Absolutely Perfect.
Having kept house for over thirty years and used several cook stoves, desire to say that we are better pleased with the operations of the CHARTER OAK than any stove we ever used. It bakes splendid, requires but a small amount of fuel, water in the reservoir heats just right; take it all in all, we think it an absolutely perfect stove and give it an unqualified approval.

A CARD.

Ogden, Oct. 28, 1876.

Editor Deseret News:
My attention is called to a communication in a Salt Lake paper this morning regarding the expose to be made by Prof. Baldwin on Monday evening, and in reply all I have to say, is that Prof. Baldwin will fulfill any and all his advertisements, fully exposing the most renowned mediums. Baldwin comes endorsed by the most eminent men of the east and west, many of them thanking him for the good he is doing, inasmuch as he brings to the light of day the inner workings of a belief that has done much to corrupt the sentiments of many good men and women in the land. Thus it is no wonder that the upholders of the spiritual doctrine rush to arms and into print at the approach of their arch foe, Baldwin. He will first duplicate, with all the weird surroundings and impressive mysteries of the seance room, all the tests of the leading mediums, and then explain the same in full light on the open stage. As an earnest of what he can do, founded upon his profound conviction that any and all mediums are frauds, he offers a challenge of $500, agreeing to duplicate the tests of any medium anywhere in the world. (Read his challenge.) In conclusion, I will say that to make $500, is to produce a medium that will meet and conquer Baldwin.

Very truly,
E. C. HALLER,
Agent of Prof. Baldwin.

PASSING away! passing away!

THE RAPID popularity gained in this Territory by the OLIVER (CHILD) PLOW during the short time it has been introduced here is something marvelous. This splendid plow has distanced all competition, and now stands at the head of the list, unequalled by any implement of the kind ever brought to Utah. With the Oliver Plow FALL PLOWING can be done QUICKLY and EASILY, no matter how hard and dry the soil. It is offered on the most favorable terms by Howard Seabro, at the Bain Wagon Depot, on a half block south of Theatre.

LYON'S KATHARON is an invigorating tonic vegetable preparation, positively free from any mineral or deleterious substances. It is the most delightful of all hair dressing—cooling the head, allaying irritation, curing headache and throbbing temples, making the hair strong, fragrant, glossy and obedient to control, so clearly to use that it will not soil the finest fabric, causing the hair to grow luxuriant and beautifully, removing dandruff and pimples. No man or woman can become bald who will use the Lyon's Katharon properly.

RED CANYON AND ROCK SPRINGS COAL.—The only reliable market for lump, assorted and egg coal. Large stock always on hand, and full weights guaranteed. Prices low, and special attention given to suit the wants of the public. Office, 65 Main Street.

The Relief Society Woman's Missionary Association is opening a store for the sale of home manufactures in the building lately occupied by the Woman's Centennial Territorial Fair, known as the Old Constitution Building, opposite Z. C. M. I. store.

We are now ready to receive home-made useful and ornamental articles of all kinds, which we will sell on commission.

Many of our citizens have felt the want of a place devoted exclusively to Utah productions, and now that we are, in accordance with the wishes of President Young, uniting our humble efforts in this direction, we confidently trust that we shall not only have the support of all branches of the Relief Society throughout the valleys of the mountains, but also of our brethren and all others who feel an interest in the future welfare and prosperity of Utah.

Commencing as we do without capital, we wish it distinctly understood that at present we can only sell on commission.

ELIZA R. SNOW, President.
PRISCILLA M. STANLEY,
Vice President.
ELIZABETH DAVIS,
Secretary.

Chopped Her Thumb Off.

Last night a little daughter of Mr. Wm. B. Brown, of the 13th Ward, had the thumb nearly severed from her left hand, by her little brother, with an axe, while the two were at play together. The unfortunate little girl was taken to Dr. Anderson, who attended to the injury.

Missionary Departed.—Elder John A. Groesbeck, missionary to the States, left this morning for the east. He purposes spending a few days in Missouri and then joining a number of other Elders who will leave here on November 1st, and who are destined for the same missionary district, which includes the States of Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maryland.

University of Deseret.—The first term of the present academic year of the University of Deseret closed yesterday, and the second will open on Monday, the 30th inst. The only changes that will be made in the studies will be, in history, from ancient to medieval Latin, and in the closing and from Zoology to Physiology.

Students.—Nothing in the eastern part of the City can now travel to and from the University on the street car at reduced rates, the necessary arrangements having been made with the Street Railroad Company.

A Relic of Tyranny Revived.—A relic of Mexican oppression has been recently revived in the Third District Court. Aliens making application for citizenship are put through a catechism, process that is flatly unconstitutional and that never was anticipated by the law. Every right-minded person cannot think otherwise than that the interrogation put to an applicant, under the circumstances alluded to, in regard to his social relations are not only unwarranted but savor strongly of impertinence. Even the witnesses are required to state positively whether the applicant is "living in polygamy," and if the answer be in the negative the party is declared from citizenship. The object of this action on the part of legal chieftains is too plain to be misunderstood, and the pretext of upholding the dignity of the law is altogether too flimsy. It would hold water, if it were a political campaign dodge.

If the maintenance of the law were the purpose, this style of interrogation would not be so unmitigatedly one-sided, as applied strictly and exclusively to the "Mormons," who have rights, whether those who deprive them of their legitimate privileges recognize them or not.

If the upholding of the law be the object, it might be asked, in the name of right and justice, why witnesses and applicants for citizenship are not asked whether the candidate for citizenship is a gambler, a thief, a frequenter of houses of prostitution, an adulterer and fornicator, etc., etc. If the law does not touch such questions, these and other applicants on such grounds as it would not apply to the "Mormons," they being, as a rule, the most virtuous, honorable, and law-abiding people in the country. It would affect others, but not them.

To deprive a person from citizenship because he is living in polygamy is illegal, and the party who, because he may wield a little brief authority, refuses to naturalize citizens on that ground, goes beyond the expressed sentiment of the Congress of the United States, and beyond the law. The vindictive framers of the Poland law included in the original draft a provision or clause that excluded all bigamists and polygamists from sitting on juries, one of the most important and highest prerogatives of a citizen. Congress, however, was not so corrupt and prejudiced as to induce a legislator to deprive a people of the privileges of citizenship because of their religious belief and practice, and therefore very properly struck out the obnoxious clause, substituting, in place of it, a provision that gives the "Mormons" an equal representation on the jury lists with non-"Mormons."

It shows that Congress, and consequently the Poland law, prospective as that is, recognize the right of "Mormons" to exercise the rights of citizenship, and, as a natural sequence, their right to become citizens under the usual formalities and conditions.

Why then should officials be so zealous in their endeavors to shut the "Mormons" out of what belongs to them as to run over the constitution, the law and the expressed will of the National Legislature? There is nothing to be gained by such a despotic and unjustifiable course.

Too Much Politics.
It is really getting to be a serious question whether we do not have too much politics. Every four years there is a grand struggle over all the counties offices in the country. Every two years nearly every State goes through a similar contest on a smaller scale, and every year there are members of the Legislature to elect, in some States Governors to elect, and in almost every city a school of local officers, which must needs be wrangled over because there are half a hundred local politicians ambitious of each post.

There is much to be said in favor of frequent elections. They keep the people from that lethargy which is most fatal to liberty; they make officers speedily accountable to those who have entrusted them with the government; they insure the people local and exact representation. On the other hand they absorb a large proportion of money, time and energy that might more profitably be expended elsewhere; they damage the ordinary business of life; they drive out, especially from local and legislative places, the men who have just begun to learn something of their duties, and put in men who must begin at the beginning and learn it all over again. It would be difficult, for instance, to find any reason why the term of a good county clerk or sheriff should not be of a reasonable length, except in the hands of the politicians. There is something of reason in the protest of the brown-stone voter who stays away from the polls. If he goes there he must cast his vote, certainly for local officers, for many men of whom he knows absolutely nothing. There is too much politics abroad for the average citizen to master. That there is some reason for changing the term of the Governor of this State, and in the increase of sentiment for a longer presidential term with the limitation that there shall be no re-election. Not so much, perhaps, in these greater as in the less offices is some reform of administration needed that will allow us to retain for a reasonable time servants who have shown themselves faithful.—New York Tribune.

WHAT WAS THE MATTER WITH MR. BLAINE?—Mr. Blaine was very sick, indeed, during the days when the National republican convention was in session in Cincinnati, and it is the fault of his physicians, more than for any other reason, that any question has ever been raised about the attack which prostrated him on the morning of Sunday, the 13th of June. It will be remembered that he walked with his wife to the Congregational Church, in this city, on the morning of that day, and while standing in the porch, became suddenly ill, and was taken to be taken home, became insensible, and afterward lay for two whole days in a state of syncope. At the end of that period of prostration he recovered the full control of his faculties, and very soon afterward became fully restored. Now, there was nothing mysterious in this sudden prostration and equally sudden recovery, as any competent physician would have been able to explain. But this, it is said, any good doctor knowing Mr. Blaine's mental and physical condition during the early days of June, and the extraordinary exertions and strain upon his nervous system for the month previous, could have accurately foretold his prostration, and could have aided with equal accuracy that if there was not an immediate fatal result, his recovery would be extremely rapid. Mr. Blaine's attack, it is said, was well known to the medical profession as a matter of fact, and it had been a properly named and described to the world at the time Mr. Blaine would have been regarded the many sharp blows that have been said about it. He suffered not from a congestion of the brain, but from an absolute diminution of blood, and the weakness of the system, caused by the extreme physical and mental strain of the preceding weeks.—Wash. TO CALIFORNIA.
We don't give this for an fall accomplishment, but it is very strongly rumored that Cedar Rapids is to be the half-way station between Chicago and Council Bluffs.

If this is to be, and some experiments have been made to that end, we suppose it is an account of the superior condition of the road. A trip on the steel rail and well ballasted road, is not any more now, if much made to that end, we suppose it is an account of the superior condition of the road. A trip on the steel rail and well ballasted road, is not any more now, if much made to that end, we suppose it is an account of the superior condition of the road.

It is necessary for us to say that the C. & N. W. R. is a first class road in every particular, that it rides as easy as sitting in a "rocking chair," that its coaches are coaches, that its employees are the most polite and affable gentlemen the traveling public can meet or will meet in a lifetime of travel—the rapid de corps of the employees, if we may so say, is at a high standard; we say we need not say this in a newspaper, it is self evident to every traveler on the road. But in the future these are to be increased; we suppose the road will be increased, if possible, the superb trains will be more superb; there is to be no train more complete, either for comfort or safety, than the world's commercial metropolis for the golden gate, than the GREAT TRAINS OF THE PACIFIC AND NORTH-WESTERN RAILWAY—THE ONLY COMPANY RUNNING OUT OF CHICAGO THAT HAS A ROAD SO REGULAR THAT THEY ARE NOT AFRAID TO RUN AT NIGHT, and that they are the most perfect construction, run with the hand of IRON KEELS, AND A HEAD OF BRAINS, WITHOUT ANY FEAR OF ACCIDENT OR INCONVENIENCE.

Every employee on the road feels a personal interest in the North-Western Railway; it is the "clapper" road in the West, and so far as anything he can do it will continue so to be.

This is the TRANS-CONTINENTAL RAILWAY FROM THE GREAT LAKES TO THE GREAT PACIFIC OCEAN.

The only time traveler speaks in high glow of the "ease and comfort" of these days of steel in contrast with the pioneer days of dirt, of the smooth road in the days of the "clapper" road in the West, and so far as anything he can do it will continue so to be.

It is with pride we mention these things, and join the general shout along the line, for the sake of local officers, for many men of whom he knows
