ELDER LEWIS S. POND, (President of Bannock Stake.) My brethren and sisters, in reporting my labors and the condition of the Bannock stake of Zion, I sincerely trust I may be actuated by the Spirit of the Lord, that what I say may be directed thereby. In the stake of Zion where I preside, our numbers are not great. We have only 10 small wards, and about 2,200 souls. In a general way, the people have been prosperous; but for years past one portion of the stake has been laboring under adverse circu:astances, on account of having to hau stances, on account of naving to naving water from four to seven miles. Two or three years ago, however, the stake was called upon to assist the people to get a portion of the waters of Bear river, at a cost of about $60,000. That been accomplished, and many people are enjoying the benefits therefrom, igh there is still a great indebted-But that covers only a part of the arid lands in the stake, and the people in some instances have be-come discouraged. There has been a spirit of restlessness prevailing, and many in adverse circumstances, as well as some in better circumstances, have had this spirit. Some who have held stake and ward positions have felt they were at liberty to pull up and go to other lands just as they pleased, and the effects have been detrimental. Oth-ers have sought the counsel of those who presided over them, and have gone to seek better places, with the permisand blessing of the Priesthood. The stake presidency have always een united in their labors, so far as the work of the stake is concerned; and the High Council have been assiduous workers in helping them carry the great responsibilities. They have been called to act also as home missionaries, and ve done a good work in the midst of The organizations in the the people. The organizations in the Pristhood are complete, with the ex-ception of one or two vacancies, which will soon be filled. One ward is at present without a Bishop, on account of that officer resigning and moving to eacher place. The auxiliary organizathe people another place. The auxiliary organizations are in a prosperous condition. Those who preside in them are energetic, and willing to do all that is pos-They travel a great deal amongst the young people, and their labors are productive of good. Most of these or-ganizations hold sessions through the winter months only, as many of our young people go away from home during the summer season to earn a liveli-

In a general way, there is a splendid feeling in the stake. Of course, as in other stakes, I suppose, we have a few that seem to think they do not have time to serve the Lord; they are more willing to give their time and atten-tion to the things of this world. There is too much of a spirit of speculation prevalent in the stake; and those who visit the different wards complain that enjoy, and the easier it is for us to make necessary sacrifices. I pray that the Spirit of the Lord may be with us the spirit of the Lord may be with us continually, and that we may take the spirit of this conference to our homes, so that the people in general may be benefitted thereby. I ask these blessings in the name of Jesus Christ. Amen. Amen. ELDER JAMES E. STEELE. (President of Bingham Stake.) This seems to me an awkward post-This seems to me an awkward posi-tion to occupy, but although I feel somewhat out of place, I am very pleased to have the privilege of making a report of the Bingham Stake of Zion. The Bingham Stake is located in the southeastern part of Idaho, in what is known as the Snake river valley. It is a part of the old Bannock Stake, or, as it is known now, the Fremont Stake. We number about ten thousand souls.

We number about ten thousand souls. We have seven or eight hundred fam-llies, scattered over a large area of lies, we have twenty-four wards and seven branches. All of the wards are fully organized, and, so far as I know, all the ward organizations are know, all the ward organizations are complete. All the Stake offices are full, with the exception of one, and that is the President' of the High Priests' quor-um; the President moved from our Stake, and the vacancy has not yet been filled. Our High Council is com-plete, and its members are do-ings a good work. The Presi-dency of the Stake have been united on every question that has come up for our deliberation since the Stake was organized, in 1895. We are united was organized, in 1895. We are united with the High Council, and with all our Bishops. We are also united with the presidencies of the Stake auxiliary organizations. As far as I know, there is no contention but that can be readily settled between the members them-selves. We have had but one or two High Council trials since the Stake was organized. The Stake Presidency meet every Thursday, at 2 o'clock, and deliber its upon the things pertaining to the welfare of the Stake. The High Council and the Stake Presidency meet once a month and counsel togeth-er for the good of the people.

We have a very prosperous commun-ity and the people are doing exception-ally well. We were largely in debt a few years ago. Many people who moved into the Stake from Utah had formerly lived on a city lot or on a small tract of land, possibly not to exceed five acres, and when they got into the Snake River valley and procured from 160 to 640 acres, th-y thought they could buy all acres, they thought they could buy all things they wanted, and more too, be-cause they had so much land at their command. But they soon found out their mistake, not, however, before many of them had to mortgage their homes to secure their indebtedness. I am very pleased to report today that these mortgages have largely been lifted. Our counsel to the people has al-ways been to keep out of debt. They are now trying to comply with it, and are relieving themselves of that bondnge. Our crops this year have been very good. We have the Snake river to draw from for our water supply. Our land is very productive, and concontently we are prosperous, as a rule. I feel that the Lord has blessed the country. The blessings that were netl-tioned for upon the land by President John Teylor, in 1884, have been realized the Saints of the Snake River vallev: and I feel that the Lord will continue to bless us if we will only keen His commandments. That He has done so is my testimony to you this afterneon. I have a testimony of this great latter-day work: I know it is true. I know that Joseph Smith was a Problet of the living God, and those who have succeeded him in the Presidency have heen men whom God has recognized. They have been blessed and clothed with authority to lead and direct the affairs of His work from the beginning God bless you. Amen. up to the present. I feel with all my heart to sustain them, to hold up their hands, and do my part so far as I have power. I ask God to bless us, to cless My brethren and sisters, I feel very our President, to bless his associates, and to bless all Zion, in the name of Jesus. Amen. ELDER EDWARD J. WOOD, Flouishing.

(President of Alberta Stake.) I am very pleased, my brethren and sisters, to meet with so many of the Latter-day Saints. It is also a pleasure that we are favored with such a beau-tiful day, and that so many of the Latter-day Saints have come together to worship

I feel honored in being requested to represent the Alberta Stake, in the far The people there are as good as north. can be found in any of the Stakes of Zion I have visited. I regard it as a privilege to live with the Latter-day Saints and to be associated with them. I will state, for the benefit of those who are not acquainted with our people in the north, that we are in a prosperous condition; that the stake is building up and increasing in numbers. Our people are prospering financially; and improving spiritually. The wards are becom-ing numerous; and consequently our stake has been divided recently. We very much appreciated the presence of the First Presidency, and a number of the Twelve Apostles, at our last quar-terly conference, which was held in September at which time the Alberta Stake was divided, and a new Stake, known as the Taylor Stake, created. I am grateful to be associated with you in this conference, and to be a par-taker of the good things and the good Spirit that is felt by all of us. I have always been proud of bearing the name of Latter-day Saint. It is gratifying to know that the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints stands for advancement continually, that it teaches all of us to become better men and women, better boys and girls, better from the cradle to the grave, In listening to the remarks of Broth-In insteming to the remarks of Broth-er McMurrin, the object of our being here on earth, and the glorious privi-leges we have of being members of the Church of Christ, came to my mind forcibly. I see those present who have gathered from many nations of the earth, and who have a desire to have earth, and who have a desire to learn what will be best for them to do in order that they may please their Hea-venly Father. It is sometimes a great sacrifice for our brethren and sisters to come from their homes in the different nations. I have been on a foreign mission and know something about the alties they have to pass through; and I esteem a man or woman who ex-tends the hand of kindness to them when they emigrate to this country I nave been reading, while sitting here, a beautiful hymn on prayer, a subject which should receive consideration from all of us:

'Prayer is the soul's sincere desire, Uttered or unexpressed; The motion of a hidden fire That trembles in the breast."

How beautiful it is to come together and engage in prayer. In itstening to the appropriate prayer this morning by Brother Penrose, I thought what a desirable thing it is to know how to express ourselves in prayer. Our children should be taught at home to pray, and in the different organizations for the the How gratifying it training of youth. would be if all children knew how to pray, and properly understood what to ask for.

much in need of your sympathy and the Spirit of the Lord while I stand be-fore you this afternoon, because I feel weak indeed in addressing this vast audience. I certainly appreciate the privilege of meeting with the Saints in general con-ference, and I appreciate the friendship, ove and confidence of the Latter-day Saints. While I have never had the privilege of going abroad among the nations of the earth to promulgate the Gospel in which we are engages, I have spent perhaps the best part of my life in a foreign land-or at least what is to the people of the United States a forzign land-in Canada. I am glad my lot has been cast in that land. A great many people in Utah and other places know but little about Canada; they feel we are away off on the outskirts, and that we do not have the advantages enjoyed here and elsewhere. Of course, there are many things you have and "njoy that we do not have. But we can say that the Lord's hand has been power over us for good. President Card was called by President Taylor to go there. I remember that, about fifteen years ago, President Card related a dream he had. He said that when he first went to Canada everything looked forbidding, and only a few of our people accompanied him to that country the first season. He dreamed he saw a hive of bees, or at least a few bees, and more continued to come, until the hive they had entered became too full, and they swarmed and went out, and other colonies were formed. Now, that dream has been fulfilled, I have lived to see it. The beginning in that country was a very small one, but the Saints have kept "swarming," and new settlements have been formed, until they became so numerous that the stake had to be divided and a new one created. While we have had a great many difficulties to contend with, which are incidental to the establishment of homes in a new country, the hand of the Lord has been over the people. I presume the Taylor stake of Zion, which was organized about a month ago, is the smallest stake the Church, that is as to the number of wards; we have three at the present time. How but However, we have between 3,000 and 3,500 people in those three wards. They are the newest settlements of our people in Canada, two of them having been founded about four years ago, under the di-rection of President Woodruff and President Snow, and the other is only about two years old. Now, while we are a very small stake in that country, we do not expect to remain thus long. I believe that within three years the Taylor stake will be larger than the whole of the Alberta stake was previ-ous to the division. We have a large country to grow in, and when the di-viding lines between the two stakes were set, Apostle Taylor said it would extend from the United States boundary line to the north pole; so we have much room in which to grow. I do not believe in people leaving their good homes in Utah to go to Canada. I believe the advice President Smith gave in the morning meeting was good; I know it is, for I have had experience in that country, and I would not advise people who own comfortable homes to go to Canada. There is much room for good homes in that country; but we do not want people to emigrate to that land without the advice and consent of those who preside over the There is a great gathering of young people in that land; the Lord has blessed us abundantly in that respect. The last census shows that one-third of the entire people are under eight years of age; so, within 25 years we will build up a great country there, without any more emigration to assist us. The Saints there have a good name. We are striving to build up the king-dom of God, and are interested in all the affairs of Zion. We like to mingle with the brethren and sisters of other stakes to learn how they are doin things. I was much gratified, on m.

to these things; and that every man who holds the Priethood, could realize that nearly everything depends upon how we magnify that Priesthood.

The people of the nations of the earth, some of them, recognize that there is a power with the Latter-day Saints that they do not meet elsewhere. The people of Canada, those who have launched large colonization schemes, acknowl-edge there is a peculiar power with the Latter-day Saints that has enabled them to become established in that and, and that has helped them to ac complish all they have done. They can-not understand this, but they acknowi. edge it; and they know there is some characteristic of the Latter-day Saints, something in their communism that holds them together that is not found in other communities in the Northwest Territories. The Latter-day Saints in Canada have made greater progress than any other colonies have done in the same length of time. We attribute this to the blessings of the Lord, to the of the Holy Priesthood and to the Spirit we enjoy; and I rejoice in all these things. I wish that all men would be honest and sincere enough to investigate the principles of the Gospei that the Latter-day Saints are promulgating in the world. I feel well, my brethren and sisters, and rejoice that my parents embraced the Gospel, and that I have been born under the new and everlasting cove-nant; I fear if I had not been thus favored I would not now be a member of the Church. I am grateful for all these things, and for the progress the Latter-day Saints have made I hope see Zion arise and shine until she to say, "Let us not go up to fight against Zion because of her terrible ones." May the Lord bless us, is my prayer, in the name of Jesus. Amen.

some of the people do not serve the Lord as they should do. Many have in-curred great debt, and I am sorry ineed to report this condition. Many have been prosperous, and have sought to enlarge their possessions, the re-sult is you can hear them say, "what shall I do to meet my obligations?" way from Canada, to see the improve ments in meetinghouses in Pocatello stake, and also in Utah stake, which I visited recently. We attended Fricst-hood meeting in Provo yesterhood day and gained something there. The progress the Saints are mak-ing is gratifying to me. We in Canada hope to prove to the king, and his rep-resentatives who preside over the af-fairs of the Dominion, that the Latter-day Saints are what them and day Saints are what they profess to be, a God-fearing people. We desire to become a people who will be recognized as the most virtuous in all of the king's domains; that is what we are striving to be, and I believe we are at the present time. We aim to be the most honest and most law-abiding people that the king has. We desire to set an example in all of our settlements to all people who are looking for that which is good, noble and elevating.

I believe ours is the only district in western Canada where prohibition pre-vails. The laws in Canada permit the people to decide whether liquor shall be sold in their settlements or not, and in three-fifths are in favor of its not be-ing sold, it is prohibited, so far as open income are concerned. The "Morsold in their settlements or not, and if saloons are concerned. The "Mor-mons" in western Canada have the name of being the only community that has taken advantage of this law; the saloons in our midst were abolished a little over a year ago, and we now have none.

In all our organizations we are doing a good work; and, although we are a long way from head-quarters. I feel we are not be-hind some of the other stakes in many things. Our Sunday schools are doing exceedingly well as a schools are doing exceedingly well, as are also the Mutual Improvement associations; and, while we have but two stakes in that region today, I believe we will have many within a few years. The Lord has blessed us temporally, but we feel that the temporal blessings are not those the Saints should seek for most. There are things more important for the Latter-day Saints than tem-poral blessings-though if we can get the temporal along with the spiritual, so much the better-but we feel, as Latso much the cetter out we teel, as Lat-ter-day Saints, that the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ and the principles it teaches are dearer to us than any-thing else on earth. If all our people will continue to feel that way, honor the Priesthood and strive to magnify it in all the affairs of life, we will become a power for good in the king's do. minion

I presume there are hundreds here this afternoon who know the Gospel is true, that the Book of Mormon is true, and that the Prophet Joseph Smith established, through the help of the Lord, the work of God upon the earth. They know this and do not guess at it. I know that the Church and Kingdom of God that the Church and Kingaoth of God is with us, the Lord has given that tes-timony to me by the power of the Holy Ghost, and I could not deny, it, for He has manifested the truth of this work to me on many occasions.

If all the Latter-day Saints, and especially those who hold the Priesthood, could fully understand the great re-sponsibilities they have taken upon themselves in receiving a portion of the Priesthood, and live up to their knowl-edge, we would be a much greater power in the land than we are today. I have noticed in the papers, that, in referring to the success and advancement of the to the success and advancement of the Saints, they attribute it to various causes. Some say it is irrigation that has made the Latter-day Saints great; others say it is the cunning of the fi-nancler, because of the money accumu-lated through the tithes of the people. But we know these things are only a secondary consideration. We know that the Priesthood which the Lord has re-stored to the earth in this day and age of the world, and the power it gives to us, and our being baptized into one body and one spirit, is the foundation of the success of the great latter-day work. Take these away and we will be just as other men and women are. I just as other men and women are. I wish that all the Latter-day Saints could realize and feel alike in relation
