Distinguished Stranger Father of Two Of the Most Renowned Young Surgeons of the Day.

That the Groves L. D. S. hospital in this city is the most modern in existence, and the best equipped from a standpoint, except size, is the every declaration of Dr. William W. Mayo, declaration of the foremost surgeons of the world.

Dr. Mayo was a visitor in Salt Lake during this week, and after looking over the hospital he called on the President of the Board of Trustees where he said to President Smith that he considered the L. D. S. hospital the very best he has ever had the pleasure of visiting, and he has visited all of the principal American hospitals.

Dr. Mayo, according to local physicians, is perhaps the most famous man in surgery now alive. With his name in surgery, he has been in the forefront of the profession for many years. He is a native of Minnesota, and he has been in the forefront of the profession for many years.

ELY A SWIFT TOWN. It is an Example of Modern Mining Camp Habits.

A letter from a young Salt Lake surveyor working near Ely, to his mother in this city, says: "If anybody wants to see a swift town, let him come to Ely. The town is full of gambling houses and it is interesting to watch the different games that are played. The way money flies from one hand to another is a sight. One man walked in, and before long he had lost $1,000. He didn't seem to mind it much, and he walked away with a lot of money. There are a few Chinese here who play stud poker. The gambler who runs the establishment has had thousands of dollars stacked up on the different tables. One man lost $1,500, but in five minutes more he was that much richer. The best hotel in the place has just been completed. They made us a bed on the floor, for which we were charged $1 each. Prices are very high here. We are charged $10 for being carried to the hotel on a good, level road, and we were also charged $1 each for 140 miles on the train."

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL. Few People Know How Useful It Is In Preserving Health and Beauty.

Costs Nothing to Try.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose. Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines, and carries them out of the system. Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking and after eating onions and other odorous vegetables. Charcoal effectively clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic. It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disintegrates the mucus and throat from the poison of catarrh. All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal is the most for the money in the form of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, or other harmless, which is in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey. The daily use of these lozenges will result in a much improved complexion, sweeter breath, and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but, on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician, in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion, I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but 25 cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, I believe I get charcoal lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets." If there is one member of the human system that will pay you back in full measure for all the injury you do it, it is the teeth. Neglect is worse than experimenting with worthless dentifrices. Both will hasten the day of bitter regret.

Stand by SOZODONT and your teeth will stand by you.

were largely attended by relatives and friends of the departed. Music for the occasion was furnished by the Eighteenth ward quartet, composed of Messrs. George D. Peyer, H. G. Whitney, J. D. Spencer and H. S. Ensign, and by Mrs. Lizzie Thomas Edward, and at the grave the latter with Miss Mabel Cooper and Prof. Evan Stephens rendered a selection. Elders C. M. Nielsen, Martin Christopherson, President Anthon H. Lund and Bishop T. A. Clawson were the speakers of the occasion. Mrs. Olsen was spoken of as a truly good woman. For many years, in her native country, she furnished hospitality to the missionaries, and her kindness was remembered with gratitude.

Mrs. Olsen was born at Asker, Norway, May 16, 1832, and was the daughter of Simon Simonson and Marie Olsen Simonson. She was baptized into the Church Feb. 5, 1851. She died in this city Jan. 8, 1907.

Dr. T. B. Beatty Makes Suggestions in Biennial Report of State Board.

SCHEDULES RADICAL CHANGES

Cousins and Persons Suffering From Consumption and Other Diseases Should Not Wed, He Declares.

If the recommendations made by Dr. T. B. Beatty in the biennial report of the state board of health, are acted upon by the coming legislature, the marriage laws of Utah will receive radical revision.

Dr. Beatty gives to the governor the figures and recommendations growing out of many years of study in the state, and among the conclusions submitted is one that consanguinity should be prohibited from marrying on account of the fact that statistics show feeble minded children to be frequently the result of such marriages. Another recommendation is that people suffering from tuberculosis, epilepsy and active venereal diseases be prohibited from marrying for the reason that children are well known to inherit such disease from their parents. The final recommendation in this field is that feeble minded people, of whom 134 are said to live in the state, be given a state home where their minds may be developed to the limit of their abilities. The institution is meant to differ materially from the one now located at Provo, in that an effort will be made to make it partly self-sustaining through the operation of shops, and farms, and partly through fees assessed against the families of the various charges admitted for treatment.

In supporting the contention in favor of these changes, Dr. Beatty submits figures showing that there are many feeble minded people in the state who are the issue of marriages between the near in kin, some of the most serious cases being absolute imbeciles.

At a meeting of the State Medical society, called for next Wednesday in the City and County building, the propositions included in the report will be discussed, and the net result transmitted to the governor for his consideration or for use in connection with his message to the legislature.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE. Night Jailor Sperry Cuts Down "Doc" Lane in His Cell.

Night Jailor Sperry of the county jail entered the cell of Doc Lane, alias James Daly, just in time last night to prevent the man from committing suicide by hanging himself to the bars of the cell window by his bedclothes. The man, who is 32 years of age, had tied one end of a piece of blanket to the bars of the window and the other around his neck and was just about to jump off of his cot and strangle himself to death when the jailor entered the door of the cell. He quickly cut the strip of blanket and released the man from his position. All articles with which the man might attempt to take his life were removed from the cell. Lane and his pal, John Martin, were taken to the county jail yesterday from the city jail and are charged with burglary. Their room at the American House was searched yesterday and a large quantity of stolen plunder was found. The men confessed to the police and deputy sheriffs that they had committed at least a half dozen burglaries in the past few weeks at Brigham Junction and had stolen money, whisky, hardware, harness, iron tools, razors, a buggy and other articles which they intended to sell.

Board of Public Works Decides to Pave Third West Street.

A special meeting of the board of public works was held yesterday afternoon at which it was decided to pave Third West street from North Temple to Third South with asphaltum so that the two new depots would be connected by a paved street. This action was taken upon request of the Oregon Short Line company. This improvement is a very timely one as Third West street is traveled a great deal in passing back and forth from depot to depot and is always in a very bad condition in the winter time. The matter of advertising notice of intention to make the improvement will be submitted to the council Monday night.

The board also decided to take action at once towards macadamizing Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Seventh and Eighth East streets from South Temple to Third South street, which has been discussed before. Sixth East has been macadamized and the property owners on the streets mentioned are ready to have those streets improved also. The board will convene to the city council on Monday night that advertising of notice of intention to make the improvement be commenced at once.

No action was taken by the board in regard to the claim of P. J. Moran for a bonus for conducting the Hill town road conduit ahead of contract time, further than it was laid over until Monday afternoon when a clock upon request of Mr. Halloran and at that time it will be disposed of finally. Mr. Moran was present at the meeting yesterday.

Contractor J. W. Perdelv asked the board to release him from his contract for laying watermain owing to the fact that he was unable to secure material in time to complete the work under his contract. He is several miles behind in his work and the board has had considerable trouble with him on that account. He wants the city to purchase water pipes and material he has on hand. This the board refuses to do but it will release him from contract where no work has yet been commenced.

HOTEL GOSSIP.

Echo of Bromway Tragedy—When Lillian Bromway, who shot herself to death in the Wilson Thursday afternoon, first entered the place she registered as Mrs. C. H. Beggs. This and the name of Lillian Bromway appeared on the register above the name of Mrs. C. H. Beggs of Denver. C. H. Beggs says she was not his wife but explains that he has known her and her relatives for many years. He says he met Mrs. Bromway at the Union depot in Denver and she told him that she was leaving for Salt Lake. They had berths of the same Pullman and Beggs told the woman Denver and in western afternoon when he and her mother who lives in this city, in the evening. He then left her and went to the Wilson. He noticed that her name was written on the book and was curious to know if he had left her but a few minutes before; she supposedly, going to her mother's. Mr. Beggs says Mrs. Bromway appeared nervous and was on route to Salt Lake, and explains that she was often morose. That after sending his card up twice, that Mr. Beggs determined to see Mrs. Bromway and investigation lead to a gruesome discovery.

Mrs. Lillian Bromway was well known in Denver. She married Hugh Bromway, 70 years old and with an independent income. There was a 50 years difference in the ages of the man and wife when they separated. C. H. Beggs is also well known in Denver and in western afternoon when he owns a large ranch. Mrs. Bromway was buried yesterday.

His Name Was Takeoff—C. E. Eddy, the poet-prospector is at the Wilson. Mr. Eddy is an old Salt Lake newspaper man but is now engaged in mining. He is a native of Idaho and from the central portion of Idaho and has a number of great claims there, he said today. "There is no boom on in Idaho at the present time, but quiet development is proving the country a wonder." Mr. Eddy has pieces of quartz spotted with particles of free gold. He has one specimen that shows a tell tale sign of it. He has established a number of newspapers—most of them in Idaho and Washington. As I left them while they were in their infancy yet ago they are still in prosperous existence. I remember a funny thing which happened in a country town where I had established a little paper. There was another paper in the town and it promptly began to start a crusade against me. The editor thought out a scheme of publishing the pictures and brief histories of the town's most prominent residents so much so that the editor skipped, leaving the office—well the office was all left.

Don Porter's Exhibit—"Occasionally we notice unusual things in this business," said "mine host," Don Porter, proprietor of the Kenyon hotel yesterday afternoon. "For instance there are two trunks at the house and two names cover the half dozen," he continued. "Both names are unusual, Griener and Grioux, and not one of the persons are related to each other. One is a traveling man, representing a soda water fountain firm in Chicago; Theodore Griener is from Atlantic City and W. L. Griener is the newly appointed traveling agent of the Colorado & Southern in this city. E. V. Grioux is Florence Roberts' manager; E. G. Grioux is a mining man from Ely, Nev., and A. Grioux is a traveling man, representing the laws of the Mormon Church today such marriages were not permitted, and that the parties contracting them knew they were violating civil law and the Church law, and for that reason all of these marriages had been consummated in Canada."

Hotel Employees' Ball—The Salt Lake hotel employees arranged a dancing party at the Salt Palace Thursday evening. A committee, selected to make arrangements comprised M. F. Kennedy, E. B. Perry, C. A. Lind, F. W. Lusk and Symons. Over 200 couples were present. Pretty programs contributed to defray the expenses of the entertainment which is to be repeated within a short time.

Randolph Venable—George Arbogast, a former resident of Salt Lake, but now in business in Pioche, Nev., is in Salt Lake and staying at the Wilson. While registering, an action was discovered that Randolph Venable, the clerk behind the desk, was none other than the Randolph Venable he had known for years—about the friendship commenced 36 years ago. In 1873 and for many years after, Mr. Arbogast conducted a restaurant in Salt Lake which was supplied by oysters from a Baltimore concern. Venable, Mr. Arbogast is now engaged in the assaying business in Pioche and Mr. Venable has built up a reputation throughout the west by being one of the best hotel men in the intermountain country. Both men hide their age extremely well and after several persons about the corridor had listened to their stories about old days opened an age-guessing game, in an unsuccessful effort to learn Mr. Venable's age.

IN BEHALF OF SENATOR SMOOT

Senator Hopkins Opens Case for The Defense in a Most Able Speech.

AN UNANSWERABLE ARGUMENT

If Members of Christian Church to be Charged With Crimes Done in its Name, Who Could Sit in Senate?

Washington, Jan. 11.—The first speech in defense of the right of Reed Smoot to a seat in the senate was delivered today by Senator Hopkins of Illinois. Mr. Hopkins took the position that senators were not federal officers to the extent that the senate could pass upon their qualifications and eligibility or cease effort to impeach Senator Blount means. If a senator was to be punished it must be done by the state or federal courts. Only the federal officers, he maintained, were impeachable, and this impeachment must be for acts committed as such federal officers. The precedent cited was the unsuccessful effort to impeach Senator Blount of Tennessee, charged with treasonable correspondence with a foreign nation, more than 100 years ago. The conclusion then, Mr. Hopkins said, had never been reached, that was that the senate had no right to try the case, as Senator Blount was not an officer of the United States.

Mr. Hopkins said it was unnecessary for him to multiply evidence to demonstrate his point that individual states have no power to add any qualifications to a senator other than those prescribed by the federal constitution. Referring directly to Mr. Smoot, he continued: "It is conceded by the chairman of the committee on privileges and elections that Senator Smoot possesses all the qualifications spoken of in the constitution itself. It is also conceded, not only by the able chairman of the committee, but I think by all who are familiar with the case, that Senator Smoot is not a polygamist; that he has never married a plural wife and has never practiced polygamy; that he is a man in his personal relations as son, as husband, father and citizen above reproach; that in all of the relations of citizenship he has lived a singularly pure and upright life."

"Why, then," he asked, "should he be expelled from this body, disgraced and dishonored for life, a stigma placed upon his children, his own life wrecked and the happiness of his wife destroyed? He is a Christian gentleman, and his religious belief has taken him to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, commonly called the Mormon Church."

Mr. Hopkins said he felt sure those representing the protestants would not contend that there was an apostolic oath which had been taken by Mr. Smoot, in Idaho, which would prevent him from discharging his duties as senator. Mr. Hopkins sympathized, he said, with the denunciation of polygamy made by Mr. Burrows in a recent speech. It was, he said, a relic of a barbarous age and a destroyer of the ideal American home, and he had no sympathy with the practice.

He went on before in the history of the government," he declared, with great emphasis, "has the previous life or career of a senator been called in question to determine whether he should remain in the senate or not."

"If members of any Christian church were to be charged with all of the crimes that have been committed in its name, where is the Christian gentleman in this body who would be safe in his seat?"

An extended history of the Mormon Church was given by Mr. Hopkins, who concluded that the testimony taken before the committee showed a radical change for the better, and that Senator Smoot represented the higher and better Mormonism. He denied that the protestants had any good in any of the charges against Mr. Smoot. After reviewing the charges and the arguments to sustain them at length, Mr. Hopkins said that with the declaration that he would be false to his oath as a senator if he voted to expel Mr. Smoot from the senate.

Mr. Beveridge supplemented Mr. Hopkins' speech by a statement that the country should be informed that Mr. Smoot was not nor ever had been a polygamist.

Senator Fulton asked Mr. Hopkins whether the Mormon church had recognized the 20 polygamous marriages which the evidence showed had taken place since the manifesto of 1890.

Mr. Hopkins said the church had not recognized these marriages; that under the laws of the Mormon Church today such marriages were not permitted, and that the parties contracting them knew they were violating civil law and the Church law, and for that reason all of these marriages had been consummated in Canada.

Mr. Dubois asked if Mr. Smoot had done anything to bring these persons to justice.

Mr. Hopkins held that there was no more obligation on Mr. Smoot in this respect than on anyone else. He maintained that Mr. Smoot had, in his position in the Church, done more to stamp out polygamy than any thousand other men, and yet you propose to punish him for this by expelling him from the senate.

Mr. Dubois wanted to know where and when Mr. Smoot had ever publicly placed himself on record as condemning polygamy.

Mr. Hopkins replied that Senator Smoot had 20 or 40 times stated his position before the committee and that his whole life and every fibre of his being was a protest against polygamy. It was not necessary, he maintained, for Mr. Smoot to shake his fist in the face of any man and announce his position, nor was it necessary for him to rise in the tabernacle and denounce President Smith of the Mormon Church.

"The senator himself," replied Mr. Hopkins, "dare not stand up here on this floor and say that he is a polygamist. Reed Smoot has not been a persistent opponent of the practice of polygamy."

Mr. Dubois demanded to have pointed out in the committee testimony where Mr. Smoot had stated his position. Mr. Hopkins, however, took his seat, and Mr. Cullum was recognized to call up the legislative appropriation bill, and no answer was made by Mr. Dubois.

MRS. ADDIE HARDING, 810 Court street, Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "I have been a user of Peruna for the last twelve years and can truthfully say that there is no better medicine on earth. 'With me it is a sure preventive for colds and many other ills. In my home can always be found a bottle of Peruna. Two or three times a year I am troubled with my throat. 'I always had to have the services of my physician two or three times in each case. 'Although a user of Peruna, I never thought of taking it for my throat until about two years ago. 'I tried Peruna to check it, and to my great delight I was not troubled with the smothered and choked feeling and never have since. 'I can check it every time with Peruna. 'I certainly would not be without Peruna one minute.' The fight against consumption is becoming a national problem. Everywhere we hear of sanitariums established at the expense of the state for the treatment of the vast army of consumptives. The open air treatment, fresh air and sunlight, are recognized by the medical profession generally as being the greatest necessities in the treatment of consumption in all of its stages. Dr. Hartman has for many years advocated the fresh air treatment for consumption.
