LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Primary Associations.—The officers of the Primary Associations of this Stake will meet on Wednesday, Nov. 21st, at 3 p. m., at the residence of Mrs. Fanny Y. Thatcher, 18th Ward.

E. C. CLAWSON, Pres't Ilent.

Accidents.—Several days ago, a nine-year old son of Ether Coltrin, of Wood's Cross, while walking over a flume which crossed a hollow, fell a distance of nine feet and broke his left arm in two places.

A five-year old son of Andrew Jensen, Esq., editor of Morgenstjernen, narrowly escaped serious injury this morning. He was standing at the head of a team in front of this office, when the horses were suddenly turned, and the little fellow was knocked down and trampled on, but no bones broken.

U. P. Agent.—To-day we had the pleasure of a call from Wm. C. Borland, Esq, the gentlemanly agent of the passenger and ticket departments of the U. P. Railway in this city. He expresses regret at the disagreeable occurrences named by the News in connection with the last company of immigrants. He has taken steps to prevent the recurrence of anything of the same nature in future.

Hand in a Hay-cutter.—A painful accident occurred on Wednesday morning at the farm of Brother James Johnston, in Sugar House Ward. His two sons, Hugh and James M., aged nine and twelve years respectively, were out early in the morning using the hay-cutter to chop up some feed for the horses. The youngest, Hugh, by some mischance got his left hand under the knife of the machine and had it lacerated in a shocking manner. The little finger was barely missed, the third was all but taken off entirely, the second cut through and hanging by a cord and a shred of skin, and the first finger cut through close to the joint, but not so badly but it could be saved. The thumb was badly mangled, but no bones of it broken. The boy was brought immediately to town by his father, and Dr. W. F. Anderson attended to the case. The two fingers so nearly severed were removed, and the other wounds properly dressed, and it is thought the youthful patient will get along as well as could be reasonably expected.

AFTER THE WRONG TOOTH.

PUCK'S LATEST AND MOST LAUGHABLE PERPETRATION.

Puck for November 7th, has a cartoon frontispiece which is about the cruelest thing on poor Uncle Sam that that ungrateful child of his ever attempted. The old gentleman of the proverbial beaver hat and striped pantaloons, is seated in a chair at the Washington Dental Rooms, (where "S. S. Cox's mild and harmless laughing gas" is advertised) with bandaged head, open mouth and an expression of agony on his quivering and distorted features, that would do credit to the crater of Mt. Vesuvius.

He is waiting the extraction of a huge tooth, seemingly as sound as a bell, with no visible defect save that of being a great deal longer, stronger and sharper than the others, and inscribed with the one word, "Mormonism." Evidently the best tooth in the old gentleman's head.

From the left of the picture protrude a pair of eager hands, the cuffs of which are labelled respectively "Senate" and "House of Representatives." The latter, or right hand, clutches nervously a pair of forceps, on which is written "Heroic Measures," and the points of which curl inward like a vulture's beak or the claws of a pickled lobster.

The right cheek of the patient (the "Mormon" tooth being on the left) is swollen to an immense size, and to that part of his facial contour, apparently the seat of pain, poor Uncle Samuel applies his right hand, while the left supports the elbow, with an expression of alarm most painful to behold. The dentist is evidently near-sighted and is about to draw the wrong tooth, (the healthy one named "Mormonism", a circumstance which will readily account for the graphic look of consternation on the patient's countenance.

Underneath the picture are the words: "Rotten to the Core," evidently intended for Uncle Sam, whose right cheek it must be admitted, does present a decidedly unhealthy appearance. At any rate it seems an act of charity and benevolence to separate the sound tooth "Mormonism" from contact with its decaying associates. Uncle Sam, at this juncture, evidently has some such idea himself, as expressed in his remark, "I suppose I must have the derned * thing out—only, pull it easy."

This is undoubtedly the meaning of the cartoon and the manifest intention of the artist. Anyhow the thing as it stands is a large sized compliment to "Mormonism," reflecting additional lustre on Mr. Keppler's genius, though dealing a "swashing blow" at Uncle Sam and the ulcerated condition of the sunrise jaw of the Republic.

*Vide Webster for dern—hidden, concealed; referring of course to the half visible swelling on the right cheek.

"Lena the Madcap."—Another large house, larger even than on the preceding night, attended the second performance of the Katie Putnam troupe last evening. "Lena the Madcap" is a piece that contains in a large degree the elements of popularity, that is with the masses. It "took" amazingly, although played here before, and kept the audience in a continuous effervescence of merriment, relieved at frequent intervals by strokes of pathos and suggestions of stronger acting.

Miss Putnam's changes from mirth to tears, from childhood to womanhood, etc, were very finely drawn, and it is this rapid versatility of genius which is one of the main and meritorious features of her acting. She was well supported, and the play slid along smoothly with that easy glide and finish which only comes from careful rehearsals and oft repeated presentation.

To-night the old favorite the "Child of the Regiment" will be produced, the closing piece of the engagement and second to none in attraction.

Death of President Rich.—A telegram from Paris, Bear Lake, received last evening by the family of Apostle Charles C. Rich in this city, stated that he had been in convulsions since half past 3 o'clock, and that there was no hope of his recovery.

Later advices stated that the aged veteran was insensible all last night.

The following telegram came over the wires at 2.55 p. m. to-day:

PARIS, Idaho, Nov. 17.

Charles C. Rich died at half-past 2 o'clock this afternoon. He remained unconscious from the time convulsions began last evening, until death.

Instruction Classes.—The Twenty-first Ward has now three classes in operation for the teaching of the doctrines of the Gospel to the young on the method laid down in the "Preceptor." One is taught by Bishop Allen, another by Counselor A. N. McFarlane, and the third, composed of the younger members, by Brother Robert Aveson. The young men composing the classes are taking a commendable interest in the systematic exercises, and bid fair to make good progress. Steps are being taken to establish a similar class in the Fourth Ward.

President Taylor and Party.—Different members of the President's party, which left here yesterday morning for the south, held meetings in various places in Sanpete Stake, last evening, President Taylor himself being at Ephraim. The party are expected back early next week.

A LITTLE TOO FAMILIAR.—Mgr. Capel was asked what struck him most forcibly in this country, and he replied, "The precocousness of children." He says that while in Baltimore the archbishop took him to call on a lady. While making the visit a boy aged 4 years came in the room, and his mother said, "My son, speak to the archbishop." He obeyed readily, and, holding out his hand, said: "How do, Arch?"—Chicago Herald.

R. S. Watson, Esq., purchasing agent for Z. C. M. I., returned from the East to-day.

FATHER HAWK.

A SKETCH OF THE LIFE AND LABORS OF A WORTHY MAN.

A friend of the late Elder William Hawk, of the Nineteenth Ward, familiarly known to the early settlers of Utah as Father Hawk, hands in a synopsis of his useful and exemplary career. From it we learn that the faithful veteran was born in the State of Pennsylvania, on the third day of November, 1799, was baptized into the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, by Elder Moses Harris, in the year 1834, and was ordained to the office of an Elder at the same time. He removed to Kirtland, Ohio, soon after his baptism, and took an active part in the labors of the building up of that Stake and the first Temple erected in this generation unto the name of the Lord.

When the Saints were compelled to abandon Kirtland he removed into Missouri, and from thence suffered, mobbing, driving, persecution and affliction with the people of God, until he moved with his family to Montrose, Iowa, opposite Nauvoo, whence also with the Saints he was forced to remove and went on to Council Bluffs in the spring of 1846.

On the 16th day of July, 1846, he and his son Nathan, enlisted as members of the "Mormon" Battalion, and shared all the trials of that long and dreary march through the wilds of Kansas and New Mexico, to the Pacific Coast. He was one of the first Americans to plant the national flag upon the golden placers of California, then a portion of Mexico.

Accompanied by his son Nathan, he was employed by government authority, to convey the U. S. mail overland to the Missouri, and thus became the first carrier of the mail from California to the Western frontiers. Returning from the Missouri, after faithfully delivering the U. S. mail at Independence, Mo., he settled in Salt Lake Valley in 1849, and was appointed to the Los Vegas Mission in the Spring of 1856.

With the company of "silver greys" he marched into Echo Canyon in the fall of 1857, returned to Salt Lake City the same fall, and in the following spring went to Payson, this being the season of the "move" of the Saints to the South. He returned to Salt Lake City in the summer of 1853, where he resided until the day of his death, September 30, 1883.

He has left surviving him in Utah four daughters, and has two sons somewhere in the States, of whom nothing definite is now known. He has 22 grandchildren living, and 11 great-grandchildren. He was ordained a member of the 35th quorum of Seventies on the 17th day of July, 1869, and was afterwards ordained a President of the same quorum and remained so until the day of his decease.

Father Hawk was a devoted Latter-day Saint, steady, zealous and unflinching. His religion, with him, was uppermost, first, last and at all times, and he has gone to join the throng of the redeemed, who have come up through great tribulation and washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb.
