

TEXANS GO WILD
OVER PRESIDENT.

At Waco Band Played "Dixie," Chief Magistrate Smiling and Beating Time to Music.

GREAT RECEPTION AT AUSTIN.

To the Legislature He Gave His Interpretation of a Square Deal.

San Antonio, Tex., April 6.—After an eventful trip across a large portion of Texas, President Roosevelt arrived in San Antonio at 8:30 o'clock tonight.
When the special train bearing the president reached the station he was greeted with cheers from thousands of throats, and the lusty "hurrahs" of his old comrades in arms, the famous rough riders of the Spanish-American war, who are holding their annual reunion near the crumbling walls of historic Alamo, could plainly be heard above the din.

The city is a mass of color in honor of the president's visit. Business houses and residences are decorated with flags and bunting, and tomorrow's exorcise promise to be the most patriotic demonstration ever had in the state. The president's train was on a siding near the station, where it will remain until tomorrow night, when the visitors will leave for Fort Worth. The train is being guarded by a detail of city police, and as the president will be astir early tomorrow, every precaution will be taken to permit him to secure a good night's rest.

The president's train left Dallas promptly at 5:30 o'clock this morning.
Its occupants were sleeping soundly when the long run and the state began, but the president was up and astir at 7 o'clock. The first stop of the day was at Hillsboro, where practically the entire population of the town turned out. The president spoke briefly and was given a cordial reception.

When the train reached Waco cannon were fired and bands played patriotic airs. The arrival of the state and the railroad yards was packed with humanity. The reception committee made its way to the president's car, and he was escorted to a stand in the city park, near by.

His appearance was the signal for a remarkable demonstration. Thousands of tiny American flags were waved by men and women alike, and it was several minutes before the president could begin his address. The band played the stirring strains of "Dixie," and the president smiled and beat time to the music. The president's address was brief, and he was frequently applauded.
The president returned to his train with difficulty, so great was the crowd. As the train moved away he stood upon the platform and waved his hand to the people.

The train glided swiftly across the plains of north Texas, and at noon entered the fertile valley of the Brazos.
Several stops were made, and one especially interested the president, because of the manner in which it occurred. When the citizens of Temple learned that the train would not stop at 7 o'clock, a hurried call of the city committee was made. The city fathers immediately passed an emergency ordinance requiring the train to stop at the station three minutes. When the news was telegraphed the president he laughed heartily and seemed pleased.
He immediately issued instructions that the stop be made at 7 o'clock, and the population of the little city was on hand, and the greeting accorded the chief executive was most hearty.

At Taylor, which was reached at 12:30 o'clock, the train was met by crowds from the tracks of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas to those of the International & Great Northern, and the run to Austin began. The capital city was reached at 2 o'clock, and President Roosevelt was met at the station by Gov. Latham, Lieut.-Gov. Nell and a committee of 50 citizens and members of the Texas legislature. The president was in excellent spirits and appeared none the worse for his long ride across the country. He expressed himself as being most pleased to arrive in Austin under such auspicious circumstances.

The entire party was placed in carriages and driven to the statehouse, where President Roosevelt made two speeches. One in the hall of representatives and the other on the lawn. The president was taken for a drive over the city. The day was ideal and so crowded were the streets that it proved a difficult matter for the militia to control the vast throngs. The school children of the city, both white and black, were lined up for review along the line of march, and cheered lustily as the president passed.

One of the most enthusiastic demonstrations of the day occurred at New Braunfels. When the train arrived there it was surrounded by a dense mass of surging people, all anxious to greet the chief executive. New Braunfels is a German settlement, and is noted for its thrift and enterprise, and the president spoke encouragingly to the people, who cordially applauded his utterances.

The long ride was brought to an end when San Antonio was reached shortly before 9 o'clock.
To the Texas legislature the president gave his interpretation of the square deal. He said in part:
"On the whole there have been few instruments in the economic development of the country which have done more for the country than the railroads.
I do not wish in any shape or way to interfere with the legitimate gain of any of these great men whose special industrial capacity enables them to handle the railroads so as to be of profit to themselves and of advantage to all of us. I should be most reluctant —I will put it stronger than that—I should absolutely refuse to be a party to any measure, to any proposition, that interfered with the proper and legitimate prosperity of those men; as I should feel that such a measure was aimed not only at them, but at all of us, for an attack upon the legitimate prosperity of any of us is in the long run sure to turn into an attack upon all. With that proviso (as to which I ask you to remember that I mean literally every word), let me further advance that the public has a right, not a privilege, but in my view a duty, to see that there is in its behalf exercised such a supervisory and regulatory power over the railroads as will insure that while they give fair treatment, themselves get it in return.

"The proper exercise of that power is conditioned upon the securing of proper legislation which will enable the representatives of the public to see that any unjust or discriminating rates are altered so as to be a just and fair rate, and are altered immediately.

"I know perfectly well that when you give that power there is a chance of its being occasionally abused. There is no power that can be given to the representative of the public which it is not possible to abuse. As every one knows, the power of taxation which must of course be given to the representative of the people is the power of death, for it is possible to kill any in-

No One But Yourself
if You Don't Get Well When Sick.

All we can do is give advice.
Of course that's easy.
But our advice is really worth a little more to you than most people's, for we offer to give you the first bottle of our medicine free, if it fails to help you.
We could not afford to do this unless our medicine was good. Such an offer, on the wrong kind of medicine, would put a merchant prince in the poor house.
Dr. Miles' Nervine, however, as years of experience have proved, is a medicine that cures the sick.

Those whom it cannot benefit—less than one in ten thousand—we prefer to refund their money.

All we ask of you is to try Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine for your complaint. If you suffer from sleeplessness, nervous exhaustion, dizziness, headache, muscular twitchings, melancholy, loss of memory, weak stomach, poor blood, bilious troubles, epilepsy, St. Vitus' Dance, etc., we will guarantee to benefit you or refund your money.

You are the doctor.
"My son Bert, when in his 17th year, became subject to attacks of epilepsy, so serious that we were compelled to take him out of school. After several physicians had failed to relieve him, we gave Dr. Miles' Nervine a trial. Ten months' treatment with Nervine and Liver Pills restored our boy to perfect health. disturb by excessive taxation. There must be a certain trust placed in the common sense and common honesty of those who are to enforce the law.

"If it ever fails, and I think it will, to my lot to nominate a board to carry out the law. I shall nominate men as far as I am able on whose ability, courage and integrity I can count; men who will not be swayed by any influence whatever, direct or indirect, social, political or any other, to show improper favoritism for the railroads and who, on the other hand, if a railroad is unjustly attacked, no matter if the attack has behind it the feeling of prejudice of 99 per cent of the people, will stand up against that attack. That is my interpretation of the doctrine of the square deal."

MORALES ACCEPTS
Terms for Collecting Revenues of San Domingo.

Washington, April 6.—A dispatch from Minister Dawson announces that President Morales has accepted the terms for collection of the revenues of Santo Domingo, especially regarding the salary of $500 a month to be paid Supt. Colton. It is suggested, however, that Colon go to Santo Domingo before the other collectors and arrange with the Dominican government for their salaries.

Am. Tobacco Co. Sued.

Trenton, N. J., April 6.—George August, being of Bayonne today filed a bill in chancery to compel the American Tobacco company, incorporated in 1890, to assign to him his stock in that company. The suit involves an attack upon the merger of the American Tobacco company and other companies.

Receiver Appointed.

Wilmington, Del., April 6.—The Security Trust & Safe Deposit company was today appointed receiver for the Johnson Forge company of this city.
John A. Johnson, who made the application for a receiver, alleged that the company is insolvent and that it owes him $118,000.

THE GERMAN EMPEROR
AND ITALIAN KING MEET

Naples, April 6.—King Victor Emmanuel arrived here today from Rome accompanied by Foreign Minister Tittoni and Naval Minister Mirabelli to meet Emperor William. An Italian squadron was anchored around the imperial yacht. Holzhorn, the German admiral, steamed and small craft were crowded with thousands of spectators. The royal launch approached the Hohenzol-lern amidst the booming of cannon and with the Italian sailors cheering the Germans, and the Germans responding with cheers for the Italians.
Emperor William received the royal visitor at the gangway and their majestic embraces and kisses each other in the most cordial manner. The emperor then shook hands with the Italian ministers whom he already knew, after which the sovereigns presented to each other the members of their respective suites. The whole party lunched on board the Hohenzollern.

It was reported later that Emperor William and King Victor Emmanuel conversed lengthily about the international chamber of agriculture planned by the latter, who had previously been openly congratulated on the subject by all the European rulers, with the exception of Emperor William.

EMBASSY DENIES
Report that Peace at an Early Date Was Probable.

St. Petersburg, April 6.—At the German embassy the statement that it had advised the foreign office that it had reached an early conclusion of peace was probable was denied. The mistake was pointed out, simply reported the prevailing talk about peace in St. Petersburg. The embassy now shares the opinion expressed in these dispatches that the efforts in the direction of peace failed, and that for the moment nothing is being done. The general feeling exists in diplomatic circles, however, that peace has been brought appreciably nearer.

The admiralty professes ignorance of the exact whereabouts of Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's squadron and has no information showing that the three vessels sighted by the steamer Mar-mor (which arrived at Colombo, Ceylon, yesterday), 350 miles southeast of Ceylon, April 4, belonged to the Russian squadron. Nevertheless, the belief prevails in naval circles that the squadron will go through the Straits of Malacca, but that Admiral Togo's heavy division will not be encountered until Rojestvensky reaches the eastern sea.

MUTILATED BODY
FULL IDENTIFIED.

Henry Heinze Says Murdered Man Found in San Francisco Is Harry Una.

MISSING SINCE WEDNESDAY.

The Police Are Searching for the Peddler — He Was a Sicilian.

San Francisco, April 7.—A young man named Henry Heinze, a teamster, has identified the mutilated body of the victim of the brutal murder now under investigation, as that of Harry Una, a Sicilian peddler. When Heinze saw the head which was found on the beach near Meigs' wharf he was at first somewhat dubious about the identification but later became convinced that he had made no mistake. Una has been missing since Wednesday.

The police are now searching for some trace of the missing peddler. On the other hand two policemen who have patrolled the Italian quarter for years believe the body is that of a Sicilian bootblack who lived in the vicinity of Dupont and Green streets, near the scene of the murder. It was thought for a time that the dead man might be one Rosario Domina, a witness in the case of Giuseppe Dioguardi, who was murdered in the neighborhood of Mason and Francisco streets Jan. 21. Domi-na was a witness against certain suspects, and his life had been threatened.
This theory has, however, been discarded by the discovery that all the witnesses in the case are alive and well, among them Domina, who has been located by the detectives at his residence on Bay street.

RUSH RUN MINE ACCIDENT.

Mine Management Exonerated
By Coroner's Jury.

Fayetteville, W. Va., April 6.—The coroner's jury, empaneled to inquire into the cause of the explosion at Rush Run and Red Ash mines, in which 24 miners lost their lives March 18 and 19, returned a verdict fully exonerating the mine management and the district mine inspector.

Sanitarium Burned.

Et. Wayne, Ind., April 6.—The sanitarium at the Adams Hotel, Wayne, Ind., burned today. There were many narrow escapes by the guests on account of the rapidity with which the flames spread.

A WILD MAN.

Has Been Terrorizing People in Chickasaw Nation.

Fort Worth, Tex., April 7.—A special to the Record from Lawton, O. T., says: A wild man of hideous appearance, ragged garments, emaciated features and lacerated body, has for the past two weeks been terrorizing the citizens of the southern and southwestern portions of the Chickasaw Nation, Indian Territory. On several occasions he has assaulted women and children and injured men in duels who sought to capture him and restrain him from further operations. He invariably makes his escape and shortly turns up in some other section of the country and renews his operations. Two deputy United States marshals and a posse of citizens recently came in touch with him in a heavy thicket, but he made good his escape. All subsequent efforts to capture have been futile.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHAS RITUAL

Detroit May Get Schoolhouse in Which It Was Written.

Grand Rapids, Mich., April 7.—It is quite likely that Detroit will be the future home of the little schoolhouse in the upper peninsula in which Justus H. Rathbone wrote the ritual of the Knights of Pythias in 1860. This statement was made by W. E. Hampton, grand chancellor of the Knights of Pythias of Michigan, who was in Grand Rapids this week.

The building has been bought by a syndicate of members who will present it to the order at the grand lodge meeting for preservation in such manner as the lodge shall determine.
