One Drew His and Made for a Boy Who Had Thrown a Baseball at Them.

CONSEQUENCE WAS A RIOT.

Officer Was Knocked Down and Four of the Rioters Received Bullet Wounds.

New York, June 5.—A boy with a baseball started a riot near pier 42, North river, late today, as the result of which four Italians received bullet wounds, and were taken to the hospital, and 14 of their countrymen are under arrest.

The boy threw the ball at a group of 150 Italian coal passers who were leaving the pier and struck one of the men on the leg. The Italian drew a stiletto and ran after the boy, but was caught by a policeman. The Italian then knocked the officer down and beat him with a stiletto. Police officers charged the group, and police drew revolvers and four Italians were wounded. The three slain. One of the slain was a Slavonian. Owing to the fact that the Italians threw their revolvers into the river as soon as the chambers were empty, none were found on the pier.
But every man arrested had a stiletto or two.

None of the policeman were seriously hurt. It is thought the wounded Italians will recover.

JOHN L. WEBSTER.

Nebraska Delegation Indorses Him for Vice President.

Omaha, Neb., June 5.—The Nebraska delegation to the National Republican convention has issued an address of indorsement of the candidacy of John L.
Webster for the vice-presidential nomination. It recites the indorsement of the state and district convention and says:

"The west is entitled to political recognition for the one chief reason that it is the largest contributor to the nation's commercial greatness. The man who is to speak for the west must be from the west, a man of high ideals and intellectual dignity, an American in the heart's core—such a man the west offers in the person of John L.
Webster.

"The people of Nebraska are deeply in earnest in presenting Mr. Webster's name, who has ever been a constant Republican."

with the shooting of "Caesar" Young, the turfman, is a Washington girl. Her Patterson Saturday morning, were Subsequently it was said that a witness would be produced at the inquest tomorrow whose testimony would certainly result in a definite charge of murder being preferred against some-

EXCURSION TRAIN WRECKED.

None of 300 Passengers Were Seriously Hurt.

Rossville, Ind., June 5.—While running at a high rate of speed a Monon excursion train from Hammond to Indianapolis was wrecked here today by a defective rail. The engine and four coaches were thrown from the track and almost buried in the embankment, but none of the 300 passengers was seriously hurt. The rails and roadbed were torn up for a distance of 100 feet.
A part of the defective rail which caused the wreck crashed through the floor and roof of the baggage car, narrowly missing dozens of passengers.
A special thanksgiving service was held by the excursionists at a little church near the railroad.

mystery.

Badly Hurt.

Burlington, Ia., June 5.—A well filled electric street car rushed down Valley Hill street today and was wrecked against a tree. Many of the passengers escaped. Mrs. Joseph Kehn was killed and sixteen were badly injured.
Several suffered arms and legs broken and many were badly cut about the head and shoulders.
The break beam on the open electric car broke just as the car began the descent. The car dashed down the long incline at a frightful speed and the injured were strewn on both sides of the track down the entire length of the hill.

DEFENDED HIMSELF.

William Gillen Fired into Crowd That Attacked Him.

New York, June 5.—William Gillen, aged 24, was attacked by a gang of 20 men at his home. When he refused to admit the intruders, several shots were fired through the door. He was struck on the forehead by a bullet and slightly wounded. He fired into the crowd and probably mortally wounded William Wynn, 19 years old.

Gillen and Wynn were arrested, charged with felonious assault, and three others were taken by the police as accessories. Other arrests are expected.

Gillen refused to make any complaint against the prisoner. He said the trouble was the culmination of a quarrel started three weeks ago over a fishing line.

In the afternoon Gillen had been assaulted by the gang. He received a stab wound over the right eye and was left bleeding on the sidewalk. Although it was broad daylight the men escaped and Gillen walked to a hospital, where his injury was dressed.

When the men appeared at Gillen's home tonight one of them shouted: "Gillen, come here, we want to kill you."

Gillen shouted defiance and it was then that the gang fired through the panel of the door. The shots created a panic in the house, and having been heard in the street attracted a great crowd. Gillen opened the door and began shooting.

After the arrests were made the police reserves had to be called out to protect the prisoners from the crowd in the street, which threatened to lynch Gillen's assailants.

TROUBLE OVER PALMA TROPHY.

American Rifle Association May Restore it to Cut Off Further Discussion.

BRITISHERS ARE VERY SORE.

Rifle Match of 1903. Because of a Misunderstanding, Causes Much Ill Feeling.

New York, June 6.—That American rifleman may not rest under even a technical imputation of unsportsmanlike conduct the executive committee of the American Rifle association may offer to restore the Palma trophy to the British association, agreeing that the match at Bisley, England, last July shall be erased.

Gen. Bird W. Spencer, president of the American association, is said to be of the opinion that a restoration of the trophy would be the best way out of the discussion now going on and he has called a meeting of the executive committee of which he is ex-officio chairman. It is likely the committee will meet within 10 days and settle the matter.

WHAT GEN. SPENCER SAYS.

London, June 5.—At the spring meeting of the National Rifle association, held in London, Lord Chylesmore, the president, referred to the correspondence between the National Rifle association and the American Rifle association relative to the allegation that the American team which won the Palma trophy in 1893 did not use the national arm of the United States, and thereby did not conform to the conditions of the contest. Lord Chylesmore regarded the incident as being most regrettable and said it was very unfortunate that it ever occurred. The object of the council in sitting the matter was not to seek to reverse the result of the match or to arouse any bitterness, but simply to clear up the serious question which had been publicly raised.

Replying to a communication from the National Rifle association, Gen. B.
W. Spencer admits the general truth of the allegation, but he denies that the Americans wilfully contravened the rules of the contest. He says they brought two patterns of rifles, and as no objection was raised to the pattern ultimately selected, they thought they were entitled to use it. Gen. Spencer points out that it was well known to everybody that these rifles were to be used and no secret was made of the character of the rifles.

In reply, the secretary of the National Rifle association said he regretted the rifle used by the Americans was of the allegation, which were not in all respects of the pattern issued to the troops for service, and that thus one of the rules was infringed.

"It would be offensive to the competi-ting team," wrote the secretary, "to assume that they intended to commit a breach of the rules unless prevented by protest."

Gen. Spencer formally acknowledged the above, promising to lay the matter before the executive committee. The committee approved the action of the council.

LORD CHYLESMORE TALKS.

London, June 4.—"Perhaps it looks as if we could not take a liking," said Maj.-Gen. Lord Chylesmore, president of the National Rifle association, to a representative of the Associated Press referring to the controversy over the rifle used by the Americans in the match for the Palma trophy, which was won by the American team in July last.

"However," continued the former commander of the Grenadier guards, "that is not the case; nor do the comments of the English papers represent our feelings. There is no resentment on our part, and we continue to hold the American rifle team in the highest respect. If they offered to re-shoot the match for the Palma trophy we would not do it. We were beaten, and we own up to it. We looked on them and while here as good sportsmen and did our best to make them feel at home.
We have no reason to change our opinion. All we say is that, unfortunately, a mistake occurred on account of the American rifle team using rifles they themselves admit are not similar to those issued by the American army.
Such action distinctly broke the conditions under which the Palma trophy must be fought for."

"Our action in pointing out this mistake was not due to any desire to take advantage of it, but merely in justice to our own men and actually as the result of a letter which appeared in an American paper some time after we resigned ourselves to the conviction that the Americans were the better men."

"I do not suppose that the result of the shoot would have been different, whatever happened, and I would like to be clearly understood that we are not trying to belittle the American victory.
Nothing dishonorable has been imputed by us to the American team and I am very sorry to see that the London Times made such an unfounded deduc-tion. Still, since the controversy has arisen, I may be forgiven for pointing out again that Gen. Spencer's letter explicitly admits breaking the rules of the competition."

"As president of the rifle association, I never left Bisley while the shoot was in progress. During that time my attention was never called to the American rifle. Had I known, or had any of the British association known, that the American rifle was of a different pattern from that issued to the American troops, we should have been informed for the Palma trophy, which was won by the American team in July last.

"Please do not think I am intimating that the Americans practised deception. I know that I or anybody at Bisley was welcome to shoot with or inspect the rifles they used. We took it for granted they were service arms."

It is entirely false, however, for any one to say that the officials of the British Rifle association were told that the rifle used by the Americans was of a different pattern from that issued to the army. Perhaps it would have been better if we had been more officially informed on the spot, but it is easy to be wise after an event.

The statement that the barrels of the rifles used by the English team were made by private firms, and that hence the conditions under which both teams shot were identical is misleading. The British barrels were made solely by private firms, but all bore the war office view mark and conformed in every respect with the barrels used in the British army.

The controversy aroused here over the Palma trophy has brought to a climax a long series of unpleasant incidents associated with the Anglo-American sporting contests. Scarcely any of these has occurred in England without leaving bitterness on one side or the other. Americans resident in the United Kingdom have come to dread the visit of any American team. Almost inevitably, whether it be shooting, racing, yachting, polo, boat racing, tennis or any other sport, there has been left something to explain or something to vindicate. Since Howard Gould came over with his yacht Niagara, which was visited by officials of the yacht racing association in 1894 in the absence of Mr. Gould, owing to a rumor that she was fitted with water bullet, to the present Palma episode, mutual distrust appears to have existed between the leading sportsmen of both countries. Hence the forthcoming trip of the Harvard-Yale athletes causes some misgivings in the minds of Americans who live in England.
