

TRAVEL. UTAH CENTRAL RAILROAD. Pioneer Line of Utah. Daily Trains. Mixed Trains. UTAH SOUTHERN RAILROAD. Daily Trains. UTAH NORTHERN RAILROAD. THE CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND AND PACIFIC RAILROAD. PACIFIC & ATLANTIC. GILMER & SALISBURY'S Stage Lines. C. P. R. R.

THE EVENING NEWS. Thursday, June 4, 1874. PRICE OF GOLD. SPECIAL BUSINESS NOTICES. PART of red overskirt lost. See advt. COG-WHEEL ice-cream freezer, all sizes at Z. C. M. I. See advt. BARNETT'S Zinc and Platinum Pens, non-corrosive. See advt. SEE notice of dissolution of co-partnership—Wilkinson and May. The wonderful HAIRLESS HORSE CAOUTCHOU is attracting crowds of admiring visitors. Next to Wells, Fargo & Co's. WANTED.—Teams to haul ore from Big Cottonwood Canyon. Apply at Taylor & Cutler's Store. 169 ft. GREEN LAKE PLEASURE GROUNDS, only five miles south of the city, and on the line of the Utah Southern Railroad. Sunday Schools, picnic parties and excursionists cannot find a pleasanter place to spend the day. A beautiful lake, nearly two miles in circumference and well supplied with boats for the benefit of pleasure seekers. Good accommodation for teams—stable and pasture. Large grounds for any kind of field sports; also dancing floor with bowery. Terms reasonable. T. HOWARD, Paper Mill, 1184 ft. P. O. Salt Lake City. WOOL WANTED, 100,000 lbs. Pay, one-third cash. See advt. MESSRS. CHAPLIN, Crosbie and Sawtelle and Misses Colville, Adams and Cogswell in "Monte Cristo" at the Theatre to-night. Wm. H. LINGARD and Miss Dicky Lingard, for one night only, in "Naval Engagements," and "Lingard Sketches," also the burlesque of "Norma," at the Theatre to-morrow evening. $50,000. Grand Opening Auction Sale at Blumenthal Bros., 15 East Temple Street, commencing Tuesday, June the 2nd, at 2 p. m., to continue every day and evening. The stock is new, just opened, and will be sold without limit or reserve. The stock consists of fancy and staple Dry Goods, Clothing, Furnishing Goods, Boots, Shoes and Hats; also Ladies' Suits. The stock is now open for inspection. 1155 ft. MOTHERS.—Make your children happy. Buy them each a pair of the celebrated Shoes stamped on the sole, Sellers & Co., Philadelphia. 1150 m. A RARE CHANCE to purchase Silk-worm Eggs of home production, yellow French annual, warranted pure. Apply to W. A. Rosier, at President Young's Office. 1140 2w. Notice.—There will be no public services held in the New Tabernacle on Sunday morning next, June 7th, in consequence of the Sunday School children meeting there for rehearsal for the forthcoming jubilee. By counsel of the First Presidency. Take the Best Route For Chicago, New York, Boston, Philadelphia and all points East. The best route by all odds is the old and popular Chicago and North-western road. M. H. Davis, at White & McCormick's Bank, will sell you tickets by this route and give you all information. 1155 1y. BAKEHOUSE TO RENT, enquire at 11th Ward Meat Market. 144 ft. TO BISHOPS AND OTHERS.—For the benefit of those who desire a complete and faithful record of their families, when born, blessed, confirmed, etc., in their respective wards, and with a view of securing uniformity of information under suitable headings, a Bishop's Record has been carefully compiled by the authority and sanction of the bishops and the leading men in Israel, and, as such, is recommended, hoping the bishops and brethren of wards will avail themselves of a correct record that may be handed down to posterity. Respectfully yours, EDWARD HUNTER, 1st Vice President, Alexander Hill; 2nd Vice President, Washington Lemons; Secretary, E. Fairburn; Treasurer, John Morgan; Directors, Ephraim Williams, Daniel McRae and William Hill. 1155 1y. Caoutchouc.—The "hairless horse," on exhibition in Goddard's building, East Temple street, is a real gem curiosity. The animal is a great curiosity, especially, excepting that there is not a single hair on any portion of it, not even eyelashes, the eyes being protected by a double eyelid. The skin is of black color, and perfectly smooth, having very much the resemblance of India-rubber. The animal is intelligent and gentle, and is eight years old. It was caught in a wild herd in Australia, by a herdsman, who used it for some time as a riding horse, and finally sold it for a small sum to a surveyor, who again sold it to its present proprietor. Narrow Escape.—About 8 o'clock this morning a horse belonging to Mr. Rooks rushed out of the alley way immediately south of Z. C. M. I. retail grocery establishment. There was a rope attached to it, which was tied to the other end of a log of wood. The latter kept bounding and flying around as the animal dashed across the street and then northward, along the sidewalk. A young lady, who was near the News Office corner, was not time to get fairly out of the way, so she crouched against the wall and only missed her by a few inches. Had the animal been a wild, dangerous, and might have killed her. Mr. Rooks procured another animal as quick as possible and started out in pursuit of the runaway one. 1154 ft. LUMBER.—I am now receiving lumber from the Park, good white pine, and well seasoned. Give me a call, examine and inquire prices. Utah lumber yard. 1154 ft. J. J. TURNER.

THE POLAND BILL.—This bill which has passed the House of Representatives, and which must receive the endorsement of the Senate before it could become law, is a measure of such repugnance, that many doubt whether it will really pass; should it actually become law, however, it will be the darkest day for this Republic that it has ever seen, and will but indicate, in the not far distant future, the brightest day in history of the community against whose best interests, freedom and very existence this bill is aimed. It provides that the U. S. Marshal and Attorney shall be the executive officer for the Territory, thus foisting men upon the people to do their business for them that they have no voice in selecting, and therefore the measure is barbarously tyrannical. It provides that those officials thus imposed upon the people, contrary to the latter's will, are to be paid out of the people's treasury, and it is plainly a scheme, one of the main objects of which is plunder, wholesale robbery. It so provides that the parties against whom this crusade is got up will find it impossible to obtain a trial by a jury of their peers, and therefore it is subversive of the very main principle of human freedom. It excludes from the jury-box every man who has even a certain kind of religious belief, and thus debar a man from the rights of citizenship because of a mental condition superinduced by evidence, over which he has no control, and therefore is absolutely and totally unconstitutional, because it involves in its provisions what is in point of fact a religious test. It provides that in all criminal cases the Court and not the jury shall prescribe the amount of punishment, according to the limitations of the law, which is but another proof of the sneaking proclivities of the assistant framer of the bill. Some few men we wot of will do any amount of crawling to keep in the good graces of the "Missionary Judge." It puts extraordinary powers into the hands of three commissioners to be appointed by the Supreme Court of the Territory, who under such a law could sit as committing magistrates and do all other business that Justices of the Peace can do. In fact this iniquitous measure takes the whole machinery of local self-government out of the hands of the people and their representatives and places it in the hands of a set of corruptors who have been lying awake of nights devising means by which they could rob, plunder and even utterly destroy the "Mormons." Our Country Contemporaries. Prove Times, June 2.—In the First District Court, P. H. Emerson, judge, presiding, the case of the People v. H. Carter, for murder, was called up. Defendant's counsel moved that he be admitted to bail. At first the court was heard for and in behalf of the prisoner as well as in behalf of the people, the court remarked, that the prisoner's rights to be respected, and one among them was to have a trial as soon as consistent with the provisions of the law; another right the accused had, which he was to be considered innocent until proven otherwise by a jury of his peers. No one regretted more than the court the disadvantages that we have under which cases are tried, but the court was not to be attached to the prosecuting attorney; but the sovereign people themselves were more or less to blame, for the legislators had failed to provide for the case that might occur, and nothing could be done only by legislation. Under all these circumstances he was inclined to admit the prisoner to bail, and the amount he had thought upon in his own mind was $5,000. BY TELEGRAPH. TO-DAY'S DISPATCHES. EASTERN. Opposes the Civil Rights Bill. NASHVILLE, Tenn., 4.—Brownlow has written a letter in opposition to the civil rights bill. He takes his objections to the bill on the ground of its injustice to the poor white men of the South, and claims that it will injure them in a greater degree than it will benefit the negro; and that it will excite a feeling of hostility to the government, which is nearly dead. The Utah Bill—Canadian Reciprocity. CHICAGO, 4.—A Washington special agent, who has been in the city for some time, has just returned from the Canadian capital, Ottawa, and has brought back a copy of the Canadian Reciprocity bill, which was passed by the House of Commons. The bill is a measure of such repugnance, that many doubt whether it will really pass; should it actually become law, however, it will be the darkest day for this Republic that it has ever seen, and will but indicate, in the not far distant future, the brightest day in history of the community against whose best interests, freedom and very existence this bill is aimed. It provides that the U. S. Marshal and Attorney shall be the executive officer for the Territory, thus foisting men upon the people to do their business for them that they have no voice in selecting, and therefore the measure is barbarously tyrannical. It provides that those officials thus imposed upon the people, contrary to the latter's will, are to be paid out of the people's treasury, and it is plainly a scheme, one of the main objects of which is plunder, wholesale robbery. It so provides that the parties against whom this crusade is got up will find it impossible to obtain a trial by a jury of their peers, and therefore it is subversive of the very main principle of human freedom. It excludes from the jury-box every man who has even a certain kind of religious belief, and thus debar a man from the rights of citizenship because of a mental condition superinduced by evidence, over which he has no control, and therefore is absolutely and totally unconstitutional, because it involves in its provisions what is in point of fact a religious test. It provides that in all criminal cases the Court and not the jury shall prescribe the amount of punishment, according to the limitations of the law, which is but another proof of the sneaking proclivities of the assistant framer of the bill. Some few men we wot of will do any amount of crawling to keep in the good graces of the "Missionary Judge." It puts extraordinary powers into the hands of three commissioners to be appointed by the Supreme Court of the Territory, who under such a law could sit as committing magistrates and do all other business that Justices of the Peace can do. In fact this iniquitous measure takes the whole machinery of local self-government out of the hands of the people and their representatives and places it in the hands of a set of corruptors who have been lying awake of nights devising means by which they could rob, plunder and even utterly destroy the "Mormons." Our Country Contemporaries. Prove Times, June 2.—In the First District Court, P. H. Emerson, judge, presiding, the case of the People v. H. Carter, for murder, was called up. Defendant's counsel moved that he be admitted to bail. At first the court was heard for and in behalf of the prisoner as well as in behalf of the people, the court remarked, that the prisoner's rights to be respected, and one among them was to have a trial as soon as consistent with the provisions of the law; another right the accused had, which he was to be considered innocent until proven otherwise by a jury of his peers. No one regretted more than the court the disadvantages that we have under which cases are tried, but the court was not to be attached to the prosecuting attorney; but the sovereign people themselves were more or less to blame, for the legislators had failed to provide for the case that might occur, and nothing could be done only by legislation. Under all these circumstances he was inclined to admit the prisoner to bail, and the amount he had thought upon in his own mind was $5,000.

THE POLAND BILL.—This bill which has passed the House of Representatives, and which must receive the endorsement of the Senate before it could become law, is a measure of such repugnance, that many doubt whether it will really pass; should it actually become law, however, it will be the darkest day for this Republic that it has ever seen, and will but indicate, in the not far distant future, the brightest day in history of the community against whose best interests, freedom and very existence this bill is aimed. It provides that the U. S. Marshal and Attorney shall be the executive officer for the Territory, thus foisting men upon the people to do their business for them that they have no voice in selecting, and therefore the measure is barbarously tyrannical. It provides that those officials thus imposed upon the people, contrary to the latter's will, are to be paid out of the people's treasury, and it is plainly a scheme, one of the main objects of which is plunder, wholesale robbery. It so provides that the parties against whom this crusade is got up will find it impossible to obtain a trial by a jury of their peers, and therefore it is subversive of the very main principle of human freedom. It excludes from the jury-box every man who has even a certain kind of religious belief, and thus debar a man from the rights of citizenship because of a mental condition superinduced by evidence, over which he has no control, and therefore is absolutely and totally unconstitutional, because it involves in its provisions what is in point of fact a religious test. It provides that in all criminal cases the Court and not the jury shall prescribe the amount of punishment, according to the limitations of the law, which is but another proof of the sneaking proclivities of the assistant framer of the bill. Some few men we wot of will do any amount of crawling to keep in the good graces of the "Missionary Judge." It puts extraordinary powers into the hands of three commissioners to be appointed by the Supreme Court of the Territory, who under such a law could sit as committing magistrates and do all other business that Justices of the Peace can do. In fact this iniquitous measure takes the whole machinery of local self-government out of the hands of the people and their representatives and places it in the hands of a set of corruptors who have been lying awake of nights devising means by which they could rob, plunder and even utterly destroy the "Mormons." Our Country Contemporaries. Prove Times, June 2.—In the First District Court, P. H. Emerson, judge, presiding, the case of the People v. H. Carter, for murder, was called up. Defendant's counsel moved that he be admitted to bail. At first the court was heard for and in behalf of the prisoner as well as in behalf of the people, the court remarked, that the prisoner's rights to be respected, and one among them was to have a trial as soon as consistent with the provisions of the law; another right the accused had, which he was to be considered innocent until proven otherwise by a jury of his peers. No one regretted more than the court the disadvantages that we have under which cases are tried, but the court was not to be attached to the prosecuting attorney; but the sovereign people themselves were more or less to blame, for the legislators had failed to provide for the case that might occur, and nothing could be done only by legislation. Under all these circumstances he was inclined to admit the prisoner to bail, and the amount he had thought upon in his own mind was $5,000. BY TELEGRAPH. TO-DAY'S DISPATCHES. EASTERN. Opposes the Civil Rights Bill. NASHVILLE, Tenn., 4.—Brownlow has written a letter in opposition to the civil rights bill. He takes his objections to the bill on the ground of its injustice to the poor white men of the South, and claims that it will injure them in a greater degree than it will benefit the negro; and that it will excite a feeling of hostility to the government, which is nearly dead. The Utah Bill—Canadian Reciprocity. CHICAGO, 4.—A Washington special agent, who has been in the city for some time, has just returned from the Canadian capital, Ottawa, and has brought back a copy of the Canadian Reciprocity bill, which was passed by the House of Commons. The bill is a measure of such repugnance, that many doubt whether it will really pass; should it actually become law, however, it will be the darkest day for this Republic that it has ever seen, and will but indicate, in the not far distant future, the brightest day in history of the community against whose best interests, freedom and very existence this bill is aimed. It provides that the U. S. Marshal and Attorney shall be the executive officer for the Territory, thus foisting men upon the people to do their business for them that they have no voice in selecting, and therefore the measure is barbarously tyrannical. It provides that those officials thus imposed upon the people, contrary to the latter's will, are to be paid out of the people's treasury, and it is plainly a scheme, one of the main objects of which is plunder, wholesale robbery. It so provides that the parties against whom this crusade is got up will find it impossible to obtain a trial by a jury of their peers, and therefore it is subversive of the very main principle of human freedom. It excludes from the jury-box every man who has even a certain kind of religious belief, and thus debar a man from the rights of citizenship because of a mental condition superinduced by evidence, over which he has no control, and therefore is absolutely and totally unconstitutional, because it involves in its provisions what is in point of fact a religious test. It provides that in all criminal cases the Court and not the jury shall prescribe the amount of punishment, according to the limitations of the law, which is but another proof of the sneaking proclivities of the assistant framer of the bill. Some few men we wot of will do any amount of crawling to keep in the good graces of the "Missionary Judge." It puts extraordinary powers into the hands of three commissioners to be appointed by the Supreme Court of the Territory, who under such a law could sit as committing magistrates and do all other business that Justices of the Peace can do. In fact this iniquitous measure takes the whole machinery of local self-government out of the hands of the people and their representatives and places it in the hands of a set of corruptors who have been lying awake of nights devising means by which they could rob, plunder and even utterly destroy the "Mormons." Our Country Contemporaries. Prove Times, June 2.—In the First District Court, P. H. Emerson, judge, presiding, the case of the People v. H. Carter, for murder, was called up. Defendant's counsel moved that he be admitted to bail. At first the court was heard for and in behalf of the prisoner as well as in behalf of the people, the court remarked, that the prisoner's rights to be respected, and one among them was to have a trial as soon as consistent with the provisions of the law; another right the accused had, which he was to be considered innocent until proven otherwise by a jury of his peers. No one regretted more than the court the disadvantages that we have under which cases are tried, but the court was not to be attached to the prosecuting attorney; but the sovereign people themselves were more or less to blame, for the legislators had failed to provide for the case that might occur, and nothing could be done only by legislation. Under all these circumstances he was inclined to admit the prisoner to bail, and the amount he had thought upon in his own mind was $5,000.

THE POLAND BILL.—This bill which has passed the House of Representatives, and which must receive the endorsement of the Senate before it could become law, is a measure of such repugnance, that many doubt whether it will really pass; should it actually become law, however, it will be the darkest day for this Republic that it has ever seen, and will but indicate, in the not far distant future, the brightest day in history of the community against whose best interests, freedom and very existence this bill is aimed. It provides that the U. S. Marshal and Attorney shall be the executive officer for the Territory, thus foisting men upon the people to do their business for them that they have no voice in selecting, and therefore the measure is barbarously tyrannical. It provides that those officials thus imposed upon the people, contrary to the latter's will, are to be paid out of the people's treasury, and it is plainly a scheme, one of the main objects of which is plunder, wholesale robbery. It so provides that the parties against whom this crusade is got up will find it impossible to obtain a trial by a jury of their peers, and therefore it is subversive of the very main principle of human freedom. It excludes from the jury-box every man who has even a certain kind of religious belief, and thus debar a man from the rights of citizenship because of a mental condition superinduced by evidence, over which he has no control, and therefore is absolutely and totally unconstitutional, because it involves in its provisions what is in point of fact a religious test. It provides that in all criminal cases the Court and not the jury shall prescribe the amount of punishment, according to the limitations of the law, which is but another proof of the sneaking proclivities of the assistant framer of the bill. Some few men we wot of will do any amount of crawling to keep in the good graces of the "Missionary Judge." It puts extraordinary powers into the hands of three commissioners to be appointed by the Supreme Court of the Territory, who under such a law could sit as committing magistrates and do all other business that Justices of the Peace can do. In fact this iniquitous measure takes the whole machinery of local self-government out of the hands of the people and their representatives and places it in the hands of a set of corruptors who have been lying awake of nights devising means by which they could rob, plunder and even utterly destroy the "Mormons." Our Country Contemporaries. Prove Times, June 2.—In the First District Court, P. H. Emerson, judge, presiding, the case of the People v. H. Carter, for murder, was called up. Defendant's counsel moved that he be admitted to bail. At first the court was heard for and in behalf of the prisoner as well as in behalf of the people, the court remarked, that the prisoner's rights to be respected, and one among them was to have a trial as soon as consistent with the provisions of the law; another right the accused had, which he was to be considered innocent until proven otherwise by a jury of his peers. No one regretted more than the court the disadvantages that we have under which cases are tried, but the court was not to be attached to the prosecuting attorney; but the sovereign people themselves were more or less to blame, for the legislators had failed to provide for the case that might occur, and nothing could be done only by legislation. Under all these circumstances he was inclined to admit the prisoner to bail, and the amount he had thought upon in his own mind was $5,000.