SCHOOL ELECTION MATTERS.

An abortive attempt was made to hold a non-partizan (?) primary in this city last week, looking to a county convention, of the same complexion, but the effort failed in fruition, both par-ties saddling the blame upon each other. The nomination for school trustee on the Democratic side are E. M. Mansheld for three years, and J. F. Tolton for two years, the latter filling the place of W. S. Tolton, some with the "expedition." The Republican candi-dates are L. W. Harris, three years, and Solution Welker two years. Solomon Walker, two years. The con ventions for nominating county super intendent of schools were held on Friday and resulted in the selection o Miss Vie Christian, Democrat, and Chas, Woolfenden, Republican, 'The coming local school election promises to be intensely partizan, as some feeling is already manifest. Prof. Elekman gave a most interesting lecture to the young people last Wednesday evening; subject, "The Ex pulsion of the Mormons

...... White Man Tarned Yellow,

Great consternation was felt by the friends of M. A. Hogarty, of Lexing-ton, Ky., when they saw he was turn-ing yellow. His skin slowly_changed color, also his eyes, and he suffered terribly. His malady was Yellow Jaun-dice. He was treated by the best doc-tors, but without benefit. Then he was advised to try Electric Bitters, the wonderful Stomach and Liver remedy, and he writes: "After taking two botties I was wholly cured." A trial proves its matchless merit for all Stomach, Liver and Kedney troubles. Only 50c, Sold by Z. C. M. J. Drug Dept,

Those predisposed to Scrofula, Cancer, Rheumatism, Gout and other hereditary troubles may escape till then, but as they age the blood, so long tainted and weakened by accumulated waste matters, is no longer able to properly nourish the body, and it becomes an easy mark for disease. At this critical period of life the blood must be re-enforced before it can perform its legitimate functions and rid the system of these poisons, and nothing so surely and effectually does this as S. If you have an old running sore or an obstinate ulcer that refuses to heal, or are troubled with boils and carbuncles, try S. S. S. It never fails to make a quick and permanent cure of these pests. If your system is run down and you feel the need of a tonic, S. S. S. will strengthen and help you as it has many others to a happy, healthy old age. S. S. S. cured Mr. H. CULTIVATING IN DRY SOIL.

Does it Pay to Kick Up the Dust-Ob:

ject of Stirring the Soil.

During the drouth, after we have produced an earth mulch by cultivation, what is the use of cultivating again until a shower forms a crust? I am a strong advocate of thorough culture, but can hardly see the benefits of stir-ring up dust as long as it remains dust. In answering the above inquiry and comment, the Rural New Yorker says: Cultivation, carly in the season, es-pecially before the ground has been planted, has for its object the saving of soll moisture in the deeper layers of the ground; the aeration of the surface soll so as to facilitate the formation of plant food; the drying out and warming of the seed bed, so as to fit it better and earlier for germination, and the developing of the soil texture, which is essential to vigorous and rapid growth of young plants. After the crops are up, where intertillage is practiced, thereby cultivation has again for its object the development of plant food as well as the killing of weeds and the saving of soll moisture. To secure these ends the early cultivation can to advantage be deeper than later cultiva-tions. When it ceases to be desirable to cultivate for the purpose of aerating idleness. It must be remembered that it n stoping the flames. The first thing has been in following such a system that about all the horses of the country were bred prior to the organization of the big farms, which are of comparatively recent date. In those days we heard less of slipping foals and other troubles incident to breeding than we now hear.

There are still some farmers who hesitate about breeding the mares that do the common labor on the farm. We think they are acting upon a mistaken idea, unless these mares are required to perform extraordinary arduous ser-vice. It is a little inconvenient, probably, for foals to come in plowing time, but this is not a very serious difficulty. After plowing time there is usually a season of rest for the working stock on farms, and the grass is at this season growing finely, and the mares have a good opportunity to suckle their foals. Before severe work is again required the foals are strong and hearty, and have a start that will without mismanagement carry them well through the year. There is no reason why farmers should not take advantage of the high prices that good foals will command next year by breeding their work mares to some of the high-class stallions with which the country now abounds. Good sized horses by good trotting sires make excellent farm animals and good "all purpose horses,---Kentucky Stock Farm.

The vote was unanimous for sustaining the ward and its ap-pointed officers. Brother Lyman then ntered upon a discourse that was listended to with marked attention. CEDAR CLIFF. Disastrons Fire Caused by Careless Burning of Brush. Special Correspondence. Cedar Cliff, Sanpete Co., July 2 .- The crops are all burning up here on ac-

DISASTROUS FIRE

Saturday about two o'clock young Wm, H. Rowbury who was desirous to see the sage brush burned off from his father's land started a fire. The wind was blowing very hard and the fire spread at a rapid rate and in less than an hour the fire had traveled a distance of about a mile, cleaning the brush os tivation should be more frequent, usually as often as once in ten days. After the soll becomes quite dry, as happens in periods of droth, then the cultivation may not be necessary oftener than once in two weeks, but judgment should be exercised in this, as in all other matters. If the deeper soli just below the mulch is still quite damp, the tendency is for the moisture to creep up into the mulch and reconvert it into comparatively firm soil, and leave the mulch too shallow; when the mulch comes to be much less than two inches deep, that is, when the soil be-comes damp at a distance of two inches below the surface, there wil usually be enough loss of moisture through the upper mulch to make it worth while to cultivate again, but if the dry soil has a depth of two to three inches, there is little to be gained in stirring the soil if the muich is already light and loose,

Of course, whenever a rain comes during the season of cultivation, which wets through the whole mulch, it is very important to cultivate as soon after such rains as possible, because if this is not done the wet mulch will hasten the capillary rise of water from deep in the ground, and bring about a loss of not only the rain which has fallen, but a considerable portion of the deeper moisture. Late in the seagon, especially with corn and potatoes, it is questionable whether cultivation will not do more harm than good, even though the mulch has become fairly firm. It is the habit of most crops on which intertillage is practiced to throw up in July roots very close to the surface, evidently for the purpose of tak's ing advantage of the plant food which capillary and rapid evaporation tends to concentrate at the surface, and also to take advantage of the lighter rains, which after the soil becomes dry seldom penetrate deeper than two or three inches. It will be readily understood that after the soil has become occupied close to the surface with these fine feeders, cultivation at such a time would not only hasten the loss of water that . is only located in the surface two or three inches, but it would destroy the roots which are there to utilize that water as soon as it falls, and with it to take up the nitrates and other soluble plant foods which have been concentrated near the surface, and which the rains have dissolved. It will be seen from this statement that the correspondent's judgment as to the slight gain to be secured from frequent cultivation after the mulch is thoroughly dry is essentially in accord with sound principles,

BREEDING WORK MARES.

On most farms in this country a number of mares are used for the ordinary work on the farm, some for the plow and wagon, some under the saddle, and many for light work on the road. It was formerly the custom among farm-ers to breed these, and in addition to their labor they also yielded their owners a return in the way of producing foals. It is a mistake to suppose that a mare cannot do ordinary labor and Exciting Experiences at the same time be advantageously bred. Formerly it was the custom to breed working mares, and they were thus producers in a double sense, earnng their living by the labor they per IN OUR formed and supplying horses for the market. On the large farms of the ountry, where horses are raised for War with Spain unning and trotting purposes, th brood mares generally live a life of ease and luxury. We think it a mistake to minn uppose that brood mares are the bet and the Filipinos for being exempt from ordinary abor. It may be entirely proper to dive them a little needed rest at foal-ng time and during the first few weeks of the life of the foal. But moderate work the year around is rather bene-icial than injurious. It gives them trength and keeps them in good health. of course very severe work or very eavy pulling or sudden straining should not be required of them while CIVEN AWAY FOR 25 CTS. arrying foals, and the work given them should be regular and uniform rather than spasmodic and violent,
