THESE LINES MEAN SOMETHING

They show the only way to reach quickly all the important points of the inter-mountain region. They show lines the 67,000 miles of wire operated by the Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone Company cover Idaho, Montana, Utah, and Wyoming and connect with other systems in Colorado, New Mexico, Nebraska, British Columbia and ALL Pacific Coast States. They reach more than 45,000 subscribers in the four states of the Rocky Mountain Bell system and thousands of persons in other states. The rates for talking over these long-distance lines are the lowest in the world.
