The church building is at 232 West Third North street, and the regular services are, Sunday school at 9:30 a. m., and preaching service at 8 p. m.

Mr. Edwards sent the figures for 1906, which are a total of 546. For 1907, the figures were: 606 from northern Italy and 365 from southern Italy.

Soldiers on Hike—Four companies of the Fifteenth Infantry in heavy marching order, under Major Arrasmith, started on their hike to Ogden this morning, accompanied by six quartermaster's wagons well filled with provisions. They marched down South Temple street to Second West street, and thence north to the county road. Six days are the allotted time for the march.

Mayor Approves Issue—Mayor Bradford Hunt affixed his signature to the bond issue ordinance, and expects to leave today for a visit to California. The ordinance will be published in three papers of Salt Lake City, until the date fixed for the special election, which is July 23. On July 30 the council will meet for the purpose of fixing the rate of assessment for the year.

Engineers to Meet—The Utah Society of Engineers will meet in regular session at the physics building of the state university, under the leadership of R. S. McCaffrey, metallurgical director of the Knight companies, will read a paper on "Slag Construction," and Leonard Wilson, manager of the General Electric company, will deliver a short address on "Transformer Houses for Mines." To Adopt Deserted Babe—A baby boy, apparently about six weeks old, was left on the doorstep of the residence of T. E. Miles, 523 Seventh East, late Thursday night. Shortly after midnight a loud knock came at the door, and when Mr. Miles opened it, he saw a man running from the place. The occupant of the house found a bundle lying at his feet, and the precious contents of the same were soon revealed to him. The baby was a child who will be adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Miles.

Pickpocket at Races—Pickpockets were at work at the Salt Lake track last evening and one victim, Gustav Brink, 658 East Third South street, reported to the police that a "dip" had relieved him of a Watery 15-jewel watch, valued at $25. The watch was taken from Brink during the crush after the races. He noticed a man crowding against him several times, and then the fellow disappeared. Brink is quite certain the man stole his watch. He gave the police a description of the supposed pickpocket.

Children and Matches—The dangerous combination of children and matches caused a $200 fire at the residence of William Fuller, 742 South Seventh East street, yesterday afternoon. It is believed that children were playing with matches in a clothes closet and set the place on fire. The blaze was discovered by the father, who was sitting on the front porch. He was suddenly made aware of the fact that the house was full of smoke. He quickly turned in an alarm and the apparatus from No. 10 station, under the direction of Asst. Chief Crosby, responded. The damage to the contents is estimated at $100, and a like amount to the building. Both are covered by insurance.

IRRIGATION DAM BREAKS AT MALAD

Deep Creek Reservoir Sends Its Waters Rushing Down On the Town.

DAMAGE PLACED AT $75,000.

Bridge Dynamited to Save Property—Livestock Perish, Crops Ruined by Wall of Water 20 Feet High.

(Special to the "News.")

Malad, Idaho, June 20.—By the breaking of the Deep Creek dam, nine miles above this city yesterday, $75,000 in damage to crops, animals and loss of water is estimated. An area of over three miles square was inundated. With the breaking of the dam a wall of water from between 15 to 20 feet high surged down the valley carrying all before it.

The farmers estimate $30,000 damage alone in the loss of the water for irrigating purposes. Just how much it will cost to rebuild the dam is problematical. In its wild rush down the valley the water carried away a number of cattle, horses, hogs and chickens, nearly all of which were drowned.

In the Malad business district practically every cellar is full of water this morning. T. M. Thomas & Sons are the heaviest losers as the biggest part of their stock in the basement is ruined by water. They place their loss at $2,000. Cigars and other stock in the cellars of the saloons here also suffered while the creek out in the fields represent practically a total loss. The fields are cut up into deep waterways and rocks and debris are scattered broadcast.

No lives were lost because the people had ample warning. When it was demonstrated that the waters could not pass under the Malad bridge, in order to save the business section of the town, as the waters rapidly backed up and spread broadcast, the Oregon Short Line railroad bridge stood the shock to the extent that it was only slightly moved. This stalled the train about a mile from Malad.

The reservoir was built nine years ago at a cost of $100,000. The dam is some 250 feet wide and 50 feet high in the center.

BORN IN IOWA.

Our family were all born and raised in Iowa and have used the Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy (made at Des Moines) for years. We know how good it is from long experience in the use of it. In fact, when in El Paso, Texas, the writer's life was saved by the prompt use of this remedy. We are now engaged in the mercantile business at Narcoossee, Fla., and have introduced the remedy here. It has proven very successful in constantly growing in favor.—E. B. Bros. This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

Seventeenth Ward Chapel Scene of An Impressive Gathering—Tributes From Six Speakers.

The funeral of Amos Howe in the Seventeenth ward chapel yesterday was the occasion of an outpouring of the friends and relatives of the deceased who assembled to pay tribute to his memory by their presence and the offering of beautiful flowers. AMOS HOWE.
Following the prayer by D. F. Davis, Walter J. Beattie, who was the speaker, Elder Beattie dwelt at length upon the great talents of the deceased. As an associate for many years he was witness of his sterling business integrity and generosity.

Elder John T. Chaine followed and declared that he always considered it an honor to have the friendship of such men as Amos Howe. Then, drawing into biography he set forth that the deceased was a native of New York City, being born Feb. 19, 1830. He lived and worked in New York, and was present at St. Louis, Mo., when Amos Howe was wedded to his wife Julia Crane, in the spring of 1851. The speaker emphasized the fact that the deceased lived and died a faithful Latter-day Saint.

Elder C. B. Felt spoke of his father's friendship for Amos Howe and said his father had been associated ecclesiastically with him in early days in St. Louis, and that he always spoke in the most affectionate manner about him.

Elder George Albert Smith spoke of the high esteem and affectionate friendship his father, John Henry Smith, had for Amos Howe, and he said the Howe family were away from home and could not be present when his dear friend was laid to rest.

Elder Heber J. Grant was the next speaker and said sometimes he had not a very pleasant duty to perform in solacing financial aid for the church. But always without a single exception whenever he called on Amos Howe he was graciously received. Elder Howe's liberality was unbounded he said and was accompanied by a "God bless you Brother Grant and may you meet with success in your labors."

Elder Grant related an instance that occurred not long ago in St. Louis it was the occasion of a state banquet in honor of the governor of Missouri, the mayor of St. Louis and other state officials. Elder Grant being among the guests on the occasion, the friends of Amos Howe discussed his life and character.

Elder Grant being among the guests on the occasion, the friends of Amos Howe discussed his life and character. He was selected to build the great St. Louis bridge and that he would have stood at the head of his profession in the United States and been a multi-millionaire. But Amos Howe sacrificed all those opportunities for the sake of his religion and came to Utah in 1844.

Bishop P. S. Tingey, who was the closing remainer, exhorted the few deceased. He said he had been the most liberal donor to the church of any member of the ward. He spoke of the faithfulness and devotion of Amos Howe and in behalf of the family thanked all friends for their great kindness during his illness.

Burial was offered by Elder Aurilins Miner.

Six grandsons were the pallbearers, George E. Howe Jr., Edgar Howe Jr., Amos B. Howe, Charles B. Howe, Harold T. Howe and Crusto T. Howe.

The 40 employees of Davis Howe & Co., led the funeral procession in the drag Salt Lake City, followed by the hearse and a large number of carriages.

Amos Howe has been the manager of the firm of Davis Howe & Co. since the firm was organized in 1873. This firm has always been recognized for the promptness and reliability of the work turned out to the mining and other industries of the state. Amos Howe was born in New York City, and including his sons Edgar Howe and C. R. Howe of Salt Lake City, George Howe of Provo, and his three daughters, Julia M., Cora M., and Amy M. Howe.
