

POLITICIANS ARE STILL FIGURING.
Republicans and Democrats Alike, Predict a Sweeping Victory Next Tuesday.

BOTH WILL CARRY THE STATE.
 County Chairmen Are Also Confident That the Result Will be Highly Satisfactory.

The political mathematicians are still figuring. In some cases a final balance has been struck and it has been found that the figures are favorably on the right side. In other words, both parties are satisfied, for both, according to their own reckoning, are going to win. The Republican managers are just as sanguine as can be that victory is theirs, while the Democrats are no less sanguine that the returns will be highly favorable to them. Thus there is no cause for complaint on either side as all have every reason to rejoice over the outlook.

Chairman Spry of the Republican state committee is highly satisfied with the prospects for victory. While he is not prepared to give figures, he says the state ticket will be elected without a doubt, the claims of the Democrats to the contrary notwithstanding. This means the election of the Republican presidential electors as well as the sweeping victory for Republicanism throughout the state.

Here is Chairman Bamberger's view of the outlook in this state: "There are good prospects for carrying Utah for Parker and Davis. The Democratic ticket will be elected, as also the Democratic congressman and Legislature, which will insure the election of a Democratic United States senator."

The sentiment is trending day by day toward the Democratic ticket, and the breach of the Republican party is widening. The people are becoming tired of internal dissensions and are desirous of having peace and harmony in the state, which they believe can only be secured by the election of the Democratic ticket.

Chairman J. V. Eldredge, Jr., of the Republican county committee, was too busy with registration to make a statement, but with a knowing nod of the head he said he would have something to say later on. He goes without saying that his estimate of the result will be a complete reversal of the figures given by Chairman Thomas.

Of the outlook in Idaho, Chairman Jackson of the Democratic state committee has this to say: "The outlook for Democratic success in Idaho is good. The chief reason lies in the educational character of the pending campaign on polygamy, and church domination in politics in Idaho. The national plank against polygamy was followed by a like declaration in the state platform and all the state speakers have been handling the subject vigorously."

"Recent legislation in Idaho, among other things, appropriated a large bonus to the Mormon church sugar factory at the behest of the church. Voters rely on Parker and the Democratic party to enact a restrictive law, nationally and locally. The Republican party is regarded as catering to the Mormon vote for secular legislation, and the masses resent it."

"Our organization is complete, and if our campaign closes with the vigor of the past two weeks Parker and the Democratic state ticket will carry Idaho."

 best, but he made a good speech and had his audience with him from the first.

Judge Powers having been here and made a speech last week, it became necessary for Mr. Frick to notice some of the statements which he had made. He spoke of the bank deposits now and eight years ago and endeavored to explain the reason for the low price of cattle and the high price of sugar. He said "Teddy" was a trust breaker and asked when the Democrats had broken up a trust.

The Judge spoke at length of rural delivery, agriculture and horticulture, and said that the Republican party was responsible for the losses derived by the farmer and gardeners from these reforms. He paid a high tribute to Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, and discussed briefly other issues of the campaign.

At the close of the judge's remarks some one shouted: "What about the American party?" Mr. Frick replied: "There is no American party except the Republican party. In 1866 a party was born, but it died in its infancy as it deserved to do, and as this one will also do," said he, "I never consent to talk about it. It is like firing a bullet shot at a battle ship. It is too small to refer to."

In obedience to a call from County Chairman Jas. Bolitho, the Republican central committee met here yesterday to consider the case of G. T. Bean, who is candidate for county attorney on the Republican ticket, and who is charged with attempted bribery connected with the notorious Albert McBride case.

Mr. Frick, who was formerly a trading salesman for F. M. M. of Salt Lake and was arrested last spring on a warrant charging him with criminal intimacy with Clara Lewis of this city, a girl under 18 years of age. The case should have been tried in September, but a postponement was obtained and in the mean time $200 was forwarded to Mr. Bean as a means of compromise. The matter fell through and Bean is exposed and now he is asked to resign as a candidate.

At the meeting yesterday his party managers insisted that he resign and make room for another man. Mr. Bean refused to do so and says he will go it alone and take his chances on being elected. The committee has withdrawn its support and has signified its willingness to support Hon. J. J. Stewart, who is a candidate on the Democratic ticket.

HEYBURN'S DENIAL.
Ex-Senator Repudiates Charge of Church Influence in Idaho.

Blackfoot, Ida., Oct. 31.—Politics in Brigham county has not created much excitement up to the present, but the people, while they have attended the rallies of their respective parties, have gone on in the even tenor of their way and street discussions are few and far between.

Ex-Senator W. E. Heyburn, Republican, was the speaker at the courthouse at Blackfoot tonight, and he was greeted with a large and attentive audience. He discussed national and local issues in a very able manner, and referred to the deceptive methods and tactics employed by Senator Dubois for the purpose of misleading the people, and he proved that the accusations which had been made against him personally, accusing him of having been dominated by Church influence, by entering into agreement with Church leaders, were false and malicious.

He said that the "Mormon" in Idaho, so far as he knew, had obeyed the manifesto, and that there is no cause or provocation for the onslaught that is being made upon them by Senator Dubois.

Senator Heyburn's speech was a masterly effort and he was frequently interrupted by outbursts of applause, which showed that the people heartily endorsed his remarks.

At the close of the meeting many of the prominent citizens came up to shake hands with him and congratulated him on his able address, his successful disposal of the charges that Church influence had been used and his manly defense of the "Mormon" people in Idaho.

MARRIED AN IRISHMAN.
 The cut is from a photograph of a Maori princess who is the wife of an Irishman, Mr. C. P. Donnelly, and lives at Hawkes Bay, New Zealand. Mrs. Donnelly is the daughter of the famous New Zealand chief, Karama and was a great beauty. Her father, who was a man of much influence among his people, fought on the British side during the Maori war. At the close of that struggle he was permitted to hold his landed property in the island and was awarded many privileges on account of his loyalty. Mrs. Donnelly is a woman of strong individuality and superior education and is a marked favorite both among the colonists and her own race. She has been active in establishing schools for the education and training of Maori youth of both sexes, and it is due to her influence that better social conditions prevail among her people.

HARD TO REMEMBER.
 An Irishman and a colored man had a grivance, and agreed to submit it to arbitration. They further agreed that when one of them was asked a question, he was to answer "Hurry up, and the other must hurry up." In a heated spot they went at it hot and heavy. After half an hour the colored man gave up and whispered from the bottom of the mix-up: "Hurry up!"

WILD ANIMALS ABOUND IN UTAH.
 John Ward Files Claim With State Auditor Tingey for the Seat Sum of $1,300.

REPRESENTS 30 DAYS' KILLING.
 During That Time He Landed 17 Bears, 30 Mountain Lions and 413 Coyotes.

If anyone imagines that Utah is a peaceable vale plain of residence, and that the days of grizzly bears and mountain lions have departed from the path of her civilization let them look at this kill, which is the work of one man for the month of October, and which represents a claim filed with Auditor Tingey for $1,300 in bounties, as the result of 30 days' hunting and trapping.

Seventeen bears. Three lynx. Thirty mountain lions. Forty-eight wolves. Fifty-four wild cats. Four hundred and forty-three coyotes.

The claim is that of John Ward, and is substantiated by the certificate of a county clerk that Ward presented before him the ears and tails connected of all of these wild animals, and had them properly punched to prevent their use a second time. With a large number of other claims it now rests in the files of the auditor awaiting action by the Legislature, for the appropriation of $10,000 made to cover the entire year of 1904, lasted just 20 days of the first month of the year. While the money lasted, Utah's hunters earned just $500 a day. If the claims now coming in should keep up at the January rate it would take $10,000 yearly for the state to keep faith with the promises of the law. However, Auditor Tingey doesn't expect the average for the year to amount to more than an excess of $20,000 over the $10,000 appropriated. He places $10,000 as a minimum of excess.

The price offered for wild animals is, for wolves, $5; for mountain lions, $5; for bears, $10; for wild cats, $1; for lynx, $1; and for coyotes, $1.50. Evidently these bounties are large enough to give a stratum to a number of men for bounty claims, which in large amounts from several hunters who seem to have entered the business as a profession. Besides John Ward, whose $1,300 claim for October is the largest single claim presented this year, Mr. Gorman and John Kasmussen have sent in claims for heavy kills.

The law was insisted upon by legislators from the outlying districts, in the interests of ranchers whose places were in danger of being raided by wild animals. The $5,000 which it will cost to carry out the law this year, equals the entire salary list of the Governor's appointees in state offices, and makes the business of killing wild animals among the most expensive enterprises in which the state is engaged.

THE STANDING STONES OF CARNAC.
 The alignments or standing stones of Carnac, Brittany, have long been a mystery to archaeologists. They are in three groups, separated by short intervening spaces. These stones, some of which are sixteen feet in height, weigh many tons, are about 500 in number and are arranged in eleven parallel lines, with about ten feet between each stone. These peculiar monoliths of unshaped granite similar to that found elsewhere in the vicinity. Excavations beneath some of them have yielded fragments of pottery, but no human bones. Some persons believe these stones to be the remains of a great temple, others that they commemorate a battle.
