Wired From Washington.

WASHINGTON, 14.—News of the verdict in the Star route trial reached the Department of Justice shortly after 10 o'clock this morning. At the time the Attorney General was in consultation with George Bliss. When the news was announced he said to Bliss: "What do you think of that?"

"I am astonished," was the reply; I thought some of the jurors would get muddled on the conspiracy question, but I did not anticipate acquittal."

"Well," said the Attorney General, "that settles it. When twelve men agree, the matter is settled. I feel satisfied the government has presented the case in the best possible manner."

Juror Harrigan held out alone for conviction for a long time. He says: "I finally came to the conclusion that eleven heads were better than one, especially when some of the others were educated and smart gentlemen. A few minutes before we came into court, I went over because I didn't feel like opposing 11 men; so I gave the defendants the benefit of the doubt and voted for acquittal."

Foreman Crane says: "The jury voted first on the question as to whether there was any conspiracy. It was then proposed after some discussion to vote upon the guilt or innocense of individuals, which of course, would carry conspiracy with it." "John H. Dorsey," said Crane, "headed the list, and we acquitted him the first night. Then we came to Vaile and acquitted him. Then I think it stood ten to two on Stephen W. Dorsey; ten to two on Brady and nine to three on Miner. That is the way the jury stood up to this morning, though I believe, there was a change of one vote on Stephen W. Dorsey last night, making it stand eleven to one in his case."

Bliss, when asked to-night what he thought of the verdict, said it had been a surprise to him as well as to his associate counsel. He said he would not have been surprised at a disagreement of the jury; that in fact, he had been of the opinion that the jury would stand about nine for conviction and three for acquittal. The jurymen, however, whom he depended on as certain to vote for conviction, voted the other way. He did not think the honesty of the jury should be impugned because of the verdict. Where twelve men united in a verdict, no lawyer would care to say they had been improperly influenced. He believed the members of the jury to be mistaken, but that was all. Their opinions must be accepted as honest. Speaking of further proceedings against defendants who have just been acquitted, he said he thought the cases against Brady, Kellogg and others indicted with Brady would go over till fall, as Judge Wylie proposed to try cases of local importance before again taking up the Star route cases. Against the Dorseys, Vaile, and Miner there were practically no more criminal cases. One indictment was on the record, but it was one which had been laid aside because of the fact that Keredell's initials and Vaile's name were improperly set down, and moreover it did not differ from the one on which the jury had just rendered a verdict of acquittal. As to the proposed civil suits against defendants, he could say little. He did not think civil proceedings could be successfully maintained against Brady, as he had not received money from the government for services in carrying the mails. Proceedings in the civil suits would be for the recovery of money paid contractors improperly; money for which no services had been rendered; for money paid for illegally expedited service. He said he did not know whether he could have charge of the civil suits or not, but knew he would take the management of them if they were to be prosecuted in Washington or at any considerable distance from New York City. He did not think that the government would want to begin any civil suits in Washington.

Col Ingersoll, when asked if he had anything to say about the verdict, replied, "The victory is the only revenge I want; I think it is the most popular verdict that has been given in this country for many years."

Ex Senator Kellogg and General Brady will on Monday next be called upon to plead to indictments in their cases.

It is not probable that the trial of the Kellogg-Brady cases will take place before next autumn, as precedence will be given to cases of local importance.

Judge Wm. Lilley died of rheumatism of the heart to-day.

Information was received to-day that Chief Moses, with an interpreter and two chiefs, is on his way to Washington to confer with Secretary Teller about his reservation in Washington Territory, half of which was recently thrown open to settlement.

No communication has been received at the War Department from Gen. Crook, asking instructions as to the disposition of his Indian prisoners, nor have any instructions yet been sent him. Secretary Lincoln has an appropriation for the subsistence of 500 Indian prisoners, which is available for the care of these Indians until some arrangement shall be made with the Interior Department for their final disposition. They will therefore be held as prisoners of war until such time as the Interior Department is prepared to take charge of them; the first in importance is locating them at such a distance from the Mexican border that they will be unable to repeat their periodical raids; and second, to avoid bringing them in contact with other tribes who are now well disposed and peaceable, but upon whom they might exert an evil influence. Secretary Teller's views upon the subject are expressed in the following letter:

Department of the Interior,
Washington, June 14, 1883.

Hon. R. T. Lincoln, Secretary of War:

Sir: I understand that Gen. Crook will soon return to the vicinity of San Carlos agency with a large number of renegade Indians, who are guilty of murder, theft and other crimes. I do not think these Indians ought to be allowed to return to the Agency. Such I know has been the practice. There can be no permanent peace if these Indians are allowed to murder people, steal their stock and then surrender themselves and return to the Agency to be supported by the government. I think the criminals should be held as prisoners, and punished for their crimes. The children should be taken from their parents and put in schools. I think we can accept and care for the children of school age. I shall be pleased to hear from you as to the number of children as soon as you receive Gen. Crook's report.

Very respectfully,
H. M. TELLER.

The Treasury Department purchased 240,000 ounces of silver for delivery at the Philadelphia, San Francisco and New Orleans mints.

Additional charges have been preferred against Hill, Supervising Architect of the Treasury Department.

This morning Judge James, in the case of J. G. Bigelow against Bettie E. Mason, to restrain the payment of the "Betty and baby" fund, and for a decree making Bigelow an allowance for his services as counsel, signed an order discharging the restraining order and dismissing the bill on condition of the payment of $400 to Bigelow for his expenses in defending Sergeant Mason in his trial for shooting at Guiteau.

Depravity and Disaster.

KANSAS CITY, 14.—Zoar special to Leader: John Sopel's barn burned last night, and with it 75 sheep and several cows.

Chicago, 14.—The Board of Trade committee investigating the alleged adulteration of lard by Fowler Bros. heard a number of witnesses this afternoon; two of them formerly employed by that firm testified as to secret pipes leading to the lard tanks, and that they carried quantities of tallow and cottonseed oil into the room from which these pipes ran.

Cincinnati, 14. — News-Journal Mt. Sterling, Ky.: This has been the most eventful day of the trial of Barnett and his associates. The streets were crowded this morning to see Capt. Punch and ten soldiers start to arrest James Morrison, Barnett's son-in-law, and John Profit as accessories. These men have fortified themselves in a cave in Manifee county, with six well-armed friends, and say they will not be taken alive. The cases of William Hodge and Wm. Profit are continued till to-morrow. Barnett's brother has been released as innocent. Wm. Cartwright and James Ballard, charged with the murder of Kelton, were brought in by a deputy sheriff.

Commercial Gazette Cattlesburg, Ky.: The sheriff has been ordered by the judge to provide a guard sufficient to protect Wm. Dereilly from the violence of the mob, as rumors are current that he will be lynched. Dereilly will be defended at the preliminary examination to-morrow. His absence from Ashland after the murder was not the cause of any suspicion, and he returned and worked some time for a bricklayer there. He says he did not know the nature of his arrest till his arrival here. It is said Fanny Gibbons had no bracelet, nor did the other girl, and this breaks one of the strongest links in the chain of circumstantial evidence relied on to prove Dereilly's guilt.

Kansas City, Mo., 14.—Times Gallatin, Mo.: The cases against Frank James will be called next Monday. A number of strangers have already arrived to attend the trial.

Subpœnas have been issued for about one hundred witnesses. It is admitted that no case can be made against the prisoner for killing Sheets in the Gallatin bank robbery. The prisoner is confident that he can prove an alibi from the Winston train robbery, while the prosecution is said to have good evidence of his complicity.

New York, 14.—Reuben H. Ploss, capitalist, this afternoon left his satchel containing securities valued at $87,000, in a Brooklyn ferry boat.

The police subsequently captured Owen Quinn and James Cullen with the property in their possession.

Columbia, S. C, 14.—Brooks Robinson, a negro boy, is sentenced to the State prison for 15 years for attempted assault on Mrs. Simeon Plyler, of Buford township. Troops were called out on Monday night to prevent lynching.

Uniontown, Pa, 14.—The shooting of N. T. Dukes, last evening, the slayer of Captain A. C Nutt, by the son of the latter, was the all-absorbing topic to-day. Excitement has comparatively subsided, however, and every one apparently is breathing a sigh of relief, now that the last chapter has been added to the tragedy. The coroner's jury resumed the investigation this morning, only one witness testifying last night. Policeman Pegg testified that he was standing on the Tremont Corner, when he heard a shot fired; witness looked around and saw Dukes leaving the corner of Pittsburg Street as the first shot was fired. As he looked in the Postoffice door Nutt fired again. There were five shots fired before officer Pegg made the arrest. John R. Wilson testified to standing in front of the Postoffice after the shots had been fired. Witness said that a man came around the corner and another after him; went to the Postoffice door, and saw Dukes lying on the floor. The testimony of Lucius Martin was corroborative of the above. After hearing several more witnesses, the jury retired and in a few minutes returned with the following verdict:

"We find that said Nicholas S. Dukes came to his death from wounds received from a revolver fired in the hands of James Nutt, on the corner of Maine and Pittsburg Streets, in Uniontown, the 13th day of June, about the hour of 7.15 o'clock p.m.

A Chronicle Uniontown special says: A vile rumor became current here to-day, through the instrumentality of Dukes' friends, that Mrs. Nutt, widow of Captain Nutt, had encouraged her son to attack and slay Dukes. It is stated on good authority that Dukes met young Nutt on the street and laughed in his face in a sneering manner, and thus himself precipitated his fate.

The excitement over the Dukes Nutt tragedy is subsiding, and everything is quiet here to-night. Young Nutt is locked up in jail, but this afternoon had a very affecting interview with his mother in the parlor of the sheriff. Mrs. Nutt was accompanied by her two brothers. The son was assured by his uncles that the sympathy of the public was with him. Dukes' remains were taken to his mother's home. The latter takes her son's death very hard, and says that she frequently warned him to stay away from Uniontown. He replied that he was not afraid. The funeral will take place Saturday, but no arrangements for it are yet completed. This evening the brass band appeared on the street and played several tunes just opposite where Dukes was shot. When interrogated as to whether they were jubilating over the death of Dukes, they replied it was the usual summer night concert, and shortly after retired to their rooms. Public sentiment is strongly in favor of Nutt. There are a few exceptions, however, to be found among a certain clique of politicians, who are afraid to express themselves. Messages have been pouring in all day from all sections tendering sympathy with the Nutt family, and offering pecuniary assistance to be used for the defense. In Pittsburg a public subscription has been started for the same purpose. The trial, it is thought, will take place at the September term of court, and as his offence is not bailable, he will have to remain in prison until that time. In an interview, Mrs. Nutt said she had entreated her son over and over again, to promise that he would never assault Dukes; but while listening patiently to her, signified what he intended doing.

British Briefs.

LONDON, 14.—Upon the conclusion of his remarks, Justice Coleridge began his charge to the jury. The jury returned a verdict of guilty against Dr. Gallagher, Wilson, Whitehead and Carlin, and a verdict of not guilty in the case of Ausbergh and Bernard Gallagher. The four men found guilty were sentenced to life long penal servitude.

Dr. Gallagher kissed and shook hands with his brother, and Ausbergh, Whitehead, Wilson and Carlin each shook hands with Bernard Gallagher and kissed Ausbergh fervently. The convicts were conveyed to Millbank prison. The mob hissed the police escort en route. The military guard at the prison has been strengthened.

It is stated that Lord Granville has offered to mediate between France and Madagascar. M. Tisot, French minister to England, who contemplated leaving London on account of ill health, has postponed his departure one week for important diplomatic reasons. He has recently had a long interview with Lord Granville.

General Items.

PARIS, 14.—A dispatch from Shanghai says: Li Hung Chang, Chinese commander, informed the French minister that China had no intention of declaring war against France.

The French minister replied that the Chinese soldiers captured in Tonquin would be considered pillagers and summarily shot.

Berlin, 14.—It is reported that differences have arisen between Von Boettticher, Secretary of State for the Interior, and Schols, Minister of Finance.

It is also rumored that Dr. Maybach, Minister of Public Works, is about to resign.

The committee of the lower house of the Landtag, sitting during recess, adopted the first three clauses of the church bill. The third clause was amended to transfer the right of raising objections to church appointments from the central government to the governors of provinces. Clause four, giving power to the government to reject nominees on civil, religious, or educational grounds was rejected; it is thought probable the clause will be allowed to drop.

The Government resolved to purchase six railways, including the Upper Silesian & Berlin, and the Hamburg roads. Estimated cost, 325,000,000 marks, excluding the Berlin & Hamburg road, for which arrangements will be made. The possession of these roads will enable the Government to control the whole system of roads in the kingdom.

Rome, 14.—The action of Germany respecting the May laws and ecclesiastical legislation has occasioned much difference of opinion at the Vatican, and there is a growing tendency in the highest quarters in favor of accepting the concessions offered by Germany, and of not opposing the intended legislation.

Galveston, 14.—It is rumored that the Galveston stockholders, who hold a controlling interest in the Santa Fe Railway, have agreed to pool the earnings and stock for five years, and vote against any sale of the road.

Chicago, 14.—In an interview to-day, Alexander Sullivan, president of the Irish National League of America, said there was no truth in the report that the body proposed to espouse the cause of protective tariff in American politics. He asserted that it would take no stand as to protection or free trade in this country as a body, and would permit none of its leaders to use it in that way. Its policy was no trade with England and protection to Ireland. He denied he had ever been in any way connected with the skirmishing fund.

Galveston, 14. — News Austin special: In the United States District Court to-day, an opinion was rendered in a criminal prosecution under the civil rights act of Congress of March, 1875, the penalty being $500, for excluding Laura Evans from the ladies' car of the Houston & Texas Central. Nineteen similar cases were also disposed of, and the court held the law unconstitutional. The things alleged were cognizable by State tribunals only. Also, that the act was an infringement on the rights of the several States.

Petersburg, 14.—B. J. McGrann, the contractor who built the Pittsburg & Lake Erie Railroad in 1876, will enter suit against the company to-morrow for $518,000, balance which he claims to be due him on account of construction. The officers of the company state they hold his receipt in full, and that when the settlement was made on the completion of the road he was satisfied. Since then many imperfections in the work have been discovered, and the company will enter suit against McGrann for half a million dollars damages.

Pittsburg, 14.—Eastern iron manufacturers have called a meeting of all manufacturers of bars, rods, bands, hoops, ovals, plates, sheets, and other shapes of extra iron, to be held in the rooms of the American Iron and Steel Association, Philadelphia, the third Thursday in June, for the purpose of arranging if possible a new schedule of prices to conform with the changes made in the new tariff law.

Chicago, Ills., 14.—Members of the Master Masons' Association and their foremen are being sworn in as special policemen in anticipation of trouble with disaffected members of the Bricklayers' Union. It is understood these men are not satisfied with the result of the recent strike and are increasing the membership of the Union, and laying plans for a renewal of the trouble early in July.

Chicago, 14.—Judge Harlan, of the Federal Court, delivered a number of opinions, among them one is a case brought by the Attorney General of the State of Illinois to restrain the Illinois Central Railroad Company from further encroachment on the outer harbor of Chicago, the suit involving the long-mooted title to many million dollars' worth of property. The suit was brought in the State courts, and came before Judge Harlan on the application of the railroad company for its transfer to the United States court; The decision is a victory for the company; the court refusing to remand the case to the State court, on the ground that constitutional questions are involved.

The railway telegraph superintendents continued in session to-day, and adjourned this evening to meet in Boston in 1884.

O'Reilley, who worked at pneumatics, was crippled and lamed with sciatics; again he is well and anxious to tell, St. Jacobs Oil cured his rheumatics.
