MORE JEWS THAN CATHOLICS.

There are more Jews than Catholics in Sweden. The last census shows over 3,000, generally men of business. There is nothing in Sweden to attract the poorer classes of Jews from Russia, Poland, Hungary and other countries from which they emigrate in large numbers to the United States, but the business opportunities are tempting to capitalists, and some of the largest enterprises in the kingdom are now owned or managed by Jews. The Jews claim King Oscar as a mem. ber of their race, which accounts for the friendly interest he has frequently shown in their affairs. Before his reign there was an intense religious prejudice In Sweden, but his favor has gained them prestige and has been largely influential in moderating the hostility of the clergy. It is still a matter of dispute, but Hebrew authorities claim, that Bernadotte Napoleon's field marshal, who founded the present dynasty of Sweden, was of Jewish ancestry, Ac cording to his blography the father Bernadotte was the mayor of a little village near Pau, France, and his home is pointed out to tourists.
