CRAND JURY TAKES A RECESS

Ten o'clock.

TANNER CASE IS STILL UP.

More Witnesses Have Been Summoned For Monday -Intirmary Matter Under Consideration.

The grand jury, at the conclusion of Its session yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock, adjourned until Monday morning at 10 o'clock. The preparations for President Roosevelt's reception today and tomorrow and the fact that Saturday is a legal holiday accounts for the day is a legal holiday accounts for the long recess of the jury. The last withness examined yesterday was Atty. O. W. Moyle, who is a neighbor of the Thatcher's on North Temple street. He was called evidently to tell what he knew of the relations between Judge Tanner and Miss Thatcher.

nited States Senator Fred T. Dubois of Idaho, and family are at the Knuts-ford, the senator having come down on a short business trip. In response to queries he stated this morning that politics appeared to be dead in Idaho, and that the general attention was directed towards the development of the great resources of the state. As to the coming presidential conventions, Senator Dubois believed that the Republi-can national convention would nominate Roosevelt for the presidency, and the feeling in favor of Judge Parker of New York was so strong as to indicate his nomination by the Democratic national convention. In the matter of the Panama canal, the senator believed that the Colombian government would ratify the treaty before the time expired.

Some Splendid Equine Specimens Are Now Here Success of "Rough Ris der" Feature is Assured.

The advance guard of the rough riders from outlying districts has arrived and this afternoon at 4 o'clock the horsemen, augmented by the Salt Lake contingent, were to assemble at the city and county building, where Capt, Caine takes them in charge and puts them through their paces in the form of a rehearsal for the parade tomorrow.

The first arrivals came in from Summit county last night in charge of Alma Eldredge of Coalville. In all there were 20 horsemen, who were quartered on the fair grounds.

The special from Logan and Cache valley points over the Oregon Short Line this morning brought in four car-leads of horses at 9:30. In all there were 100 animals and riders. Some of were 100 animals and riders. Some of the horses are very fine specimens and nearly all of them were blanketed.

At noon the contingent from Provo came to town 80 strong, and were im-mediately transferred to the fair grounds where Frank Hines, who has charge of the forage department of the Roosevelt celebration, saw that they

In batches of five and six the Davis county troop has been coming in all day. The men bring word that the roads are in bad shape, but nevertheless there will be 110 horsemen from Davis county in line tomorrow.

The Park City horses, driven by 15 men, started out this morning and are due to arrive about 4 p. m. The 150 riders will come in on the evening train. riders will come in on the evening train.

Among the traver-stained arrivals this morning was Walter James of Vernon, Tooele county, who left home the day before yesterday. He stated that the roads were simply awful and that the storm put a stop to some of the riders making the trip, nevertheless there were 10 riders on the road who will put up at Murray tonight and get to Salt Lake early in the morning.

From latest reports there will be 25 men in from Tooele in charge of Hyrun Grant and John Rydalch. They will arrive early in the morning. The will arrive early in the morning. The Washington, Millard and Juab county rough riders will come in this evening on Oregon Short Line No. 27, and will be immediately transferrred from the train to the fair grounds.

Some amusing incidents occurred to-day upon the arrival of some of the day upon the arrival of some of the horses. Owing to a misunderstanding the railroad company had not been paid the freight on some of the carloads, consequently no cash, no horses, and finally J. C. Leary had to go down into his own peckets in order to get the horses, which was not so amusing for him. In another case a rider from Dayvis county evidently labored under a misapprehersion as to the true inwardness of the meaning of a rough rider, for his outfit was decidedly rough consisting as it did of a piece of rope for a bridle and a sack for a saddle. Jim bridle and a sack for a saddle. Jim Leary threw up both hands when he saw it and looked around for a soft spot whereon to drop. When he re-covered he gently but firmly told the man that he would be arrested if he rode around town in that fashion. This afternoon the humorist was rounding up the various saddlery establishments with the object in view of appearing spick and span tomorrow.

This afternoon the Consolidated Streetcar company sent out two big cars to bring in the Summit county riders who will leave the train on Twelfth South and Seventh East and ride up to the old fair grounds, where they expect to find their horses that are coming overland via Parley's can-

FRIENDLY SUIT ARGUED TODAY

The friendly suit brought by Charles A. Walker, Winifred S. Walker, administratrix of the estate of Albert S. Walker, deceased, and other heirs of Joseph R. Walker, deceased, against Mary A. Cheesman and others, executors of the last will and testament of Joseph R. Walker, deceased, for legal construction of certain provisions of the will of the late Jeseph R. Walker, was argued before Judge Hall this morning and taken under advisement.

The will provides that the property of the estate shall not be distributed to the heirs and devisees until 29 years after the death of the testator. The question raised is as to whether the title to the property vested in the devisees upon the death of Mr. Walker or whether it does not vest until the 20 years has expired. Judge Howat, who appeared for the plaintiffs, contended that the title to the property was vested in the devisees at the death of the testator and that the 20 year clause is ed in the devisees at the death of the testator and that the 20 year clause is invalid and against public policy for the reason that it would tend to deprive some of the heirs of their share in the estate. He argued that the title must rest in someone during the 20 years but, that according to the terms of the will, there is no one in whom it can rest during that period, hence the title must have vested in the devisees upon the death of Mr. Walker and the property should be distributed before the expiration of the 20 years.

Judge MacDowall appeared in behalf of the executors, and argued that the terms of the will should be strictly complied with and the estate held together until 20 years after the death of the tes-

NICHT OF TERROR IN JACKSON, KY.

Sixty Armed Men Marched Into the Town in Evening.

MADE THEIR WAY TO JAIL.

Commanded by the Guards to Halt-Befused-Fired Upon-Casualties, One Cow Killed.

Jackson, Ky., May 28 .- There was a night of horror here and almost a panic among the troops as well as the people. Hundreds of shots were fired during the night. A mob of hundreds charged on the county jail where Curtis Jett and flom White are held for the murder of J. B. Marcum. It is impossible to get particulars, but it is not denied that there was an organized effort on the part of the feudists to take Jeft and White out of the jail, Some say the object was to lynch them and some that the purpose was fo rescue the prisoners. Nothing can be ascertained this morning us to the results, the caual-ties or anything and there is such a reign of terror as to prevent the secur-ing of news or its transmission.

Early last evening a body of about 60 armed men marghed into Jackson. They armed men marshed into Jackson. They were not together, but kept close to each other. At midnight the prowlers began to sneak across the street from the bank south of the jail. The guards commanded them to halt. They refused, and in reply fired several shots. The guards returned the fire. The prowlers guards returned the fire. The prowlers ran about a hundred yards further and fired again. The guards then poured three volleys into them, in rapid succession. Moving objects were discovered on the north side of the jail and the guards fired again and killed a cow.
