ROOT AND RYAN FAKIRS TOO. Philadelphia, Nov. 23.—The fight between Tommy Eyan, the middleweight pugi-list and Jack Root of Chicago, the light-heavyweight, which was scheduled to go six rounds at the National Athletic club tonight, was ended in the middle of the fourth round by the referee, Jack Mc-Guigan, announcing it a fake. It was one of the most unsatisfactory puglilistic affairs ever held in this city, and the spectators, long before the referee stop-ped the bout, showed their disapproval of the exhibition the men were giving. Trouble was averted by the prompt work of the police in jumping into the ring and protecling the fighters and in clearing ing the fighters and in clearing

The chief feature of the game was the questionable decisions against the local team by Um-pire Brown, and as a result Brown was slapped in the face by Flod in the sec-end inning, knocked down by Franck Charge at the end of the eighth, when the game was called on account of dark-ness, and almost mobued by a crowd of several hundred. It required the com-bined efforts of four poleemen, two de-tactives and Jim Morley to protect the umpire from the crowd. Score: Los Angeles R. H. E.

Sometimes Help the Hair to Go.

In any changeable climate the hair is to become brittle and to break off bby here and there. This makes a etubby hair-dressing almost a necessity, es-pecially to ladies. In using a hair dress-ing why not get the best, one that com-bines with it the efficiency in killing the andruff germ, the germ that eats the dandruff germ, the germ that eats the hair off at the roots, causing what is called failing hair, and in time bald-ness. Newbro's "Herpicide" is that kind of a hair dressing. You have no idea how delightful your scalp will feel, and how stylish your hair will appear, after an application or two of Herpicide. The peculiarity of an almost rainless summer, during which the injurious germs of animal and vegetable decay are destroyed by thorough dessication, is one of the striking features of California climate.

During the rainy season it is usually too cool to facilitate fermentation, and the result is, except along some of the river valleys, an absolutely pure atmosphere. The ocean winds entering through the several coast openings, are through the several coast openings, are tempered by the intermediate area passed over, and often receive desir-able healing properties by taking up the resinous odors of the pines and red-woods of the coast range.
