Address of Counsel in the Cronin Murder Case.

Criticaco, Dec. 3s.—In the Cronin trial today W. J. Hines, of the prosecution, addressed the jury. He is significant to show the line of defense was organized before the murder was osmitted. Then followed a capina of Sallivan and Coupthin.

Hines proceeded to show the inconsistencies in the allic ovidence, and, after reviewing the matter at beingh, shil, all this salte, it made in difference whether Colightin or O'Sallivan was ever at the Carison of Cottage, whether folightin or co-Sallivan was ever at the Carison of Cottage, whether either of them ever strack a block at Cronin. The was given by his britter policemen, Hyrice steal if was strange they should have kept the knowledge, to themselves till they caite upon the was goined as the consistency of the consistency of the world cores forward and belief the tentum of the world corns forward and belief the transport of the consistency of the constitution of the consistency of the constitution of the conspitacy.

Conglish of conglish of the conspitacy, but to have taken no active part in the tragedy. Hyros discussed the woold corne forward and belief the truth and vindicate Coughlio. In the conspitacy, the constitution of the Carison collage, he said to the conspitacy of the conspitac one of them, according to Dan Coughlins," Hynes insisted that the proof showed the appointment of a secret committee, and the surposmings, he said, show it was intended for an illegal purpess. He proceeded to argue that the fact of conspiracy and murder showed the truth of Cropin's charges against the "triangle."
