BEAUTY!

OR, THE

Secret of a Fair Face

An Item of Interest to Every Lady who Desires to be More Beautiful than she now is.

Unfortunately not one woman in a hundred possesses the beauty of an American climate because that beauty and shining point of red beauty—a pale and clear complexion.

What nature has thus denied, art must be called upon to furnish.

It can be done, it is done daily. Prof. W. E.

Magnolia placed beauty within the reach of every woman, and she who is not beautiful, but who desires to be so, will find in this beautiful cream the true secret of beauty, and called it a "Secret of a Fair Face."

It makes the plainest face beautiful.

It gives the complexion a glowing purity and beauty, and it is the secret of a fair face.

It removes all roughness, eruptions, redness, blackheads, freckles, and all skin blemishes.

It drives away all evidence of fatigue and exhaustion.

2. The Wool Market.

BOSTON, 22.—The wool market is generally unchanged, the demand is still quiet and moderate, and manufacturers purchase cautiously and only at low prices. There is no improvement in demand or prices, and a very unsettled feeling prevails at the present time. For new wool it is difficult to realize the quotations in the market. There is considerable wool on the market of a very desirable quality, for which buyers are not willing to pay the cost of new wool laid down here from the interior. Combining wool has been more inquired for, but prices open low. Sales comprise X and XX Ohio 35 @ 38, Michigan and Wisconsin fleeces, 34 @ 35.

Washed combing and delaine, 35 @

Unwashed combing, 25 @ 30, Utah,

Nevada and Colorado, 17 @ 27.

Texas 14 @ 25, Oregon, 20 @ 27.

Scoured, 42 @ 57, Superior and Scouring, 44 @ 54. There was more inquiry for California wool, sales of the week comprising 352,000 pounds of spring at 22 @ 30, and 40,000 of fall at 18 @ 20. The total value of domestic wool for the week reached

1,385,000 lbs.

An Open Letter from Hon. H. W. Watkinson to A. S. Hewitt.

New York, 22.—Hon. Henry

Watkinson, editor of the Louisville Journal, publishes in the Sun of Sunday an open letter to the Hon. Abram S. Hewitt, in which he says: "I know and I know that Mr. Tilden's disapproval of the electoral bill. You know and I know that you spent Sunday, the 14th of January in New York, and that he made his objections sufficiently known to me. Monday evening the 15th of January, a meeting of the committee of advisers considered the terms of the bill hypothetically submitted to it; that at that meeting I opposed them, and that you were dumb as an oyster as to Mr. Tilden's opinion; that finally we decided to support the measure, most of us believing it the emanation of our chief. I have charged, and I do charge that your failure to deal frankly with us on that occasion, your failure to tell us what Mr. Tilden had said to you the day before, was the practical suppression of his more sagacious opinion, and to all intents a betrayal of our friend. Now, I repeat and declare my charge of personal dishonesty upon you, and as you do not wish to fight it out, and I am sure I don't will make you this

WITNESS CONTINUED.

Witness continued that she was never indifferent to politics; it was science. She was not aware of the great interests which were dependent on the meeting of the returning board at the time the Sherman letter was written. When she came to Washington Sherman would not accord her a private interview, and she would not make known her business publicly. She saw Matthews several times. She considered Packard a political martyr and was interested in him for the collection. She did not appear for a position for her husband.

She had a letter from Anderson which she wanted to show Sherman. It declared that he (Andersson) knew of a letter which, if it was made public, would damn Sherman forever. Sherman having one of these letters, she thought it was unwise to uncertainly show it
