CHARLESTON.

Aid Coming in from Various Sources.

SACRAMENTO, 24.—Contributions for the relief of the earthquake sufferers, amounting to $1,150 were telegraphed to Charleston to-day.

Portland, Ogn., 24.—The committee appointed by Mayor Gates to solicit aid for Charleston, will telegraph $2,500 to-morrow.

Charleston, 24.—Letters having been received from all parts of the country asking whether the period of great distress in Charleston has not passed, the statement is authorized that the relief committee, through the generosity of their fellow countrymen, feel themselves in a position to furnish subsistence and temporary shelter to all who need it, but at the same time, the committee estimate that the relief funds at command or in prospect, fall short of the money needed to put in habitable condition the homes of persons who are unable to repair their buildings without aid. The Government Engineers have inspected 600 buildings out of 7,000 in the city, and to those inspected at $22,000,000. Their inspection, however, covers most of the costly structures.

The committee, in assisting the needy householders to make the residences habitable, will deal first with those whose losses are small, the object being to make as many roofs as possible tight, foundations secure and chimneys safe before the cold weather comes. The homes of widows and orphans and other helpless persons will have a prominent claim. No loss of any person owning more than a house will be considered at this time. The intention is also to disallow all claims for plastering, as not being indispensable to the reasonable safety and comfort.

The Subsistence Committee have supplied nearly all the persons requiring provisions, and the number of rations issued to-day was the smallest since the commissariat was established. The force of clerks and the working force is being gradually reduced.

To-day was very quiet. No shocks were felt here, and only a slight tremor at Summerville. Business is active and the merchants are hopeful.

The Orange Crop a Failure.

CHICAGO, 24.—The Times' New Orleans, La., special says: The Louisiana orange crop is usually marketed about this time. Reports from Calcasieu, St. Bernard, St. Mary, Cameron, La Fourche and other parishes in which oranges are principally grown, state the crop is a complete failure this year. It usually averages from thirty to fifty million barrels a year, but it will not be one million this year, in consequence of the severe freeze last winter. The news is uniformly bad from every portion of the State. In some places, where 500 barrels were obtained last year, barely a barrel will be secured. The freeze last winter did terrible damage, killing limbs and requiring the cutting off of so much dead wood as to almost destroy the trees. There is absolutely no crop.

None of the trees are bearing properly. Large plantations are as badly injured as the small ones. The worst matter is that the trees are so badly injured that it will take years of propitious weather before the crop will be a full one again. It will be but a little improved next year, and only a partial production the year following. If nothing happens to prevent the third year should see a fair crop. A large proportion of the Louisiana crop last year was shipped north, but there is not enough new for home consumption, and New Orleans will be compelled to depend on California and Florida.

The Rumored New Treaty.

NEW YORK, 24.—A Gloucester special to the Post says: The terms of the reported new reciprocity treaty has caused the utmost indignation among the fishing industry at Gloucester, and democrats and republicans alike unite in condemning it. In conversation with a reporter, one of the largest dealers said: "The new treaty means nothing but reciprocity in fish. such a treaty should be ratified the fishing industry of the country would be ruined and transferred to Canada. This is just what the Gloucester fishermen have been fighting against. Reciprocity in fish means the gradual decadence of the fishing business in the United States. All fishermen here say that they do not want to fish inside the three-mile limit, but they do want trading privileges. We might just as well annex Canada and be done with it."

No Such Thing.

NEW YORK, 24.—A Washington special to the Post says: The treaty with Canada, which comes in an Ottawa dispatch of the 23d, has no foundation in fact, so far as the alleged facts are stated to have been submitted to President Cleveland and Secretary Bayard and agreed upon. No negotiations for any treaty with Great Britain on the part of the United States have been entered upon since the convention which was laid before the Senate at its last session and which was left unacted on. It is within the limits of possibility. Assistant Secretary of State Porter says, that a project for the suggested convention amendatory of the treaty of 1818 may have been forwarded by the British Colonial office to the Canadian Minister for suggestions, but no credence is attached to the statement purporting to give the text of its provisions.

Ottawa, 24.—Inquiries in official circles fail to elicit any information relative to the statement that the Canadian Government is considering the draft of a new treaty between England and the United States. Foster, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, denies the truth of the report, claiming he has not received any intelligence regarding the new treaty.

Repentant Fishermen.

OTTAWA, Ont., 24. — Owners of a number of Canadian fishing boats belonging to Charlotte County, N. B., but lately entered by their owners at Calais, Maine, and paying duty to the United States Customs for the purpose of enabling them to engage in fisheries and carry fish into the United States free of duty as products of American fisheries, have become disappointed at the outcome of the venture and are now petitioning the government to have their boats again recognized as Canadian bottoms.

He Must Hang.

OTTAWA, 24.—Counsel for the prisoner Sproule, who has been sentenced to be hanged on October 1st, intends making another effort to save him from the gallows on the strength of the report that he has become insane.

Victoria, B. C., 24.—Judge Gray has refused the application to further respite the sentence of Sproule, the murderer. Execution has been set for October 1st.

Fire.

TORONTO, 24.—The building occupied by Davidson & Hay, wholesale grocers and liquor dealers, burned this morning. The stock valued at $120,000 will be a total loss. Insured $70,000.

Hanged.

MACON, Ga., 24.—Frank S. Humphreys was hanged to-day at Milledgeville for the murder and rape of two ladies, Carry Raines and Ella Humphreys (his kinswoman) on March 24th. He confessed his guilt to the sheriff last night, but made no statement on the scaffold.

Embezzlement.

CINCINNATI, 24.—Charles Dell, a member of the late board of public works, and Charles T. Blackburn, the clerk, were arrested this noon, upon the charge of embezzling $15,000 of the city's funds. There are rumors of other arrests to be made soon. These charges are based upon discoveries made by expert accountants, who are examining the books of the board of public works.

The "Adams" Case.

HALIFAX, 24.—Chief Justice McDonald to-day gave his decision on the motion made by Mr. Meagher, counsel for the United States, to have the evidence for the defense in the schooner Adams case taken before a commissioner in the United States. The Chief Justice's decision is that that the captain of the vessel must come to Halifax to be examined, but that the crew may give their evidence before the commission in Boston.

Canada Railroads.

ST. PAUL, 24.—A Winnipeg special to the Pioneer Press says: It is reported here on strong authority that the Canadian Pacific has secured the control of the Manitoba road. Some color is given to the statement by the fact that Collingwood Schreiber, Dominion inspector of railways, arrived from the Pacific Coast yesterday and started over the Manitoba road to-day in his special car.

FOREIGN.

English-Canadian Trade.

PARIS, 24.—The National commenting on the remarkable display of products of Indian industry at the Indian and Colonial Exhibition in London, asks why it is that out of £20,000,000 worth of goods annually exported by Canada, £8,000 or so go to England and only an insignificant portion to France. The article concludes: Though the French feeling is still vigorous in Canada, the business connection of that country with England is too close to be suddenly snapped. But when France is ready to welcome Canada's commerce to such an extent as will compensate Canada for the loss of her English customs, there will begin a revolution in that country so dear to France, and whose motto is "Canada for Canadians."

A Grave Problem.

LONDON, 24.—Lord Roseberry speaking at Linlithgow to-night, said he thought no greater calamity could befall the country than the continual ruining of provincial life by absorption—the absorption of the best labor into the great cities, especially London. He feared when the enormous mass of people in the metropolis should become unmanageable, the authorities would find it too late to deal with the problem.

A Mysterious Tragedy.

LONDON, 24.—A sensation has been produced by the announcement of the discovery of a mysterious tragedy in a compartment car. The discovery was made last evening, but was not made public until to-day. When the six o'clock train from the city on the Underground Railway arrived at Queensford station last evening, a newsboy noticed blood dripping from the compartment of a first-class carriage. He raised an alarm and a gentleman was found lying on the floor of the compartment. He was unconscious and blood was flowing freely from his head. It was found that on his forehead was a deep wound, four inches in length. This evidently had been made with an instrument sharp and heavy. The scalp was not only cut clear through but the skull was crushed in and the brains were protruding. On his person were found a gold watch and chain and some finger rings, none of which had been disturbed, and very little money. The man was at once conveyed to the hospital. He is still unconscious and his condition is precarious. It has been learned that his name is Moritz A. Fisher and that he is the the head of the house of M. A. Fisher & Co., Foreign Agent of No. 35 Cater Lane. The police as yet have been unable to gain a clue as to the cause of the murderous attack or as to the assailants.

Struck by Lightning.

VIENNA, 24.—Lightning struck and set fire to the Italian bark Nicola while she was being laden with benzine at Fing. Eight men perished in the flames.

Fatal Explosion—Lowell—Salisbury.

BERLIN, 24.—A dispatch from Essen announces that an explosion of fire-damp occurred in a coal pit near Schalke to-day, and that 40 persons were killed and 16 injured, eight of the latter being in a precarious condition.

Boston, 24.—James Russell Lowell was a passenger on the steamer Pavonia which arrived here to-day from Liverpool.

London, 24.—Lord Salisbury has gone to France.

Tegetoff Monumented.

VIENNA, 24.—A column erected to the memory of Baron Von Tegetoff, at the entrance of the Prater, was unveiled to-day by Emperor Francis Joseph in the presence of an enormous assemblage. The Imperial family were all present, accompanied by most of the nobility. All of the Cabinet Ministers and the Vienna municipal officers, court notables, resident diplomats and delegates from the different branches of the Austrian Army and Navy, and a number of officers who served under Admiral Tegetoff were present; also several deputations from foreign countries, besides a vast concourse of people. In the ceremonial address, the Emperor declared that the column was dedicated as a memorial to the greatness of Admiral Tegetoff and the navy, and he said he hoped that the remembrance of Admiral Tegotoff would always inspire them to deeds of bravery.

Bulgaria.

LONDON, 24.—The Bulgarian government has been informed that a hostile demonstration at the Russian agency in Sofia against General Kaulbars will furnish an excuse for Russian interference.

Sofia, 24.—It is stated that the Russian ultimatum, of which Gen. Kaulbars is bearer, demands the immediate raising of the state of siege in Bulgaria, the liberation of all political prisoners and the indefinite postponement of the elections for members of the National Assembly.

There are, however, no signs of flinching on the part of the Regency; on the contrary, the anti-Russian feeling increases daily.

The Scientists.

BERLIN, 24.—The Scientists' Congress had its final sitting to-day. Prof. Virchow thanked the government and the local authorities and the University and the two Academies for having assisted in making the Congress a success.

Professor Fresenius, who was chosen first secretary of the next meeting which will be held at Wiesbaden, thanked the Professor, on behalf of the members, for the manner in which he had conducted the laborf of the convention.

Prof. Hoffman, in concluding the session, proposed three cheers for Emperor William, which were enthusiastically given.

Thornton's Successor.

CONSTANTINOPLE, 24.—It has been finally settled that Sir William White, now British Minister at Bucharest, will succeed Sir Edward Thornton as British Embassador here. Sir William White is considered a strong diplomat, well versed in Eastern affairs, and able to counteract Russian intrigues with the Porte.

German Politics.

BERLIN, 24.—A fierce struggle is about to begin between the Liberals and Conservatives to fill the vacancy in the Reichstag caused by the death of Herr Enowe. The National Zeitung, which has hitherto been a moderate Liberal, has joined the Conservative ranks, but it is generally believed that the Progressists will carry the election.

An Ultimatum.

LONDON, 24.—The French resident at Tamatave has presented to the Malagassy government an ultimatum demanding the withdrawal of the appendix to the treaty of December 17th, and nullification of bank charters and the concession of unlimited territory for the French installation at Diego Tieres Bay. The Hovae have decided to maintain the appendix, and it is reported that the resident is about to depart for France.

HEALTH HINTS, ETC.

COMPILED BY MAC.

Dr. Trall, the eminent exponent of Hygiene, is my authority for the following notes:

Respiration.—Physiologists reckon that an adequate supply of air for an ordinary man to breathe each minute, is from seven to ten cubic feet. A hundred persons confined in a room thirty feet in length, breadth and height, containing nearly 30,000 cubic feet, would render the whole air unfit for respiration in about five hours, imperfect ventilation, therefore, in crowded assemblies, churches, schoolrooms, theatres, factories, and workshops, especially in the evening, when many lamps or gas burners are employed, is a common source of debility and disease. An ordinary gas-burner consumes as much oxygen as four adult persons; but the loss of oxygen is not alone the cause of injury resulting from large gatherings of people in ill-ventilated places, for the irrespirable air thrown out from the lungs is rendered still more noxious by the exhalation from the skin.

The artificial habit of lessening the breathing capacity by means of stays, corsets and tight dresses, is now happily passing away, although the wasp-like waists which deform so many of the gentler sex still adorn the "fashion plates" of the magazines, and caricature the female form in most of the fashionable shop-windows. Could the women of America—I say nothing of ladies—fully appreciate the importance of dress as connected with respiration and the relation of this function to their own health and happiness and the welfare of their offspring, the monthly importation of Parisian cuts, turns, twists, fits and misfits would soon be substituted by short dresses, loose as well as short, or something in the way of clothing that would emancipate the lungs from oppression "most foul, strange and unnatural."

Catching Cold.—The general misapprehension in regard to the theory of "catching cold," frequently produces the very evil that is most feared. More colds are taken in overheated than in too cold places, and still more are owing to vitiated air. Backwoodsmen, who sleep all winter long in shanties through which the snow-flakes pass freely, are seldom troubled with what are called "coughs and colds." Too close confinement to hot air in ill-ventilated rooms renders the body preternaturally susceptable to atmospheric changes. Infants and young children are generally badly managed in this respect in this country. They are often made sickly, puny, peevish and effeminate, by keeping the doors and windows too close and the sufferer too much in doors, as though the breath of heaven was unfriendly to human life.

Sleeping Rooms.—Sleeping rooms are generally miserably ventilated. Air of a pure quality, and abundant in quantity, is much more important during our sleeping than in our waking hours; but the common habits of the people are to provide large, spacious eating and sitting rooms, and small, close sleeping apartments. No one should sleep in a room, in summer or in winter, with all the windows and doors tightly closed. Windows can at all times be opened more or less at the bottom or top, or the door placed a little ajar, so as to permit the ingress of fresh air, without admitting any injurious current.

Bed curtains are rather worse than a useless appendage. If used at all they should never be drawn tightly around the bed. The head should never be raised very high during sleep, as that position oppresses the lungs; nor should the sleeper incline towards the face, with the shoulders thrown forward. A late supper, by filling the stomach, prevents, in the horizontal posture, the descent of the diaphragm, hinders free breathing; and induces congestion of the brain, dreaming, nightmare, etc.

Stoves and Fireplaces.—Grates and fireplaces secure a much better ventilation than stoves of any description. Stoves are regarded by some as constituting "the great nuisance of America;" and there is no question that, as usually managed, they do actually vitiate all the air of the room. No stove should be used in any place where there is not resource or provision for the free admission of external air.

Influence of Light.—All persons, in order to acquire and maintain the best condition of health and strength, should be frequently exposed to the light of the sun, except when oppressively hot. Children are generally maltreated, more especially in cities, in being kept almost entirely excluded from sunshine. Many good mothers are more fond of the delicate faces and pale complexions of their little ones, than intelligent in relation to their physiological welfare. A little sun-browning occasionally of their faces, necks, hands and feet, and, finally, of their whole bodies, would not only render their development more perfect and enduring, but tend to the production of the greatest symmetry and beauty in manhood and womanhood.

The sudden exhileration and invigoration experienced by the pent-up denizens of our large towns, when they go from their dim counting-rooms, gloomy offices, and basement workshops, to rusticate a few days in mountain regions, is due nearly as much to the greater strength of the natural light as to the greater purity of the air.

Nature's Beverage.—Nature has provided no other drink for man, nor for animals nor for vegetables, than pure water; and no animal, but man seeks any other either as a beverage or as medicine. Its value as a beverage is in all cases in proportion to its purity.

Unquestionably the best time for water-drinking as a habit, is when the stomach is equitably empty—on first rising in the morning, and half an hour or an hour before meals. Persons who take habitually a tumbler of pure water at these times, and eat plain food, will seldom experience much thirst; but those who employ thirst-provoking ailments or seasonings need to assuage that thirst by more frequent water-drinking.

Cool, but not very cold water appears to be the most perfectly adapted to all the purposes of the animal economy.

Alcoholic Drinks.—Ardent spirits, malt liquors, wine, cider, etc., specially anathematized by name and nature, and deservedly excommunicated from use and fellowship by the total abstinence societies, I need not dwell upon. They are poisons, in every sense inimical to the human constitution; in fact, deleterious to every organized thing in existence, and are productive only from the decay, destruction, and decomposition of the products of organized matters. They deserve commemoration only for the mischief they have done, and execration only for the miseries they are now inflicting on human society.

Artificial Drinks.—Tea possesses strong nervine and moderate narcotic properties, and considerable astringency, due to the presence of tannin. Usually the green tea possesses more astringency than the black; they are also, as found in our markets, to a great extent adulterated with colorific matter, commonly Prussian blue. It is certain that females, on account of their indoor occupations and more sedentary habits, suffer incomparably more from this, their favorite beverage, than males do. From a pretty close observation, I am fully satisfied that the general prevalence of "female weaknesses"—a phrase including an extensive and formidable class of ailments—is in a great measure attributable to warm teas.

Coffee possesses the same nervine and narcotic properties as tea, without its astringency. It usually acts as a laxative to the bowels for a while, in those unaccustomed to its use, but its long continued employment always results in constipation. Its operative effects are, in most persons, rather more exciting and disturbing to the mental and organic functions than those of tea. Most persons who accurately notice their feelings under its influence, find a greater derangement of the digestive functions and the secretion of the liver than results from the use of tea.

Chocolate, though destitute of the nervine properties of tea and coffee, contains a large proportion of fat or oil, called butter of cacao, which is difficult of digestion, and particularly injurious to dispeptic stomachs. Cocoa is another preparation of the seeds of the theobroma cacao; it is somewhat less greasy than chocolate, but has no other advantage.

Mineral waters are classed according to the character of their prevailing impurities. Sulphurous or hepatic waters are strongly impregnated with sulphureted hydrogen, which gives them an odor like rotten eggs. The medicinal fame of the "Congress water" at Saratoga is derived from the great amount of its deleterious ingredients, which include: Chloride of sodium (common salt), hydriodate of soda, bi-carbonate of soda, bi-carbonate of magnesia, carbonate of iron, silex, and hydo-bromate of potash. Dr. Steel, of Saratoga, says "It would be much better for those whose complaints render them fit subjects for its administration, if the fountain should be locked up and no one suffered to approach it after the hours of nine and ten in the morning." If it should be locked up at all hours of the day and night, and a stream of pure soft water substituted, the advantage would be greater; and the same may be said of all other mineral springs.

Effervescing.—Preparations of soda and tartaric acid, and of seidlitz powders, are decidedly injurious as common beverages, because they introduce into the system a large quantity of debilitating neutral salts. Bottle soda-water, lemonade, ginger and root beers are trash at best, and worse than useless in their tendency to keep up artificial appetences.

Learn to Live Healthfully.—For 10 cents, I will send to any address 25 four page Tracts on health topics, and a list of Health Publications. D. M. McAllister, 66 Centre Street, Salt Lake City.
