More conservative ones are not so sanguine about it and declare that there will be a reaction from the flurry noted during today's early rally. It was very evident from the way things ran along during the early part of the day that the "short" element on the exchange had not "covered," and the news from the east that the clouds in the financial skies appear to be breaking, caused them to get into action. Lower Manmoth, May Day, Uncle Sam Consolidated, Colorado and Black Jack all went higher. South Columbia Consolidated closed lower, while Seven Troughs held its own. Ohio Copper held on the open board at $2.30 and Aspen Valley at $1. The closing quotations and sales were:
