Hill—Notes of the Guard.

Capt. Hassing is again in good standing in the National Guard, as will be seen from the following order, issued today. This action of General Burton is commended by every guardman and citizen who knows Capt. Hassing:

G. O. No. 8.

Before a general courtmartial which convened pursuant to S. O. No. 10, C. S., Captain O. H. Hassing, company "B," First Infantry, N. G. U., was found guilty of violation of the first article of war, and sentenced to suspension from command for a period of sixty days, beginning April 26th, 1900.

Believing the lesson which has been thus administered will have a salutary effect, and the punishment already inflicted has been sufficiently severe to prevent recurrence of any such incident as was the cause for the trial of the case referred to, and in consideration of Captain Hassing's previous good record, and for the welfare of his company, the unexpired portion of the sentence is hereby remitted, and he is restored to duty.

By order of the commander-in-chief,
CHAS. S. BURTON,
Adjutant General.

GUARD NOTES.

A company is working hard to come to the front.

Private Ronneberg of company B has reported for duty.

Lance Corp. Jensen of company B has been appointed corporal.

Corp. Hy. A. Burton of company B has been appointed a sergeant.

Company B will meet at the Armory Sunday at 2 p. m. for special drill.

Company C is coaching a crack ball team, and in a short time they will be prepared to cross bats with the best team of the guard.

Company B's bicyclist club received a challenge from Sergt. Barton to make a race to Eureka. The challenge is under consideration.

The Officers' association meets next Monday night. Capt. Greenwald, of the Signal corps, will lecture on the future of the National Guard. All men wearing the uniform are invited.

Two warrants for arrest have been given to the sheriff for the arrest of Sergt. David Everett of the Signal corps, the cause being failure to pay fine imposed upon him by court martial.

Corp. Ed. Jordan of company B was given a pleasant surprise by his brother, who had been absent from home for fourteen years, walking in on him last week.

The adjutant general has given an order for a general inspection and review on Capitol hill between now and the parade of May 30th. Governor Wells will be inspector.

Company E of Bountiful tried to be excused from inspection and review. May 30th, on account of their taking a leading part in the Bountiful services, but orders from headquarters require their presence at the general inspection and review here.

Company B is not declining away, nor any disbandment looked for, as reported in a morning paper last week, but is in good condition, being the strongest company in the guard.

The informant whose intention was to injure the company missed his mark, as the publication of the matter has inspired the members of company B to stay at the front, as they always have done.

THEY WERE OFF COLOR.

Colored Man Refused a License to Marry a White Woman.

A colored man, accompanied by a white woman, applied at the county clerk's office today for a marriage permit.

"Who do you intend marrying?" enquired Deputy Clerk Seare.

"This lady here," replied the negro, pointing to the white woman.

"Then I can't let you have one," said Mr. Seare.

"You can't?"

"No, sir; that is unless one or the other of you changes color mighty quick."

The woman blushed, and the man turned a little pale about the eyes, but that did not help matters any.

The colored gentleman wanted to know "What for you declines to do so, huh?"

Mr. Seare adjusted his eye-glasses, got out the law book from under the counter, cleared his throat and read the applicants' demand warrant.

The colored man said "dat law don't hit us bit, for de reason we reason we be imbued with de same blood."

He would not deny that they were a little off on color; but that was not his fault; it was not "de lady's fault, nor her fader's fault; de blame was all on de ole woman," and he failed to see why "de gal should hab to suffer for de sins ob her parents."

Clerk Seare, however, was obdurate.

MEETING OF WHEELMEN.

Scorchers are Denounced and Steps
Taken to Prevent the Evil.

A meeting of local wheelmen was held last evening in the Auerbach building, for the purpose of taking some action with respect to the proposed ordinance prohibiting bicyclists from riding on the sidewalks of the city. Those were present: Councilman Hartenstein, C. N. Butler, chief counsel, L. A. W. H. Sorenson, George J. Marsh, president of the Opel club, and about fifteen other wheelmen.

Mr. Hartenstein, by request, addressed the meeting and said the time had come when scorching on the sidewalks should be stopped.

Mr. Berry favored putting a stop to scorching, but was opposed to the ordinance, owing to the poor condition of many of the roads. He thought if scorchers were arrested and heavily fined, and he favored the appointment of a special bicycle policeman, whose duty should be to make arrests, wherever they are needed.

Mr. Butler also scorching the scorchers, but he did not believe that 5,000 bicyclists should be made to suffer on account of the acts of a limited few.

Upon motion a committee, consisting of C. N. Butler, H. S. Anderson and C. L. Berry, was appointed to confer with the wheelmen, ascertain their views with respect to the best method of solving the much vexed question, and report to the Council in a resolution next Tuesday evening.

RECOVERY OF JEWELRY.

Deputy Sheriff Dowse Makes Quite a Discovery Again.

Owners of Part of the Property are Found—Tom Moran Thought to Have Had a Hand in Robbery.

Deputy Sheriff Sam Dowse has distinguished himself again in the discovery of jewelry valued at $275, which had been cached in the yards of the Sierra Nevada Lumber company. The whole of the property has not yet been identified, but the ownership of a portion of the jewels is established beyond doubt.

The stuff is believed to have been deposited in the lumber yard by Tom Moran, the fellow run down by H. J. Foulger a few days ago. A portion of the booty consists of a pair of diamond cuff buttons, belonging to I. A. Clayton. When Moran, who is now in the county jail, was arrested, he was wearing Mr. Clayton's hat, and the fact that the cuff buttons were among the goods cached lead the officers to suppose that Moran had a hand in the depositing of them.

The find includes a lady's gold watch with a diamond setting and a gold and platinum chain on which there appears an elk tooth charm. On the outside of the watch case is a monogram of the letters "D. M. S." and inside the case is the inscription "From Pat to Dolly, February 25, 1891." This property was found to belong to Mr. P. J. Moran, recently stolen from his place, and is valued at $150. There is also a pair of gold rimmed spectacles, a silver match box, on which is engraved the letter "M," and two soldier badges.

REFUSED TO SPRAY THEIR FRUIT TREES

County Gets After a Number of People Who Failed to Keep Law.

IGNORE INSPECTOR'S NOTICE

When the Commissioners Sent a Man to Do the Work, and Now Seek Judgment.

Nelson Merkley, Sarah F. Virgin, Susie Cleveland, Martha E. Pugmire and Lucy Pugmire were made defendants in the Third district court today by Salt Lake county in a suit to recover $7.52, a sum alleged to have been paid by the county commissioners in cleansing defendant's trees and destroying the apples, codling moth and red spider with which the trees were said to be infested.

The complaint sets forth that the defendants are owners of certain land, situated on north Second West street, this city, upon which there were numerous fruit trees; that on July 27, 1899, County Fruit Tree Inspector John P. Sorenson sent a written notice to the agent, George J. Marsh, that he would have to spray the trees with a certain pest eradicator.

The notice, it is alleged, received no attention whatever, and the nuisance continued to exist until August 12, 1899, when L. P. Madsen, at the request of the county commissioners armed himself with the necessary spray and insecticides and did the work for the defendants.

Under the law the county has a lien upon the premises for the amount expended, and payment is prayed for; for the return of the $7.52 or a sale of the defendants' premises.

MISS WALKER HEARD FROM.

Eloping Young Woman and Mr. Fever-year in Pittsburgh.

Miss Ollie Walker, who three weeks ago ran away from Salt Lake with Charles Feveryear, the theatrical baker, has been heard from. The young woman has written her mother from Pittsburgh, where the family originally lived. She states that she arrived there soon after leaving Salt Lake. Mrs. Walker could not be seen today, inasmuch as she is now visiting with friends in the country. It is therefore not known whether Miss Walker had anything particular to say regarding Mr. Feveryear, whose wife and children are still in wonderment as to his whereabouts. Friends of Mr. Feveryear are, however, of the opinion that he has gone into the bakery business in the Pennsylvania city. It is not improbable that steps may be taken looking to his return.

Cannon and Judge Colburn are 'thick' in politics and that the senator is likely to be on this side of the Atlantic very soon, the visit is not without its significance." The judge was this morning asked for an outline of his plans, but with the merry twinkle which is sometimes characteristic of his eye, Judge Colburn declined to be "interviewed."

DE LA MAR, NEVADA.

Disastrous Fire Causes Damage to Extent of $11,000.

Nevada, May 22.—The most disastrous fire in the history of the town occurred here last night shortly after 10 o'clock.

It was subdued, however, without loss of life, but the restaurant of Ed. Hing, more familiarly known as China Ed., the finest in the town, the shoe shop of Manuel George, once the store of George Peterman, hardware merchant, were totally destroyed, with all their contents. Owing to the buildings being mostly lumber, it was impossible to save anything except the fireproof safe of Mr. Peterman in the rear of the store, which escaped, with its contents. The stock was worth between $11,000 and $12,000. Very little was saved, and there was a rather small insurance on it. Ed. Hing was also slightly injured.

Had the wind been blowing, the whole town would have been swept away. A large number of the people were attending a performance given by the colored minstrels when the first alarm was given and quite a stampede ensued from the hall, but beyond a few ladies fainting, no one was hurt.

Surrounding buildings were badly scorched, but the damage was confined to those which were burned.
