FRAGMENTS.

DECEMBER first.
The deer law is in.
Coxsack convened to-day.
MILN, the tragedian, as "Macbeth" to-morrow evening.
Ticket sales for the Miln engagement commenced to-day.
The fire brand has visited us twice within twenty-four hours.
The revolving lamps in Holland & Co's windows are a novelty.
COAL agents complain of dull times. Thanks, Mr. Weather Clerk.
"LEAVITT'S VARIETIES" at the Theatre Dec. 10th, 11th and 12th.
The High Council will meet at the Social Hall on Tuesday, December 2, at 7 p. m.
CHICKEN NEW Year comes on Feb. 14th, when all hands cease labor, and live high and worship.

EVAN STEPHENS will give another concert in the Social Hall, on Monday evening, Dec. 8th.
The D. & R. G. have already sold fifteen excursion tickets for the New Orleans Exposition.

The Telephone Company has just presented its patrons with a new, complete and convenient directory.
A QUITE a number of persons strolled up through the Eagle Gate last night, to view the ruins of the old mill.

OUR LIFE and HOME, number two of volume one, is before us. This monthly magazine is growing in interest.

HOODLUMS are up to their tricks again. Gates are missing and foot bridges are in demand in the vicinity of the 20th Ward.

W. P. BOWE was arrested this afternoon for assaulting officer Alex. Burt while levying a tax; Rowe bit the officer's ear.

A NUMBER of Shoshone Indians from Deep Creek and Skull Valley are on the street to-day, among them are Chiefs Tabby and Antelope Jack.

THERE is a rumor on the street this afternoon to the effect that the Salt Lake merchants are going to boycott the Union Pacific, owing to its treatment of the Wood River freight question. Nothing confirmatory of this rumor was learned.

EDITORIAL COMMENT on the Ogden Herald, under the caption "A Fool's French," holds the 7th editor over a fiery furnace of ridicule sarcasm and laughs at him while he wiggles to get away. When Leo gets after a fellow's French he'd better be "well up" or well out of the controversy.

A NEW local passenger tariff goes into effect to-day on the Denver & Rio Grande. Among the changes made we note the following:

	Percent	New Fare.
Kaysville	1.00	1.00
Stamington	.50	.50
Woods Cross	.50	.50
Provo	.50	.50
Spanish Fork	.50	.50
Pleasant Grove	.50	.50
Provo	1.25	1.25

LOCAL NEWS.

Priesthood Meeting.—The regular monthly Priesthood meeting of the Salt Lake Stake of Zion will be held at the Assembly Hall on Saturday next, December 6th. The Bishops and all the local Priesthood will please attend at 11 a. m., sharp.
By order of the Stake Presidency.

S. P. V. R.—Track laying on the Sante Fe Valley Railroad has ceased for the winter, the road being now about twenty-nine miles in length. Eight more miles of grading is completed, on which iron will be placed in the spring, finishing the line from Nephi to Ephraim. More work in the manner of extension from Ephraim, is also promised next season, but to what extent cannot be learned.

Fatal Accident at Provo.—On Saturday at 11:30 a. m., at Provo, while a freight train on the Utah Central was starting for Salt Lake, a man stepped from the track of that line on to that of the D. & R. G. A train was moving south on the track of the latter, and the unfortunate individual was run over and killed. The man was a tramp and was not identified. His remains were buried at Provo yesterday.

Thief Caught.—Deputy Sheriff E. E. Theriot, of Park City, arrived here last evening bringing with him Richard T. Toerethick, whom he had arrested in Bingham Canon. It seems the prisoner left the Park a few days ago in company of a hussy, and in possession of goods and cash amounting to forty-three dollars and eighty cents. He was placed behind the bars for safekeeping last night and left, in company with the sheriff, for Park City this morning.

From Tennessee.—Elder Josiah Richardson, of Malad, Oneida County, Idaho, recently returned from a mission to the Southern States. We learn from him that he left here October 20, 1883, and labored in Wilson, Putnam and White Counties, Tennessee. He baptized one person, confirmed two, blessed three children, and assisted in baptizing seven. He held a number of meetings and bore his testimony to the truth of the Gospel. He had many large congregations and traveled on foot 2,000 miles. He enjoyed very good health and was treated as well as could be expected, owing to the condition of the people. He met with hundreds of people who were poor and destitute, wanting both food and raiment, and found in his travels a great many good honest people who he believes will yet embrace the Gospel.

George C. Miln.—George C. Miln and his entire company will commence a season of legitimate performances at the Salt Lake Theatre on Tuesday evening. The San Francisco Call in speaking of the company says:

The Portland papers report that Geo. C. Miln and company played there last week to overflowing houses and enthusiasm second only to that accorded the favorite tragedians of the coast. The company play an engagement here commencing Nov. 10, at the Grand, for a season of two weeks, where Mr. Miln will open in the role of Hamlet, in which he has gained his greatest success, thus testing at the first his dramatic ability, and expending himself without hesitation to the most radical criticism. He carries a company of 17 people, headed by Miss Adelaide Payne, who is very favorably spoken of by the Eastern press. Miln is said to be handsome and intellectual, and appearing upon the scene when the old actors are making their exits, it is not singular that he should meet with success, especially if he be the legitimate successor of the marked ability attributed to him by the New York critics, who regard him as the legitimate successor of great tragedians whose names will soon be written only in the memory of those who have seen and known them.
"Macbeth" will be played Tuesday evening, "Twelfth Night" Wednesday, and "Hamlet" Thursday.

A FEARFUL ACCIDENT.

MRS. BOYD FEARFULLY BURNED AND HER SICK DAUGHTER INJURED.

At 5:45 Saturday evening an alarm of fire was given. For a few moments intense excitement prevailed on the crowded streets. The firemen were prompt in action and were soon upon the ground. Quite a number of people had already made their way up the alley to an adobe house in the rear of J. C. Bowring & Co's grocery store on First South Street. The cry of a woman's voice had attracted the attention of an old gentleman named Stevens, who lives in part of the house, who rushed to the door and immediately returned to the street crying "Fire! Fire!"

An old lady named Mrs. Katherine Boyd, residing in the house with her daughter, who has been confined to her bed with rheumatism, for two months.

In filling a lamp with coal oil from a five gallon can Mrs. Boyd had allowed the oil to overflow some of which fell upon her skirts. As she passed against the stove in the center of the room her skirts brushed against the coals in the grate and immediately took fire. She went to the south side of the room, placed the lamp in a bracket and on returning discovered the flames.

She called for help, her daughter, summoned all of her strength, rose from her bed, and tried to smother the flames but received a severe burn on the right hand, bruised her left arm and was helpless.

Mrs. Boyd ran out of doors and when assistance came she was doubled up, rolling on the ground and screaming and groaning in agony.

The flames were immediately extinguished and everyone present was in a state of consternation, who, upon examination, discovered that the body was badly burned. Her legs, arms, breast, neck, face, head and hands were fearfully blistered and seared. Her cries of pain were heartrending. Everything possible was done to obviate her excruciating agony. Her daughter was removed to Mr. Chad's store.

Later in the evening Mrs. Boyd was taken to the Sisters' Hospital, where she breathed her last at midnight. The last rites over the remains were held at ten o'clock this morning at the Fortunate Ward School-house.

Mrs. Boyd, thirty-three years of age and leaves four children to mourn her sudden and horrible demise.
There was no damage done to the building.

THE FIRE FLOOD.

THE SECOND VICTIM IN TWENTY-FOUR HOURS—ARMSTRONG'S OLD MILL BURNED.

At about 20 minutes to 4 o'clock last evening, a lady and gentleman were walking along North Temple Street, just opposite the old Kimball grist mill, saw issuing from the building a puff of smoke, which steadily increased until it became evident to the on-lookers that a fire was in progress in the building. They gave the alarm and a crowd rushed to the scene.
—Meanwhile the family of Mr. Jacobs, the miller, who lived in the northwest part of the mill, had discovered the fire, and the screams and cries of women and children rent the air with piteous sounds. Sympathetic neighbors assisted in conveying their household goods to a place of safety, beyond the reach of the devouring elements.

The arrival of the fire brigade, headed by Chief Engineer Ottinger, a few minutes later, made a stir in the excited crowd that had gathered to witness the spectacle of the blazing building. The flames had gained rapid headway. A portion of the mill was of boards and as inflammable as tinder. Despite the efforts of the firemen, who worked at a disad vantage, owing to the lightness of the pressure from the mains in the vicinity, and the non-arrival of the engine, the devouring elements made steady strides forward on its mission of destruction.

Besides the timbers of the mill, which fell an easy prey, a quantity of flour in the west side of the mill and a thousand bushels of wheat and some chopped feed took fire and helped to enhance the progress. One stream had been playing since a quarter to 5 o'clock, but with comparative lack of force, from causes already mentioned. About ten minutes to 6 o'clock the engine got on the ground and soon after another stream began spouting upon the flames.

By dusk the fire was under control, and soon after dark the last smoldering embers were extinguished, to all appearance, but at 7 p. m. the firemen were again called to the scene to quench a small blaze which had kindled. In the course of forty minutes all was made safe, and the firemen returned wet and cold to their headquarters.

The spectacle of the fire when at its height was gloomily grand. Dense volumes of black and pale smoke rolled up to darken the heavens, while below a mass of bright flames lit up the surroundings with a lurid glare. The smoke of the fire of the flour of the large Patent Roller Mill of Armstrong and Co., and other neighboring buildings, were prevented from taking fire. There was not much danger of the big mill catching, as it is fireproof, so far as possible; still it might have been seriously damaged had the wind been blowing at the time of extinguishing the flames been less viciously prosecuted.

The loss will probably aggregate $8,000. The mill was the property of Frank Armstrong, Esq., and the wheat belonged to the Pioneer Patent Roller Mill.

The cause of the fire is supposed to be incendiary, though others ascribed it to spontaneous combustion. There had been no grinding going on there for some time, though the machinery was in use for chopping feed. Some of the iron machinery was not materially injured, but the wooden parts of the mill were pretty thoroughly destroyed. The loss to the Jacobs family will not be heavy, as most of their effects were carried out at an early stage of the fire, and it was put out before the flames reached the back part of the building. Nothing was injured.

THIRD DISTRICT COURT.

Proceedings before Chief Justice Zane on Saturday, Nov. 29th.

Most of the time on Saturday was occupied by the hearing of the case of A. T. Manning vs. W. H. Yearlan et al. After examination of a number of witnesses and all the testimony was heard, counsel for each party addressed the jury. The case was then given to the jury, with permission to stand in a sealed verdict on Monday morning.

William Jennings vs. Mammoth Mining Company; Elias Morris substituted as plaintiff, and case continued for the term.

Catherine S. Margolis et al. vs. Anthony Code et al. Defendants were granted twenty days additional time to file statement on motion for a new trial. John Clayton was admitted citizenship.

TERRITORIAL ITEMS.

CULLED FROM LATEST EXCHANGES.

—Since the earthquake, springs of water have broken out in several places in the neighborhood of Liberty, near Lake County, Idaho, while others have dried up.

—On Monday last, Mr. John Taylor, Sen., of Plain City, Weber County, was loading sagebrush on the mountain north of Hot Springs, when his horse suddenly started at a breakneck speed, "Uncle John," as he is familiarly called, was thrown from the wagon and was severely shaken up, but no bones were broken. His horse continued in their flight, breaking the wagon. One of the horses had its leg broken.

A gentleman who is a resident of what he states, says that last Thursday evening, as the freight train reached a point just north of Preston, Idaho, the caboose was assailed by a shower of stones and missiles that were evidently thrown by a number of persons lying in ambush. Some time since a horse of his was killed by a train in this vicinity, and it is understood that the owners did not receive from the company as high a price for it as they demanded, and it is inferred that the above described assault, which has been several times repeated, is of motives of revenge.

A man named Lutz, living at Restburg, Idaho, who has a reputation of many years standing, while sitting severely on Friday, Nov. 21, forced the rupture down and was unable to replace it. A strangled condition ensued. On Tuesday, Dr. Ormsby, of Logan, was sent for and reached the patient about noon on Wednesday. The case had assumed a critical stage. There was no hope except in an operation which the Doctor performed. After doing all he could for the unfortunate man, the Doctor left him still in a dangerous condition.

—About half past one last Monday morning, Justice Stevens, of Millard, was rudely awakened from his slumbers by a young man who desired the Justice's services in settling the judicial knot between the aforesaid young man and a young lady who accompanied him. Learning it was neither more nor less than a runaway match, Mr. Stevens politely declined, whereupon the enraptured couple went to the office of B. A. Spear, who satisfied their request by giving over the judicial ceremony. Next morning Mr. W. H. H. Dotson, of Minersville, the father of the bride, arrived there in search of his runaway daughter, when to his intense anger he discovered that she had become a wife. Quite a sensation was created by the romantic affair both in Millard, where the occurrence took place, and in Minersville where the parties hailed from. The name of the young man is Frank Billingsley and of his bride, Miss Dotson. It seems that her parents had made arrangement to start Monday morning, on a somewhat lengthy visit to Arizona, intending to take their daughter Minnie, along with them, when the lady concluded to elope. Although very angry, Mr. Dotson did not let the affair interfere with their contemplated journey, but started Monday as previously arranged, but one passenger less.

—On the night of the 21st last, the Special Families, who stole several horses in Kane County some time ago, broke jail at Beaver and made good their escape. It appears that an accomplice had managed to get into the hall of the jail by unlocking the north door, which could easily be done, as the lock was but a common one that many keys would fit. The cell door being fastened with a padlock was opened with a round piece of the blasting building. The indentation of the lock. The south door of the hall was merely fastened by a night latch to prevent entrance from the outside, through which he made his escape.

His accomplice had a horse ready for him, as appeared from the tracks which were followed by sheriff Wm. Hutchings, accompanied by his deputy, Mr. George Hutchings. They followed the tracks in their meanderings to the black hills southwest of Summit, in Iron County. Being unable to trace them further they went to Cedar City and here a guard placed around the town, hoping they would come in, but did not. After offering a reward of $50, and putting some Indians on the trail they returned to Beaver Monday evening. A telegram to Sheriff Hutchings, from Cedar City, subsequently announced the recapture of the prisoner.

The Corp. Car.—A dispatch from Mr. J. F. Ellis, dated Nov. 20th, at Laramie, W. T., informed Mr. A. M. Munser of this city, that the corp would reach Ogden this morning.

Abandoning the Lecture Field.—The lectures by Mr. James A. MacKnight on "United States History," at the Theatre last week, were not financially successful. He had decided to relinquish his project of lecturing through the Territory with the lecture and views, and after showing them to Lehi to-morrow night, in fulfillment of an agreement made owing to the failure of the stereopticon at his lecture in that place a few nights ago, will return to the city and give up the lecture field. Mr. MacKnight has accepted a position on the local columns of the Salt Lake Tribune.

Odd Fellows' Reception.—The Odd Fellows of Ogden and Brigham were met at the D. & R. G. depot on Saturday evening by about one hundred members of the lodges of this city, who, headed by the State Secretary, banded march with their brethren to the I. O. O. F. Hall in wagon. The procession, a block of about 100, entered a very pretty sight as it passed down Main Street.

After arriving at their hall, an address of welcome was delivered by J. J. Thomas, which was responded to by Mr. Wadsworth, of Ogden. The address was very interesting, and the speakers agreed nothing in making the feast a success, and was the recipient of many merited compliments.

Fifth Ward Bishopric.—The Presidency of the Stake visited the Fifth Ward, Sunday evening, and after addressing the congregation proceeded to nominate a Bishopric for the Ward. President Angus M. Cannon, presided, the names of Messrs. M. T. Seddon, for Bishop and Charles J. Briggs and Henry Harrow for First and Second Counselors. They were each and severally sustained by the unanimous vote of the meeting, which was very large. The brethren selected—all young and active men—each signified acceptance of the office, and they were ordained High Priests and set apart by the same Presiding Elder, under the direction of the President of the Church. Elder John Page, who has temporarily presided over the Ward with great success, was commended for his diligence and faithfulness. Excellent singing by the Ward choir was rendered under the leadership of Elder George Clark.
