

THE PRESIDENT IS HAPPY.

At His Home in Canton He Receives Election Returns and News of His Re-election.

Reads the Bulletins Aloud, but Makes No Comment—Addresses Some Late Callers.

Executive Mansion, Canton, O., Nov. 6.—President McKinley received the election returns tonight at his home surrounded by a large number of his old friends and neighbors, including many ladies who came as the guests of Mrs. McKinley, to share with her the interest and excitement of this culminating event of the campaign.

Direct wires connected the house with the Republican national headquarters at New York and at Chicago, with Senator Hanna at the Union club in Cleveland, and with the home of Gov. Roosevelt at Oyster Bay, so that the President was in constant telegraphic touch with his associates on the ticket and with the campaign leaders.

The President made his headquarters in his library where most of the gentlemen congregated, while Mrs. McKinley entertained the ladies in the parlor. The President was in his usual good humor, showing no signs of anxiety over the result.

The President in person read aloud some of the returns, but refrained from making any comment whatever on the result and accepting with unfeigned composure the favorable reports which began to come in at an early hour. Secretary Cortelyou read most of the dispatches some of the more cheering announcements being heartily applauded by the guests. Most of the early advice was fragmentary and in conclusion, but the strong indications that New York and probably Illinois had gone for McKinley were received with great satisfaction.

At 5 o'clock the President received a dispatch from an enthusiastic individual stating that New York and Illinois carried the day for McKinley and that he was re-elected.

The responsible leaders made no early claims although their dispatches told of gains at many points and breathed the spirit of victory near at hand.

The President's first congratulations from headquarters came from J. H. Hanly at New York, as follows: "Travis Gid from whom all blessings flow. Your triumphant re-election is meted by Democratic managers. I tender my earnest congratulations. We are very happy at headquarters."

At midnight Canton was in a frenzy of enthusiasm, which knew no bounds. The crowds which had been burning red the down town, marched to the McKinley residence with bands playing, rockets sending lurid streaks across the midnight sky and tumultuous cheers mingled with the din of horns and steam whistles. The crowd was still for a time with some of the cheering news received. This included dispatches from Kansas, claiming that State was won by McKinley, and from the national committee, saying Indiana gave McKinley 23,000 plurality; from the Iowa chairman, saying Iowa's plurality was 10,000, and from the Union League club, Chicago, giving the President glowing congratulations. But the crowd clamored for the President and he appeared waving his acknowledgment of the deafening cheers. He then said:

"Fellow Citizens—I thank you for the very great compliment of this call in this important night and at this late hour. Of the gratifying reports from all parts of the country, none has given me more sincere gratitude than those from my own city and my own county of Stark, and I appear now only to do what I have done on so many former occasions, to thank you once more for the warm and hearty endorsement which you have today given my public acts."

BRYAN GETS BULLETINS.

The Democratic Candidate for President Receives Election Returns Unperturbed.

He is Much Pleased to Know That Elmhurst Gave Him a Very Large Majority.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 6.—Mr. Bryan received election returns at his residence in this city. His house was fairly overrun by newspaper men and telegraph operators. Not only was the first floor of the house largely given up to them, but two of the rooms on the second story also. Many telegraph wires ran to the house. Mr. Bryan had with him his brother, Charles Bryan, his former law partner, ex-State Senator Talbot, National Committee Chairman Dahlman and Attorney Schmidt. Mrs. Bryan had as company a cousin, Mrs. Rogers and Mrs. Dahlman.

Mr. Bryan took his dinner at a little after 2 o'clock, and later spent a few minutes in conversation with the newspaper men, referring to the returns received and asking some questions about different States, but without venturing any opinion upon the figures. The first bulletin was the one announcing that Poughkeepsie, N. Y., had given McKinley a majority of 1,000. This was quickly followed by another bulletin to the effect that Elmhurst had gone in for Bryan (favor to the extent of 4,772 majority). When shown this encouraging, he simply remarked that it was encouraging.

The other bulletins from New York came in thick and fast after that, and while Mr. Bryan made no comment, there was a feeling among those present that he was disappointed in the result. His report upon New York city and Brooklyn was the last concerning those cities had been encountered, and his own observation had led him to believe that there would be a loss. On the other hand there was considerable encouragement from the influx of New York State and especially of Commissioner Mack, saying that Buffalo had given McKinley a majority of only 3,000, against 12,000 four years ago. Coming close upon the heels of the Buffalo dispatch was one from a friend in Boston announcing that that city had gone for Bryan by a majority of 7,000 against 17,000 for McKinley four years ago.

The early dispatches indicated the loss of Maryland, and this was also a disappointment, for it had been believed that that State was fairly safe for the Democratic ticket.

After receiving the earlier returns in his library in the midst of his friends, Mr. Bryan retired to his private apartments, which were connected with the house and a person unacquainted with the circumstances would never have dreamed that they were at this time the center of national interest.

At 8 o'clock, when the newspaper men congregated at Mr. Bryan's house, they were told that he had just gone to sleep and would not be disturbed. When he retired to his room he had then expressed a desire to make up for some of the rest he had lost in the last few weeks, lay down and was fast asleep in less than five minutes. He had slept an hour in the afternoon, after which he went for a horseback ride to his farm. He did not, however, feel fully recuperated, and therefore sought additional rest, thus manifesting probably less concern than hundreds of thousands of his followers.

At 11 o'clock Mr. Bryan awoke. He then told the newspaper correspondents that he would have no statement to make before tomorrow.

Mr. Bryan remained in his private apartments during the entire evening, and slept the greater part of the time. He did not make his appearance in the parlor of his house where the newspaper correspondents were congregated until 11 o'clock, and his coming at that time was for the purpose of notifying the press that he would have nothing to say for publication during the night. He added that he might possibly give out a statement tomorrow.

After this assurance the visitors to the house withdrew and soon afterward the lights were extinguished and the house presented no signs of animation. Mrs. Bryan spent the evening entertaining her company, and gave no sign of fatigue or disappointment. The belief is quite general that Mr. Bryan will say tomorrow that he does not doubt the election for the second time of his rival, for while he has given no direct utterance of such concession he indirectly admits tonight to friends that he does not hope for more than to reduce the Republican majority in some of the Eastern States.

How Chicago Voted.

Gen. Stone Gives Up New York.

New York, Nov. 6.—Ex-Gov. Stone at midnight made the following announcement: "I give up. The returns telegraphed to these headquarters from New York, New Jersey and Connecticut show that these States have gone Republican. Returns from Maryland and West Virginia are incomplete. My information is indefinite that I cannot form an opinion as to the result. As I do not understand the facts, I will wait before I say finally what I think is the result."

Mr. Stone then closed the Democratic national headquarters for the night.

SHE KILLED HIM INSTANTLY.

Lena Peterson of Arizona Kills a Robber With a Shotgun.

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 6.—A shotgun in the hands of a woman ended the career of Ventura Peco, a Mexican robber, in a sensational manner last night. Mrs. Lena Peterson heard a noise in the cattle corral in the rear of her house. Taking a shotgun, she went to investigate, and saw a man trying to steal a calf. She fired both barrels into his body, killing him instantly.

GERMANY'S TARIFF WAR.

Russia Does Not Intend to Interfere With Conduct of German Domestic Affairs.

Reported that the Fatherland Had Received a Warning from the United States.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 6.—Referring to the report that Russia and America had agreed to warn Germany against fulfilling the ultra-agrarian demands regarding the grain tariff, the proper authority in the finance ministry informed the correspondent of the Associated Press today that Russia does not intend to interfere with Germany in the conduct of her domestic affairs. Russia, he added, will not notice the tariff legislation officially until it is enacted and commercial treaty negotiations are begun. It is possible Germany will establish maximum and minimum rates. The discussion of this point has hitherto been academic. In any case, Russia will calmly wait, as she is not afraid of a tariff war with Germany.

TELEGRAPH LINE

Was Preserved From Molestation of Indians by a Clever Trick.

When the electric telegraph was first introduced into Chile a stratagem was resorted to in order to guard the posts and wires against damage on the part of the natives, and to maintain the connection between the strongholds on the frontier. There were at the time between 40 and 50 captive Indians in the Chilean camp. General Pinto—in command of the operations—called them together, and pointing to the telegraph wires, said:

"Do you see those wires?"

"Yes, general."

"I want you to remember not to go near of touch them, for if you do your hands will be held, and you will be un able to set away."

The Indians smiled incredulously

Russia's Reply to the German Note.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 6.—The text of the Russian reply to the Anglo-German agreement note is published. The first part providing open ports on the rivers of the Chinese littoral is favorably received, as it does not alter existing treaties.

The second part is all the more in harmony with Russia's intentions, as the integrity of the Celestial empire is the fundamental principle of Russian policy. As regards the possibility of a violation of this principle, in the third article, Russia refers to her note of May 23d, and re-states her declaration that such violation would compel Russia to modify as circumstances might require, the attitude she has taken.

Wreckage of a Large Steamer.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 6.—Capt. Johnson of the steamer Lalla Thurston, which returned to this port this afternoon, says he saw a lot of wreckage about 200 miles off Cape Flattery, and thinks a large steamer has been wrecked. The sea was so high at the time that he was unable to make any close examination of the wreckage, but it consisted of lumber painted on both sides like the upper works of a steamer; also portions of rigging. He also saw a lifeboat, about twenty-five feet long.

Recent Boer successes, "May they fight without remission," he exclaimed energetically. "That is what we ask."

Throughout the voyage Mr. Kruger's health, except for some trouble with his eyes, was excellent. He will travel incognito and will not land until he reaches Europe.

Braze British Officers.

London, Nov. 6.—Lord Roberts, in a dispatch dated Johannesburg, November 5th, reports to the war office as follows:

Saunders was wounded and his horse was killed, and Chalmers went to his assistance. Saunders implored him to leave, but was refused, and the gallant Chalmers was, I grieve to say, killed."

New Mexican Cattleman Killed.

Carlsbad, N. M., Nov. 6.—Robert Hall, one of the best-known cattlemen in southeastern New Mexico, was shot and killed at his ranch, sixty miles south of this place. His alleged murderer is Payne Seeley, known as 'Red' Seeley, who also shot and severely wounded Darn Hollherring. The trouble arose over some trivial matter. Seeley, who was the only one of the party armed, commenced shooting. It is said, with little or no provocation. Seeley escaped toward old Mexico.

Strike of Boilermakers.

Springfield, Mass., Nov. 6.—The strike of the boilermakers at the Boston and Albany shops in West Springfield threatens to spread to both ends of the line. Then the general made them each in succession take hold of the wire at both ends of an electric battery in full operation, after which he exclaimed:

"I command you to let go the wire!"

"I can't, my hands are benumbed," cried each Indian.

The battery was then stopped. Not long after the general restored them to liberty, giving them strict instructions to keep the secret. This had the desired effect, for, as might be expected, the confidence to every man in the tribe, and the telegraph has ever since remained un molested.
