seys Attack on Tax Roll Publication Measure Was Victous and Cowardly -Bamberger Says It's a Bad One.

It will become the fortune of the senate late this afternoon to witness the second round in a contest between Senalors Lewis and Bamberger over the former's bill No. 119, providing for the publication of tax assessment rolls. Senator Bamberger has appointed himself as axman to cleave the said meas. ute's head, from its body, and Senator Lewis is fighting for his bill, with i much of the desperation and fierceness that a mother fights for the life of her ofspring. In the parlance of the street these two senators have been "laying for" cach other. The other day Senator Lewis styled Senator . Bamberger's change of front on the osteopath bill as "acrobatic gyrations." The blood mounted to Eamberger's face, but he didn't say anything. But ever since then every measure of Lewis' that has come up for final consideration has encountered a well-developed, mature eposition, something that appeared to have been already worked out. Both men are ambitious, both men are employers and overseers of men, both have large interests, and the fire of have large intrie has raged in their commercial battle has raged in their blood for a long time, and now that a chance is given them to divert their energies from their business for a reason and employ them in fighting for personal supremacy, they quite enjoy

Senator Lewis had just returned Senator Lewis had Just returned from the house, where he had been sit-ins in conference on a house bill, when he at once began the light. "There was a rickus and cowardly attack made up-on my bill. No. 119." said he, "during my absence on comittee work. I think i was hardly courteous for the senate momentance such an attack and disto countenance such an attack and dis-pose of my bill by referring it to a committee while I was not present." This speech smote upon the conscience of the senators with such telling effect that the bill was brought back from the committee and made the speand the committee and made the spe-cal order for 4 o'clock this afternoon. As dearly as Senator Bamberger laws a good lively tilt he never fights marky for the fight's sake. And the ranns he had for trying to do Sena-ter Lewis' bill to its death are substantially as follows:

"I understand," said he, "that they tave the tax rolls published in Chicas. Well, Chicagoans are a peculiar hepe and they need peculiar laws, but we don't need any such law here. FUR IMINIY YEAKS Congressman Meekison Suffered With Catarrh-Read His Endorsement of Pe-ru-na.

CONGRESSMAN MEEKISON, OF OHIO.

Hon. David Meekison is well known, not only in his own State but throughout America. He began his political career by serving four consecutive terms as Mayor of the town in which he lives, during which time he became widely known as the founder of the Meekison Bank of Napoleon, Ohio. He was elected to the Fifty-fifth Congress by a very large majority, and is the acknowledged leader of his party in his section of the State.

Only one flaw marred the otherwise complete success of this rising statesman. Catarrh with its insidious approach and tenacious grasp, was his only unconquered foe. For thirty years he waged unsuccessful warfare against this personal enemy. Atlast Peruna came to the rescue, and he dictated the following letter to Dr. Hartman as the result:

"I have used several bottles of Peruna and I feel greatly benefited thereby from my catarrh of the head. I feel encouraged to believe that if I use it a short time longer I will be fully able to eradicate the disease of thirty years' standing."-David Meekison, ex-Member of Congress.
