in this part of the country by Joseph Smith, who was here in 1830, and who was here again in 1831, and who was here again in 1832, and who was here again in 1833, and who was here again in 1834, and who was here again in 1835, and who was here again in 1836, and who was here again in 1837, and who was here again in 1838, and who was
