

INTENT TO COMMIT A MURDER.

That is the Nature of a New Complaint to be Lodged Against Roy Kaighn on Account of His Assault on Will Haynes.

A new phase of the Kaighn-Haynes shooting case has developed, and the county authorities propose to go ahead with the case regardless of the fact that the injured man refuses to throw any light whatever on the mystery.

Assistant County Attorney Loofton stated to a "News" reporter this afternoon, that today a new complaint, charging young Kaighn with assault with deadly weapon with intent to murder, will be filed by Officer Hempel of the police force.

The first complaint simply charged assault with deadly weapon with intent to do bodily harm. The penalty for the offense to be charged against the young man is from one to ten years in the state prison.

"We are going ahead without the assistance of Haynes," said Mr. Loofton. "Kaighn may see Haynes; we can not, and now we have decided to go ahead anyway. While the man injured and the public are interested. It is a crime against the person injured and the public also, and for the peace and good order of the public we are going to prosecute Kaighn. We will proceed on that theory.

Asked when the young defendant would be arraigned on the charge now contemplated, he said he supposed he would be arraigned next Monday morning before Judge C. B. Diehl.

MILLION DOLLARS FOR RESERVOIR

The committee appointed by the board of canal presidents to present plans and draft a memorial to Congress to make of Utah lake a reservoir and raise its level to two feet above compromise point, met in the office of Prest. Angus M. Cannon this afternoon. Prest. Cannon was elected chairman and A. F. Doremus secretary.

All the committee was present, including the two gentlemen named, Mayor Thompson, City Engineer Kelley and County Commissioner Anderson. The subject was discussed at length and it was found that not less than one million dollars would be necessary to purchase of several thousand acres of land in making a suitable channel of Jordan river for ten miles. An estimate of the expense necessary to secure the data for placing the subject properly before Congress was fixed at $5,000. The board of presidents of the canal companies was asked to provide the necessary funds.

CONDITION CRITICAL.

Dr. McKenna is Slowly Sinking—May Not Survive Night.

At a late hour this afternoon the condition of Dr. Patrick McKenna was critical. Since the time that the unfortunate medical man was picked up alongside of the railroad track he has been sinking slowly and those who are in attendance upon him hold out very little hope that he will live through the night.

The details of Dr. McKenna's last few moments on the train as recounted by some of those who were present are, that the doctor was in a very jovial mood, and expressed himself as having enjoyed an evening more thoroughly than the one just past. When the train was approaching the water-works someone suggested that they gather up their things as they were nearly home. Dr. McKenna arose and walked out on the rear platform. No one saw him after that, nor one missed him, every one being preoccupied with his own affairs. A little later the shocking word reached the police station from the waterworks and was passed on to Mr. Freed. The story of how Dr. McKenna was dispatched to the waterworks with an ambulance, and how the mutilated man was brought to the city has already been told.

Dr. Patrick McKenna was born in County Carthy, in the north of Ireland, about forty-two years ago. His early education he received in St. Patrick's College, Cavan city, and was celebrated as a crack football player. He came to the United States fifteen years ago, and became a resident of New Orleans. He studied medicine at Tulane university and soon after getting his diploma he married a New Orleans girl. He came to Salt Lake seven years ago and has been a prominent figure in local medical circles ever since. He was a cultured man with the ability to speak fluently in French, Spanish and Italian. At the outbreak of the Spanish war he held the position of interne at the Holy Cross hospital, but through the efforts of Col. Willard Young he became a surgeon in the army. He was one of the engineers with the rank of captain. At the close of the war he returned to his position of interne. Last February he purchased Dr. Hosmer's residence in the Keogh-Hosmer hospital. He leaves his wife, two brothers and a sister, all of whom live at Salida, Colorado.

PEOPLE WHO ARE PASSING

Scott Davis, live stock agent of the Union Pacific, leaves this week for Chicago in attendance on the annual meeting of the National Live Stock association. Mr. Davis will meet the Idaho delegation at Granger and accompany them east. He says this meeting of the association will be the most notable one ever held as at the same time the fat stock show will be in session and the two meetings combined will be sure to prove a drawing card. A number of leasing the public lands will come up for special discussion, and Mr. Davis says the opposition to the government's leasing public lands to the great corporations will be stronger than ever.

W. R. Kivett, of Boise, secretary of the Idaho lumbermen's association, is a guest at the Kenyon. He says there is such a demand for buildings in the state capital that there is not enough building material to meet the call. Mr. Kivett with associates is contemplating the erection at Boise of a $50,000 office building as there is a strong demand for just such an enterprise. The location has not yet been decided upon. He says a $20,000 wagon road is now under construction into the Thunder mountain district from Boise, and that Col. Dewey will undoubtedly extend his railroad to the new gold fields. Mr. Kivett feels there must be great riches there because there is good placer mining there is always deeper deposits than far off.

"There are more ducks in the Bear river country than in the last five years," said A. E. McKenzie at the Kenyon today. There are millions of them, twenty-five varieties in all, with the mallards, teal and red heads in the majority. There are lots of wild geese in that country, but like "Daisy Bagstock" they are devilish shy. They can see you from a long distance and then they change their feeding grounds every day. I have been spending a few days shooting up on the club reserve and went out the other morning to where the geese had been reported as plentiful the day before—and behold, not a goose! That Bear river duck club has a national reputation now, and twelve states are represented on its roster. Then the club accommodations are equal to those of a first class hotel. The membership is 100 and will never be any greater." Mr. McKenzie is a hour market expert and when asked what he thought of the recent rise in flour in this state, said that it was due, in his opinion, to scarcity of wheat, and that it would be necessary to import quite a stock of it before the next crop could be realized.

"There is an advance on freight rates of 2 1/2 cents per yard," remarked

P. J. Keeler of Philadelphia today, at the Kenyon. "While on three quarters goods of all kinds there is a slight decline. These last include tapestries, velvets, moquets and Axminsters. Brussels carpets are again coming into favor, and velvets also are popular. Velvets are costing less than body Brussels. Prices generally are about the same as last season, except the decline of 15 to 20 cents on three quarters goods. Patterns change every six months and at present they are running to darker effects. The costliest carpets are the imported Wiltons costing $2.50 to $3 per yard." Mr. Keeler finds business good in Salt Lake, in fact good all through the west.

R. A. Walsh of Sheridan is at the Kenyon, having come down here to contract for 1,500 or 2,000 head of cattle. Mr. Walsh is a stockman and expects to be shipping stock through this city a good share of the winter from the west and north, and intends to be supplied with the winter stock. He is not a winter yet in his part of Wyoming, and smiled at 10 degrees above zero being called cold weather. In his opinion that would be cold, pleasant weather. At twenty degrees below zero it just begins to get cold up in Wyoming. Mr. Walsh looks for a winter favorable to stock interests.

REV. H. L. BARNES TO WED.

Bishop Leonard leaves this evening, on a two weeks' visit to the Episcopal churches in western Colorado which are attached to this missionary jurisdiction. While away, the bishop will officiate at the marriage of Miss Anna Corbett, of Ouray, Col., to Rev. H. L. Barnes, of Provo. Mr. Barnes was formerly rector at Ouray, but was transferred last summer to the Provo and Benneville, where he is now officiating. He is a native of Provo and brings his bride to Provo after the ceremony.

JUDGE DIEHL'S COURT.

When Tom King was arraigned on the charge of being drunk yesterday, position of him indicated he was guilty, and his honor said it would be 20 days this time. Tom appeared satisfied and resumed his seat with a murmur.

It was announced by the court that the case of Ah Yah and Frank Raymond, charged with running and frequenting an opium den, was continued until Tuesday afternoon. Yah's bail was fixed at $50 and Raymond's at $25.

After hearing some testimony in the case of Paddy Brien, charged with stealing an umbrella from S. Samuelson, the case was continued in order to bring in the witnesses. Harold Erickson testified that he saw Brien with the umbrella, and Officer Chase said he arrested him.

When asked if he wanted to cross examine the witness, Brien kept up a running talk for several minutes and wound up with: "I can't say a word. I don't know how to talk; I can't talk at all, yer honor."

A. E. Clift and John Hickey were tried on the charge of stealing a wrecker from the Utah Store & Hardware company's store. Hickey claimed that Clift gave him the wrecker to sell. A clerk at the store testified that the wrecker belonged to the firm, and that none had been sold for several days. Hickey said he tried to sell the article "at a place where there's three vendors, but he had no success." Clift told practically the same story as related by his companion. He said some one gave him the wrecker before he came here, but he couldn't sell it. He was convicted and he $25, while his companion was discharged.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How to Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling of matter will be seen in the bottom of the glass. This is evidence of kidney trouble; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; if it stains the back it is evidence of kidney trouble.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and aching pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells you all about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Home of Swamp-Root, Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

riman lines. Mr. McNitt noted while in Omaha and in traveling over the road from this city, that general traffic was very heavy, both going east and west. In fact it was freight trains, freight cars and passenger trains. The coast to coast traffic is all of the many railroads centering there are handling their full share of the great increase in traffic which has made cars so scarce all over the country, and is keeping car shops running night and day.

Local railroad men are interested in the meeting to be held in New York next time next month. Whether this meeting will turn out to be another "gentlemen's agreement" or not is not certain, but there is a presentation of the underlying situation in relation to the maintenance of rates for the coming year that will, it is hoped, put an end to rate cutting and equalize things all round. The small roads, it is claimed, will not be able to figure in opposition, as the big roads will handle the receipts and distribute the same to their connections over which the smaller roads are dependent. The smaller roads will have to take what they can get out of it and let it go at that. The railroad presidents have not met since last July, as many of them have been in Europe and traveling about the world elsewhere, enjoying themselves, but it is believed that now they will get down to business. Passes, freight rates, consolidations proposed and not proposed, will be the group of themes to be discussed at the New York meeting.

One hundred Salt Lakeers took advantage of the special excursion to Tintic yesterday, over the Rio Grande, and enjoyed the trip.

"Calvin" must be spelled with a "K" in Canada, according to a letter received in General Superintendent Calvin's office today from the Canadian Pacific.

Superintendent Dunn of Motive Power in Salt Lake, has been absent on a three weeks' absence out on the line and in the east. He was almost brought alive this morning, amid great stacks of correspondence that had accumulated during his absence.

The Santa Fe office in this city has just received copies of a new and well gotten up pamphlet entitled "Home-Ownership" Series No. 1, The Truth About Oklahoma." It is an exhaustive write up about the present territory with plenty of half tone illustrations well showing its resources and remarkable growth. A short account of Indian Territory and the descriptive about Oklahoma.

E. Drake of the Rock Island, and Mrs. Drake returned this afternoon from a pleasant eastern trip.

Assistant General Passenger Agent Heintz of the Rio Grande lines, has returned from his trip to Denver, where he was in company with the train passenger agents. Mr. Heintz says the passenger men were unanimous in their expressions of satisfaction with the road's extended service to the city, and only wished that their visit here could have been carried out according to program. With the great organ in the Tabernacle the visitors were delighted.

AMUSEMENTS.

The wonderful program of "The Wedding Day" was again attested yesterday. On short notice and with one rehearsal, the local company revived the opera for two performances and played to packed houses at both. Last night the cast was as follows: In all likelihood, the final presentation.

The cast was the same as before, except that Miss Grace Kidwell and Miss Peterson, originally rendered by Mr. Crawford, were divided by Mr. M. G. Parry and Mr. Sibley, the former doing the singing and the latter the dialogue work. Everything went with the old rush of hilarity and enthusiasm. Mr. Parry again being the central figure in the fun and Miss Clark, Miss Ferrin, Miss Dwyer and Messrs. Goddard, Pryor and Graham having their usual quota of fun. The chorus was as usual somewhat under the weather and had to omit their solos, but their work in the converted pieces was up to the usual standard. The chorus was admirable in the last act, just painted by Anderson for the theater, was specially admired.

The Mason & Mason company opened what promises to be a highly successful engagement at the Grand yesterday. The matinee was sold out, owing to the football and theater opposition. Both Masons are clever Dutch demagogues, and their performance, caused many an amount of merriment. Their play "Rudolph and Adolph" belongs to the light-hearted order of such comedies, but the two principals kept the fun going at such a fast and furious rate that one had but little time to stop for criticism. The same thing was tonight, and for the remainder of the week. There being no opposition at the other house, heavy business is looked for.

The sale of seats for the concert at the Tabernacle on Monday evening next when Miss Gates reappears, is going on at the music stores. A very attractive program has been arranged.

INCORRIGIBLES IN CRIMINAL COURT

Curtis Girls and Minerva Reeves Arraigned.

MAGGIE CURTIS COMMITTED.

Action in the Cases of the Other Two Girls is Continued Till Monday Next.

There was copious flowing of tears in the criminal division of the district court this morning. Maggie and Eva Curtis and Minerva Reeves, the three girls who were arrested by Officer Barlow for being drunk and disorderly on Saturday night, Nov. 16, were arraigned before Judge Stewart, charged with incorrigibility. Each pleaded guilty, but the Reeves girl later changed her plea to not guilty. She and Eva Curtis, the youngest of the two sisters, were remanded to the custody of the sheriff. Eva until her uncle, a Cache Valley farmer, can be communicated with in regard to providing a home for her. Minerva Reeves till Monday, when she will again be brought into court. Maggie Curtis was committed to the Reform school. She is seventeen years old. The reason for deferring action in the case of the Reeves girl is that Minerva, although consenting to make her home with her married sister, Mrs. Brox, would not leave the care to attend school. The girl, although 16 is sadly illiterate and can neither read nor write. She was defended by Attorney Will F. Wanless, and Eva took counsel with J. F. Smith. F. C. Loofton prosecuted.

L. D. S. University Needs More Room—Social Hall to be Utilized.

Over eight hundred students have enrolled in the various departments of the Latter-day Saints' University to date, this school year. They are a body of bright, energetic young men and women, averaging about 18 years of age. The growth of the institution is very gratifying to the trustees and to the friends of education generally. The attendance this year is practically double that of preceding years prior to last year, and even last year is already exceeded in this year's record.

Indications are that the bed rock of peace has not yet been reached by any means necessary to produce a peace likely to continue for several weeks yet.

Quits Title.

In the case of Albert O. Wagstaff vs. Jane E. Wagstaff et al, Judge Hall today entered a decree in favor of the plaintiff in accordance to a stipulation made by the parties. John Bohn died about twenty-two months ago, leaving real property in Murray valued at about $10,000, which he had devised to his wife some time prior to his death. The title to the property was found to be incorrect, and this suit was brought for the purpose of correcting it.

Margaret Heppendorf was this afternoon granted a decree of divorce from her husband, Henry Heppendorf, who was charged with having failed to provide for her.

PARRY PLEADED GUILTY.

Smiles While Entering Plea and Cries in Witness Box.

George Parry, the vile brute who confessed to having outraged two little girls, was taken before Judge Diehl this afternoon to plead to the charge of assaulting little Jannette Carey, with intent to commit rape. "I didn't abuse her any," smiled the witness, "I don't care to hear any of your statements," said the court. "Then I'll plead guilty," responded Parry. After his plea was entered, Parry resumed his seat in the witness box and began to cry. There was a profound silence in the court room during the arraignment of Parry and judging from the mothering and expressions on the faces of the spectators, it would go hard with him if he were in their power for awhile.

CALIFORNIA SWAMPED.

Stock Exchange Trading Drops to This Afternoon.

It was a case of pure assault and battery and California was down and out for the day. Buying in the stock opened up at 63 cents a share, 2 cents lower than this morning's twenty-stricken prices, and then the pugs were not satisfied. The hammer was held threateningly aloft and under this "baiting" influence the surety generously yielded ground until 52 1/2 cents was

THE OLD WAY

Of Treating Stomach Trouble and Indigestion, a Barbarous and Useless One.

We say the old way but really it is the common and usual one at the present time and many dyspeptics, and others as well, consider the first step in attempting to cure indigestion is to diet, either by selecting certain food and rejecting others or to greatly diminish the quantity of food usually taken.

In other words the starvation plan, is by many, supposed to be the first essential in the cure of weak digestion. The almost certain failure of the starvation cure for stomach trouble has been proven time and again but still the usual advice, when dyspepsia makes its appearance, is a course of dieting.

All this is radically wrong. It is foolish and unscientific to recommend dieting or starvation to a person suffering from dyspepsia because indigestion itself starves every organ and every nerve and fibre in the body.

What is needed is abundant nutritious food, and this means plenty of good, wholesome, well-cooked food and some natural digestive to assist the weak stomach to digest it.

The correct and safe purpose for which Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are adapted and this is the way they cure the worst cases of stomach trouble.

The patient who suffers from indigestion and weak stomach should take Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to digest 1500 grains of meat, eggs and similar food.

Any druggist will tell you that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a remedy of the most reliable value and probably the most pure and safest remedy for stomach troubles.

No person suffering from poor digestion and lack of appetite can fail to be immediately and permanently benefited if they would make it a practice to take one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal.

As soon as the Art Institute is through with the Social hall, the Latter-day Saints' University will fit up one of the rooms of that building and occupy it with one department pending the completion of Barratt Hall. It will be ready to receive students in the fall.

The business college would contain the students until the new building should be in readiness, but the attendance has exceeded the expectations, and it will now be necessary to erect a new building. Even when Barratt Hall is completed it will be necessary to retain the Lion house until the erection of the new building. This large structure will then provide the space required for the accommodation of the various departments of this growing institution.

LATE LOCALS.

The county treasurer's office will be closed after 1 p. m. tomorrow and taxes will not be received after that time until Monday morning.

STRANGE FOOD FOR AMERICANS.

An Englishwoman who visited America a short time ago has been telling her countrywomen about the "strange food across the water." Of course she discovered green corn, but she had been prepared for that. Oyster cakes were quite new to her.

"They look like Boston baked beans," she explains, "but they taste much better."

An oyster cocktail filled her with awe and enthusiasm. She tried it at Delmonico's and thought it was soup. Or it was a soup, but she didn't serve it in a glass, but then neither did the English serve boiled eggs in a glass. One could never be sure of Americans. Of canvassers duck she has a poor opinion, but thinks she might like it better if Americans would have it cooked, or even warmed. As for terrapin, she sings its praise. She found it much like calf's head, and she always liked calf's head. Shades of Maryland gourmets, what a slur is there.

"All the puddings in America are pie or ice cream," she says. It must be understood that pie does not mean game pie. The Yankee pie is a tart and is ubiquitous, she explains.

She sat next to an American man who ate a lump of cheese with his strawberry pie and turned a plateful of ice cream over both, but she doesn't know that that is a general custom.

The oysters were good, but she had most impossible names, and the cockles, meaning clams, are excellent. On the whole Yankee food and cooking are good, but there is too much of the food on the table at one time—New York Sun.
