Severely Bruised.

Yesterday, Lorenzo Eddington, a young man residing in the Seventh Ward, met with an accident that causes him a great deal of pain, and from present indications will lay him up for some time. He was in a large plum tree gathering fruit, when a limb broke and he was preciptated a distance of 12 or 15 feet, alighting on the hardened ground. The full force of the blow came on the left hip, which is severely injured, though not broken, by the fall.

Two "ITEMS OF INTEREST."-There is an able romancer out west some where who is keeping the east supplied with excellent "items of interest." Here are a couple of them: "L'ghtning played a queer caper on a ranch near Buffalo, W. The extracted ends were neatly tured into corkscrews and nickel plated." Jim Blevins, living near White Creek, Tex, killed a very large chicken snake a few dats ago and noticing the snake's body was unusually large and ill shaped made an incision and found it to contain a large cow horn and in the horn prairie rat. It is supposed that the snake chased the rat into the horn, and to secure the rat swallowed the horn." -New York Sun.
