BREVITIES.

"A double event"—twins.
An ugly bargain—a cheap bull dog.
Easy way to get a hack—try to shave with a hatchet.
A Russian princess has opened a cigar store in Moscow.
"God save the Queen" was hissed in a Quebec theatre the other evening.
It costs Vermont half a million a year to educate 50,000 of her children.
Scholastic training resembles railway trains in this: Frequent switching insures speed and safety.
The United States has 5,000 school population, who require 20,000,000 books, at a cost of $18,750,000.
An Englishman at Valparaiso was so struck with Kilpatrick's riding that he wanted to hire him for the next race.
In the twenty wards of Paris there are 12,543 cafes and eating houses, which have 30,000 billiard tables.
Mexico has an Archbishop and five new Bishops, who have just been appointed by the Pope. Ever unfortunate!
Spriggins says he once prevented a severe case of hydrophobia by getting on a high fence and waiting there until the dog left.
There is a grapevine in Jonsheey, France which is fifty-four years old and yields three tons of grapes. The stem is one hundred and sixty feet long and the vine covers two hundred square feet.
Philadelphia does a great business in the marble manufacture. There are ten or more steam mills for preparing it, besides sixty marble yards. The manufacturers employ a large number of sculptors and carvers, and the business is very active.
It is said that females make very excellent operators in telegraph offices. Not strange, nor a fresh discovery either. They've been good at telegraphing since the good old days of Eve. What they can't do with their fingers they can do with their eyes.
A beefsteak was cooked and some potatoes were baked in the sun in London, on the 22d of July. The sun's rays alone did the work in about 20 minutes. The food was placed in a small box, closed over with three panes of glass about an inch apart.
The managers of the Hudson River Railroad are making good progress on the grading of their third track, which has now become a necessity, in order to move the immense number of trains over the road.
"When a stranger treats me with want of proper respect," said a philosophic poor man, "I comfort myself with the reflection that it is not myself he slights, but my old shabby coat and hat, which, to say the truth, have no particular claims to admiration. So if my hat and coat choose to fret about it, let them; it is nothing to me."
A gentleman, who takes a common sense view of things, being recently asked his opinion of a poetic individual, replied: "O, he is one of those men who have sootings after the infinite and diving after the unfathomable, but never pay cash!"
"The difference is just here, youngsters, said an illiterate school teacher in Texas, "when the earth makes a revolution it turns on its axis; but when the people make a revolution they turn on their bayonets."
