

SOCIAL CHAT

The week has been a busy one socially, the largest affair being the charity ball given by the Council of Jewish Women on Tuesday night, and a number of weddings, unheated, dinners and card parties filling in the week. Several events are planned for the next week, Valentine's day furnishing the inspiration for some novel affairs.

Mrs. Ellsworth Daggett was hostess at two delightful functions this week, given respectively in honor of Mrs. Gallagher of Omaha and Mrs. J. Walcott Thompson of this city.

One of the week's most elaborate luncheons was given on Thursday by Mrs. Thomas Marlowe, who entertained about 30 guests at the Commodore club. The decorations were in pink and green, and were among the most artistic and beautiful of the season. In the center of the table stood a cut glass vase holding a cluster of roses, with sprays of ferns drooping over the sides. Loose roses and ferns were strewn over the cloth, and a garland of plumes and roses made a border for the whole, extending almost the length of the table. Pink shaded electric globes lighted the room, the curtains being drawn to exclude the daylight.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Whitney, Miss Hattie Whitney and Miss Reta Pyper left this morning on a visit to New York. Mr. Whitney goes to attend the annual meeting of the American Newspaper Publishers' association.

On Thursday Miss Myrtle Banks of this city and LeRoy Eccles of Ogden, were married, the ceremony being performed in the Temple during the day, and a reception following at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. O. D. Banks in the evening. The rooms were beautifully decorated with pink ferns, and cut flowers, and an orchestra rendered musical selections throughout. Miss Genevieve Ellerbeck assisted the hostess in receiving, and Miss Hazel Beattie and Miss Rebecca Smith acted as bridesmaids. In the dining room the Misses Nona and Orman Banks, Ida Rich and Diana Gustafson assisted. The bride wore an exquisite gown of white crepe de chine over tulle, with trimmings of real lace, and the bridesmaid, Miss Veda Eccles, was gowned in canary colored crepe de chine over silk, and carried roses. Mr. and Mrs. Eccles, together with the bride couple of the day previous, Mr. and Mrs. David C. Eccles, have gone to California on a wedding trip after which they will return to Ogden to reside.

Another pretty wedding of Thursday was that of Miss Katie Reese and Alfred J. Solomon, the marriage being solemnized in the Temple during the day and a reception being held in the evening at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. E. J. Solomon. The rooms were decorated with a profusion of roses, carnations and smilax, and at elaborate supper was served about 45 guests being present to enjoy the pleasant affair. The bride was gowned in a dainty creation of cream crepe de chine, beautifully trimmed with ribbon. Mr. and Mrs. Solomon will make their home in this city.

Among the week's bridal couples were Miss Pearl Weiss and Fred E. Mitchell, their marriage taking place on Wednesday at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. Helmick of the First M. E. church officiating. Only the immediate relatives and friends were present. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell will reside at 1444 South State street.

A quiet wedding of the week was that of Miss Annie M. Anderson and Frank Van Cott, who were married in the Temple on Wednesday.

Mrs. George M. Downey was one of Thursday's hostesses, her function being in honor of Mrs. Gallagher of Omaha. The entertainment was bridge, and prizes were won by Mrs. Kirkpatrick and Mrs. G. A. Belden.

Mrs. H. T. Cleaver entertained at a pretty luncheon on Thursday in honor of Mrs. Baer and Mrs. Noland.

Mrs. Worthington, Mrs. H. A. Whitney and Mrs. P. E. Ripley were among the hostesses who entertained at separate delightful affairs yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Channing entertained at dinner tonight.

On Monday Mrs. W. W. Ritter entertained at dinner in honor of the birthday of Miss Elsie Ritter, about 30 guests being present.

One of Monday's functions was the reception given by Mrs. C. H. Leigh in honor of her aunt, Mrs. Jennie P. Moorman.

Mrs. J. C. Cutler entertained the Woman's Republican club on Monday.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick entertained at bridge on Wednesday.

Mrs. John N. Sharp has issued invitations for a Klansing to be given next Wednesday afternoon in compliment to Mrs. J. H. Young, who leaves shortly for Denver.

Dr. Ellen B. Ferguson, formerly of this city has sent cards announcing the marriage of her daughter, Claire Helen, to Wilbur Stoker Wright of New York. The wedding took place Jan. 1 in New York and Mr. and Mrs. Wright will make their home there.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Bailey will entertain at dinner next Monday evening.

Miss Josephine Clawson will entertain a number of friends at card next Monday evening at the home of her mother on Fifth East street.

Mrs. Toronto and Miss Rosa Toronto leave next week for a six weeks' stay in San Francisco and Los Angeles.

THE LARGER OUTSIDE CITIES

OGDEN.

The most brilliant social event of the week occurred Wednesday evening at the elegant home of Hon. and Mrs. Angus T. Wright when a wedding reception was given to their charming daughter, Miss Julia G. Wright and Mr. David C. Eccles, who were married Wednesday at the Salt Lake Temple. The home was thronged throughout the entire evening with relatives and friends who gathered to extend hearty congratulations and to participate in the evening's festivities. The bride and groom, who were attended by Miss Veda Eccles as bridesmaid and Mr. L. B. Spencer as best man, stood under an artistic canopy creation of roses, carnations and smilax to receive their many friends, who brought elegant and costly presents of cut glass, silverware, etc. The bride was attired in a gown of cream lace over cream tulle and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. Throughout the evening sweet strains of wedding marches and other music was discoursed by an orchestra. A profusion of roses, carnations, ferns, smilax and palms were artistically arranged throughout the home. The contracting parties are among Ogden's most popular and influential young people. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Eccles. They will reside in a beautiful home on the corner of Twenty-fifth street and Jefferson avenue when the house is completed. Mr. and Mrs. Eccles went to Salt Lake City Thursday where they attended the wedding reception of Mr. LeRoy Eccles, second son of Hon. and Mrs. David Eccles who was married to Miss Myrtle Banks, one of Salt Lake's most popular and a talented young lady. Both of the happy brides and grooms left yesterday for California where they will spend their honeymoon.
