

and Mrs. Lafe Farley, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Jed Jones, Bishop Barnard White and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Singleton, Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Folman, Mr. and Mrs. Earnest G. Rich, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Foster, Misses Ida Schanzenbach, Charles Folman, Gorle Folman, Louis Greenwell, Esther Greenwell, Florence Dix, Edith Stoker, and Messrs. Tom Clark, Wm. Watson, Lon Campbell, C. E. Palmer, Edgar Stoker, Thomas Stoker, Walter Greenwell and James Greenwell.

The Women's Christian Temperance union met Wednesday afternoon at the home of their former president, Mrs. Francis G. Smith, No. 223. Adams Avenue, and spent a very pleasant and entertaining time. The devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. MacMillan who endorsed the Prohibition ticket which has been placed before the people for election, and spoke interestingly upon the principles of prohibition.

Prof. Stetson Coop, the well known musician of Utah, left Ogden for Berlin, Germany, Sunday last. He expects to be absent from one to two years studying under some of the world celebrated masters in his chosen profession. During the professor's absence his school of music will be in charge of Miss Arville Clark, of Provo, the State's noted contralto singer. Miss Clark will be in Ogden every Wednesday and will teach vocal and instrumental music.

Wednesday evening the A. O. U. W. Hall was the scene of a very enjoyable and sociable card party given by the ladies of the Degree of Honor Lodge. There was a large attendance of ladies and gentlemen. The first prize—an elegant high five—was won by Mrs. Judge Bagley; second prizes were played for in Salt Lake temple, they were won by Mrs. A. C. Wilson and Mr. J. F. Radcliffe, of Chicago. After cards the entire gathering went into the beautiful dining hall joining the card room, which presented a scene of artistic decorations of autumn leaves and flowers, and prettily decorated table loaded with the bounties of life, of which all participants pronounced the meal past very delicious and the evening evening much pleasure. The Degree of Honor will give these card parties every third Wednesday of each month, to which the public in general is invited.

Mr. Maurice Flowers, the popular telegraph operator, was very enjoyably surprised Thursday evening by a party of his friends calling him up to see at his home on the corner of Madison Avenue and Twenty-seventh street. The evening was most enjoyable spent in social games, vocal and instrumental music. The Warner Guitar and Mandolin club furnished some very charming entertainment with sweet strains of music. An elaborate supper was served in the dining room. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Clark, Mrs. M. and Mrs. N. R. Ogden, Miss Clara Warner, Florence Burd, Lillias Lockhead, Anna Anderson, Florence Carsten, Zina Larkin, Grace Shore, Alice Flower, and May Lindsay, Messrs. Frank Warner, John Reeve, Heber Coleman, James Lockhead, Harry Turner, Gerald Childs and Maurice Flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Dr. S. L. Brick returned Wednesday from an extended pleasure trip to many eastern cities of interest.

A very pleasurable ball was given in the Second Ward Amusement hall Thursday.

Christensen's dancing academy was the scene of a very delightful ball Wednesday evening, which was largely attended.

Mrs. Kuhn entertained a few of her many friends Thursday evening.

PROVO SOCIAL NEWS.

Mrs. Walter R. Pike and Mrs. Nellie Berry entertained at a delightful afternoon tea Saturday at the home of Mrs. Pike on J street. The time was spent with fancy word conversation and music. Mrs. John Swanson rendered a beautiful selection, while Mrs. R. E. Hayes, piano solo, and Miss Miriam Nelkey recited. Dainty refreshments were served, after which the ladies were required to guess the number of pieces of candy in a pint jar. Mrs. Phil Speckart was the successful guesser.

The guests were Mrs. W. N. Dusenberry, Mrs. Phil Speckart, Mrs. J. E. Yates, Mrs. D. J. Williams, Mrs. David John, Jr., Mrs. Robert Seal and Miss Seal, Mrs. Celesta Strong, Mrs. Cole, Mrs. James Moyle, Mrs. W. H. Hale, Mrs. W. H. King, Mrs. W. D. Houtz, Mrs. L. V. Johnson, Mrs. Joshua Beck, Mrs. Will Roberts, Mrs. Thomas John, Mrs. J. R. Twelves, Mrs. R. E. Knowlton, Mrs. Jessie N. Smith, Mrs. H. S. Allen, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Bassett, Mrs. Reed Smoot, Mrs. Diana Farrar, Mrs. J. E. Farmer, Mrs. Sam Schwab, Miss Miriam Nelkey, Mrs. Leon Buchanan, Miss Beulah Buchanan, Miss Adele Pike, Miss Grace Berry, Miss Hale Pike, Mrs. Peter Stubbs, Mrs. John Swanson, Mrs. E. E. Corfman, Mrs. L. H. Hockom, Mrs. R. A. Barney, Mrs. L. A. Taff, Mrs. S. A. King, Miss Maggie Stewart.

Mrs. Lizzie H. Cory came down from Coeur to spend Saturday and Sunday stay in the city.

Another visiting club woman who will contribute her quota to the value of the program is Mrs. Thayer of Glenwood Springs. Mrs. Thayer is the author of Wild Flowers of Colorado, and is a scholarly, dignified woman. She will address the Federation Friday afternoon on Art in the Public Schools.

DAINTY FLANNEL WAIST.

As a handmaid of Progress in home and nation—
Let us send the pledge down the great club army's line!

No legion of soldiers ablaze with the splendor—

Of panoplied battle in bravest array—
More valiant could fight for the cause that render

Truth, Justice and Knowledge to dominant sway!

Our efforts are peaceful, but crowned with a dower

Whose wealth may build kingdoms with bound in the sky,

Our newly won freedom of thought is our power—

In the realm of all action our victories
He!

Refrain: Let us sing an "All Hail!" to our young federation! etc.

Let us strive for that day when the woof we are weaving

In the light of Time's stately vision unfurled,

May your bright thread in that web of retrieving,

Whose girdle of Progress shall circle
the world;

Fear, ignorance, indolence, dark superstition—

Dread shapes in the path of true womanhood long,

May be quelled with the club-woman's strong prohibition

If in union we strive—we need bend to no wrong!

Refrain,

—Words by Miss Josephine Spencer.
Accompanist, Miss Mary Olive Gray.

SOMETHING ABOUT TRAVELING LIBRARIES.

One of the most important branches of work among the State federations is the establishment of traveling libraries for the benefit of country districts. What do traveling libraries stand for? What do they do?

They stand for "the best reading for the highest number, at the least cost." They carry their goodly collection of books—romances, histories, classics, etc.—into communities where there are no public and but few good private libraries, and as they are dispersed from the postoffice or the railroad station, "without money and without price," they form new centers for the upbuilding of a better social and intellectual life.

Miss Winslow says that the free traveling library is a "free day and night school, which does not close on Saturdays or Sundays or for long vacations. Its curriculum is so broad that it helps the housewife in the kitchen, the husband in the field, the teacher in her school, the invalid in the sick room, the boy in his play and the citizen in his civic duties. It leaves no room for bad literature."

New York was the pioneer in the movement, which is still young. Through the efforts of Mr. Dewey, director of the N. Y. State library, 46 libraries were sent out in 1883. The demand for them increased so rapidly, that five years later, the number had grown to 447. The work is supported by an appropriation from the State. In 1895 Michigan adopted the plan of New York, and now, under the most liberal library legislation, has 260 traveling libraries for the rural districts. The State librarian declared that in no other State had such a system been established.

In 1896 Iowa inaugurated a similar system with an appropriation of $4,000, and in two years, 40 permanent libraries were organized as the direct result of visits from the traveling libraries.

Tennessee has planned a system for her mountains. Georgia has a coast line for her sailors and seamen. Pennsylvania, Ohio, New Jersey, California, and Kansas have all secured legislation authorizing traveling libraries. In Wisconsin they are successfully conducted on philanthropic lines. In Illinois, as in Utah, Vermont and other States, the work is carried on under the auspices of the Women's clubs belonging to the State federation. Every club in the State is expected to send an annual contribution of money to help both, and a number of clubs have generously done so.

These contributions from the clubs in Utah, together with a most substantial gift from an outside friend, and the receipts of two "fold days," have resulted in about two and a half years in 16 libraries, averaging 75 carefully selected volumes each—a total of more than 1,100 volumes. Several bound volumes of the Youth's Companion also accompany each case. In addition to the books contributed, about $350 has been spent since the beginning of the work. Park City has furnished the building.

Indicates that Ogden has just filled the second. The libraries have been circulating from Corinne to Mantle, and from Sunshine to Moab. Words of grateful appreciation follow the visit of every library, accompanied with a request to the committee for "more pleasure," and the amount of joy and happiness which this modest investment can bring.

How dear to our hearts are these annual stations!

Where we view new horizons, plan routes, rest and feast

On delectable programmes provided as ratione—

Rare though-viands brought from north, south, west and east.

The hand-claps, the meeting—communion too fleeting

All carry a charm we are loath to resign.

But one cloud—that farewell so soon
Ends our greeting

Ever dims the fair face of our comrade ship's sign.

Refrain:

Let us sing an "All Hail!" to our young Federation,

Let us pledge its good faith at this sisterhood-shrine

CLUB CHAT.

The music section of the Ladies' Literary Club will meet on Wednesday morning, Oct. 25, at 10 o'clock, at the club house. The impromptus for the day will be given by Mrs. Karl

Roberts, Mrs. Weeter, Mrs. Johnson,

Mrs. Peabody, Mrs. Bennett, Mrs. Putnam and Miss McChrystal. Current items from members of the section.

The French section of the Ladies'

Literary club meets Tuesday at 10 o'clock. The topic is modern Paris, its architecture, parks, boulevards and every-day life.

The current events and current literature section met yesterday at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Kelsey recited. Dainty refreshments were served, after which the ladies were required to guess the number of pieces of candy in a pint jar. Mrs. Phil Speckart was the successful guesser.

The Cleofan met on Tuesday at the studio of Mrs. John Minor. The subject was the War of the Austrian Succession, and the paper was read by Mrs.
Stacie D. R. Wells, who filled the place of Mrs. George Savage, who could not attend.

Among the interesting things promised at the coming convention of the Utah Federation of Women's clubs is an address from Miss Zona Gale. Miss

Gale is prominent as a newspaper woman, and is now on the staff of the Milwaukee Journal as well as an occasional contributor to the Club Woman of Milwaukee.

During the biennial convention of the General Federation in June Miss Gale acted as assistant chairman and hostess woman at the press session. The ladies from Utah who met her in Milwaukee have much to say of the charm and interest of her personality. Doubtless her address will be one of the "highlights" of the occasion. Miss Gale will be the guest of Mrs. W. A. Nelden during her stay in the city.

Another visiting club woman who will contribute her quota to the value of the program is Mrs. Thayer of Glenwood Springs. Mrs. Thayer is the author of Wild Flowers of Colorado, and is a scholarly, dignified woman. She will address the Federation Friday afternoon on Art in the Public Schools.

Federation Club Programme.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 25.

9:30 a.m. Meeting of credential committee.

10:30 Call to order.

Invocation . . . Rev. Clarence T. Brown, D. D.

Address of welcome: Mrs. Eliza K. Royce

Response . . . Mrs. Walter Scott

President's address . . .

. . . Mrs. Mary Geigus Coulter

AFTERNOON FROM 3 TO 5.

Reception at the residence of Mrs.
Priscilla Jennings, 115 E. South Temple street.

8 p.m.

Vocal solo (selected) Mr. Hugh Dougall

The Perfect House and Home . . .

. . . Mrs. Josephine Kellogg, Provo

Intermission . . . Song, "Queen of the Night" . . . Torrey

. . . Mrs. Jack Alford.

The Perfect House and Home . . .

. . . Rev. W. M. Paden, D. D.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 26.

9 a.m.

Report of credential committee.

Reports of committees: local badge program.

Reports of clubs: Orangeville, Vernal,

Heber, Moab, Atlanta, Corinne,

Springville, Brigham City, Coalville.

Report of delegate to biennial.

. . . Mrs. Charles D. Moore

The Measure of Success . . .

. . . Miss Eva Brink, Brigham City

Traveling Libraries.

Report of State committee, Mrs. S.

O. S. Neiden.

Report of sub-committee.

Proposed reorganization of State Federation.

Report of State art committee, Mrs.

Frank Elliott.

Art in the public schools . . .

. . . Mrs. Thayer, Colorado Springs

Intermission.

Vocal trio, "The Spell was Wrought"

Smart . . . Rev. C. Wetzell, Mrs.

Kate B. Anderson, Miss Edna Dwyer.

As a Means of Culture is the Novel

Worthy of Consideration, Miss Alice

Reynolds, Provo.

Discussion, led by Mrs. M. L. Ritchie.

8 p.m.

Her ladyship, the Countess of Westmoreland, is jubilant over the high honor she has just received at the hands of the shah of Persia—the Order of the Lion and the Sun. During that potentate's recent visit to England, he was delighted by the beautiful sight of Lady Westmoreland riding to hounds. His majesty enthusiastically declared her the best horsewoman in Europe, and promised to send her a token of his appreciation. True to the royal word, the royal present—the above decoration—has just arrived at Apethorpe Hall, Wansford, Northamptonshire, one of the country seats of the Westmorelands. Before her marriage to Anthony Mildmay Julian Fane, thirteenth earl of Westmoreland, her ladyship was Lady Sybil St. Clair-Eskine, famous as one of the loveliest girls in English society. She is a sister of two other prize beauties of England—the Countess of Warwick and the Duchess of Sutherland. Lady Westmoreland has two children—Vere Anthony Francis St. Clair, Lord Burghersh, seven, and Lady End Fane, six years. Her husband approves of and shares her fondness for hunting, shooting and fishing.