SOCIAL CHAT

Flags, hatchets, cherry trees, Revolutionary hats and a host of other patriotic emblems have been the insignia of the week, socially as well as in other ways, every function breathing the spirit of honor to the man who stands as the nation's figurehead of liberty. The two largest affairs of the week were the University club banquet, a hundred being present and the rooms being ablaze with the national and colonial colors and the first annual celebration of the Liberty Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, at the Alta club, which also, as a matter of course, made all details conform to the one idea. Besides these have been many others, the week having been an exceptionally busy one.

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Riser announce the engagement of their daughter Pearl to Mr. Blair Richardson, the wedding to take place in April.

Handsome cards of invitation have been issued to a sophomore assembly to be given by the class of '05 in the Museum building of the U. of U. on March 2, the patroness being Mrs. J. T. Kingsbury, Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Elough, Prof. and Mrs. Byron Cummings, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Merrill, Dr. and Mrs. B. G. Owens, Prof. and Mrs. F. W. Reynolds, Prof. George A. Eaton.

Miss Myrtle Kelly was hostess at a delightful card party on Thursday in honor of her guest, Mrs. Edward Nelson, the decorations being carried out in the day's colors, red, white and blue flowers being used with the colonial yellow, and carried out in carnations and daffodils. The score cards were hatchets and colonial hats and all details were appropriately suggestive. The hostess was assisted by Misses Stella and Evelyn Kelly, and about 75 guests were present.

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Howard gave a theater party on Thursday night in honor of Miss Demitt, followed by a supper at the Alta club, about eight guests being present.

Flags and hatchets were the tallies and other patriotic emblems used in decorations at the home of Mrs. E. A. Wall on Thursday, who entertained her card club, assisted by the Misses Wall.

Miss Clara Colbourne entertained at a dinner yesterday, her decorations all being in line with the patriotic idea. Six guests were present.

Isabel Pitts was guest of honor at an informal card party on Thursday night given by Mrs. Alice Sprague at the Emery Holmes, the rooms being prettily decorated in the day's colors and a delightful time being spent.

Mrs. J. M. Bidwell was one of Thursday's hostesses, the details being in honor of Mrs. W. G. Sharp and Mrs. T. B. Davis, and the details artistically carried out in the national emblems.

Mrs. Sharp and Mrs. Davis were guests of honor also at an evening party on Thursday given by Miss Blanche Kimball, who paid honor to the nation's hero in decorations and all possible details.

Miss Mattie Kimball was hostess at a Washington's luncheon, the details being effectively carried out.

Yesterday Miss Helen Buckingham entertained at a pretty luncheon in honor of her guest, Miss Blanche Waterman.

Mrs. William Plagg was one of yesterday's hostesses, her function being a luncheon at the Kenyon in honor of Mrs. Jack Joyce of California.

Today Miss Edith Dean Riddle entertained in honor of Miss Edith McKenzie.

The bachelor hop at Port Douglas last night was a truly delightful affair, and many people from the city were present to participate in its enjoyment. The hop was under the management of the bachelor officers, who were assisted in receiving by Colonel and Mrs. B. C. Lockwood, Major and Mrs. Allen M. Smith and Captain and Mrs. S. D. Juriga.

Tonight Mrs. William Kiser and Mrs. Russell Schuller gave a large reception and dancing party at the Ladies' Little gym club.

The Canadian club gave an enjoyable affair at the Ladies' Literary club last night, the hall being prettily decorated, refreshments served, and a large number present to participate.

Mrs. Elmer Jones was hostess yesterday at a delightful buffet luncheon.

Miss Edith Shearman entertained yesterday informally at a bridge tea.

A pretty affair of yesterday was the luncheon given at the Alta club by Mrs. Robert Harkness, Mrs. W. G. Sharp and Mrs. T. B. Davis, the decorations being most artistic and a large number enjoying the affair.

Mrs. W. E. Pile entertained at a matinee party on Thursday in honor of Miss Eugenia Miller.

Miss Josephine Wells was hostess at a party luncheon yesterday at her home in honor of Miss Florence Cunningham whose wedding takes place in the near future.

Every appropriate patriotic emblem was used in the details of the bridge party given by Mr. and Mrs. Justus Juncos on Wednesday night and refreshments served, the guests being Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Fabian, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Cary, Mr. and Mrs. James Jennings, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Pomeroy, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Haller, Mr. and Mrs. David H. Gray, Mrs. Chapman of New York, Miss Blanche Kimball, Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Hudson Lewis, Madame Phontz, Dr. and Mrs. Phontz, Miss Edith Shearman, Mr. and Mrs. Simmons, Judge and Mrs. W. W. Hall, Harry Sherman, Mr. Anderson of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Christman gave an informal card party on Wednesday night in honor of Mrs. Waterman of Omaha, being assisted by Mrs. C. Christman, Mrs. Ben. Rich and Mrs. Sandra Mayer. The guests were chiefly members of Mrs. Christman's Sewing club and their escorts.

Miss Minnie Sallier entertained informally on Wednesday.

Mrs. W. C. McCormick was one of Wednesday's hostesses, her function being a luncheon given in honor of Miss Demitt.

One of the pleasant affairs of the week was the bridge tea given by Mrs. LeMay and Mrs. Sturgis, who leave the post in a short time. The rooms were bright with yellow daffodils and pink and white carnations, and the prizes were won by Mrs. A. C. Ewing, Mrs. Kriebel and Mrs. Cleveland. The hostess was assisted by a number of intimate friends.

Mrs. J. C. Lynch has issued invitations for a card party to be given early next week.

Mrs. F. B. Cook will entertain at cards on Monday evening in honor of her sister, Miss Florence Cunningham, and William Tozier, whose marriage will take place next Wednesday at high noon.

Mrs. Edwin Kimball entertained on Wednesday in honor of Miss Rose Hartwell, her function being a luncheon, and all details being done in the patriotic design. The centerpiece was a small cherry tree with hatchets laid at its root; clusters of cherries hung from the branches, and flags and other emblems adorned the hand-painted place cards decorated by Miss Hartwell. Arrived Miss Mary Kimball gave some delightful vocal solos, accompanied by Miss Jennie Sands. Those invited were Mrs. J. E. Oglesby, Mrs. C. L. Reed, Mrs. Allen Martin, Mrs. J. F. Grant, Mrs. Charles McMahon, Mrs. Hugh Park, Mrs. William H. Hintz, Mrs. Lathrop, Mrs. J. M. Dart, Mrs. N. C. Hicks, Mrs. Samuel Ford, Mrs. Herriman, Miss Ethel Paul, Miss Decker, Miss Mary Kimball, Miss Harriet Dunster.

SOCIETY COUPLES TO TEMPT FATE IN BALOON CARS

The successful ascension of Charles Levee at West Point, N. Y., on Feb. 11 has given the sport of ballooning such an impetus that within the next fortnight under the auspices of the Aero Club of America, at least two couples high in New York society plan making ascensions.

They are Mr. and Mrs. Cortland F. Bishop and Mr. and Mrs. Newbold Edgar. After witnessing Levee's flight they said that, weather permitting, they would certainly make ascents from Tuxedo before the arrival of spring.

Mr. Levee will engineer the balloon for one of these couples. Mr. and Mrs. Julian Thomas may also make an ascent, but the ballooning craze has struck so suddenly that some difficulty may be found in getting balloons of sufficient size. Dr. Thomas, recently purchased a small balloon, but it is not believed that it is of sufficient size to comfortably carry more than one.

Mr. Levee is now contemplating a balloon trip across the great lakes, but he says he will not attempt that until summer, because of the dangers attending ascension in cold weather, especially over water.

Three places are urging that the Aero club build its balloon park there—West Point, Tuxedo, N. Y., and Pittsfield, Mass.

Whatever some of the members of the club may decide Mr. and Mrs. Bishop will without doubt, make several ascensions at Pittsfield this summer.

Washington celebration last night at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. King.

Miss Blanche Kimball entertained informally at luncheon on Tuesday in honor of three recent brides—Mrs. G. J. Gibson, Mrs. Lewis McCormick and Mrs. Cleveland. Pink and green were the colors in the decorations, and covers were laid for 11 guests.

Miss McGrath entertained informally on Tuesday in honor of Miss Demitt, about 15 guests being present.

One of the largest afternoon affairs of the week was the bridge tea given by Mrs. R. O. Cary and Miss Carolyn Holmes on Tuesday, about 60 guests being present, and the rooms being artistically decorated with spring flowers.

On Tuesday Miss Libbie H. Rich of Montpelier, Ida., and Mr. C. D. Anderson of Cokeville, Wyo., were married in this city, the ceremony being performed at the home of the bride's uncle, Bishop O. P. Butler, who officiated in the marriage service. Later Mr. and Mrs. Anderson left for a trip to Los Angeles.

Mrs. F. B. Cook has returned from the coast, where she has spent several weeks.

Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Hosmer left this week for Los Angeles, where they expect to spend several weeks.

Miss Lillian Burnham is in the city for a few days' visit with friends.

THE LARGER OUTSIDE CITIES

OGDEN.

Ogden, Utah, Feb. 24.—The residence of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Ralston, 408 Twenty-sixth street, was the scene Monday evening of a most enjoyable party, when their daughter, Miss Hulda Dalton, was married to James Q. Davis. It was one of the leading social events of the season, participated in by about 75 guests. At the appointed hour the bride and groom entered the elegantly decorated parlor, where Bishop Robert McQuarrie pronounced the short ceremony which united in bonds of wedlock the two happy young people. All present showered upon them many congratulations of a long and happy life. A sumptuous wedding regast was served in the dining room. The evening passed quickly away in various kinds of amusements. The guests were delighted with vocal and instrumental music furnished by Mrs. Mary Farley, Miss Myrtle Balingier, Earl West and others. The entire home was profusely decorated with carnations, roses, smilax and evergreens. The bride is one of Ogden's most prepossessing young ladies and a leader in society. The groom is a highly respected young business man of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Davis left Ogden Tuesday morning for California, where they will spend a few weeks' vacation.

One of the most delightful dancing parties of the week was the Colonial ball given Thursday evening at the Fifth ward amusement hall, which was participated in by a very large crowd. George Washington was represented by Q. Cannon and Miss Genevieve Douglas was attired as Martha Washington.

The Primary association of the ward gave a similar party during the afternoon the honored president and his wife being impersonated by Glen Corey and Martha Fuglie. The hall was prettily decorated with the occasion with the national colors.

A large number of friends of Mrs. Nettie Peckles, Monday evening, called at her home living in the general vicinity of the city, where they passed pleasantly away at cards, music and games. A dainty lunch was served by the ladies.

In the Salt Lake Temple, Wednesday afternoon Miss Lillian Anderson and Mr. John Shurtliff were made man and wife. Both of the contracting parties are very popular in Ogden. The bride is a young lady of charming personality and talent. She is the daughter of Mrs. Carl Anderson and was employed as artistic card writer at Wright & Sons store for several years. Her former address was in the store presented here with a handsome cut glass bowl. The groom is a capable and highly respected young business man of Ogden and a son of President L. W. Shurtliff of the city. Mr. and Mrs. Shurtliff left Salt Lake Wednesday evening over the San Pedro route for a wedding tour through California. They expect to return to Ogden in about two weeks and will make their future home on Twenty-fourth street, between Monroe and Quincy avenues.

The Knights of Columbia held a social Monday evening at the city hall, which was enjoyed by a large crowd, who indulged in dancing, cards and music. Light refreshments were served.

Albert Sooveroff returned home this week from an extended eastern trip.

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Bichsel entertained the ladies of the First Presbyterian church at a Washington tea party. There were a large number of guests present. The national colors were artistically arranged in the parlors.

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Scoville returned home this week from a month's wedding tour of the coast. They have taken up their abode in a pretty new home, located at 2261 Jefferson avenue, where they will be pleased to receive their many friends after March 1.

A ward reunion and banquet was given Tuesday evening at the First ward clubhouse, which was attended by nearly 400 members of the ward and the stake presidency. The ward church has been in debt for a number of years and in celebration of the clearing of the indebtedness the reunion was arranged, a very good program, consisting of songs, recitations and speeches was rendered, and Bishop D. H. Ensign was presented with a fine, rocking chair as a token of esteem and love from the members of the ward and in appreciation of his faithful services as bishop. The presentation was made by W. O. Ridges. Address of welcome was made by Counselor N. A. Turner, followed by remarks by Bishop Ensign, Presidents N. C. Flygare and C. F. Middleton, who offered the dedicatory prayer. A sumptuous banquet was served by the ladies of the ward. The following evening the young people of the ward were given a complimentary dance and supper in the ward hall. The affair was a grand success in every respect and was closed by all present on both evenings.

Mrs. Joseph Langesdorf entertained a large number of her lady friends Thursday afternoon in honor of Washington's birthday. Cards were played, and a dainty lunch was served. The home was prettily decorated with the stars and stripes.

A most creditable musicals was given Monday evening at the Ogden tabernacle before a crowded house by the Weber Stake Conservatory of Music. The program was excellent and heartily received. The tabernacle choir sang two choruses, and the artists who took part on the program were—John J. McCallan, Miss Frances Joyce, Miss Lou E. Mitchell, Miss Margaret Armstrong, Miss Myrtle Balingier, Mrs. A. R. C. Smith, Walter Poulton, W. V. Casady. These present were profuse in their praise of the fine vocal and instrumental work being accomplished at the conservatory.

A number of the young people of the Fourth ward gave a very creditable entertainment Thursday evening at the age of the entitled "Fires in the Web." The attendance was very good.

Leon M. Hyslop visited in Ogden this week with his father, Alex. Hyslop.

William McCarthy and his sister Beasie returned home this week from a few weeks' visit with relatives and friends on the coast.

"Musical Fitts and Misses," was the title of a very interesting and enjoyable lecture given last evening by Spillman Riege before a large audience at the Ogden tabernacle.

E. H. HARRIMAN'S DAUGHTER RIDES IN JINRIKISHA TO BALLROOM.

New York society was treated one night last week to a novel and charming conceit which won the unstinted praise and plaudits of those whose privilege it was to participate in the function which served as an opportunity for its introduction. The occasion was a Domino dance given by Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Harriman at the Hotel St. Regis, New York. The dance was in honor of the Misses Mary and Cornelia Harriman and fully 400 guests gathered in the hotel's big ballroom.

All of the guests came in satin dominoes of varied bright colors. Before going into supper the maskers removed their disguises.

Miss Mary Harriman wore a Japanese robe, heavy with embroidery. It is one of the costliest garments ever brought from Japan, and every color in the solar spectrum is used in the marvelous threadwork. Miss Harriman's hair was dressed "a la Japonaise."

During one of the cotillon figures Miss Harriman entered the ballroom in a lacquered jinrikisha hung with wistaria. Surrounded by her guests, Miss Harriman tossed natural flowers about the room.

The Knights of Pythias and a number of invited guests celebrated the forty-third anniversary of the order Wednesday evening in castle hall, Knights block. An interesting program of cards, games, speeches and music was rendered, and a sumptuous banquet enjoyed. Among the out
