

Guernsey and the India teams, composed of eight men each. The firing was at 200, 500 and 600 yards, each man allowed seven shots at each range. The cup was won by an English team. The scores were as follows: England 699, Canada 679, Jersey 638, Guernsey 621, India 614. The revision of the score was made by American riflemen.

LONDON, 18.—Gen. Sir Evelyn Wood, commander of the forces in Egypt, who had embarked at Suez for England, has returned by order of the Khedive in consequence of the appearance of cholera in Cairo.

At a special meeting to-day of the London Chamber of Commerce, a resolution was adopted declaring the question of the construction of a parallel Suez Canal should be referred to a Royal Commission.

Shooting for the Albert Jewel was completed at Wimbledon to-day. The prize was won by Wilson of the Ulster rifles, who scored 68. Scott, the only member of the American team, who competed in this contest, scored 62. The shooting was at 1,000 yards. Each man was allowed 16 shots.

The court at Nyiregyhaza, Hungary, trying a number of Jews charged with murdering a Christian girl named Esther Salomony, went to Terra yesterday, when the boy witness, Moritz Scharf, was compelled to look through the keyhole in the door of the synagogue through which he alleges he saw the murder committed. It was conclusively proved by so doing only see one person in the interior at a time, and that it was impossible to see a group of persons as he claims he did.

The town of Bedford is in great excitement over a lawn-tennis tragedy. A party yesterday were playing lawn tennis near Ship Inn, at St. Outhbert's, in the centre of town. Among the players were Mr. De Vere, an army officer, and Miss McKay, an exceedingly pretty young lady, 20 years of age. Suddenly, without apparent provocation De Vere pulled out a revolver and shot Miss McKay dead. He then blew out his own brains. Both victims are well known in society, and in both cases the only surviving relatives are widows. It is believed that jealousy was the motive of the crime.

Paris, 18.—The report made by De Lesseps at the meeting yesterday of the Panama Canal shareholders says the co-operating American contractors have disappeared, a project existed in certain centres of the United States against his company constructing the canal.

The morning's bulletin touching the condition of Count de Chambord says the patient passed a quiet night, and is apparently improved.

Berlin, 18.—Senn, the German, American student who killed a fellow student, in a duel near Wurzburg, has been arrested in Switzerland.

Cairo, 18.—Number of deaths from cholera in this city during 24 hours ending 8 a. m., 61.

CAIRO, 19.—The Egyptian government has accepted the offer of England to send 12 doctors to the infected districts. The wooden huts where the cholera originated have been burned. Fifty deaths are reported in Cairo in the last 12 hours.

The cholera is raging in many villages not mentioned in the returns. Four hundred carcasses of cattle were removed from the Nile and buried.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Mail and Express says: It is asserted that almost none of the merchant princes of New York City are native Americans, the most widely known and prosperous shopkeepers being Irish, or Scotch, or Londoners.

An observing pedestrian has made the startling discovery that the reason why woman cannot succeed as well as man in the walks of life is because when she is on the walks one hand is usually employed in holding up her dress.

A Philadelphia clergyman preached on the text, "Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God," and illustrated it with, "We pray to the Lord to give us health, and tempt Him with filthy streets, sewer gas and bad water."

There is a misapprehension as to the date when the new law making letter postage two cents goes into effect, many people supposing the first of July to be the date. The change in the internal revenue law abolishing revenue stamps on bank checks, matches, etc., applies now, but the letter postage will be three cents until the 1st of October.

Dr. Felix Oswald says that the dyspeptic who intends to be cured has to make up his mind that recovery cannot be hoped for till he has not only discontinued drugs, but expiated the burden of sin which the stimulant outrage has added to the cause of the disease.

Postmaster General Gresham announces his intention of startling postmasters generally by instructing them of their duty to send newspapers through the mails as promptly as they do letters. The Postmaster General has a square head. The newspapers prepay their postage, and the obligation to carry them straight through to their destination is as binding as on any other class of mail matter.

OUR RIDDLE BOX.

This department will contain once a week original puzzles for the young folks. The answers will be given the following week. Our juvenile friends are invited to send the solutions. All who forward correct answers will receive due credit and their names will be printed in the News.

No. 57.—NUMERICAL PUZZLE.

As Will Robinson, a good-hearted young farmer, was riding home one moonlit evening, he was startled by a sudden rustling in the edge of the forest at the roadside. Quickly alighting, and taking his 1, 2, 3, 4 as a weapon of defence, he sought the source of the sound, and soon discovered a 5, 6, 7, 8 lame squirrel hopping through the fallen leaves. He might have easily slaughtered the little creature, but 9, 10, 11, 12, was of too sympathetic a nature to harm it, so he returned to his carriage and proceeded on his homeward journey, the silence of the forest highway being broken by no further sound save the plaintive melody of the 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12.

CLAUDE.

No. 58.—LOGOGRAM.

A word that shows a noble thing
From which true greatness o'er must spring.

Behind, a scriptural name is found
For strength of friendship quite renowned.

If from this name the tail you take
Along your path I difficulties wake.

But had you taken my head and rearranged,
Into a cosy shelter I had changed.

LYDIA.

No. 59.—PROBLEM.

Divide 60 into two such numbers that by dividing the greater by 9 and multiplying the smaller by 8-2-3, the products added together will make 60. H. I.

No. 60.—RIDDLE.

Although a human shape I wear,
Yet I a mother never bear;
Nor yet in life nor sense I share,
But am in finest silks oft clad.

By every miss I'm valued much,
Beloved and highly prized,
And yet—my cruel fate is such—
By boys I am despised. E. G. P.

No. 61.—ANAGRAMS.

1 "Bett, chest no hen."—Name of poem by American author.

2 "Renoh, dance."—Name of poem by English author.

3 "Ned, do rove."—Name of novel by American author.

4 "Danner, let me vote too."—Name of novel by English author. LANA.

No. 62.—CHARADE.

A man of dignity and pride
Was stern old total Dwyer,
Who occupied in Riverside
The exalted post of "Squire."

But once, while walking up the street,
First as he turned the corner,
On slippery last he set his feet,
And then he was a "goner."

Spectators were to mirth inclined,
He promptly spoiled their sport;
He had them all arraigned and fined
For "gross contempt of court." J. F. STYDER.

PRIZE WORD HUNT.

For the largest list of words made from the letters of "bearing," and sent in before August 1st, a cash prize of two dollars will be presented. These conditions must be observed:

1. Only words found defined in the body of Webster's Unabridged Dictionary—including supplement of new words—will be allowed.

2. All obsolete words, localisms, proper names, prefixes, suffixes, abbreviations and contractions will be excluded.

3. No letter not contained in "bearing," may be used, and no letter may be used more than once in any single word.

4. The words must be arranged in alphabetical order and numbered.

5. In case of a tie, preference will be given for that one of the largest lists from which fewest words are thrown out for non-observance of these conditions.

No. 63, A.—ARITHMETICAL PROBLEM.

If 93 into six parts be divided,
The cube root of one be extracted,
And two, to another be added,
The square root of another is required,
From another part two be subtracted,
Another by two be multiplied,
The remaining part by two divided,
The several results will be the same

If you have this problem correctly done.
J. M. F.

No. 62, B.—ENIGMA.

I am composed of six letters;

My 1, 4, 2, 3, 3, 2, is a lady's name.

My 6, 2, 3, 1, is what the farmers all possess.

My 6, 5, 2, 1, is a metal.

My whole is the name of an ancient Prophet of God. A. G. McCLEVE.

No. 62, C.—CHARADE.

My first is in black but not in white;

My second is in peace but not in fight;

My third is in man but not in boy;

My fourth is in jest but not in toy;

My fifth is in ale but not in beer;

My sixth is in mourn but not in tear;

My seventh is in time but not in age;

My eighth is in wine but not in rage.

My whole is the name of an ancient king Who trusted to God in everything.

A. G. McCLEVE.
