SAVE YOUR HAIR

TO LEARN HOW TO DO IT READ AND HEED WHAT FOLLOWS.

SAVE YOUR HAIR.—The laws of Health and Longevity demand it, the customs of social life require it. The matter is of great importance in every way.

BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR.—It is the surpassing crown of glory, and for the loss of it there is no compensation.

CULTIVATE YOUR HAIR.—For by no other means can it be saved and beautified.

LYON'S

KATHAIRON,

Discovered thirty-five years ago by Prof. Lyon, of Vienna, is the most perfect preparation in the world for preserving and beautifying the hair.

Besides being the best hair dressing ever produced, Lyon's Kathairon will positively prevent grayness, and will restore new hair to bald heads, if the roots and follicles are not destroyed.

Constantly performs these seeming miracles, of which the following is a

A FAIR SPECIMEN

I had been entirely bald for several years, constitutional, I suppose. I used a few bottles of Kathairon, and, to my great surprise, I have a thick growth of young hair.

COL. JOHN L. DORRANCE, U. S. A.

In every important respect the Kathairon is absolutely incomparable. It is unequaled.

1. To Cure Baldness.
2. To Restore Gray Hair.
3. To Remove Dandruff.
4. To Dress and Beautify the Hair.

BEAR IN MIND.—The Kathairon is no sticky paste of sulphur and sugar-of-lead, to paint and damb the hair and paralyze the brain. It is a pure and limpid vegetable lotion, intended to restore the hair by natural growth and reinvigoration. It is splendidly perfumed, and the most delightful toilet dressing known. No lady's or gentleman's toilet outfit is complete without Lyon's Kathairon.

EXTRA SESSION.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, 7.—On motion of Ingalls, a resolution was adopted calling on the President to communicate to the Senate what measures have been taken to prevent the occupation of Indian Territory by white settlers.

The House bill to prohibit military interference in elections was read twice, and by a vote of 24 against 31, the Senate disagreed to the motion of Edmunds to refer it then laid it on the table to be called up hereafter.

Consideration was then resumed of the resolution asking for authority to take testimony in the contested case of Spofford against Kellogg, and Carpenter continued his remarks in support of Kellogg's right to the seat. When he had concluded his argument, Morgan said Spofford's memorial claimed that he had discovered new and material evidence which nullified Kellogg's account of the corrupt influences used. If Kellogg used corruption he was not a fit member for this body, and the subject was therefore open to investigation until finally decided.

Saulsbury said the committee was guilty of none of the charges made by Conkling, Hoar and Carpenter of pretense, schemes and a spirit of revolution. They simply desired to present their testimony to the Senate for intelligent action.

Edmunds submitted an amendment to confine the investigation to the personal conduct of Kellogg, which might render him liable to public censure, because Kellogg's right to the seat was settled. We do not deny the right of the Senate to reverse this decision nor to declare that the legislature of Vermont had not elected him (Edmunds), and the next day declare it did. This body could do as it liked, but to do it would be a monstrous and flagrant violation of duty. It was the same in Kellogg's case. Reconsideration could only be demanded by a senator who voted for seating him and within a fixed time. Edmunds' amendment was rejected—27 to 20.

Conkling submitted an amendment confining the inquiry to new matters mentioned by Spofford. Disagreed to—27 to 20.

Hoar submitted an amendment instructing the committee to report whether bribery was used by Spofford.

Saulsbury, in behalf of the committee, accepted the amendment.

Edmunds offered an amendment recognizing the finality of the decision which secured Kellogg his seat. Lost—27 to 20.

Logan offered an amendment directing the committee to inquire whether unlawful or corrupt means were used to disorganize the legislature which elected Kellogg, so that it might elect Spofford.

Conkling supported the amendment and Voorhees asked if that might not reach the President.

Conkling said they were not discussing who might be affected. He was surprised that Voorhees opposed the amendment.

Voorhees said the committee on elections would do justice without coercive measures.

Blaine asked the democrats why they did not look at the other side. Why did they shirk?

Eaton said they would not shirk but would vote down the amendment.

Voorhees said Blaine had many set phrases implying cowardice and fleeing away. Let the senator dismiss them forever. None on the democratic side were shirking. The senator should apply his plantation manners in the dark part of Maine. The senator also made use of terms which implied inferiority and want of courage and manliness on the part of others, while implying superiority for himself. With personal regard for the senator for long years he would appeal to the senator to dismiss those set phrases from his vocabulary. The senator, with his high, dashing spirit, arraigned the democratic side of this chamber because they would not support the amendment of the senator from Illinois (Logan), while they had, by agreeing to the amendment of the senator from Massachusetts (Hoar), covered the entire ground of that branch of inquiry, would the senator show what was left?

Blaine showed the dissimilarity of Logan's and Hoar's Amendments.

Voorhees accused Blaine of pettifogging and Blaine expressed surprise that Voorhees, after lecturing him, should apply to him that term.

Logan denied that he meant disrespect to the committee by his amendment.

Hill said the committee would investigate everything reasonable, but not the part the President took in Louisiana affairs, unless specially desired.

Kellogg said he had defied his enemies when governor of Louisiana, he had defied them since and defied them now. He denounced the means employed to disturbe the settled question of his right to a seat here. Attempts have been made for the past two years to have him (Kellogg) indicted, but vigorous search had failed to reveal any cause for indictment. He reviewed his services to Louisiana, and alluded to the democratic frauds and denounces the charges of guilt made against him.

Logan's amendment was disagreed to—28 to 19; also Hoar's substitute, declaring the question settled on its merits and Kellogg entitled to a seat.

The Senate then adopted the resolution of the committee on elections as amended by Hoar's amendment which was accepted by the committee. The vote was 26 to 17. All to-day's votes were strictly of a party character.

Eaton moved to take up the House bill to prevent military interference in elections.

Edmunds preferred to take up the business for which the extra session was called. This bill was a menace to the executive. The Senate by a strict party vote took up the bill.

Blaine introduced his amendment prohibiting any armed person within the polls at a congressional election under penalty of $500 to $3,000 fine and six months to five years imprisonment or both. Adjourned.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, 7.—Chalmers called up, as a question of privilege, the resolution offered by him for the investigation of his conduct at Fort Pillow, and made a personal explanation. The subject occupied the attention of the House for a long time, and at one time there were indications of trouble between Chalmers and Burrows, in consequence of an allusion made by Chalmers to some criticisms against Burrows for his own conduct in the war. Chalmers, however, disclaimed any personal knowledge on the subject, saying he had his information from a Washington newspaper. Burrows branded the allegation as utterly untrue. Finally the whole subject was laid on the table.

The eight-hour law went over on the expiration of the morning hour.

Coin and bullion certificates was taken up, and Claflin spoke in opposition. He declared that even Kelly, of Pennsylvania, had assented to the act for the demonetization of silver.

Kelly denied this, and Claflin had the record read to prove it.

Kelly said again that it was not true, and moreover he had learned a good deal since the act passed. He denounced the pending bill.

Vance favored it.

Keifer asked Vance if he and the democrats in the House had not voted to deprive the trade dollar of its legal tender quality.

Vance confessed that he did not fully understand the matter at that time. He declared the national banks charge exorbitant interest, and that 8 per cent. was not an unusual rate, and in some parts of North Carolina 5 per cent. per month was charged. This sort of legislation was tended to destroy the nations of Europe. The country was in more danger from this class of legislation than from being starved to death, but its destruction was not to be. His motto was, "Our country first; our country last; our country all the time." (Applause.) Adjourned.

EASTERN.

Will He Sign?

WASHINGTON, 7.—The impression is very prevalent among republicans to-day that the President intends to sign the bill which the House passed yesterday to prevent military interference at elections. The disposition to make speeches upon it in the Senate has correspondingly diminished, and it will probably reach the President this week.

The Star, to-night, states that it has good reason to believe the President will sign the pending bill relative to the army at the polls. It is claimed the bill only more clearly defines the existing legislation on the matter.

The Georgia Murder Trial Concluded.

ATLANTA, Ga., 7.—The jury in the Cox-Alston case, after being out all night, came in this afternoon, having found Cox guilty, and fixed the penalty at imprisonment for life. Cox was calm but his wife was wild with grief, and attempted to throw herself from the window, but was caught by Cox, when throwing her arms about his neck, she cried, "Oh my God! Oh my poor darling!" After the sentence was passed Cox's counsel gave notice of a motion for a trial and supercedus.

Tremendous Fire.

WILKESBARRE, 7.—Last night an explosion of gas in the Stanton shaft of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal Co., severely burned Martin Kerrigan. At midnight, while the men were brushing out the accumulation of gas in the lower vein, it came in contact with a "blower," causing a terrific explosion. A large force of men were driving a tunnel at the time, and eight of them were badly burned, the majority, it is thought, fatally. The mine was set on fire, and soon 600 feet of solid coal was burning furiously. To extinguish the flames it had to be flooded.

WESTERN.

The California Constitution Unpopular.

SAN FRANCISCO, 7.—The election in the city has been conducted with the greatest vigor by both parties. There was an almost total suspension of business, and the best men in the city have been in constant attendance at the polls. The vote is very heavy, probably over 40,000. Opponents of the new constitution are confident it has been defeated in the city by from 10,000 to 12,000 majority. While something must probably be allowed for sanguine feeling, there is no doubt that the majority against its adoption is heavy. Advices from the country indicate large majorities against it in the populous counties of Alameda, Santa Clara, Sacramento and others, but not enough has been received to warrant any estimate as to the general result.

Later.—The opposition concede this city by 9,000 majority against the constitution. The majority will probably be over 10,000. Returns from the interior are yet too meagre to state with any accuracy the result there, but the present indications are that the vote outside of San Francisco will be a small majority in favor of the new constitution. There is no question, however, as to the defeat of the instrument, as the majority against it in this city will far more than overcome the country returns. During the evening there have been several minor disturbances in the city, but nothing of a serious nature.
