III Healh is More Expensive Than any Cure.

any Cure.

This country is now filled with people who migrate across the continent in all directions seeking that which gold cannot buy. Nine-tenths of them are suffering from throat and lung trouble or chronic catarrh resulting from neglected colds, and spending fortunes vainly trying to regain lost health. Could every sufferer but undo the past and cure that first neglected cold all this sorrow, pain, anxiety and expense could have been avoided. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cures of colds, and can always be depended upon. Use it and the more serious diseases may be avoided. For sale by all druggists.

SPECIAL SERVICES AT TABERNACLE

Elder E. C. Ashton Delivers Forceful Address on Gospel Principles.

ERRONEOUS IDEAS EXTANT.

Commercialism, the Gospel Will Play Important Part.

There was a good attendance at the pecial service and recital held yes terday afternoon in the tabernacle musical numbers, by Prof. McClellan, consisted of the "Prelude" and "Siciliano" from "Cavallera Rusticana," "In-termezzo," by Lemare, the old melody "I need thee every hour" and Handel's "Largo." The opening prayer was offered by Elder F. W. Otterstrom. ELDER E. C. ASHTON.

The speaker was Elder E. C. Ashon, who was invited at the last minute to take the place of Elder W. H. King, to take the place of Elder W. H. King, who was prevented from being present through the death of a near friend.

Elder Ashton's remarks were prefaced by reading several stanzas from the seventh chapter of Matthew, regarding the good tree bringing forth good fruit, etc., which was explained to be the manner in which every devotee of Mormonism desired his religion to be judged.

The erroneous conclusions to be drawn from reports of Mormonism in some encyclopedias was also, referred some encyclopedias was also, referred to, the statement being made that Mor-monism did not depend for its exist-ence on their prayer books. An explantion of the Book of Mor-mon was briefly given after which Elder Ashton referred to the wave of commercialism which has powerfully commercialism which has powerfully affected the inhabitants of the United States, and which in the minds of scientific men, will surely be followed by an age of renaissance, not only in literature and learning but also in re-endeavored to inform marr where he came from, why he was here and where he was going. He said that Joseph like the prophets of old, was more than a foreteller of future events. He broke away from the old moorings and the away from the old moorings and the errors of former centuries including the doctrine of damnation of infants, the all importance of grace and the futility of works, and the teaching that the world was created from nothing. It was explained that this life is but a cycle of eternal progression, and that man may eventually become perfect as his Father in heaven is perfect.

ETERNAL HOPE.

The eternal hope held out by Mormonism was referred to, and it was said that all men who do not believe here are not to be eternally condemned. All men will be saved excepting a few, though they may not all be saved in the same glory, for as Paul said, there is one glory of the sun and another of the moon, and as one star different from another so is the resurrection.

The belief of the Latter-day Saints in new revelation was also explained. The Bible was said to contain not all God designs to reveal to man, and the Latter-day Saints believe that God will yet reveal many important truths to his children on the earth.

In the days of Moses God deigned to grant him personal interviews and instructions regarding the work he was to do. As God is no respecter of persons it is reasonable to suppose that he will yet reveal further truths to his children. ETERNAL HOPE.

he will yet reveal further truths to his children.

The statement of Joseph Quincy, that it may yet be said that Joseph Smith was the greatest American of the nineteenth century was read, after which reference was made to the practical work which is being done by Mormonism, especially in the care of the poor. It met the test of a true religion as laid down in "Simple Life."

In conclusion Elder Ashton said that Mormonism presents a firm basis for man's faith. He see in its devotees a love for God and man and a desire to help others which indicates that it will play a prominent part in the renaissance which will follow the present carnival of commercialism.
