PITTSBURG, 1.—The Post's Union-town, Pa., special says that on Thursday last at Fair Chance, several pounds of dynamite were discovered in the office of the Fair Chance Furnace Company, so arranged in connection with a desk that if one accustomed to use it had leaned upon it, an explosion would have followed; which would have caused untold loss of life and property.

CHICAGO, 2.—The Inter-Ocean in a late edition says that Mr. Ames, the millionaire coal merchant, is the victim of Theodore S. Mize, his confidential bookkeeper and cashier, and secretary of the Chicago and Minook Coal and Coke Company, who perpetrated a robbery that is estimated at $100,000, and may exceed that. Mize, who is one of the best known men in local business circles, and a member of the Union Veteran Club and Apollo Club, has been in the employ of Ames since 1872. Within a couple of years from the time he entered Ames' employ he began a systematic course of robbery, covering up his dishonesty by false entries and by other schemes. At first his stealings were comparatively small, but of late years it is rumored that his peculations frequently reached thousands of dollars in a single month. About a week ago, Ames discovered something wrong with the money account, and it is said he taxed Mize with dishonesty. Mize confessed his guilt and said he had been robbing his employer for years. He begged for mercy and promised restitution so far as lay within his power. Since then all his property which could be found, including a fine house, has been turned over to Ames.

WASHINGTON, 2.—The total receipts from internal revenue during the first four months of the present fiscal year were $38,405,000; a decrease of $1,468,000 as compared with the receipts during the corresponding period last year. There was a decrease of $2,744,000 in collections from spirits, an increase of $308,000 from tobacco, an increase of $375,000 from fermented liquors and an increase of $77,000 on miscellaneous items. Commissioner Miller said the receipts for the present fiscal year would be about one million in excess of the receipts for last year, notwithstanding the large decrease shown in collections for the first quarter.

PITTSBURG, 2.—A circular has been issued by the national committee of the united labor organizations containing a declaration of their principles and the objects of their industrial movements. A convention will be held at Cincinnati, February 22, 1887. The circular sets forth that the representatives renounce all other political parties to the end that legitimate labor may be emancipated and the government restored to the people. The plan of organization contemplates appointing organizers for each State and Territory. The State organizer is to appoint a district organizer for each congressional district in his State, and the district organizer is to appoint local organizers. The basis of representation gives each congressional district one representative for each of the following orders or organizations in such district: Knights of Labor, trades unions, Greenback-Labor party, Farmers' Alliance, Grangers and patrons of Husbandry, Anti-Monopoly Leagues, People's party, Farmers and Laborers' Co-operative Union, agricultural and soldiers' organizations and all other organizations which endorse and subscribe to the new declaration of independence.

FOREIGN.

BERLIN, 29.—Emperor William, in receiving to-day the President and Vice-Presidents of the Reichstag, referred to the work now before the members as of the first importance to the Empire. He hoped the military bill would be passed willingly. Other Parliaments showed themselves disposed to meet the demands for army expenditures, and Germany had to consider that she is already outstripped by neighboring States. He concluded by expressing his belief that peace would be maintained.

A Liberal paper declares that a majority in favor of increasing the peace effective strength of the army is assured, but that the German Liberals desire to vote a credit for a shorter period than the Septennate. The general tenor of the Progressist organs points to efforts on the part of the Opposition to limit the term of military service to three years.

DUBLIN, 30.—The case of the Government against John Dillon came up for hearing to-day, before the court of Queen's Bench. Dillon appeared accompanied by Lord Mayor Sullivan and Messrs. Healy and Sexton. Great crowds surrounded the building and court room, and the corridors were packed. Dillon was greeted with tremendous cheering by the people when he arrived and his passage into the court was amid enthusiastic applause. Healy on behalf of Dillon applied for an adjournment of the hearing. He said he had only been instructed as to the nature of the crown's complaint last night, and as the crown's affidavits were exceedingly voluminous, defense would require time to properly study them. Counsel for the Government made no opposition to Healy's request and the hearing was adjourned until Dec. 11th next.

BERLIN, 1.—The Reichstag concluded the discussion on the Budget. It decided to refer certain sections to the Budget Committee, and deal with the remainder at the plenary sitting of the House.

In the course of the debate Herr Jacoby, Secretary of State for the Imperial Treasury, denied that the establishment of a tobacco monopoly formed a part of the programme of the government.

Justus Klotz, Progressist, candidate for the Reichstag in the first electoral district of Berlin, is conducting a vigorous campaign, addressing meetings wherever the Social Democratic element is prominent. His speeches are received with enthusiasm.

Herr Keichensperger's duelling bill, now before the Reichstag, aims chiefly at the suppression of duelling by lot, by which method the person drawing the fatal lot commits suicide within a fixed time. The press generally ridicules the bill and asks Keichensperger to produce authentic cases of such duels.

OGDEN DEPARTMENT.

DISTRICT COURT PROCEEDINGS.

AT TEN O'CLOCK Thanksgiving morning his honor took his seat. The clerk read the proceedings of the 24th, which was ratified by the Court.

W. H. Dickson, Esq., prosecuting attorney, came up from the capital and took his seat among the members of the bar, and the court room was again filled with spectators from various parts of the country.

The special call of the case of the People vs. Charles Branson, charged with grand larceny, was the first case this morning. W. H. Dickson, Esq., prosecuted, and Messrs. N. Tanner, Jr., and James N. Kimball, Esq., were retained for the defense. A jury was impaneled to try the case. The names of the jurors are: Daniel Woodland, F. Foy, George Burrows, James S. Thomas, Henry Larson, Mark Fletcher, Joseph Jenkins, W. M. Barry, James O'Connor, Thomas Grant, W. M. Bowman and Andrew Larson. The clerk then read the indictment which charged the defendant with having, on the 22d of June last stolen national bank notes to the amount of $180, from D. C. Llewellyn, in Box Elder County. The alleged victim was the first witness.

He stated that he was asleep in a second class car on the C. P. R. R. on the night of the day named, and he had about $175 or $180 in a pocket book in the left pocket of his pants; he was asleep at the time. When he awoke the book and money were gone. The train was going west at the time, but he could not tell at what part of the road they were, or whether they were near any particular station at the time the cash was taken. It consisted in part of National bank notes and part United States currency. He also had a little silver in the same pocket when he left Ogden, and that was in his pocket when he woke up. He did not remember the numbers of the bills. It was between five and six o'clock next morning when he missed his money. Witness' present residence is San Francisco, Cal.

N. Tanner, Jr., was then called as a witness for the prosecution, and said he did not remember the exact date he was engaged for the defense—it was just previous to the finding of the indictment. He received some money from the defendant. He was asked what kind of money. Mr. Kimball objected to the question as being immaterial. Overruled. Witness then said he received a $50 bill in currency from defendant in jail. By currency he meant paper money.

Mrs. Kate Allen was the next witness for the prosecution. She had seen the defendant in an upper berth of the railroad car on the 22nd of June—also saw the complaining witness the same time and place. Defendant leaned from his berth and moved the curtains of the berth of witness; she asked why he did so—he said he was sleeping there; he leaped from his berth, reached down a slant, took up her satchel, "fumbled it over"; took up her looking glass and examined it. Did not see him take any money.

John R. Batchelor, builder, of San Francisco, Cal., was on the train in question and saw Mr. Llewellyn and Mrs. Allen on it at the time named in the complaint. First saw defendant on a train in the east. He left him at Denver and subsequently saw him again on the train at Ogden. Did not see defendant go into the car of complainant, but saw him get out of his berth and go towards the car complainant was in. This was about midnight—exactly five minutes to twelve o'clock.

At that time defendant came in again and got up into his own berth. Witness was on his way to San Francisco, and occupied his own car all the way home.

E. S. Luty was sworn. He is conductor on the train in question and saw the defendant there first in the smoking car Corinne. He ran as far as Carila, met first eastbound train at Tacoma. Searched the train near Wells, Nev., for defendant but could not find him he having disappeared during the night.

Mrs. Kate Llewellyn, wife of [complainant, next testified. Was on the train with her husband. Saw defendant at night in the same car when she was in her berth. He was pushing against the berth of Mr. Allen. Her husband asked him what he was doing. He said he "was sleeping" and if he was disturbed he would go to a car by himself.

R. H. Slater, of Hot Springs, was there on the 22nd of June. Saw the defendant there with some lady whom he claimed as his wife. On the 21st they came to Ogden. He returned to the springs next morning at 11:05.

Luty was recalled and said they seldom have passengers on their train for the Hot Springs, but if they do they, by request or permission, put them off opposite the springs. The west-bound passenger train leaves Ogden at 7 p. m., local time.

B. F. Deal, detective-officer of San Francisco, deposed to arresting the defendant on the 1st of July last between Ogden and Corinne. When he first saw defendant he had no check, but saw him take one out of another man's hat, go into the closet, and came out again with it in his own hat. He gave the name of Chas. Branson. Witness searched him and found on his person 75 conductor's checks from San Francisco to various points on the roads south of that city, and some to places in other directions. They were here produced by witness as evidence. He also found several hotel cards, for Putnam, etc., in Southern California.

When arrested defendant said he had never been any further west than Corinne. The defense objected to the introduction of these articles. He also found $20 in gold, and ten and five dollars in greenbacks. When at Corinne he slipped him and made a thorough search of him. He also brought him to Ogden and searched there at the city jail, when the prisoner acknowledged that he had given a $30 note to Tanner which detective had not seen. He also had a diamond worth $125 concealed on his person.

Sheriff G. R. Belnap deposed to searching the defendant at the jail about the first of July and finding a diamond in the lining of his pants pocket.

Jailor M. F. Brown testified to the defendant being brought to the jail by Deal and being searched by both of them. No other person had searched him up to the time the prisoner was delivered to the sheriff that day. At 12:30 the court took recess till 2 p. m.

At that hour Mr. Kimball moved to strike out all the evidence of Mr. Deal relative to finding the railroad check on defendant. The objections were overruled and partly admitted. The testimony being all in, Mr. Ogden Hiles addressed the jury for the prosecution. He recapitulated the substance of the indictment, traced the movements of the defendant up to the date of finding, reviewed testimony of the witnesses and argued that upon no other theory could they explain the conduct of the accused at the time of his arrest and his conduct here, only that he is guilty. He pointed out with clearness that all the movements of the defendant on the train and at other times, and places indicate his guilt. His address was very brief and terse.

Mr. Tanner followed for the defense. He argued that in order to find the defendant guilty, they must find beyond a reasonable doubt that the money found in the possession of the accused was the identical money—bills of the actual denomination and kind as those which are alleged to be lost by Mr. Llewellyn, and also that Branson had taken them unlawfully from the complainant. He pointed out that it was shown in the testimony of Llewellyn, that he did not remember whether the $50 bill was a national bank bill or whether it was a United States treasury note, and so with some of the other bills alleged to have been stolen from him. He thought the jury were not satisfied beyond a reasonable doubt, that if the complainant had been robbed of the money alleged, that he defendant had stolen it from him. They must be satisfied of this fact before they can find him guilty. There has been no evidence adduced to warrant them in such a finding.

Mr. Kimball followed Tanner and argued in the same strain for a short time.

Mr. Dickson made the closing speech. He said he did not aver that any one point of the evidence taken alone was sufficient to convict, but he did claim that the whole taken together, was amply sufficient for this purpose. Counsel for defense had asked if there was any peculiar characteristic in the features of the defendant that would indicate crime. In answer, Mr. Dickson said, pointing to the accused man, "no man can look into that face, and look into those eyes without seeing crime written there." Counsel analyzed the whole of the evidence, and in his most scathing terms denounced the defendant as a liar and a thief, and said he was plying his profession as a robber when he was arrested by Deal on the train. He submitted the case to the jury, assuring them that Branson stole the money he is accused of, and that they ought to convict him. The Court then charged them and at 4:10 p. m. they retired.

While the jury were absent John Stoddard was arranged on two indictments charging him with unlawful cohabitation. He took the statutory time to plead. Emma, Sarah, Elizabeth Agnes and Ellen Stoddard were placed under two hundred dollar bonds to appear in this case on Wednesday morning next, December 1st the bonds of Elder Stoddard are $1,500 and $2,000 respectively.

At half past four the jury filed into court again, and answered to their names and presented a verdict of "guilty" against Charles W. Branson, as charged in the indictment. Next Monday is the time set for passing sentence on him.

Elder Stoddard then came into court again and pleaded "guilty" to the charges above named against him. He will be sentenced on Monday. Court then adjourned till 9:30 a. m. Saturday.

OUTSIDE OF COURT.

Mr. W. H. Dickson came up from the capital to attend the District Court Thursday. He was a guest at the Broom Hotel.

On Thanksgiving day many of the Ogden Nimrods went out by squads to the sage plains to hunt the jack rabbits. They returned in the evening with vehicles laden with many of those little quadrupeds which they had slain.

The mountain rangers who every fall go into the hills and distant valleys to chase the wild deer and the bounding roe, have bagged a number of this kind of game which they have brought home and placed upon the market. Among them are some fine, fat bucks which weigh several hundred pounds.

DR. SLATER, of the Hot Springs, says that he has replaced the building which was, some time since, destroyed by fire, with a fine new structure 65 by 120 feet, and which contains, all told, some 75 rooms for the accommodation of the numerous patrons of that popular health resort for invalids. The new building will be ready for occupation about Christmas.

ELDER JOHN STODDARD, who has been absent from home for some time past, returned to-day to see the children and some of his friends. Thursday afternoon he was arrested by Deputy Marshal Exum and brought into court. He is charged with unlawful cohabitation. He was bound over in the usual sum to appear when wanted for trial.

THE GRAND JURY ignored the bill against Mr. John Douglas, of West Weber, who was arrested several weeks since on a charge of unlawful cohabitation. He is now a free man. He is over 70 years of age, and is very feeble.
