

SEEING THE SIGHTS.

Visiting Salt Lake City and Mount Lowe Today.

(Special to the "News.")
Los Angeles, Cal., May 10.—Refreshed by a night's rest the Salt Lake "boomers" started out this morning for the sight-seeing of the city of the angels. All the morning papers had lots of fun over the experience of the salt lake boomers. Everybody is well although some are feeling the effects of the severe introduction to Neptune.

Last night the Los Angeles city council entertained all the city officials in a box party at the Orpheum theater. At the same time the commercial club met to consider the trip home to San Francisco, and appointed a committee to interview the Southern Pacific. Indications are that the commercial club as a body will not go, although most of the members propose returning that way.

Tonight a big meeting is advertised in the papers at mission headquarters where members of the "Boomers" and other Salt Lakeers are expected to speak. Tomorrow all will take a special train to Panama and Rivera and will be met by the board of trade and chamber of commerce and given the freedom of those cities. Anonymous anti-"Boomers" interviews are being given in the Times today expressing surprise, saying that the "Boomers" and "Gentiles" were sociable, and continuing: "They all are mingling far more freely than they ever do at home, more freely than some of them dare to in Utah." Indications are that the party will break up for return home tomorrow night.

SNOW TONIGHT.

Weather Bureau Can See Anything but Spring Weather.

The day is raw and cold, like a day in March rather than in May, and this morning the mercury fell to 42 degrees. In fact the cold hangs on so that snow is expected tonight, with a freezing temperature. There is considerable new snow in the mountains, and citizens are not thinking as much as they were about fleeing to the mountains to escape the torrid heat. In fact, so strenuous an article explorer as Prof. Swenson, who had come down to Spanish Fork prepared to fight his way into the valley, and who had been in the valley on snow shoes and with sled and Spitz dogs, threw up both hands and quit yesterday afternoon, on reaching the portals to the mountain passes. He has returned home to wait until the Polar conditions obtaining in the Strawberry Valley approaches have somewhat abated.

REGULATION OF BURIALS.

Secretary State Board of Health Addresses Sixty-six Undertakers.

Dr. T. B. Heatty, secretary of the state board of health, and state registrar, issued the following circular today addressed, "To all Sixty-six":
Beginning with May 14 the accompanying act regulating the burial of the dead in the state of Utah will have the full force and effect of law. It is that you may be guided by its provisions and avoid as well as prevent violations of the same, you are advised to carefully read this circular and keep it for future use and reference. It is to be regretted that the regulation of burials in the past has not been all that could be desired. The policy of the state board of health hereafter to enforce the law in every particular. Your attention is directed to section 11 and to paragraph 6 of section 21.

The act referred to is the new law relating to the regulation of deaths, and the regulation of burials.
Dr. Heatty has also issued a circular letter "to all undertakers," along with a copy of the above law, and says: "Your attention is especially directed to two provisions of the law, viz: That it is unlawful to bury, remove or otherwise dispose of any dead body without first securing a permit from the local registrar (sec. 11), and that it is the duty of the undertaker or person acting as undertaker to secure a certificate of death, properly filled out and signed by a physician or the coroner, and to file it in section 8, before the final disposition of any deceased person dying in or shipped into the state of Utah. The permit to bury, remove or otherwise dispose of any dead body without first securing a permit from the local registrar should not be kept by you, but should be filed with the sexton or other person in charge of the burying ground where interment is to be made, or sent with the body as required by the rules governing the transportation of corpses. It is the intention of the state board of health to hereafter strictly enforce the above provisions of the law."

A GOOD MAN GONE.

Patriarch Robert Bain Passes Away at His Home in Smithfield.

Word received from Smithfield this afternoon announces the death at that place at 4:15 p. m. yesterday of Patriarch Robert Bain. The deceased, who was in his 74th year, had been ailing for some time and his death was not unexpected. He was a native of Scotland, but had resided in Smithfield for many years, and was a most useful and upright citizen. He was almost constantly engaged among the sick and dying, and there is perhaps scarcely a family in the community where he lived who have not been the beneficiaries of his kind and efficient services in the hour of suffering and sorrow. "Send for Brother Bain," were among the first words of those who were stricken, and the kind-hearted man had but to know that his presence was required, when he would forthwith hasten to the afflicted home, sometimes to remain for days and nights, and always without money and without price. His memory will long be cherished, as one whose life was devoted in comforting and relieving from pain suffering humanity. The funeral will be held at the Smithfield tabernacle at 2 p. m. on Friday, the 12th inst.

SHAMPOO FOR ST. PAUL'S.

The traditions of St. Paul's Cathedral were enriched by a new precedent the other day in the introduction of a vacuum cleaner, and the choir of the stately edifice echoed with the rapid thrum of the engine as the dust was sucked off the musty library shelves and old oak carvings.
Recently an attempt was made to give the outside of the cathedral a sort of dry shampoo with the new American sharp sand blast. It was found, however, that the hardness of the stone made the cleaning a long and tedious undertaking. Several days were occupied in cleaning a few square yards on the north side of the choir. When cleaned this portion was treated with new decay-resisting composition. It is, however, generally considered that the sand blast which the weather has caused to form on the surface of the stone is a natural protection that it would be inadvisable to remove.—London Express.

DEBATERS GIVEN A ROYAL SENDOFF

Students of University of Utah Do Honor to Their Representatives.

LEAVE FOR COLORADO TONIGHT.

Team Consists of Men Who Have Done Good Work in Previous Contests—Denver Debates Here.

To show them how thoroughly the college behind them the six men who are to represent the University of Utah in debate at Salt Lake with Denver and at Colorado Springs with Colorado college Friday evening next, were given an ovation this morning. At 11 o'clock the student body gathered in a mass assembly in the Museum building, and for an hour cheered for the debaters, listened to them talk, and heard two invited speakers, Representative William McCrea and Assistant County Attorney Hansen, discuss the place of debating in the college curriculum and in campus life. Mr. McCrea is a specialist in that line. While a student at the Salt Lake high school he founded the Salt Lake high school which met weekly for two years in the basement of the First Congregational church, and later when a student in Cornell university he served for several years on the teams of his Alma Mater. He compared debating to football, and gave it a place fully as high as that of the popular college sport. Football, he said, gave one self reliance, and trained one how to meet physical emergencies, but in the battle that came later in life it was the ready mind and trained manner of expression that was in demand. Both Mr. McCrea and Mr. Hansen narrated incidents of their college life to illustrate the importance of debating as a part of their college life. Hansen narrated incidents of their college life to illustrate the importance of debating as a part of their college life. Hansen narrated incidents of their college life to illustrate the importance of debating as a part of their college life.

DEBATERS LEAVE TONIGHT.

The debaters for the meet at Colorado Springs leave Salt Lake this evening over the Rio Grande Western. The team consists of Karl Hopkins, Dale Parke and Daniel Alexander. Parke and Alexander met Idaho university at Mountain View, and will leave for that place tomorrow night, and like all Utah teams in the foreign field, did not take the laurel. However, Utah has won once from Colorado college in Salt Lake, and if this debate is won, Utah will be the champion. If it is lost another debate will be necessary next year to settle the question. The first debate is "Resolved, That the closed shop system would be advantageous to American industry," and Utah supports the affirmative.

MEET WITH DENVER HERE.

While the Colorado debate is in progress across the mountains another debate will be in progress at the Salt Lake theater, in which the principals will be for Utah Henry Soule, Oscar Carlson, and Benjamin H. Volk. The question is "Resolved, That the Monroe doctrine should be abolished." The Denver men come prepared to put up a strong fight, and are fully coached in the details of the question by members of their faculty and friends of the team. In addition to the speeches an extensive musical program has been arranged for the event at the theater.

THE MOST COSTLY JEWEL IN EXISTENCE.

The great Premier diamond, heretofore illustrated, is by far the most precious jewel ever brought to light. It weighs 5,032 carats and measures 4 1/2 by 2 1/2 inches. It is valued at the incredible sum of $5,000,000. The Kohinoor, long the most famous of diamonds and now belonging to the British crown jewels.

weighed originally only 300 carats and is valued at $600,000. The Regent diamond of the Louvre in Paris weighs 136 carats and is worth $2,500,000. The great Orloff diamond, owned by the czar of Russia, weighs 135 carats and is cut in rose form.

Distress After Eating

Nausea between meals, belching, vomiting, flatulence, dist of nervous headache, pain in the stomach, are all symptoms of dyspepsia, and the longer it is neglected the harder it is to cure it.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Radically and permanently cure it—strengthen and tone the stomach and other digestive organs for the natural performance of their functions.
Accept no substitute for Hood's. "I had dyspepsia twenty-five years and took different medicines but got no help until I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Have taken four bottles of this medicine and can now eat almost anything, sleep well, have no cramps in my stomach, no burning or distress." Mrs. William G. Barker, 11 Olney St., Providence, R. I.
Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

WIFE DESERTED ON WEDDING DAY

Experience of Melissa Riddle, Who Now Seeks Decree of Divorce.

MARRIED ABOUT SIX YEARS AGO

Wants Maiden Name Restored, $75 Attorney's Fees and Costs Of Court.

Deserted on her wedding day shortly after the ceremony was performed, the experience of Melissa Riddle, who filed suit for divorce in the district court today against John P. Riddle, whom she married in this city on Sept. 21, 1898. Mrs. Riddle charges that her husband deserted her on the day of their marriage and has ever since lived separate and apart from her without any cause or reason. She also alleges that he has refused and failed to provide for her, hence she asks for a divorce and the custody of her child, Melissa Pitts, he restored to her, and that she recover $75 at attorney's fees and court costs.

FISHER SENTENCED.

Gets Eighteen Months for Embezzling Wells-Fargo Funds.

Peter Fisher was today sentenced by Judge Armstrong to 18 months in the state prison for the crime of embezzlement, of which he was convicted by a jury several days ago. Fisher was charged with embezzling over $200 of funds of the Wells-Fargo Express company while he was employed as its depot agent in this city.

JUDGE REED DECLINED.

In consequence, H. J. Dinnity Will Referee Meyer Case.

The supreme court today appointed Atty. H. J. Dinnity as referee to hear the charges in the disbarment proceedings against Atty. George W. Meyer and report the same to the court. Judge Christopher Reed, who was appointed as referee yesterday by the court, declined to accept the appointment to make another appointment.

The following cases were argued and submitted before the court today: Matilda Thacker, plaintiff vs. American Steam and Hand Laundry; Nepti Irrigation company vs. Samuel T. Vickers, appellant; Ransom Mining company vs. Allen G. Hanson, appellant.

SUIT WITHDRAWN.

Michael O'Hagin Changes His Mind in Action for Damages.

Michael O'Hagin has concluded not to collect $2,000 damages from the Silver King Consolidated Mining company, at least for the present. His suit to recover for personal injuries, which was begun yesterday in the Federal court, was withdrawn without prejudice this morning. It appears that the leading witness for O'Hagin could not be located, and as there was some divergence of opinion in the statements of other witnesses, it was deemed advisable to withdraw the suit. O'Hagin has the privilege of suing again should he desire to do so.

DIVORCE CASE DISMISSED.

The divorce case of William Lawrence against Grace Ford Lawrence, which was instituted in the district court on Oct. 28, 1904, was dismissed by Judge Morse today for the simple reason that Mrs. Lawrence had secured a divorce from Lawrence in Washington, D. C., shortly after the action was filed here. Lawrence charged his wife with desertion, and said that but for the winter killing of considerable wheat on the uplands, the county is doing remarkably well from an agricultural standpoint.

COURT NOTES.

Salt has been filed in the district court by Theresa L. Beck against Henry Meyer and wife to recover $370 alleged to be due as rent for a certain house and also $250 as damages for the loss of possession of the same from plaintiff.

L. P. Christensen has filed a petition in bankruptcy in the Federal court. He gives his occupation as a musician and his residence as Salt Lake City. His liabilities are stated at $2,856.32 and his assets at $2,684.32, of which he claims to be exempt.

Judge Lewis has rendered judgment in favor of plaintiff in the case of the Deseret National Bank against J. P. Hagman for the sum of $2,153.33, the amount found to be due on a promissory note executed by defendant in favor of plaintiff.

Judge Morse rendered a decree in favor of plaintiff today in the case of David L. Murdoch against Jane Doe Higham, deceased, quieting title to a part of block 32, plat G, Salt Lake City survey.

GOVERNMENT AFTER HIM

Brother of Senator Teller Charged With Unlawfully Cutting Timber.

(Special to the "News.")
Cheyenne, Wyo., May 10.—John C. Teller of Denver, brother of Senator C. M. Teller of Colorado, must face a trial in the United States court on a serious charge. Today the United States grand jury returned a true bill against Teller charging him with unlawfully cutting timber on the government domain in Carbon county, Wyoming.

It is alleged that Teller cut 100,000 feet of timber and sold it for $30,000. Teller has twice been arrested on similar charges and on one occasion he paid heavy damages and another time his ties were seized and sold by the government. It is also understood that Teller owes the government certain monies, on an old tie account.

BUSINESS NOTES.

Today's local bank clearings amounted to $111,135.19 as against $189,939.26 for the same day last year.

A copy of the articles of incorporation of the Madison-Chama Mining & Milling company of Bedford, Utah, was filed in the secretary of state's office today. Its capital stock is $50,000, divided into shares of the par value of 10 cents each. N. M. Maden is president; Dorn Chama, vice-president; Arthur Maden, secretary and treasurer. The company owns some claims in Nebo Basin, Sanpete county.

MAYBERRY CASE WILL NOT BLOWN.

Chances Are that Family Differences Will Again be Aired.

THIS TIME A CIVIL SUIT

Is Brought to Recover Purchase Price Of a Dress for Mr. Mayberry's Present Wife.

The family differences between Andrew P. Mayberry, a prominent mining man, and his former wife, Mary A. Mayberry, will again be aired in the courts. Mrs. Mayberry has filed a civil suit in the city court against her former husband to recover the total sum of $30.25, which she alleges she expended in purchasing a dress and having the same made for Mrs. Violet Beck, now the wife of Mr. Mayberry.

The complaint alleges that Mrs. Mayberry, on Dec. 24, 1903, at the instance and request of her husband, bought the dress for Mrs. Beck and had it made, paying for the same out of her own money. Her husband has refused to pay her for the money so expended upon her rival in his affections, so she now asks the court to give her judgment against him for the amount of $30.25. On the ground of desertion and since then Mayberry has married Mrs. Beck. On the ground of domestic troubles, Mrs. Mayberry attempted to commit suicide shortly before she secured her divorce, but her life was saved by prompt action on the part of some of her neighbors, who discovered her condition and summoned a doctor.

LATE LOCALS.

Alvin Beasley has gone to New York on a business trip.

Manager Fisher Harris of the Commercial club will be home Friday.

C. A. Quigley has gone on a two weeks' business trip to South Bend, Ind.

Mrs. Percy T. Sadler and children leave on the 11th to spend the summer in California.

J. E. and S. M. Hamberger leave this evening over the Salt Lake route for Delmar, Nev.

The ground floor front of the Scott-Strevel building on East Temple street is being entirely remodelled.

Daren Vogel of Berlin, a German architect, is at the Knutsford on route to the Pacific coast.

Postmaster A. L. Thomas was taken suddenly ill this morning at the office and was compelled to go home.

A conference of the Relief Society of the Jordan stake will be held at Sandy on Monday, May 15, at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m.

The state board of equalization will again be meeting next Monday, and preparations for the same are being made.

Bad roads are reported as the prevailing thing out in the country which interferes with teaming so as to shut off certain classes of shipments.

Charles Crane has returned from his Chicago trip. He says the weather down east was most unpleasant, and he is glad enough to get back to Utah.

The Burlington office will sell teachers excursion tickets to far eastern points May 27 and 29, and June 3, 5, 10, and 12, at one fare plus $2 for the round trip.

Sheepmen report that the weather has delayed the migration of sheep fully six weeks as ewes have been driven to more suitable locations for lambing and they will not be sheared until afterwards.

The ball and social given last night at Salt Lake by J. H. A. had was a success. Six hundred pleasure seekers went out there and danced to very good music until after 11 p. m. The method of enclosing the pavilion was much admired.

S. M. Shattuck, the dean of the Denver railroad office, and who has represented the B. & O. railroad system since the time when the memory of man runneth not to the contrary, is in the city for more, and all the sleeping interests of his eastern constituents.

Proprietor Mulford of the White House indignantly denies the allegation in a morning paper to the effect that the two girls arrested for stealing shoes were employees of the White House. He says it is the vilest piece of dream of a superstitious imagination.

With the arrival of three cars of marble from Vermont, the full complement of 12 cars for the federal building will have been received. The settlers are busy placing the marble in position, and the first floor corridors are rapidly assuming the appearance of a palace.

William Dart of the Burlington office in this city, has been promoted to be traveling freight agent, and his former place as traveling passenger agent will be taken tomorrow, by Robert N. Russell of the Northwestern office. Mr. Dart has made an excellent record in his recent field.

The Salt Lake route passenger department has today a large car time table. The westbound daily passenger train is designated the Los Angeles Express; and the eastbound train from Los Angeles is known as the Salt Lake Express. The card is neatly gotten up, and the information from it can be gathered very quickly.

The Salt Lake route will have a big train load of passengers this evening, the indications being for 150 people, if not more, and all the sleeping accommodations have been spoken for. Among the passengers on this outward bound train will be Mrs. S. D. Evans, Mrs. G. H. Hancock, Mrs. M. F. Allen, Mrs. M. W. Hall, Mrs. Alexander, and J. W. McEwan leave tomorrow night for southern California.

NOTICE.

This certifies that I will not be responsible for any accounts with Mrs. Minnie Wiechert may run after May 1, 1905.

IMMENSE DAMAGE DONE BY FLOODS

Reservoir Gives Way, Destroying Property Near St. Johns, Arizona.

OTHER TOWNS ALSO AFFECTED.

Country Generally Has Suffered Severely Through Similar Occurrences.

Special Correspondence.
St. Johns, Apache Co., Ariz., May 3.—The big reservoir dam, six miles south of St. Johns, failed yesterday about 1 p. m. The water found its way through the dam, and every effort made to save it was in vain. As the report reached town horsemen and conveyances went flying through the streets in the wildest confusion. The wind was also blowing a hurricane.

Very quickly the household effects of those living in the lower part of town were moved to higher ground, and then most of the people went upon the hills above town, braced up against the furious gale and waited for the flood.

The dam was commenced about 11 years ago. It was built of rock below and earth above, was 504 feet high and 26 feet wide on top. The lowest estimate places the cost at $200,000. A force of men have worked on the dam all winter and spring, expending about $4,000 in labor. A second overflow was completed just the day before the failure. The two were carrying off an immense volume of water, and nearly every one felt that the reservoir was safe. The water was 41 feet deep and the volume was more than 25,000 acre feet.

The flood was immense. To the north and east of town it appeared like a sea of angry water. Had it been a foot or two deeper the entire country would have been done in lower St. Johns. As it is a half dozen or more of small Mexican adobe houses were washed down the river. The number also in the narrow valley between the town and reservoir. Other houses in town were damaged. The damage to ditches and in the fields north and northeast of here cannot now be estimated but it will be considerable.

We fear for the safety of Woodruff and Mexico, lying respectively 30 and 65 miles below here. The water was dispatched at once to Showlake to warn those towns by wire of the danger.

It has been an unprecedented winter and spring for the amount of snow and rainfall. Besides the above our stake has sustained the loss of several other reservoirs this spring. The large reservoir at Jannah, New Mexico, went out April 24, and just prior to that date the big one at Bluewater, New Mexico, and the one at Santa Fe, New Mexico, failed. Edmond Nelson's reservoir near Springville, Arizona, gave way recently, and the dam of the Meadows reservoir, which was about half a section, was cut yesterday just before the floods reached it. The dam, 10 miles below here, belonging to the Utah Reclamation company, the one that failed last September, went out again on April 25. It had been under reconstruction since Dec. 14 last and cost $4,000. President D. K. Udall and other brethren have spent the entire winter and spring on it and have endured many hardships.

SMOOTH GRAFTER LANDED IN JAIL.

Arrested for Vagrancy but is Suspected of Having Stolen a $100 Diamond.

CAVE THE NAME OF BROWNING.

Protested His Innocence but Answers The Description of the Man Wanted.

This afternoon Officer Ed Davies arrested an alleged grafter and diamond lifter, who gave the name of James Browning.

The man is about 40 years of age, tall and well built and of rather distinguished appearance. Although he took his arrest coolly he tried hard to convey the impression that he was a most shamefully abused man.

"I insist upon seeing the chief," he said with a great show of dignity. He was informed that the chief was not in, and Officer Davies was told to lock the man in a private cell.

Davies searched the prisoner and took from him some books, papers, a few dollars in silver and some jewelry. As Davies started to jail with Browning the latter said: "Wait; here is something you overlooked." He then drew from an inside pocket of his vest a pocketbook containing $71 in greenbacks.

Davies hooked the man on the charge of vagrancy, but he is being held upon the more serious charge of participating in the theft of a diamond valued at $100, the property of L. P. Wright of Detroit, Mich. The theft occurred a few days ago at the R. G. W. depot, and Browning answers the description of one of the men who committed the offense. He has been in Salt Lake some time, and according to the police he has been regarded as a shady character. At one time he was a bartender here. Officer Davies says he is positive the man is a grafter, and that he was connected with the diamond robbery.
