Made His Escape—Meeting of Bondholders.

NEW YORK, 29. — Charles Degrath, of this city, who was arrested last Monday on a requisition from the Governor of Illinois, and handed over to the sheriff of Alexander county, made his escape by jumping from a train near Altoona; the charge against him was perjury.

At a meeting of the bond holders of the Northern Pacific R. R., the report of the purchasing commission was read; the report of the receiver, G. W. Cass, was also read and unanimously adopted, after which the following directors were elected for the ensuing year—Edwin M. Lewis, Johnston Livingston, J. K. Moorhead, Jno. N. Hutchinson, Geo. Stark, John M. Dennison, Geo. W. Cass, C. B. Wright, Joseph Dilworth, B. P. Cheney, Charlemagne Tower, Frederick Billings and J. Fraley Smith.

The Crops.

WASHINGTON, 29.—The Agricultural Report for August and September gives the condition of wheat when harvested for all States as 79 per cent., with the quality poorer than for several years; the oat crop is superior in quantity and quality, and has been mostly secured in good condition. The average of the barley crop for the country is 85.

Nominated for Governor.

WORCESTER, Mass., 29.—Rice was nominated for governor on the third ballot.

Corralled by Indians.

CHEYENNE, 29.—John Phillips, just arrived here from Bridger's Ferry, midway between Forts Laramie and Fetterman, states that Indians, numbering about sixty, had his hay train, consisting of twelve men and 130 head of work cattle and wagons, corralled at the above named point on the 22nd inst.; they fought for two hours and a half, and the Indians killed and drove off thirty head of cattle and four horses, and wounded one man. Dennison and Doyne were in charge of the train, and were cutting hay for the government on the south side of the Platte.

Affairs at Fall River.

FALL RIVER, Mass., 29.—All is quiet. The mills through the city had an increase of operatives this p. m. The contract of the manufacturers, dated September 1st, 1875, and which the help signed at that time, is the same as the present, except that the former had this addition—"In case of a turn-out or strike at any other mill or mills in Fall River, we will continue at our work, and faithfully perform the same as if no such strike or turn-out occurred, neither standing in fear of or being over-awed by threats of violence from any person or persons." A meeting will be held in the park to morrow, under the auspices of the Amalgamated Sons; it will be addressed by the Reverend Jesse H. Jones and other spinners and weavers. The association has sent out delegates to solicit aid from the cotton operatives of New England. The following telegram was received by Henry Servey to-day:

"New York, 29.

"Persevere, brave workmen of Fall River, the United Workmen offer you their sympathy.

(Signed) "J. MCDONALD."

Later from Indianola.

GALVESTON, 29.—A steamship, to-day, brings the following additional from Indianola: Along the entire route are the broken wrecks of houses. At Matagorda Island but one house is left standing; all at Satori are gone; at Indianola there is nothing but ruin, destruction and desolation seen; houses are broken down and piled on the top of each other; the most notable ruin is the Episcopal Church, lying on the bank of a bayou; it formerly stood eight blocks higher up, in the heart of the city. There are fifteen bayous which were cut by the waves, from the bay into the city; but twelve houses are left standing, and they are all more or less damaged.

President Grant Makes a Good Speech.

DESMOINES, Ia., 29.—At the reunion here of the Army of Tennessee, President Grant being called on for a speech, said he had concluded to disappoint those who called him first, in the expectation of getting a short speech, and he had jotted down some things that he wished to say. He then expressed his gratification in recalling the days when they had suffered together to preserve a government they believed worth fighting and even dying for. "We will not," said he, "deny to any of those who fought against the U. S. any privilege under the government which we claim for ourselves; on the contrary, we welcome all such, who come forward in good faith to help build up the waste places and to perpetuate our institutions against all enemies, as brothers in full interest with us in a common heritage. But we are not prepared to apologize for the past. To guard against a recurrence of those days, we must begin by guarding against every enemy whose aim is to prevent the prosperity of free republican institutions. I do not bring into this assemblage politics, certainly not partizan politics; but it is a fair subject for the soldiers, in their deliberations, to consider what may be necessary to secure the prize for which they battled." The President urged the cultivation of intelligence among the people in regard to political matters, and said, "If we are to have another contest in the near future of our national existence, I predict that the dividing line will not be Mason and Dixon's, but between patriotism and intelligence on the one side, and superstition, ambition and ignorance on the other. In this centennial year the work of strengthening the foundation of the structure begun by our forefathers a hundred years ago at Lexington, should be begun. Let us all labor for more security of free thought, free speech, free press, pure morals, unfettered religious sentiments, and for equal rights and privileges for all men, irrespective of nationality, color or religion. Let us encourage free schools, and resolve that not one dollar appropriated to them shall be applied to support any sectarian school. Let us resolve that neither State nor nation shall support any institutions save those where every child in the land may get a common school education unmixed with atheist, pagan, or sectarian teachings. Leave the matter of religion to the family, and keep the Church and State for ever separate. With these safeguards, I believe that the battles which created the army of Tennessee will not have been fought in vain." The President's speech was greeted with applause repeated again and again. General Sherman closed the speaking for the night with a humorous and short speech, in which he said he wished all the speeches made here to-night could be printed in full and scattered broadcast throughout the South, to show the people there how these soldiers of the North felt towards them.

WESTERN.

Will be Turned Over to Leland.

SAN FRANCISCO, 29. — Arrangements have been made by which Ralston's country seat at Belmont, twenty-five miles from the city, will be turned over to the use of Leland, of the Palace Hotel, and conducted as a rural adjunct of that establishment; the Palace will be opened to the public on the 12th of October.

Ralston's Will.

The last will and testament of W. C. Ralston was filed for probate to-day. It is brief, and bequeaths, after the payment of his just debts, all his property, real and personal, to his wife without restriction, leaving the provision for the children to her affection. John D. Fry, Wm. Sharon, Andrew J. Ralston, and Thos. Brown are appointed executors without bonds.

Failed—Will Reopen on Saturday.

The rumor last evening of a prominent grain firm being in trouble is confirmed by the announcement of the suspension of Chas. Clayton & Co., grain and produce commission merchants; the cause is unsettled debts among farmers and the stringency of the money market. The firm banked with the Bank of California, the suspension of which deprived them of their usual facilities for meeting collection day, other banks having all they could do to accommodate their regular patrons; the firm has assets in excess of its liabilities. A meeting of the creditors will take place to-morrow, and it is hoped the firm will go on in a few days.

It is now announced that the Bank of California will open on Saturday; the event is to be celebrated by a display of bunting on California Street.

News from China and Japan.

Arrived the O. and O. Co's. steamer Oceanic, from Hongkong, via Yokohama. Hongkong, Sept. 2, Shanghai, Sept. 4.—There was a heavy typhoon at Chifu, Aug. 21st, during which three European and many Chinese vessels were wrecked and thirty lives lost.

While pressing the settlement of the Margary case, the British minister did not continue to Pekin, as at first intended, but remained at Tientsin, and the final acquiescence of the Chinese in his demands was reluctantly given; all indications point to the certainty that if resistance had been determined on, war would have been far more desperate than ever before. The hostile preparations were more comprehensive than usual, and among the measures contemplated was the burning of the open ports and a general sacrifice of Chinese property, for the sake of injuring its foreign interests. The councils of a few high officials, strong in influence though a minority in number, averted the contest, but preparations are still progressing and the attitude of China is more menacing than at any time since 1861. The terms demanded by Mr. Wade greatly increased the ill feeling. The claim for punishing the murderers and the indemnity were recognized as not extraordinary, but the introduction of commercial demands into such a question, as in connection with the liken tax, was bitterly complained of.

Yokohama, Sept. 11.—Generals Upton and Forsyth, and Major Sanger, of the United States army, commissioned to inspect the armies of Asia and Europe, were hospitably received by the Japanese authorities and given all opportunities for a thorough examination; their reports were highly and unexpectedly eulogistic.
